There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

"Ran away from home, Evelyn Bowen and Lucy Deremo. The Bowen girl is 16 years old, 5 feet tall, dark hair and dark features, stout, brown coat, steel grey skirt, grey Tam O'Shanter hat, may be going under the name of Mallory. WILL IT DO ANY GOOD?

In another place in this issue is printed the opinion of Sir Frederick Treves, King Edward's family physician, regarding the poisonous nature of alcohol. He declares it a poison, and completely smashes the time-honoured idea that a "nip" before meals is an "appetizer." No doubt there is a great deal of force in what the distinguished authority asserts. But will it do any good? Will his dogmatising turn one man from the bowl when the sparkle lures his appetite? Everybody who uses whiskey, especially to excess, knows that it is doing him a permanent injury, yet that does not deter him from its use. Every woman who uses corsets to excess, knows that she is shortening her days, yet that will not induce her to relax one inch of lacing. A man knows that smoking tobacco polutes his surroundings, puts his wife's temper on edge, shatters his nerves, and shakes up his heart, yet he will not relax a single blast of his pipe on account of the consequences. Grown sinners, unfortunately, are not children, who can be frightened with bogies, even when presented by an expert authority like Sir Frederick Treves. Human nature is weak, which is perhaps the reason that it craves something strong to bring up the average. An old-fashioned preacher, several thousand years ago, a clever preacher, who, however, hasn't any too large a popular following, declared that wine was "a mocker and strong drink was raging," but the world has staggered on, drunkenly, ever since, and possibly will do so till the end of the chapter. If the world will not listen to Solomon, a king, how can we expect it to listen to Sir Frederick Treves, even though he be a king's physician?

Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, has introduced a bill to amend the act respecting the establishment of municipal Houses of Refuge. The act provides that the time in which counties or unions of counties must establish Houses of Refuge be extended from Jan. 1st, 1906 to Jan. 1st, 1908. For the County of Peterborough the extension gives two more years of grace and from the manner in which action has not been taken in the past, an extension of ten years would not make much difference. One cannot conceive how the people's representatives can conceive it their duty to neglect provision for the housing and maintenance of our indigent poor in some better place than the county jail. Grand Juries and Judges have time after time pointed out and insisted upon the necessity and advisability of such an institution as a House of Refuge, but their words have fallen upon deaf ears.

NEW BUSINESS MAN ARRIVES

Mr. W. H. Stroud Takes Charge of The Stroud Tea Company.

Mr. W. H. Stroud, who has arrived in town from Ottawa, to take over the management of the Stroud Tea Company's business, is the subject of the following reference in the Utica Globe, in a despatch from Ottawa:

The departure from Ottawa of Mr. W. H. Stroud, son of ex-Ald. Stroud is sincerely regretted by a large number of friends here. For many years our subject has been well known in business circles in Ottawa and vicinity, and his genial and affable manner has made him very popular in this section. He is an enthusiastic lover of amateur sport, and for a considerable period he was a member of the Maple Leaf Lacrosse Club. He goes to Peterborough as manager of one of the best known business houses in that town, and Ottawa friends look forward with confidence to his career in that bustling hub of the Midland Counties.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentence paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint, from day to day one or two of the meaty paragraphs contained in the pamphlet.

Facts About Canada's Size.

Canada contains one-third of the area of the British Empire.

The boundary line between Canada and the United States is 3,000 miles long—1,500 by land, 1,400 through water.

ELECTRICITY

As a Purifying Agent for Food Products.

How Modern Science is Utilising Nature's Powerful Agent to Purify, Sterilize and Improve Our Food

We have been so accustomed in the past of hearing almost weekly of some new and marvellous development in the field of electrical science, that we are now not greatly surprised at any new mechanical application of electricity—the wireless telegraph, the telephone, electric motor and the marvellous X Rays.

Many of the wonderful inventions of Edison and others are now past history and accepted facts, but scientists have been busy experimenting with the electric current for other than mechanical purposes, applying it in the practice of medicine as well as in the arts, sciences and many manufactures.

The latest but by no means the least imporatant application of the electric current is for the purification and sterilization of various food products.

Experiments along these lines have been carried on for some years past, but the recent discovery of the value of the electrical current for the purification and sterilization of flour, has attracted widespread attention, as everyone is naturally interested in anything pertaining to the purification of food.

It was generally considered, that with the improved machinery now employed in thoroughly up-to-date mills, that the milling of flour had practically reached perfection; and in so far as the handling of the flour during the process of manufacture is concerned, this is no doubt quite true; but the discovery of the Electrical process makes it possible to greatly improve the finished product.

The new process is extremely interesting: briefly, it consists in purifying air by passing it through a tremendous electrical flame, the action of this flame upon the air being something in the nature of the action of lightning on the air; the flour is then passed through specially designed purifying machines where it is subjected to the action of the electrically purified air, and the results are certainly little less than marvellous.

The finished flour emerges from the electrical purifiers, a beautiful silvery white colour, perfectly sterilized and absolutely pure. The quality is improved as well as the appearance, the purified flour is freed from every particle of the non-nutritive portions of the wheat, viz.: the branny particles, leaving only a perfect flour containing the greatest amount of nutriment in its most easily assimilable form which makes a bread silvery white in colour, pure, wholesome and delicious to the taste.

Many of the leading scientists in Great Britain, France and other countries were at first doubtful to accept the claims made as to the benefits to be derived from the electrical purification of various food products, but subsequent, thorough and extensive experiments, covering a period of over two years, have conclusively shown that these electrical processes not only purify but sterilise and improve the various other qualities of flour and similar food products.

That the patents covering these processes are valuable, is evidenced by the extensive litigation in which the various patentees are involved in both England and the United States, from which is disclosed the fact that practically every large and important miller in both countries has adopted some one or other of the various patented systems in his mills and this is perhaps the most conclusive evidence of the merit of the process.

In view of the apparent great improvement in the wholesomeness and nutritive qualities of flour by use of these inventions, it is hoped that it may not be long before every miller will adopt the electrical system of purification.

The great and growing question of the day is the purification of food products; therefore everything that contributes to that end is hailed as a boon to humanity. No expense should be spared to bring every food product to the highest possible degree of purity.

Arrangements will then be made for the Conference of the Brethren of Eastern Ontario, which will be held at Springbrook, near Campbellford, to-morrow, Sunday and Monday. MAXIM'S MAXIM.

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of surprise, instead of disappointment as it might have been if he had over-estimated his gun's efficiency.

FIVE TINSMITHS ARE ON STRIKE

Because One Firm Refuses to Pay the Higher Wages.

Is Already Paying More for Some Class of Men Than Other Shops.

The hope expressed yesterday that the threatened strike of tinsmiths would be averted has proved unfounded, and this morning five men employed in Adam Hall's shop went out on strike. Some little time ago the Union made a demand on the employees for an increase in wages amounting to 10 per cent. All the employers granted this request except Mr. Hall, and this morning his men went out. Upon being interviewed by the Examiner this morning Mr. Hall stated that he had always paid his men on an average 25 cents per day more than the other shops in town, and the position he took was that even with the increase of 10 per cent. asked for, the men employed in the other shops would then not be getting wages equal to those paid by him. To his first-class men he pays $2.50 for nine hours, while the highest paid by any other shop, was $2.25, except in the case of a foreman. The wages ranged all the way from that figure to $1.65 and for men of an equal experience and efficiency he had paid at least 25 cents per day more. He stated that there were men in other shops getting $2.00 to $2.09 per day, equal to those paid $2.50 by him, and if they went to work for him he would give them the latter figure to-day. In view of these facts he thought that it was not justice to him to have his men ordered out on strike, when, without the increase, he was paying more for the same class of men than they were getting, with the increase, in other shops.

Mr. William Mitchell, president of the local Sheet Metal Workers Union, and one of the five men on strike, had no statement to make on behalf of the men, beyond the fact that they had no fault to find with his employer, who, he said, was the best boss in town, but they had to obey the mandate of the union.

One man, with the foreman, are still at work in Mr. Hall's shop.

A CREDIT TO THE STUDENTS

An Appreciative Reference to The Collegiate Echoes.

Mr. D. W. Dumble has addressed a letter to the Examiner in reference to the new magazine published by the students of the Collegiate Institute. He says:

This little magazine, published by the students at the Collegiate Institute, has now reached its third issue. I have read them with much satisfaction and pleasure. I do not know of anything in the curriculum that will so benefit the students as the little magazine. It will cause students to read with care, and to analilize the matter, and note the styles of the writers. Then it will fit them to make use of their own knowledge and attainments. What has especially pleased me is the clear style of writing. It is unpretentious, simple and pure. The English is good, the matter clearly presented — the style modest and becoming. Young people who have had before them such writers as Goldsmith, Addison, Stevenson, and others, and show that their instruction has been good, and such as will fit students to make good use of their education—and if they continue on to a college course, their earlier training will be of great value. I hope the magazine will be encouraged and kept up—it is a credit to the school, and will ever be a blessing to all the students.

THE B. A. C ADDS TO ITS VICTORIES

Defeated Ontario Bank Baseball Team by 8-6.

Last night the B.A.C. again demonstrated its right to the title of an invincible organization, when its baseball team defeated the Ontario Bank nine, from which a challenge had been received a few days ago. The game, which was witnessed by a good crowd of spectators, was not as good an exhibition of baseball as either aggregation is capable of putting up, and no doubt both will improve as the season progresses. Many large, juicy errors were made by the players on both teams and, these were largely responsible for the score, which stood 8-6, at the finish of four innings' play. The feature of the game was the remarkable pitching of Jolliffe, the B.A.C. twirler, and had it not been for the errors made behind him, as well as behind the bat, the score against him would not have been so large. His support was not of the best. In the first innings he was rather wild, but after that he settled down, and during the who'e game only one hit was made off his delivery. Mulhern, who was on the slab for the Bankers, but was touched up rather freely, Dobbin making a three-bagger. Moore at second base also played a phenomenal game for the Bachelors, and demonstrated

This game will take place at the Driving Park and arrangements have been made with the street car company to give a good service to the grounds. The field is in good shape and spectators will be able to see the game in comfort. The diamond is hard and should be conducive to fast ball playing.

The local team will be as strong as it was in last Saturday's game, and with the practice they have had this week, should be able to put up a good game.

The Sherbournes are one of the fastest amateur teams in Toronto and should give the locals a hard game.

CLUBMEN BID MEMBER FAREWELL

B. A. C. Held Special Session Last Night.

The B.A.C. held a "session extraordinary" last night, when three new members were initiated into the secrets of the organization. Following the initiation an adjournment was made to Long's Palm Parlours where with feast and song the new members were welcomed. Farewell was also said to one of their number, Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, who leaves next week for Toronto. Mr. Jolliffe has been a member of the Club since its organization, and has always taken a prominent part in the enterprises of the Club, having helped materially in winning the laurels on the athletic field.

The toast in his honour was proposed by Mr. S. S. Moore, who expressed the deep regret felt by all the members of the Club at Mr. Jolliffe's departure. The latter made a short speech in reply, and on response to a demand, sang "The Stein Song." And after singing "Auld Lang Syne," the company dispersed.

APPEAL IN CONROY CASE ALLOWED

Conviction Could not Properly be Made as a Second Offense.

An appeal was heard by Judge Weller this morning from a conviction made by Police Magistrate Dumble, as for a second offence, in the case of J. C. Conroy, for an infraction of the Liquor License Act, in which defendant was fined $40.

The appeal was allowed, on the ground that this conviction was made under the section of the act which does not provide for a conviction as a second offence. Crown Attorney Wood, for the Crown; E. F. Haverson, K. C., solicitor for appellant.

Torpid Liver Indigestion

THE MOST COMMON ILLS OF LIFE AND HOW THEY ARE CURED BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Slow passage of the food through the intestines where the most difficult part of digestion takes place, is the usual cause of indigestion.

As a result of this delay, the food ferments and the digestive organs are filled with gas, giving rise to such symptoms as belching of wind, rising of sour taste in the mouth, smothering sensations in the chest, pains about the heart, heart palpitation, headache and dizziness.

To overcome these distressing symptoms the liver must be awakened to action by the use of such a medicine as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Once the liver is active there is a good flow of bile, which, as nature's own cathartic, quickens the pace of the food through the intestines, removes the foul impurities, and restores good digestion and the regular action of the bowels.

Because they positively cure the most common and frequent ills of life Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are invaluable as a family medicine. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on every box. 11

A DOLLAR PER MONTH FOR SHOES.

THAT is about all it should cost you!

But—it depends upon the Sole leather in the shoe as to what it actually does cost you.

Some shoe Soles wear only forty days.

Others wear one hundred and forty days.

Some shoe Soles soak water through to your feet in less than one hour's walking.

One other kind—"Quick-Oak" Soles—can't be soaked through in less than four hours steeping in a basin of water.

How are you to know which kind of Sole leather you are getting in shoes.

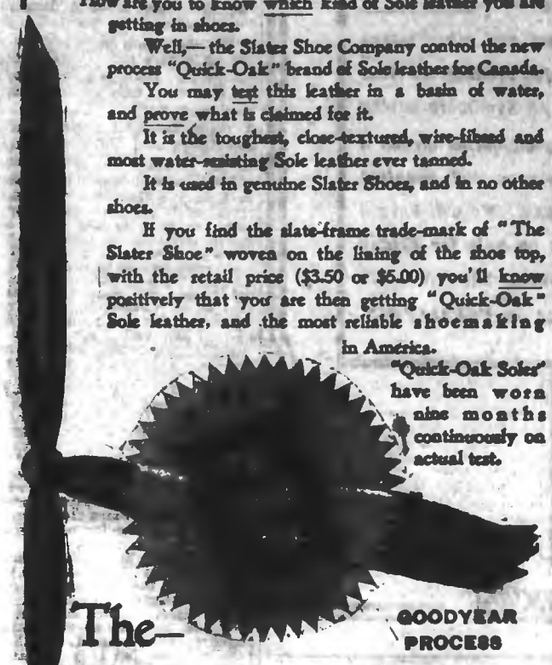
Well,—the Slater Shoe Company control the new process "Quick-Oak" brand of Sole leather for Canada.

You may test this leather in a basin of water, and prove what is claimed for it.

It is the toughest, close-textured, wire-fibred and most water-resisting Sole leather ever tanned.

It is used in genuine Slater Shoes, and in no other shoes.

If you find the slate-frame trade-mark of "The Slater Shoe" woven on the lining of the shoe top, with the retail price ($3.50 or $5.00) you'll know positively that you are then getting "Quick-Oak" Sole leather, and the most reliable shoemaking in America.



"Quick-Oak Soles" have been worn nine months continuously on actual test.

SPECKS BEFORE THE EYES.

Seeing Things In The Day Time.

There are Thousands of Persons Afflicted This Way. Ninety-Nine Times Out of One Hundred It Is Caused by Either the Liver, Stomach, Bowels or Digestive Organs.

In no part of the body are the effects of constipation more quickly noticed than in the condition of the eyes. They quickly respond to its poisonous elements which are absorbed into the blood in chronic cases of liver torpidity and sluggish bowel action. When you see a yellowish tinge in the whites of the eyes it shows quickly the biliousness which pervades the whole system; but it is the specks and flitting objects in the vision itself that are even more quickly apparent. Thousands of people see things in the daytime; their vision is blurred, spots come between them and other objects which seem quite intangible, almost imaginary, and as they turn their heads they vanish as with a flash. Such conditions can always be traced to a torpid liver and a congested condition of the bowels, yet can always be cured by the well-advised use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver, cleanse the poisons from the blood, remove the bilious elements from the circulation and strengthen the nerves. If your eyes are clouded without an appreciable cause, if you have specks and floating objects before your vision, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Remember they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

MR. THORNE THE ALIEN AUDITOR

Provincial Secretary's Action Vigorously Assailed.

HE CANCELLED A CONTRACT

Serious Irregularity Alleged Regarding a Signature — Mr. G. P. Graham's Speech — Withdrawal of Timber Berths for Benefit of a Deseronto Industry Questioned in the Legislature.

Toronto, May 19.—In the Legislature yesterday, Mr. Auld, on Hon. Col. Matheson moving the House in Committee of Supply, protested against the employment of an American accountant from the State of Michigan to investigate the bookkeeping systems of the public institutions, and for whose payment a vote appears in the supplementary estimates. He pointed to the steps the Dominion Government had taken to put an end to the preference for aliens over Canadians on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and to the inquiry recently in progress regarding their employment on the Canadian portions of the Pere Marquette. The action of the Provincial Government was a slur on the whole Canadian people, and particularly to the accountants of Ontario, who were excelled by none. The answer might be, in part, that the architect of the Parliament buildings was an American. He wanted to say that that gentleman was born in England, and was a British subject, though he had an office in Buffalo. He moved, seconded by Mr. Smith, an amendment to the motion to the effect that the House regretted the action of the Government in engaging Mr. L. E. Thorne, a citizen of the United States, to do work which could have been as thoroughly well performed by a citizen of Canada.

Provincial Secretary's Reply.

Mr. Hanna replied. When he considered that the late Government brought over from the United States a man to superintend the erection of the Parliament buildings and to remain here till the work was finished, he had done well if he had converted the Opposition to the principle of employing Canadian talent. The Government had not brought over a man to reorganize the audit department; when that was done it would be under the supervision of Mr. Cross of the firm of Clarkson & Cross. The Government wanted a report on the binder twine industry and the broom industry, and it was found that they could not get men connected with those industries at once, as their employers would not part with them. Mr. Thorne was connected with a firm of which Mr. Hanna was a director, and it was an accommodation granted him to let him have Mr. Thorne for a short time.

Mr. Hanna then proceeded to justify the appointment. The result of Mr. Thorne's investigations into the condition of the binder twine and broom industries of the Province was that the Government had ascertained that the Province was out of pocket eight or nine thousand dollars a year. It was found that the late Government, in its dying moments, had made a contract for the manufacture of binder twine, the contract being stamped with the signature of James Noxon, inspector of prisons, and after the election the signature of Mr. Noxon had been erased with acid. Mr. Noxon had never seen the contract. It was important that such contracts should be investigated by one who knows neither Conservative or Liberal friend or foe.

A great many stories had come to the Government about similar contracts, and they would have to be investigated quietly. The binder twine contract referred to had been cancelled by the new Government, and the report of Mr. Thorne would be brought down shortly, when it would be found that he who laughs last laughs best. When the Legislature next met it would not be necessary, Mr. Hanna said, to justify the appointment of Mr. Thorne. He was casting no slurs on the accountants of Ontario, Messrs. Clarkson & Cross, who are at work on a new system of accounting, were receiving the suggestions of Mr. Thorpe. In conclusion Mr. Hanna said Mr. Thorne would be through with his investigations about July 1.

Mr. Graham's Criticism.

Mr. Graham said he had not intended speaking, but the Provincial Secretary had discussed so strongly everything else but the motion that he wished to recall him to it. Of three points made, the first was that he could not get reliable information.

Hon. Mr. Hanna interposed to say he did not mean reliable in that sense. What he intended was full, accurate information at once.

Mr. Graham did not know that accuracy made it any better. He submitted that the accountanst and business men of Ontario could provide just as accurate information as any from the United States, even though it were a friend and neighbor. Mr. Hanna admitted, too, that he could get it as quickly by not going out of the Province.

As to unprejudiced information, the only man in Canada to whom Mr. Thorne was under obligation was the Provincial Secretary himself. If there was any prejudice possible in what direction would it be likely to point? He did not say that Mr. Thorne would be prejudiced, but there were hundreds of men who would be just as unprejudiced. There had been no mention of Messrs. Clarkson & Cross until a few days ago, and they were evidently an afterthought. The Provincial Secretary had stated that Mr. Thorne had been engaged verbally in March last, and there had been no mention of Messrs. Clarkson & Cross. And if they had engaged Mr. Thorne they would have been subject to the alien labor law, which the Provincial Secretary was not.

Parliament Buildings Architect.

With regard to the architect of the buildings, every architect in Canada had an opportunity to superintend them in open competition. They were erected by a British subject, Mr. Waite, who had erected banks in Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton. At that time there was no alien labor law, but it had since been found necessary to pass one, and he charged the Provincial Secretary with violating the terms of that law by employing Mr. Thorne, a citizen of Port Huron. When so much trouble had been taken to pass laws for the protection of workingmen he wondered what they must think of the Provincial Secretary who could so readily violate them. The late E. F. Clarke had expressed himself very strongly in this respect in connection with the Engineers' Union, and the objection of the chartered accountants in the present instance presented a perfectly parallel case. He found also from the admissions of the Provincial Secretary that Canadian accountants are not inferior to American, but, having superior knowledge of the conditions, were actually better fitted for the work.

It was not a matter of money, merely, or whether Mr. Thorne was employed a year or a month or fifteen minutes, but a matter of principle. Mr. Hanna had taken a man in his own employment and placed him in this position, forsooth because he was accurate and could do his work quickly. The point he wished to make strongly was that if Mr. Hanna required aid and wanted a new system there were hundreds in Ontario just as able to give it as his American friend. Could the great Canadian agricultural implement firms not furnish just as capable men? Were these men who competed all over Europe not equal to any men anywhere? They might admit the necessity for the appointment if they chose, but they could get men by the score of equal ability in Ontario.

Premier Defends Appointment.

The Premier considered the Provincial Secretary had done a wise, careful and proper act. He declared that under the auspices of the late Government there were in New Ontario a number of business concerns who employed aliens in their highest and lowest positions. He challenged Mr. Graham to say that Mr. Waite, the architect of the Parliament Buildings, was a British subject. No doubt the late Government had discriminated in favor of Canadians when they fitted out the Minnie M., or when they established in a foreign country an industry for the making of bogus ballot boxes. Furthermore, Mr. Graham had not protested that all around where he lives aliens go up and vote for public school trustees. Such a state of affairs he promised would be removed if Mr. Whitney remained in office.

The amendment was declared lost on division.

Not a Vital Necessity.

When Mr. Whitney's bill to incorporate the Toronto University residence trustees was discussed in committee of the whole House, Mr. Harcourt urged that it should be made plain that only undergraduates, professors and servants should be allowed to live in the residences. Mr. Whitney agreed.

Ex-Premier Ross thought that residences were not a vital necessity, as the great German and Scotch Universities had no residences, neither had McGill, Queen's or any of the great state universities in the United States. Only students of University College should be allowed in residence. He feared, also, that provision for maintaining discipline had not been made.

Mr. Graham deprecated the unseemly petty squabbles between the faculty and the students, and he thought something should be done to put a stop to them.

The Premier said the students would be under the direct control of both the Board of Trustees and the college authorities, while the Legislature had full power to interfere at any time. Mr. Whitney said he was never in a residence, and he regretted it, but if he had a boy the residence feature would appeal to him. To-day education was crammed into boys by machine, and they displayed an ignorance on other matters than books that was positively phenomenal. He reiterated that steps would be taken after the session to investigate the whole question of the management of the university.

The following resolutions were considered in committee: Mr. Whitney: That there be given to the trustees of the University of Toronto a grant of $30,000 per year, for building purposes, for a period of thirty years; the Province to issue certificates therefor. That there be given to the trustees of the university a sum of $130,000, the proceeds of sale of former sit of Parliament Buildings on Front street in the City of Toronto so soon as the same is received from the purchasers of said site.

Mr. Catheson: That an annual payment of $2,500 be made to one of the commissioners of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, in addition to the honorarium of $1,000, for his services as consulting engineer.

For Deseronto Industry.

In the Legislature last night W. R. Smythe of Algoma was informed by Hon. J. J. Foy that the Rathbun Co, of Deseronto, of which E. W. Rathbun, M. P. P., is a member, is the lessee of valuable timber berths in the Townships of McClure, Herschel, Dungannon, Mount Eagle, Mayo, Limerick, Cardiff, Farraday and Chandos. The Government by order-in-council in December last withdrew these townships from sale.

Third Readings.

The following bills were passed: To amend the Agricultural and Arts Act (Monteith); respecting the Penetanguishene and Orillia Railway (Hoyle); to amend the Ontario Game Protection Act (Reaume); to amend the act setting apart certain wild lands for the use of Toronto University (Foy); respecting the Town of Prescott and the Palmer Piano Co. (Ferguson); respecting the City of Hamilton (Carscallen of Hamilton); respecting the City of Ottawa (McDougall); respecting certain bylaws concerning drainage in the Townships of Osnabruck and Cornwall (Kerr); to confirm bylaw 1,129 of the City of Stratford and a conveyance of certain lands and other property to the City of Stratford for park purposes (Torrance).

The Supplementary Estimates.

The supplementary estimates were laid on the table of the Legislature yesterday by Hon. Col. Matheson. The total amount called for is $141,664.97. Provision is made for a salary of $4,000 for the additional member of the executive council, and for $300 for changes in the system of bookkeeping and special reports on the industrial undertakings of the different institutions.

Increases in salary will be given to a number of the staff of the Parliament Buildings. The Essex Historical Society gets $100 and the Royal Astronomical Society $300. A further sum of $4,000 is granted for immigration purposes, and a grant of $1,000 made to the Women's Historical Hostel. Horse fairs are granted $1,000; the fruit flower and honey show $500 additional; the Vegetable Growers' Association $600; Wellington dressed meat and cold storage building $500; Port Arthur and Fort William exhibition $1,800; winter fair building, Guelph, $1,500. For cement walks in front of the Ottawa Normal School there appears the sum of $725.

London Normal School gets $2,000 for the purchase of land. In connection with London Asylum $11,000 is provided for balance due for Trebilcock farm, and for additional wire fencing $400.

For the School of Practical Science $5,900 goes to connecting fume cabinets. For the Central Prison $750 goes for a conservatory, and $650 for a piano and two organs for religious services. An additional laundry plant, to cost $1,500, is included in the estimates for the Mercer Reformatory.

Public works call for $6,812.97. For additional township surveys $10,000 is asked, and for additional ranging $16,000.

There is asked for the pedestal for the Mowat statue $2,500. The following are the gratuities: Mrs. William Edwards $1,000; W. P. Band, R. H. Stedman, $500 each; Mrs. Pierce, $250; Henry Wade, $750; F. C. Law, $1,200; balance to Dr. T. F. Chamberlain, $1,500; widows of Messrs. Leclair and La Celle, whose husbands were drowned while on Provincial surveys, $200 each.

Autos Must Slacken Speed.

Motorists thronged the municipal committee room of the Legislature yesterday when the Sutherland and Lennox bills were taken up. Some of the committee made a big fight to have the register numbers displayed on the vehicles 6 inches deep, and to reduce the speed to three miles an hour when passing a horse-drawn vehicle on the road, but the committee finally agreed on the following provisions:

The onus for violations of the law placed on the owners of motors; the locking or making fast of motor vehicles when such are left standing on any highway or in any public place; the placing of figures 5 inches in length in a conspicuous place on the back of the motor in such a manner as to be plainly discernible by night and day. The manner and size of figures on the lamps to be decided by the Provincial Secretary, who is also empowered to suspend or revoke a license for misconduct on the part of the owner. Except in cities, towns and incorporated villages, the speed of the motor on approaching within 100 yards of a vehicle drawn by a horse or horses shall be reduced to seven miles an hour. The question of increasing the license fee is left to the Government.

Mr. Downey's trading stamp bill was amended so that municipal councils may still legislate against the system by bylaws. Such bylaws, however, are not to apply to merchants or manufacturers issuing tickets or coupons bearing upon their face the place of delivery, their cash or merchantable value; and which are redeemable at any time at the store or factory where the goods with which the tickets or coupons are given were purchased.

Mr. Tucker's bill to widen sleigh-runners was adopted, with a proviso that every County Council may declare the measure inoperative within its own boundaries.

WOULD MAKE NO CHANGE.

Hon. Mr. Hanna Refuses a Request Made by "Soo" Hotelkeepers.

Toronto, May 19.—The new Board of Commissioners at Sault Ste. Marie, Messrs. John T. Mackay, A. D. McNabb and J. W. Curran, have cut off 11 licenses, those in the district having been reduced from 19 to 12, and in town from 14 to 10. No new licenses have been granted. The Board had jurisdiction over only three Conservatives, and one of these has been deprived of his permit.

Mr. Curran, one of the commissioners, who is in the city, says the commissioners were asked to take steps to have the time for keeping bars open on Saturday nights extended. With no greater population, there are 78 saloons on the American side, and their bars are kept open till midnight on Saturdays, and these of course get a large amount of trade from Canada.

For this reason Mr. Curran has submitted to Mr. Hanna a request from the hotelkeepers that they be allowed to keep open late on Saturdays, so as to prevent a large amount of money from crossing the border.

The Provincial Secretary could not see the advisability of making any exception, pointing out that a departure from established usage at the Soo would immediately be regarded as a precedent by the hotelkeepers at Windsor, Sarnia, Niagara Falls and other border towns where exactly the same conditions prevail.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines am glad to say a few words that you may use for publication," writes Mrs. J. R. Downes, Crystal Lake Conn. "Had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chillings between shoulders. Some days cared but little for food; I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician, but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it I felt so much better we determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until now I am well."

Dormitory Committee.
Robt. E. Harding—Chairman.
J. S. Knapman.
J. W. Bennett.

The formal opening of the Y. M. C. A. Dormitories took place last night. A large number took advantage of the occasion to inspect the rooms as well as listen to the delightful programme presented in the Association Hall.

Expressions of delight and surprise were heard on every side at the beauty of the rooms and their furniture, a glance at which will suffice to show the wisdom of the course of those who projected this important new feature of Y. M. C. A. work.

In the attendance at the opening

MR. G. H. WILLIAMSON,

ceremonies the fair sex was well represented. After the informal reception and inspection of the dormitories during which a number of delightful selections were rendered by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, followed the presentation of a delightful programme in the Association Hall. A feature of this event was a delightful surprise which had been arranged by the Strangers' Fellowship Club. This was the presentation to the Association of two beautiful life-size portraits of the two trustees of the building, Messrs. Richard Hall and Charles McGill.

Short addresses were made by a number of the leading business and professional men of the town, these being interspersed with a choice musical programme by several leading artists.

The Programme.

The chair was occupied by Col. E. B. Edwards. Prayer was offered in opening by Rev. J. G. Potter.

A vocal solo was then rendered by Mr. Wm. Mellroy, who, in this, his initial appearance in town as a soloist, created a highly favourable impression. He is the possessor of a rich voice of great compass and breadth, and his number of last night was greeted with hearty and merited applause.

Lt. Col. Edwards, in opening, congratulated the Association upon the splendid success which had attended their efforts. The recent growth of the town was commented upon, it being now known as a "young men's town." The necessity for lodging places for the young men had given rise to the projection of the dormitory plans. The speaker then commented on the noble beneficence of Mrs. Nichols, to whom the young men of the town owed a debt of gratitude. To the Dormitory Committee, Messrs. R. E. Harding, J. S. Knapman and J. W. Bennett, was also due the greatest credit for their energetic and painstaking work in behalf of the project. The benefits to the young men, especially to new arrivals in town was spoken of. The speaker hoped that eventually, 50 or 60 rooms might be furnished and also that to this might be added in the near future, dining accomodations. The speaker closed by again expressing his gratitude in behalf of the Directorate to the committee for their efforts.

Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot then contributed a piano solo which thoroughly captivated the audience, and an appreciative recall.

This was followed by short addresses by the members of the Dormitory Committee.

Dormatories Cost $1500.

Mr. R. E. Harding, chairman of the Committee, felt that by the kind expressions which he had heard on every side that the feeling of pleasure at the success of the undertaking was widespread in its nature.

He then paid a high tribute to his colleagues upon the Committee, referring to the constant zeal of Mr. Bennett, and the great financial ability of Mr. Knapman. There were two things required by the young men—a good mother and comfortable apartments in which to reside. The young men would find here perfect comfort and cleanliness, though there were some things which the Association cannot provide—a bed at home with the mother's good-night kiss, had an abiding place in the memory and could never be forgotten. The cost of the rooms had approximated $1,500. The speaker referred to the kindness and of the assistance lent to the Dormitory project by the business men of the town. One thing with which he had been particularly struck was the kindly manner in which visitors had always spoken of the local branch of the Y. M. C. A., at which they invariably said they had received a warmer welcome than at any other place in Canada.

The rooms would be rented solely to members of the association. The speaker closed by expressing his warm thanks to the ladies, who had always lent a generous assistance to the work of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. J. S. Knapman expressed his pleasure at the splendid manner in which the town of Peterborough had lent its assistance to the work of building the dormitories, since the inception of the scheme. He expressed the hope that the number of rooms might be increased to thirty or forty in the near future. The association was indeed fortunate in having as its secretary such an energetic man as Mr. Williamson, whose constant zeal had been an important factor in the success of the association.

Mr. J. W. Bennet modestly disclaimed the credit which had been given him by the chairman. The greatest credit in regard to the work of the committee was done by Mr. Harding. The speaker then referred to the early efforts of the Association previous to the erection of the present building, and of the splendid progress since, closing by expressing his gratitude that the association had such an efficient and energetic secretary as Mr. Williamson.

A piano selection was then rendered with charming effect by Miss Alice Beger, the audience manifesting its delight in hearty and sustained applause.

Business Men's Sentiments.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, in opening, referred to the uniqueness of the event. He was much interested, indeed in the work, which was being accomplished at the present day by the Y.M.C.A. The work is much broader than was the case in former years. The town is being filled up rapidly with young men of the better class. They were now assured of comfortable and clean apartments, providing all the comforts of a home. It is very encouraging indeed that we have got so far, and he felt quite satisfied that we would in the near future see the number increased to 50 or 60, spoken of by a previous speaker, with the addition of a restaurant downstairs.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, in a few short but well-chosen remarks, congratulated the committee upon their success, and he would be pleased indeed to see the number of rooms increased to 50 or 60. The speaker closed with a few pertinent remarks, providing all the comforts for the boys, stating that as an employer of labour, he, with others, received important advantages from the improvement in physique and morals resulting to young men from connection with the Y.M.C.A. The better the facilities offered to young men, he remarked, the more would be expected of them.

The violin solo by Mr. Gilbert Markle, of the Conservatory of Music staff, which followed, was beautifully rendered, and displayed a creditable technical power, the harmonics being executed with charming effect.

Portraits Unveiled.

Then followed the surprise of the evening, the presentation by the Strangers' Fellowship Club, to the association, of two beautiful life-sized portraits of Mr. Richard Hall and Mr. Chas. McGill, the trustees of the building, and of the Nicholls estate. The portraits, which are beautifully executed, are the work of Mr. G. E. Whiten. The presentation was made by Mr. Garnet Galley and Mr. W. Dormer, on behalf of the Strangers' Fellowship Club. The unveiling of the pictures, after a few appropriate remarks by Mr. Galley was greeted with tumultuous applause.

MR. T. H. HUTCHINSON,
Late Assistant Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Who worked Energetically for the Dormitories.

Messrs. Richard Hall and Chas McGill, Portraits of Whom were Presented to the Association Last Night.

Mr. Hall made a few timely remarks in reply, expressing his pleasure at the manner in which the rooms had been finished, and felt that they were a credit to all who had assisted in the work. Reference was also made to the generous beneficence of the late Mrs. Nicholls, to whom the association was so largely indebted. Mr. Hall in his closing remarks, supplemented his previous generosity by requesting that in all cases, illness arising in the building should be reported, when medical assistance would be rendered the patient until his recovery. Mr. Hall closed by returning his heartfelt thanks to the donors for their tribute of esteem.

Letters were read from Mrs. C. McGill, Mr. E. G. Patterson, Mr. C. Gill, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, regretting that they were not able to be present, and expressing congratulations and good wishes to the Y.M.C.A. Enclosed in Mrs. McGill's communication was a cheque for $10 towards the Dormitory Fund.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, in the board room, the tables being beautifully decorated with tulips, maidenhair ferns and Japanese blossoms.

The Refreshment Committee whose energetic work contributed so largely to the success of the evening was composed as follows:—Misses E. Ackerman, L. Davidson, Bertram, Harding, P. Lundy, G. Koudry, Helen Mason, M. Davidson.

—Mr. B. Laster, of Laster's Bargain House, George street, is opening a branch store in Campbellford this week. The success of Mr. Laster's Peterborough business and the amount of goods he handles, has encouraged him to spread out and enlarge his money-making capacity. Campbellford people will be the gainers, as Mr. Laster has a way of selling goods cheaper than regular.

—There is a very strong agitation amongst our villagers in favour of a rigorous enforcement of the liquor license law. The statement is made by several who are in a position to observe that there is more liquor sold during prohibited hours than during regular hours. This should not be so and the people have a right to see that the law is lived up to by license holders.—Norwood Register.

—Norwood citizens were startled about 11.30 Monday night by the ringing of the fire bell. The scene of the blaze was the stable adjoining the McGregor House. The fire fire originated on the outside of the building on the north side and is supposed by many to have been caused by the carelessness of some person dropping a cigar stub or cigarette into some straw lying beside the building.

—On Monday evening next, Mr. H. H. Kenner, of the Collegiate Institute staff, will give an address at the George Street Epworth League on the subject of "Great Church Hymns." This is an interesting subject and in the hands of so able a man as Mr. Kenner, should prove of more than ordinary interest. A number of the hymns will be sung. All interested are cordially invited to be present.

—It has always been the custom for the Orangemen of Lindsay, Peterborough, Millbrook, and Port Hope, to celebrate the 12th of July in each town alternately. This year it was Port Hope's turn to have the walk, but as Peterborough, and also Victoria county, intend going to Omemee, the celebration at Port Hope has to the disappointment of many, been cancelled. The Port Hope and Cavan Orangemen are making arrangements to charter the Steamer Argyle to run an excursion to Belleville, where the Cavan and Port Hope lodges intend taking part in the glorious twelfth.

CLOSING POPULAR BAND CONCERT

Characteristically Enjoyable Programme Presented

The Same Finished Work by the Band —A Delightful Evening.

The Fifty-seventh Band is very popular with the people of Peterborough, which is accounted for in two easy ways. First, it is a high-class musical organization, composed of musical enthusiasts, expert in their several parts, led and trained by an enthusiastic leader, who is an expert in his part also. The other reason is that the band is very liberal in presenting its splendid performances during the summer, free as the birds and their music. We all know by what large audiences the park concerts are attended. Unfortunately, there has not been the same multitudinous attendance at the popular concerts given during the past winter season in the opera house, but they have been fairly well patronized, and the band has, during the series, not only maintained, but added to its reputation. On the whole the attendance at these concerts has been fair, considering the numerous counter-attractions the winter afforded.

Last night the band presented an excellent programme of a popular and varied character, which delighted the audience very much, almost every number being re-demanded. The programme opened with a swinging march, followed by the beautiful opening to Suppe's "Poet and Peasant." Miss Sadie Free, a promising local elocutionist, delighted the audience with a spirited recitation of "The Run of Crusader," and had to respond to an encore. The band's performance of the transcription of Lovenberg's. "In the Cellar Cool" was most artistically treated, while the character of the music brought into play the heavy artillery of the band in a most gratifying manner. So greatly did this piece please that on strong demand, the last movement, in which the basses play a most prominent part, was repeated.

Mr. Gilbert Markle's contribution in the way of a violin solo, while greatly pleasing in itself, was greatly magnified, as demonstrating how greatly this popular young violinist is improving, in steadiness, clearness and tone production. His first number developed some good double stepping and nice harmonic work. His encore number, a sprightly mazurka, with contrasting movements, was played with fine dash and neatness. The band's performance of "The Princess Chic" number, was quite up to its name. The performance itself was chic and sparkling, the rollicking roll of its melodies being very happily presented. The fantasia, "My Old Kentucky Home," was perhaps the most musicianly performance of the evening, not only in the ensemble work, but the airs varies assigned to several instruments, demonstrated that each was capable of artistic work in his specialty. In this as in the preceding selections the delicacy of shading and the smooth progress of and recession of crescendi and diminuendi movements were especially worthy of praise, as they were productive of enjoyment and admiration of the skillful subordination of the full band to the demands of the music. The concluding number "The Village Band" afforded a sharp contrast to the music which had preceded and gave the audience an object lesson as to the difference between a skillfully trained musical organization and — otherwise. The performance of the village band was perhaps wanting in smoothness and a delicate ear could at times detect a slight suggestion of discord. But what the band lacked in finish it made up in fury, and its performance as a whole was a most laughable contribution to the annals of musical murder.

Thus we bid a brief good-bye to the indoor treats of the band, and if the sun-spots permit we shall soon again enjoy the delight of hearing the 57th in Victoria Park. Their popular concerts this winter have distinctly added to their popularity and to the popular appreciation of the splendid musical organization the band is. Both the band and its capable leader deserve well at the hands of Peterborough people. We have many things to be proud of and the band is easily one of the first. Many say that Peterborough lacks many things needed to correspond with the dignity of city-hood. But the Fifty-Seventh Band is not of the things lacking for without boast, Peterborough has a band, which is not surpassed, if equalled, by any similar organization of any city of the broad Dominion. With an enthusiastic leader, whose enthusiasm and exacting demands for finished work are quickly and intelligently caught by the members of the band, it is no surprise that the musical results are as gratifying and delightful as they are.

MR. RUPERT GLIDDON,
Bandmaster and Director of the 57th Regiment Band.

WINTER DOINGS AT STONY LAKE

Property There Has Passed Through Winter Well.

Tourists Already Coming In—Many new Improvements Being Made.

Messrs. W. H. Hamilton, Thos. Hooper, C. N. Brown and D. Drummond have spent the last few days at Stony Lake, where they went to look over the ground and see the result of the winter storms.

They found that there had been no serious disturbance of any of the property since last summer. One of the minor accidents was the overthrow of Mr. J. J. McBain's boat-house, in which he had housed the steam yacht, Mollie. Mr. H. P. Lindsay's boat house was smashed, with ice pressing against it.

Mr. R. H. Jackson, who is carrying on some building operations at Eel's Creek, at the head of the lake, has a considerable quantity of lumber on hand there and in the course of a short time will have his buildings completed.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall is having a large sleeping room fitted up on his island.

Mr. Robt. McCracken is erecting a new residence on the shore of the lake to the left of the Victoria House, on the property adjoining the house erected by his father in 1831 and which has been used ever since, 74 years.

The party returned to town on Thursday night, bronzed and weather-beaten after their long drive. They state that the water at the lake is very high and that the tourists are already going into the northern district, Mount Julian having a number of guests already.

When Mr. Hooper who is looked upon as the piscatorial expert of the party was asked how many fish he had bagged, he was as dumb as the proverbial oyster.

Toronto Youth is Drowned.

Toronto, May 20.—The first drowning of the season occurred yesterday morning in McNamee's Cut, Ashbridge's Bay, the victim being Howard L. Cooper, aged 18. He in company with James Carlton, 107 Oak street, had built a canvass canoe and they were making their first trip. Fred Humphrey and Thomas Gilmour rescued Carlton and later recovered Cooper's body. He was the son of Thomas H. Cooper, vice-president of the Canadian Loan & Savings Co.

Killed By a Wringer.

Ottawa, May 20.—Fred C. Clark, aged 36, employed at the washout of the American Bank Note Co., was killed by a striker from a power wringer flying off and hitting him on the stomach.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington County, Ont., writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs along with other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which built her up."

"Blunoz"—a Canadian Serge made on the Semi-ready standard

"Blunoz" is our exclusively controlled serge.

We had an idea that Canadians would wear a Canadian-made serge, if it was made good enough. We didn't want to appeal to their loyalty —what we wanted was a serge that would appeal to their pocket-books and their common sense.

We have it in "Blunoz" serge.

Our cloth experts hunted up a Canadian manufacturer who was honestly trying to make good serge, and instilled into him our ideas of what a serge should be. He is making "Blunoz" serge for us now. We control the output of his factory and the secret that makes "Blunoz" wear well and never fade.

The only place you can get this excellent "Blunoz" serge is in the Semi-ready Wardrobes —in single and double-breasted sack suits.

Price, $18.

THE PROVINCE'S CORPS.

Government Report Is of a Very Satisfactory Nature.

Toronto, May 20.—The outlook for the grain crop in Ontario is most promising, according to a report issued by the Department of Agriculture, based on conditions prevailing on May 16. Live stock also is reported to be doing well, and altogether the prospects are that the present year will be a prosperous one for Ontario farmers.

Fall wheat, it is stated, was sown under favorable conditions, and there has been considerably less winter-killing this year than last. The cold winds in April were very trying to spring fields, but the crop has picked up wonderfully since. The disappearance of the Hessian fly is one of the most gratifying features.

The rye crop is reported to be in good condition, and the present indications are that there will be a full crop of clover. The general report is that new fields are particularly strong, the catch last year having been most successful.

Vegetation in field and forest was hardly as far advanced as usual on May 16, on account of April being a backward month. There has been a rapid growth of blade and leaf in May, however.

A considerable number of plum trees have been winter-killed and some peach and other fruit trees, but not nearly as many as last year. Apples are not likely to be a heavy crop. Much damage to young fruit trees is being done by field mice, which infest every county.

All classes of live stock have come through the winter well. Cattle are described as lean, but hearty. Horses likewise. They are now picking up on grass after a somewhat slim fare through the winter. Ewes have been prolific and lambs are remarkably strong. Swine do not seem to be as plentiful as usual.

The sowing of spring grain averaged a week or two earlier than usual and the catch was generally successful.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOUR

To California and Lewis and Clarke Exposition, Portland, Oregon.

A personally conducted excursion to the Pacific Coast via The Grand Trunk Railway System and connecting lines, leaving Chicago July 6th, and Montreal and Toronto July 8th. The route will be via Chicago and thence through Colorado, Denver to Omaha, Denver and Colorado Springs. Stops will be made at each of these places, and side trips taken to Manitou, Cripple Creek, Garden of the Gods, etc. From there the party will continue through the famous scenic route of the Denver and Rio Grande, through the Royal Gorge, to Salt Lake City, thence to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Mount Shasta, Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Spokane, and home through St. Paul and Minneapolis. The trip will occupy about thirty days, ten days being spent on the Pacific Coast.

The rates for the tours trip, including railroad fare, Pullman tourist sleeping cars, all meals in dining car, hotels, side trips, etc., is $165.00 from Quebec or $160.00 from Montreal, and $150.00 from Toronto. This first trip is designed as a vacation trip for teachers, although many who are not teachers will improve the opportunity of taking the trip at the remarkably low price attended.

ALABASTINE is a cement coating that hardens with age. Kalsomine preparations, under whatever name or claims, are only temporary, always rubbing and scaling off. Wall-paper, with its mouldy paste on the back, and arsenical poisonous coloring and finish on the face, impregnate the air of a room with disease germs. The walls of hospitals are never papered—the reason is obvious. Sanitarians endorse ALABASTINE. Hardware and Paint Dealers everywhere sell it.

POET OF THE MOUNTAINS.

Editor of the Slocan (B.C.) Drill Discovers Talented Versemaker.

To Mr. C. E. Smitheringale, editor of the Slocan (B.C.) Drill, we are indebted for the discovery of an extremely talented verse-writer, whose work has been appearing for some time in the columns of the Drill. Mr. R. T. Anderson is a young man of 23, who lives with his father on a farm near Slocan. With the object of giving the people of the east a taste for the mountain poet's writing, Mr. Smitheringale sends the following, which are, perhaps, best calculated to show the variety of his themes and treatment:

The Ae Auld Lion o' Britain.

There is ae auld lion o' Britain,
As fierce as fierce can be,
An' he lies on his rocky hiedlan'
An' leuks far out tae sea.
He leuks at the merchant navy
That bobs on the white sea faem,
An' tak's a keek at the gunboats
Guardin' his islan' hame.

The ae auld lion o' Britain,
He shuts his een a spell,
An' a' the beasts o' the mainlan'
Set up a screech an' yell;
The ae auld lion o' Britain,
He blinks his een a wee,
An' a' o' the ither beasties
Are guid as guid can be.

They wearie the ae auld lion
An' fash him wi' their din,
But they ken fu' weel whan he's sleepin'
An' ken when it's time tae rin;
An' the Russian bear creeps backward
Again tae its northern lair,
An' the eagle o' France flaps lower
Whan it sees thet the lion's there.

O', weel dae they ken the auld lion,
For weel has he gien them cause,
An' weel dae they ken far better
Than come to reach o' his paws.
Maist feck o' the beasts o' the mainlan'
Has felt o' his claws before,
Sae they's roose na the ae auld lion
Wha are na seekin' for war.

For the ae auld lion o' Britain,
As hist'ry aft can preuve,
Is the hert o' a race united
Tae stand by the land they luve;
Tae stand by their King an' Kintra
An' the richts thet they ne'er sail tyne,
The freedom oor fathers won for us
In the days o' the auld lang syne.

Noo, here's tae the King—God bless him—
As he sits aboon his throne,
An' may the seat o' his royal breeks
Lang polish the stane o' Scone.
An' we'se drink tae the ae auld lion
Until thet oor cogies toom,
An' whan thes wad win tae his islan' hame,
Thiey's no get there till they soom.

Friendship.

When we have reached life's tether end
And part the ties that bind us,
Should we have left but one true friend
To mourn our loss behind us,
Then we shall not have lived in vain
If, in our onward pressing
Amidst Life's cares, amidst its pain,
We've saved one Earthly blessing.

For, greatest of all Heavenly gifts
Unto poor mortals given,
Is love ennobling, love that lifts,
And brings us nearer Heaven;
That helps us find in every part
Where Hope's advance has bound us
Some true, congenial, kindly heart
Amid the hosts around us.

So, he who has had many friends,
Yet feels Death's chill come o'er him,
May look across where this life ends
To that which lies before him;
And tho' the pang be great to go
And break these bands asunder,
It lessens still the grief to know
That friends await him yonder.

God grant, when we are at the last
And this life's ties be broken,
When all our hope of Earth be past
And our last song be spoken;
When Heaven looms up before us clear
And golden dawn it o'er us;
That we leave friends behind us here
And we'll have friends before us.

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR

Mrs. Eaton Recovering, Although Her Physician said she might drop dead at any time.

MRS. ROBERT EATON SO.

"The Doctor told me I had heart disease and was liable to drop on the street at any time,' says Mrs. Robert Eaton of Dufferin, Ont.

"My trouble began four years ago with a weak heart. I was often afraid to draw my breath, it pained me with nervousness, shortness of breath, dizziness, loss of appetite, smothering and sinking spells, and I could not sleep.

"Sometimes a great weakness would seize me and I would have to lie down to keep from falling. My hands and feet would seem to go to sleep and a sort of numbness would come all over me and perhaps immediately after the blood would rush to my head and a series of hot flashes would envelop me.

"I took all kinds of medicines, but kept gradually growing worse until about eight weeks ago, when I began using Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill. From the start I improved until now my appetite has returned, I can sleep well, and have no nervousness, dizziness, palpitation, faintness or any of my other troubles. They have all entirely disappeared. I feel much stronger, look better, and altogether Anti-Pill has made a new woman of me.

"I am entirely cured and cannot say too much for this wonderful remedy. I would most heartily recommend Anti-Pill to anyone suffering as I do."

Religious Awakening in England.

There are not wanting signs that we in England are on the eve of a great religious awakening, as the result of a profound revulsion of feeling against the worldliness and materialism that have for so long held baneful sway. A most remarkable wave of religious emotion is passing over Wales. The public houses are losing their trade, football clubs are experiencing a depression as profound as it is unwonted and meetings for prayer and praise are carried on by night as well as day.

Already the movement seems spreading to England, and there is much to confirm the views of those who for a long time past have been asserting that the train was laid, and that the spark alone was now needed to set the kingdom in a blaze. Nay! is it not even possible that we are on the verge of a world-wide revival? Such an event, at any rate, would only be in keeping with the teaching of history, which shows very plainly that it is just when materialism seems to be marching to its Austerlitz that it meets instead with its Sedan.—From The Church Eclectic.

A ROMANTIC CHAPTER

HUDSON BAY 650 SHARES RISE $100 IN A SINGLE MONTH.

Wonderful Story of the Development of the Dominion of Canada — Causes Which Have Contributed to This Profit of Over £2,000,000—American Speculators in Canada's Lands and the Part They Are Playing.

A correspondent writing from London, Eng., on March 21, says: "The £10 shares in the Hudson Bay Co. have risen nearly £20 in less than a month, and now stand at over £70."

To the financier the above statement means a stock exchange "boom" to which a profit of over £2,000,000 is attached. But to the student of colonial history it means much more. For him it contains one of the most romantic chapters in the story of the development of our richest colony—the Dominion of Canada.

Within the next month work will begin in earnest on the new railway which is to join the Atlantic and Pacific shores of the Dominion. Half of this railway—from Moncton, a New Brunswick port, to Winnipeg—is to be built by the Government; the other half—from Winnipeg to Port Simpson, on the Pacific—by the Grand Trunk Railway. The second half of this gigantic engineering enterprise will pass through vast tracts of almost unexplored virgin country.

Some 2,000 miles of prairie land, interspersed with lakes and ponds, and heavily timbered in places with spruce and pine, will be made accessible to settlers. The few settlers who have already penetrated into the mighty solitudes of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta, describe the region as abounding in mineral and agricultural wealth. The story of Manitoba, with its mammoth wheat fields, its thousands of prosperous farmers, its hundreds of towns and villages, which now cover what was once wild forest and prairie land, the home of the buffalo and the Indian, is likely to be repeated.

American Speculators.

The vast possibilities which the railway thus opens up have already been recognized. American land speculators are securing large blocks of land as fast as the Government surveys, made in preparation for settlers, are completed. The railway will not be finished for five or six years, but it will bring with it thousands of settlers, and land "booms" like those which marked the progress of the railway system of the United States are sure to follow. Then will the speculators who are now sowing their seed reap their harvest.

The Hudson Bay Co. has an extensive interest in all this, for, owing to a bargain it made with the Canadian Government thirty-five years ago, its proprietary rights in the region now being brought into touch with civilization are second only to those of the Government itself.

The company was founded in 1670, a charter being granted to Prince Rupert and seventeen noblemen and gentlemen for importing into Great Britain furs and skins obtained by barter from the Indians of North America. The corporation was invested with the absolute proprietorship of all land discovered or to be discovered within the entrance of the Hudson Strait.

For more than a century the holders of the charter confined themselves to the coast traffic. Their troubles were many, the chief being an almost continual warfare with the French, who destroyed their forts, ruined their goods and captured their ships.

With the wresting of Canada by the British from the French, the exploring spirit broke out among the Hudson Bay pioneers. Parties penetrated far up the Saskatchewan River, towards the Rocky Mountains. In 1783 the North-west Fur Co. of Montreal was formed, and, after nearly forty years' competition in inland trading with the Hudson Bay Co., was merged into the latter in 1821.

Result of a Bargain.

The Hudson Bay Co. now ruled practically the whole of North America. In 1870, however, it made a bargain with the Canadian Government, and to this bargain is due the fact that its shares to-day stand at 700 per cent. premium.

The company's territorial rights were sold to the Government for £300,000 in cash, the right to select a block of land adjoining each of its stations, and the right for fifty years from 1870 to "claim in any township or district within the fertile belt in which land is set out for settlement grants of land not exceeding one-twentieth part of the land so set out."

The "fertile belt" is the stretch of country through the northern portion of which, stretching from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains, is bounded on the south by the United States boundary. Up to March 1904, about 3,997,-000 acres, or one-twentieth of the total land laid out for settlement, which reaches from Winnipeg to Edmonton, a town in Alberta, had been allotted to the company.

With the passing of the railway scheme the laying out of the land is proceeding apace, and well before the fifty years have expired the entire district will be mapped out into settlements, and the company will have received over 7,000,000 acres of land.

Up to March last year the company had sold 1,234,000 acres of its land. Some idea of the price it received may be gained from the fact that in the year 1903-4 the company sold 180,414 acres for nearly a quarter of a million pounds.

Values Steadily Rising.

Within the last year the company has adopted the policy of reducing the number of its land sales, and its present position is that it has over two and a half million acres in hand, with the certainty of a further allotment of over three million acres in the next few years. Already values are steadily rising throughout the "fertile belt," and the possibilities of further appreciation as the northern portion becomes colonized are boundless.

Since its bargain with the Government in 1870 the company has prospered exceedingly. It has returned £1,000,000 to its shareholders of their capital, which is now divided into 100,000 shares of £10 each. During the last ten years alone it has paid £955,000 in dividends, or nearly an average of 10 per cent. Last year its dividend rose to £17 10s per cent.

The present "boom" in its shares is largely owing to American purchases. Possibly the same speculators, who, for months past, have been purchasing land in Northwest Canada, are seeking to secure control of the company which possesses so large an interest in the sphere of their operations. Optimists say that, although there may be small setbacks, due to profit-taking, the company's shares are bound to reach £100 in value before the boom ends.

A VAST COAL AREA.

Found by George McKenzie of British Columbia in Lonely Walk Down Four Hundred Miles.

In a land of magnificent distances like Canada there have been not a few remarkably long walks, but one of 400 miles over snow, just accomplished by George McKenzie, has characteristics that render it unique. He traveled on foot alone across the rugged interior of northern British Columbia, an undertaking few men would care to face, but he speaks of it as a holiday trip.

McKenzie is a true westerner of the late Jim Wardner type, ever seeking new mineral fields to conquer. He is at home in minings camps of the real Wild West type. Last spring, finding that the Boundary country was becoming too effete, he, with Edward Sullivan and H. B. Thorne, left it to find something fresh in the way of life and minerals in the Far North, to which so many pioneer eyes are turned to-day. The three went overland from Vancouver, B.C., via the Similkameen, the Cariboo road, Quesnel and the Dawson telegraph trail.

They spent months placer mining, prospecting and trapping, and at length they discovered a coal area of remarkable richness. McKenzie will not disclose the location, but he says it is within convenient distance of where the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway must run. He says the seam is 100 feet wide, between sandstone and conglomerate formations, and in one place is cut by a stream which exposes a depth of 50 feet.

It was in order to interest capital in the coal mine and also to learn the value of some quarts finds that McKenzie made his 400-mile trip over the northern mountain ranges on snowshoes. Leaving his partners in camp last February, he turned his face Pacificwards, carrying a 50-pound pack and samples that weighed 25 pounds. Not a human being did he meet for 200 miles. He crossed four mountain ranges, and for 20 consecutive nights he slept in the snow without even a tent to cover him.

In order to travel as light as possible, he took no gun, and his only weapon of offence in case of attack by wild animals was an axe. The only game he sought for food was rabbit. It took him just 40 days to reach Port Essington, at the mouth of the Skeena River, where he caught a steamer for Vancouver. He looks as though the trip did him good, and he is recommending it to his friends for the benefit of their health. He plans to return in a few days. He will take the Hudson's Bay Company steamer up the Skeena to Hazelton, and from there he will have to walk 250 miles overland to where his partners anxiously await his report. He says the district he is prospecting bears no evidence of ever having been visited by white men before. He claims to have been the first white man to make this trip, and nobody seems inclined to dispute the assertion.

Pills and Piles.

A prolific cause of Piles is the use of cathartics and pills of a drastic, violent nature, which is always followed by a reaction on account of the resinous, drying properties they contain.

There are other causes, but no matter what the cause or what the kind of Piles, Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid can be relied upon to cure—to stay cured.

It's an internal remedy that removes the causes of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Suppurating Piles.

A guarantee goes with each package containing a month's treatment.

It can be obtained for $1.00 at druggists', or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 6

President Board of Agriculture.

The Hon. Ailwyn Fellowes, who has been appointed president of the Board of Agriculture in succession to the Earl of Onslow, new chairman of committees in the House of Lords, is the second son of Lord de Ramsey, and represents the Ramsey division of Huntingdonshire, which has long been the Parliamentary preserve of his family, says the London Star. He is himself a practical and serious agriculturist, and has for some time been the spokesman of his new department in the House of Commons. As a Unionist whip from 1895 till 1900 he was very popular in the House. He married the daughter of Lord Hylton, and inherited Heningham Hall, Norwich, where he lives, from his aunt, Lady Bayning. He is as proud of his home farm as he is of the fact that Clare Sewell Read is one of his tenants.

Have You Noticed This?

A remarkable connection between the autumn rainfall and the wheat yield has been noted by the British meteorological council. "With certain exceptions," says a recent report by the secretary, "every inch of autumn rainfall involves a diminution of the yield of wheat for the following year by a bushel and a quarter per acre." Autumn is that period from the thirty-sixth to the forty-eighth week of the year, approximately the months of September, October and November. The report under consideration covers the "principal wheat producing districts" of the United Kingdom. The autumn of 1904 was unusually dry in those districts, and the farmer will have a chance to verify the conclusions of the council the coming season.

A Clerical Joker.

The Bishop of Llandaff, says London Tit-Bits, is fond of the concoction of conundrums, with which, when a country parson in Pembrokeshire, he loved to bewilder the grave historian, Thirwall. The story goes that not long ago Bishop Lewis concluded a clerical meeting by asking his flock: "If it takes your bishop a week to eat a ham, how long would it take him to eat a hammer?" and made a diplomatic departure to catch his train. When the company had given up the problem they wired to Llandaff for the solution, and received the maddening reply: "I don't know; I've never tried."

REASON No 35

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because of its Flavor.

Why do you buy certain varieties of fruit and vegetables? Is it not because you like the flavor of some better than others?

Flavor is the special quality which stamps one brand of food product as superior to another, and is the quality that always commands the highest price.

The delicate, fragrant flavor of Red Rose Tea is the result of scientific study and methods on the tea plantations, and in the tea testing and blending rooms.

It has what might be called a fruity taste—a rich, ripe flavor that is very pleasing to the palate—a taste you won't forget.

The Blue Label is recommended.

BOOTH SENDS ADDRESS

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN THE HOLY LAND.

Makes a Stirring Appeal from Jerusalem to All Who May Read His Words to "Turn to the Men, Women and Children Around You Who Need Your Help" and Give it — The World's Salvation.

General William Booth: I am in Jerusalem, at the heart of the scenes forever hallowed by my Lord and Master's life, sufferings, and death. I have visited Bethlehem, and in imagination I have listened to the anthems with which the angels heralded the Saviour's coming to our world; I have walked the streets of the city once trodden by His sacred feet; I have stood on the brow of Mount Olivet and gazed with the deepest sympathy upon the pitying tears he wept over those who were about to shed his blood; and I have looked on the other places made memorable by their connection with the tragic incidents of his earthly career.

They have shown me the pool of Siloam and the village of Bethany; while Nazareth, Jericho, and the River Jordan lay in the distance. They have shown me the reputed sites of the Temple, of the place of the Master's betrayal, of the palace of Herod, and of the Judgment Hall where Pilate condemned him to die. And as I looked back into that hall I saw again the crown of thorns, the mocking robe, the mimic scepter, the cruel scourging, while down through the ages I seemed to hear again the cries of the mob, "Crucify Him!"

In Gethsemane's Garden.

With indescribable feelings I have knelt in the garden of Gethsemane, ascended the hill called Calvary, and worshipped with solemn awe on the ground where stood the cross of shame on which my Lord purchased, by his broken heart, abundant sovereign saving grace to meet the needs of the whole human family.

I have looked into the empty sepulcher, where, cold in the arms of death, my Saviour lay, and have wonderingly beheld the mount from which he ascended to the father, triumphant over sin, and death, and hell, to plead the cause of the world he had so gloriously redeemed.

As my eyes have rested upon these sacred scenes, again the old question has suggested itself, Why all this suffering? Why did he live? And for what did he die? And then I have remembered the answer which came from his own blessed lips: "The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Salvation for the World.

That was his commission received from the Father; and as the Father commissioned him, so he commissioned his disciples, and if we are his disciples, our task is the same—namely: the salvation of the lost. About the length and breadth of the commission there can be no mistake. Beyond question it comprehended them, and comprehends to-day, the emotional deliverance of every man from every sin, irrespective of nationality, of character, or circumstance. Wherever compelled he him he will in no wise cast out. By the grace of God he tasted death for every man. He was, and is, the one Saviour of the whole world.

But standing here to-day may I not make a special claim on behalf of the more helpless and hopeless section of the peoples? Could their condition be much more unlike that kingdom which he came to establish, or more closely resemble what we know of the kingdom of hell?

Senseless, Inhuman Wars.

Look at the cruel, selfish, senseless, inhuman wars in which the poor are ever the main sufferers! Look at the starvation in which millions slowly pine, wasting and wailing, until delivered from their misery by the grave!

Look at the countless army of drunkards held by the chains of their demoralising appetites! Think of their desolate wives and children, their dreary homes, and of their march to death and hell!

Look at the hideous slavery of impurity fuming itself in the centres of civilization and Christianity, and at the debasing results that follow in its train!

Look at the melancholy criminals shut behind prison bars, for whose reformation for this world or the next so little intelligent effort is made! Look at the gay, frivolous crowds found everywhere, who in the pulpiest pursuits waste the sacred opportunities given them to bless their fellows and prepare to meet their God.

population, utterly ignorant of the mercy of Jesus, and often abandoned to conditions of misery and vice, terrible to contemplate.

Comrades, friends, belonging to every section of the Christian faith, look at the waste howling wilderness only faintly pictured here. Look at it! O, look with the spirit of the great Christ when he stood upon this sacred hill, the spirit in which he looks at it to-day, and say, will you not do something adequate for these sufferers?

Labors for the Cross.

I am not oblivious to the Christianising efforts already made by the disciples of the cross. I am not unmindful of the noble temples which have been erected, of the intellectual systems which have been formulated, of the impressive ceremonies which have been ordinated, of the powerful organizations which have been created in His name; neither do I overlook the fight being made in every corner of the globe for the benefit of the peoples in whom interest I plead. I thank God for all this loving toil, but the time has more than come to go further out and deeper down than ever before into the ocean of moral depravity and woe, into this veritable hell upon earth, too seek out and save its denizens of darkness.

The followers of Jesus Christ to-day are sufficiently powerful to grapple effectively with this underworld of agony, and at the risk of being thought guilty of presumption standing here on this sacred mount, I feel I must send forth a call to them to come with their wealth, learning, ability, and influence, and let us make a united fight to save the people.

Let us make a great fight to save them from the cruel poverty in which they pine. Let us save the slaves of vice by taking them to the Christ who can change their characters by changing their hearts. Let us save them from paralyzing despair by showing them a way of deliverance; let us make them feel that we are their friends.

Appeals to the World.

Comrades, friends, and strangers, do not pass these poor words by because my name has no place high in the roll of church dignitaries, or because it is unrecognised by any popular school of philosophy, or is not indorsed with the authority of any powerful Government. If the call is in harmony with the mission of Jesus Christ, with the noblest instincts of your own nature, with the urging of the holy spirit, or with the needs of the suffering, listen to it, and in some way try to give it effect.

Turn to the men, women, and children around you who need your help; go to work at once, and if no other means of rescue be at hand, avail yourself of the services of my own dear people. But do something. O, do something! By the hell on earth these poor creatures suffer to-day; by the destruction on the verge of which they hover; by the abundant mercy provided for them; by the deliverance we have proved so possible; by the agony of the cross under the shadow of which I make this appeal, I plead for a united, desperate, persistent effort to save the lost.

NAPOLEONIC RELICS.

Rare Relics Sold at Christie's in London the Other Day.

What is undoubtedly the finest collection of Napoleonic relics that has ever been sold at public auction was offered at Christie's rooms in London the other day.

The anticipated struggle for the possession of the Empire showcase in which the rare relics were displayed resulted in a victory for Messrs. Goodeu and Fox, who carried off the prize for £186 10s. ($882.50). Last year Messrs. Southey obtained as much as £10 ($100) for the key of the room in which Napoleon was born, a lock of his hair and one of the King of Rome's, and a fragment of wood from Napoleon's coffin.

The collection sold at Christie's was infinitely more important and comprised the following items:—The bronze death mask of the Emperor, taken from a plaster cast of his face at St. Helena by Dr. Antommarchi; a mathematical reduction of the same in a box made from the wood of Napoleon's coffin; a copy of Napoleon's head after death by Caroline F. Walpole.

There was also a case of souvenirs, formerly belonging to Prince Beauharnais Conti, comprising locks of Napoleon's and Marie Louise's hair; a miniature of Marie Louise by Isabey, one of Empereur Napoleon, by Gigels, 1812; ivories by Brunetelent, of Turin, and a relic under diamond of a thinute paternoster; miniatures of Napoleon, Desiree, Beauharnais, Mme. Bonaparte and the King of Rome.

Also a curious framed print of Mme. Bonaparte, two crosses of the Legion of Honor, framed relics from Waterloo and Paris, a box with a lock of Napoleon's hair cut off after death, a piece of the plank from which his coffin was made and part of the actual coffin; a remnant of the flag made by the ladies of St. Helena, which covered Napoleon's sarcophagus when conveyed to the French war ship Bellepoule.

And also a chine and silver statuette of Napoleon; a snuff box, with scene of the exhumation of Napoleon at St. Helena on the lid; a frame containing a small ornament from the Emperor's uniform worn at Waterloo; thirty-three bronze and silver medals struck by Napoleon, and the St. Helena medal and certificate—truely a remarkable collection.

These relics were the property of Mr. Merton Russell Cotes, of Bournemouth.

A large enamel of Louis Philippe in his coronation robes, by H. Bone, from the same collection, was knocked down to Mr. Mayor for £47 ($235).

Mr. Cotes' silverplate was of no more importance than that of General Sir William Penn Symons, which was sold on the same day, though Mr. Hodgkins gave £45 ($215) for a German parcel gilt tankard and cover, and Mr. Roe £42 ($210) for four silver candlesticks, 1776; and a Charles II. beaker, by Geo. Manny, York, 1662, was sold at 240 shillings per ounce, a total of £40 10s. ($204.75) to Mr. Crichton.

British Minister at Lisbon.

Mr. Maurice William Ernest de Bunsen, C. B., who has been appointed His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Lisbon in the place of the late Sir Martin Gosselin, says the London Star, was nominated an attache in 1877, and dispatched in the following year to Washington. He served subsequently at Berne, Madrid, Paris and Lisbon, so that he does not go to Portugal as an entire stranger. In 1891 Mr. de Bunsen was appointed Secretary of Legation at Tokio, and he has since served in Siam, Washington, Constantinople and Paris, where he was appointed Secretary of Embassy in 1902, with the rank of Minister Plenipotentiary. He married in 1890 a daughter of the late Mr. A. H. Lewys-Corry. The Hon. Reginald Bisher, who has been appointed Counsellor of Embassy at Paris, is a brother of the present Lord Ribblesdale, and was born in 1865. He entered the diplomatic service at the age of 21, and served successively at Berlin, Paris, Athens, Constantinople, again at Paris, Copenhagen and Rome, whither he was sent last year as Councillor of Embassy, with the decoration of the Victorian Order.

Knight of Order of the Thistle.

The Earl of Leven and Melville, who has been appointed a Knight of the Order of the Thistle in succession to the late Earl of Southesk, says The London Star, is the eleventh holder of the first title and the tenth Earl of Melville, is in his seventieth year, and succeeded his brother in the peerage of Scotland in 1889. He is a representative Peer of that country in the House of Lords, and has had the honor of representing the late Sovereign and His Majesty King Edward as High Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland for the unprecedented period, within modern times, of seven successive years. In 1883 he married a daughter of the second Viscount Portman, and their eldest son, Lord Balgonie, is now 18.

BRITANNIA'S BULWARKS.

Sale of Ten Cruisers and Eighteen Other British Vessels.

Chatham dockyard, associated with many interesting historic scenes, on April 4 was the scene of an unparalleled auction of large and powerful ships. Armored cruisers, gunboats and torpedo boats, forming a very "fleet in miniature," were knocked down to the highest bidder.

No fewer than 10 cruisers and 18 other vessels of the British navy were sold at this auction. They represent an initial outlay of some £3,000,000 ($15,000,000), and but for the advent of Sir John Fisher at the Admiralty, might have flown the white ensign for years to come.

None of the vessels may be sold to a foreign power, and none, except perhaps the sailing cutters, may be used again; they must all be broken up by the buyers, who, on concluding the purchase, must sign a bond to that effect.

This is a very necessary precaution on the part of the British Admiralty for otherwise the ships in question, which, though officially termed "obsolete," are in reality to all intents and purposes very serviceable vessels, might be bought up by other powers and used with quite good effect against the British navy and secrets of construction revealed which the Admiralty naturally enough prefers to withhold from publicity. Indeed, so careful are the authorities in the matter of viewing the ships for sale that, although the particulars of the sale have been made public, no persons are allowed in the Chatham dockyard to view them unless they apply for and obtain from the highest official at the Admiralty a special permit.

Regarding the breaking up of the vessels purchased, the Lords of the Admiralty are extremely punctilious and strict. In fact, in order to ensure the carrying out to the letter of the bond signed by the purchaser, they demand that either Admiralty officials be present to witness the execution of the act or require a whole series of photographs to be taken during the breaking up of the vessels and submitted for verification by the Admiralty itself.

In certain cases permission is given to the purchaser to use the vessel bought for specific purposes of his own, as, for instance, in the case of small vessels, for whaling or for Northern scientific expeditions, etc.

During this year, as an example, the Morning, a single screw steamship, was sold for use as a whaler, and last January the Terra Nova, a single screw steamship of 744 tons, 187 feet long and 31 feet beam, was sold in Chatham dockyard and was bought up by Mr. Siegler of New York. As a rule, however, all first class ships have to be broken up almost immediately.

As an example of the cost of breaking up a big ship it may be pointed out that when, in 1903, the battleship Neptune was sold by the Admiralty, the purchaser thereof was willing to spend over and above the actual money paid for the vessel—it amounted to £2,000 ($10,000) cash down—a further sum of £10,000 ($50,000) to have the battleship dismantled and broken to pieces, and again £10,000 ($50,000), probably, to prepare the materials of the vessel and its contents for further sale. That is to say, he had to spend straight away about £38,000 ($190,000) before beginning to see his way toward obtaining any profit from his transaction.

Similarly, when the Agamemnon was sent up at auction it fetched £36,000 ($180,000) immediately. In all probability fully another £15,000 ($75,000) had to be expended by the purchaser in breaking up his property before endeavoring to resell it.

It must be remembered that vessels like the Neptune are, even when obsolete and destined to be eventually demolished, extremely valuable property.

The Wasp site, which heads the list of the vessels now sold, has a displacement not very much less than that of the Neptune, and is of approximately the same length and beam. She possesses protective deck plating alone weighing 1,300 tons, and is equipped with two sets of compound surface engines equal to 8,000 horse-power, three metal condensers fitted with brass tubes, 12 steel and iron multitubular boilers and numerous auxiliary engines and pumps, metal propellers and fittings.

SHARE PROFITS WITH MEN.

What Vancouver Street Railway Does for Its Employes.

Mr. J. Buntzen of Vancouver, B.C., general manager of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, was in Toronto recently.

Mr. Buntzen says that about three years ago, owing to the excellent feeling which prevailed between the employes and management, the plan of profit-sharing was introduced by the directors and has been eminently satisfactory. The company recognizes the men's union, pays standard wages and frankly meets the representatives of the union to discuss any matter which the men or management desire.

The company decided that in addition to paying union wages, one-third of the surplus earnings, after paying a 4-per-cent. dividend, should be divided yearly among all employes who had remained in the company's employ at least one year continuously. This surplus is divided equally among all employes, from the office boy to the general manager. At the close of 1902 each employe's share was $76; at the close of 1903 the amount was $85 each, and, although the amount for 1904 has not yet been ascertained, it will probably reach $40 per employe. There are between 300 and 400 employes who secure the bonus.

The company is composed entirely of British capitalists, and has a capital, including its light and power branches, of about $6,000,000. It is just now completing the installation of a 30,000 horse-power, provided by the water from two small lakes near Vancouver. To connect these lakes a tunnel 12,776 feet long and 9 feet in diameter has been drilled through solid granite.

Mr. Buntzen has just returned from a visit to Britain, and he says the improvement in the use of electricity for power in the Old Country is simply marvelous. Everything which is done in Britain is perfect and thorough. Immense improvements have taken place in London and all over Britain since he was there last a few years ago.

An Old Stove With a Record.

Mr. John Walker of Roxboro has just removed from the kitchen of his residence a Victoria cooking stove which he purchased from the late John Hilsd in 1860, and it was in constant use until last week, when he had it taken down to make room for one of more modern construction. It was still in a very good state of preservation, and what is even more surprising the stove pipes that were put with the above were still in use when it was taken down, and some of them were so good that Mr. Walker had them used in connection with his new stove. Mr. Walker says that he has burned in that stove over 400 cords of wood. This certainly is a stove with a record, and there are none made these days that could equal it for longevity. — Huron Expositor.

A Roman Well.

A short while ago, while digging a trench through London Wall in which to lay the telephone ducts, the workmen unearthed a very fine well-preserved example of the ramparts with which the Romans enclosed London. It was followed for a considerable distance and was found to be of the uniform width of five feet throughout. Further eastward in Houndsditch, another interesting fragment of the old Roman fortifications has been found in digging out the foundations of a building. It is seven feet, six inches thick and about nine feet deep to its base. It is some 200 yards from the site of the old Aldgate and tends in that direction, so that it is possible the city walls and gates of mediaeval London were to some extent built on the foundations of the Roman ramparts.

A White Robin.

A few days ago D. F. Every and several others noticed in the neighborhood of the school quite a curiosity in the shape of a robin whose body was a creamy white color, the breast being of a reddish tinge, says The Pickering News. It had the robin's song, whereby it was identified. Authorities on birds have mentioned the fact that robins of this description have been seen, but very, very rarely. If any of our readers have ever seen a robin of this character we would like them to mention the fact.

ROYAL GHOST.

Does Queen Catherine Haunt Hampton Court Palace Let?

It is stated that the famous "Haunted Gallery" of Hampton Court Palace, which has been closed to the public for many years, is to be reopened on April 1—most appropriate of days!

The supposed ghost is that of Queen Catherine, who was confined in an adjoining chamber prior to her removal to Sion House and afterwards to the Tower and the scaffold. After the charges against her honor had been declared proved, Henry VII. repaired to the chapel before making his departure from the palace. When he was engaged in his devotions, so the story runs, Queen Catherine escaped from her apartments, and rushed along the Haunted Gallery to seek an interview with the King. Before she reached the door leading into the chapel, however, the guards seized her and conveyed her back to her apartments, screaming and struggling.

On several occasions since then, it is stated, a female form, dressed in white, has been seen after nightfall coming along the Haunted Gallery towards the door leading to the Royal pew, and just as it reached the door it has been observed to rush back again, uttering piercing shrieks, until it passed through a door at the end of the gallery.

Circumstantial stories of uncanny disturbances have been related. Mrs. Cavendish Boyle, a lady who lived in apartments at Hampton Court Palace adjoining the Haunted Gallery some time ago, records that once in the middle of the night she was suddenly startled out of her sleep by loud shrieking proceeding from the direction of the gallery. Nothing was said about the matter at the time, but the story subsequently received strong confirmation when Lady Eastlake, who had stayed with Mrs. Boyle several times, mentioned that she also had heard piercing shrieks coming from the same direction in the dead of the night.

Mrs. Barclay, who occupied apartments over the Haunted Gallery, also was once awakened in the middle of the night by a domestic, who declared that a screaming apparition had snatched the pillow from under her head, and then disappeared. In consequence of this and other disturbances, the lady had to leave the apartments, and later residents in the neighborhood of the Haunted Gallery gave up their apartments for the same reason.

The Haunted Gallery is not the only part of Hampton Court Palace that has the reputation of being haunted. Indeed, there is probably no other Royal palace in the kingdom of which so many gruesome stories are told.

Bedfast for Three Years

With Inflammatory Rheumatism

Helpless as an Infant—Now Walks Without Crutches

The Claflin Chemical Co., Windsor:

Gentlemen—It is with much pleasure that I send you this testimonial regarding the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of "Bu-Ju" Kidney Pills. Have been an invalid for nearly three years with inflammatory rheumatism, and was bedfast until about six months ago, when an old friend of the family called to see me, and left me some of your pills. I began to feel the benefit of them after taking one box. I have continued using them, and am now able to get out of bed, and dress myself, and can go out without crutches. Before taking the pills I was as helpless as an infant, and had to be taken care of like one.

I honestly believe that your pills have been the cause of my getting better. I have tried about everything that could be thought of as a cure for my trouble, but feel this remedy of yours has done me more good than any of them, and I feel if I were a younger man, that by taking them for another few months I would be well and strong again; but of course I am an old man now, and have not the constitution to work on, but I hope this simple story of the way your pills have helped me will be of value to others. I remain yours truly.

FINANCES OF T. H. LLOYD.

Committee Reports to Creditors — Mr. Toole Says He is Satisfied— Mr. Cane Elected Assignee.

Newmarket, May 20.—The creditors of T. H. Lloyd, the lawyer, who will appear on Monday to answer a charge of neglecting to account for trust funds of the Weddell estate, met yesterday afternoon, in the Sovereign Bank block to hear a report of the committee, composed of H. S. Cane, W. C. Widdifield and T. J. Robertson, giving a statement of his assets and liabilities.

Silas Toole, who stood out the other day against an assignment, said yesterday morning that he would not enter any further opposition. His claim, he says, has been satisfied.

Yesterday the liabilities had increased to $57,776, with preferred claims of $17,576, and unsecured $40,200. The assets are placed at $37,900, which, if they realize that amount, would give the creditors about 50 cents on the dollar.

T. J. Robertson, one of the committee, does not share this valuation with the other two committee men. He thinks that under a favorable sale the assets are placed at a higher figure than they will actually bring by about $6,000, and there will be lawyers' fees and winding up expenses to be added.

Mr. McLaughlin, acting for Lloyd, said that his client would at once assign. On motion of Mr. Sommerville and Mr. Roadhouse, H. S. Cane was appointed assignee by a unanimous vote. He said that a regular meeting of creditors would have to be called to appoint inspectors.

Another adjournment of the criminal charge will probably be asked for on Monday to enable the creditors to decide whether they are agreeable to abide by the assignment and abandon all criminal proceedings.

PROMISED LEGISLATION.

Mr. Emmerson Will Introduce Amendment to Railway Act re. Discrimination by Railways.

Ottawa, May 20.—The more prosy details of supply were once more taken up in the House yesterday. Early in the day Mr. D. A. Gordon of Kent made a protest against unfair freight rates on Canadian railways, and formally placed it before the Minister of Railways. The result was a statement by Hon. Mr. Emmerson that an amendment to the Railway Act was proposed for this session which would meet the difficulty.

In supply, on an item for Dominion notes Mr. Fielding made the satisfactory announcement that the Government have gold, dollar for dollar, to meet the whole issue of Dominion notes above the first twenty-five millions.

The canal estimates were taken up, and supply to the amount of $436,000 was voted.

Employment of Aliens.

Judge Winchester's report of the investigation into the alleged employment of aliens by the Pere Marquette Railway was presented to the House by Sir William Mulock, who in reply to Mr. A. Ingram said the judge found that in a number of cases the Pere Marquette had imported aliens contrary to the Labor Act. A motion to have the report printed was adopted.

What the Report Says.

The report showed that since the Pere Marquette obtained control of the Lake Erie & Detroit, the Erie & Huron, and the Port Stanley railways, the following aliens were brought into service and are now holding positions in Canada, in violation of the Alien Labor Act:

John S. Pyeatt, superintendent; Evarett Caine, trainmaster; John R. Gilhul, chief despatcher; Owens Lesour, assistant engineer; G. M. Osborne, instrument man; John W. O'Loughlin, stenographer; John McManamy, master mechanic; Werner C. Groenling, general foreman; Charles Franklin, shoemaker; Charles H. Shoemaker, William J. Hunker, storekeeper, all at present residing in St. Thomas, and Edgar Britton, district passenger agent, at present living in London.

Judge Winchester finds that the policy of the Pere Marquette was to fill the higher positions with Americans, all of which could have been taken by Canadians, who were systematically discriminated against. The report finds that American officials went to the length of unnecessarily finding fault with Canadian officials, so that they would resign and their places might be filled by Americans.

In reply to a question by Hon. Mr. Haggart, Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that the Government had not yet decided to submit amendments to the Alien Labor Act at this session.

Sir William Mulock announced that upon consideration he had concluded there was no objection to bring down the papers relating to the resignation and subsequent reinstatement of the postmaster at Thessalon.

Mr. Lennox was anxious at the non-appearance of any report from the Railway Commission.

Eczema or Salt Rheum

THE MOST TORTURING OF ITCHING SKIN DISEASES—POSITIVELY CURED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The skin becomes reddened and inflamed and pimples are formed that burst and discharge a watery, sticky fluid, which dries and becomes a sort of crust or scale.

In other cases there may be ulcers or sores. Suffering is always intense on account of the frightful stinging, burning and itching.

The surface of the body should be kept clean by frequent bathing with tepid water and castile soap, and Dr. Chase's Ointment applied night and morning.

The control which Dr. Chase's Ointment exerts over eczema and similar skin diseases is a wonder to all who have tested it. This most extraordinary healing power has made Dr. Chase's Ointment the standard Ointment the world over.

There is no guess work about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is applied directly to the diseased part, and you can see exactly what it does.

By its cleansing, soothing, healing action it allays inflammation and irritation, heals the raw, sore flesh, and leaves the skin soft, smooth and natural.

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore, that will not heal, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with positive assurance of relief and cure. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

CRIME OF LOUD SPEECH.

Lady Henry Somerset Scores the Strident Voices of Many Women of the Present Time.

Voice is, I believe, a clue to character as well as culture, and by studying its variations we arrive at a very fair estimate of the mind, as well as the education, writes Lady Henry Somerset.

One of the first rules given to a singer is to smile when she is singing. This is not only in order to avoid the ugly grimace which sometimes accompanies vocal effort, but rather because no song is really sweet that does not come from a joyful heart, or at any rate from a heart at rest and at leisure to express the feeling of the music.

We have all probably observed that a thin, shrill voice is the indication of a fretful temperament, that a deep, full tone is usually the expression of a large and generous nature, and that a high falsetto voice indicates often a want of sincerity; and, therefore, I am the more convinced that a sweet-toned voice is the outcome of a woman's gentle, genial nature, of a mind which has no self-assertion, and of a desire to be heard by winning the sympathy and respect of her listener. When this idea is once grasped the value of a voice apart from its aesthetic qualities is apparent, and it becames of ethical value.

The charm of a beautiful voice is indefinable. It casts a sort of spell over people and influences almost unconsciously. I remember once seeing a group of young men in a London drawing-room sitting around a middle-aged woman who could boast of no beauty, and had not the attraction of riches, but they remained captivated. One of their number afterward explained to me that the charm of this woman's voice was so great that it attracted him more than any physical good looks.

But beautiful voices are growing rare. The cultivation of the gift is looked upon as unnecessary, and the charge is made with some amount of truth against the modern woman that her speech and voice are degenerating. A loud, jerky manner is now in vogue, which is utterly destructive to the first principles of good voice production. I have been astonished at the harsh, parrot shrieks with which women will greet each other in a club or shop, speaking in a language which, whatever else it is, is not English.

I saw two women meet the other day in a large draper's establishment.

"You here?" cried one. "What doing?"

"Byin' nighties," said the other.

"How odd!" screamed her friend down the crowded counter. "I've just been buyin' pyjies for my man."

The voice, the slang, the insolent obtrusion of domestic details in a public place, were all expressed in the loud, harsh voice. Again, two ladies were shopping the other day in Regent street. They both got out of a smart carriage covered with coronets. One said to the other: "I'm going in here to buy some chiffon."

"Right you are," cried the other. "I'll mouch round outside till you come up."

Slang and loud voices and an absolute want of reticence or desire for privacy are unfortunately among the characteristics of the day—indeed, jerkiness is the fashion, slang is correct, and loud voices are cultivated.

There was a time when I should certainly have said that the English lady had preserved that dignity which is one of the charms of refinement, but now it will be difficult to make such an assertion.

In the matter of voice culture it is quite true that the American woman is almost universally at fault. The pitch of her voice is too high, and, like every one who endeavors to be heard by an effort, she raises her voice habitually a note above the normal key, a habit which produces a scream. Consequently, American women's voices are almost invariably harsh and often discordant, but the English voice has so degenerated that a comparison can now no longer be strongly favorable to it.

I attribute, however, a great deal of the lost art of voice production to our lack of leisure. We have no time to talk properly. A few short sentences, with abbreviated sentences and slurred syllables, called out in loud, aggressive tones, take the place of conversation, and it is this lost art of leisure that accounts for so much of the lost art of charm.

A voice can afford to be low and sweet when there is leisure to listen, sentences can afford to be well expressed when there is time to exchange ideas, and surely such leisure is the great privilege which belongs to cultivated society.

We are in danger of becoming nothing but human motor cars, tooting excessively through the world, in order to let every one know we are coming, and then rush on at express speed. This hurry and scream and bustle are the vulgarist symptom of a vulgar age. Women in society positively set themselves to imitate the inflections of a burlesque actress and the manners of a barmaid.

Everything is yelled on the housetop that used to be whispered in the ear of the dearest and nearest, and the loud, harsh voice which is now so common and so discordant is the result of the mind that is out of tune and the heart that fails to appreciate the delicacy of reticence and real refinement. Voice is mind made oral. When minds are lovely voices will be the echo of their beauty.

LIFE IN A ROLLING MILL.

Handling Big Chunks of White Hot Metal and Rolling it Into Bars is Strenuous Work.

Do you love the strenuous life. Would you like a taste of it? Then go to a rolling mill, get to work, and you will find the real article that so many people talk about, and so few really like to live.

Only men of might and muscle, men who are quick to think and quick to act, can "make good" in a place where great chunks of iron are heated in huge furnaces until they are white hot, and then by the process of rolling are converted into symmetrical bars or rods, and made ready for the boltmaker.

Windows Wide Open.

There is no place like a rolling mill for building up a rugged and hardy physique. It makes men tough. When a Toronto Star man took a walk through the mill of the Toronto Bolt and Forging Co. at Sunnyside one day recently the men were at work, and evidently keeping warm, although some of them were clad only in a single suit of underwear, trousers, boots, and hat. The mill is no hot-house, for it is open to the winds on all sides, and the mercury was hovering about ten or twelve degrees below the zero mark, yet these sturdy, hardy fellows were evidently unconcerned by the bitings of Jack Frost.

The men in the mill get to work about 5.30 in the morning, and they are generally through at 4 or 4.30 in the afternoon. They prefer to get an early start, and as they have to work almost continuously, they eat their luncheon whenever they get a chance.

A Picturesque Process.

The process of rolling out the iron into bars and rods is a most picturesque one, particularly at night, when the glare of the red-hot metal seems brighter than usual. The work is done so swiftly that the iron, after passing and repassing through the rollers some sixteen times, is almost as hot as when taken in a chunk from the furnace. There are two mills through which it passes, the "roughing" and the "finishing" mill. It goes into the first a solid block, about six or eight inches thick and two feet long. In the mills there are a number of grooves, and a man stands at each side of the machine, armed with long tongs. The iron is fed back and forth from one side to the other into grooves of decreasing size, until when it leaves the roughing mill it is perhaps eight or ten feet long and much thinner than before. Then it is fed into the finishing mill, and squeezed to still greater length, sometimes even to 100 feet. The average length is 60 or 70 feet.

Iron Like a Rope.

When passing through these finer rolls the iron becomes almost like a rope. Pliable, twisting, turning, it runs like a worm between the rapidly revolving rollers, and stretches itself, sometimes in coils, on the floor. Finally it is passed into the groove of the required size, and comes out into a long narrow box, where it must run straight. Then the men come along with their tongs and lay it out to cool on a floor of iron pieces. When it is cold enough to handle, each long bar is cut into lengths of fourteen feet, and afterwards carted to the bolt works at Swansea.

Sometimes there is a gorgeous pyrotechnic display when the iron is first fed into the rolls. Sparks fly to the roof, and the natural fireworks are often more brilliant and beautiful than the artificial variety. This is particularly true of certain qualities of iron, which, when entering the groove of the rolls, make a crashing noise like the roar of a cannon.

There's Danger in It.

The men who handle these bars of iron must be quick and careful, for a twist or a turn of a red-hot bar might put a scar on a man for life. Men who throw hot iron about must have iron nerve.

The iron rolled out so neatly is all made from scrap, which is sold to the mill by junk dealers. A large proportion of it comes from the railways. This is thrown into the furnaces, rolled into balls weighing probably 200 lbs., and carried by a crane from the furnace to the "squeezing" machine. This squeezes the iron until it is small enough to go into the grooves of the rolls.

It is very important that the rolls be kept true. The least variation spoils the size of the bars. Sometimes it happens that the iron is too big for the grooves, and then comes a crash. It is generally the couplings that burst in this event, and the machine is so arranged that the rolls, which are the most valuable part of the outfit, are saved at the expense of the other parts of it.

A great deal of power is necessary to run a rolling mill. In the one in question there is a 250 horse-power engine, another of 350 horse-power, and four smaller ones. The quantity of water needed is also great, for the boilers must be fed with water, and the rolls must be kept cool. There is almost a net work of water and steam pipes in the mill.

25 Tons of Coal a Day.

Twenty-five tons of coal burned every day is the record of the mill for the past few weeks of cold weather, when it was harder than usual to keep steam up.

The rolling mill, in point of heat in the summer months, is probably only second to Hades itself. "We open her up then, though," said the Manager, referring to this point, and meaning by that statement that the sides of the mill were opened as much as possible, and that the mill consisted mainly of a roof when the weather was very warm. It is not zero weather that the men in the mill dread most. It is the sweltering heat of the dog days that kills them.

An opportunity for a young man to start business for himself

There are hundreds of young men throughout the country, who have mastered the details of merchandising, and are now dreaming of the time when they can be proprietors—many of them with a few hundred dollars laid by for the purpose.

Nearly every prosperous well rated merchant of to-day, made a beginning in a modest way.

At the very outset such young men as we have in mind—such as are capable, thoroughly in earnest, reliable, and have saved a little money, say enough to fit up a store and pay for part of their stock, can make a connection with our house, and in short order, they can be at the head of an establishment where men can be outfitted with the best of clothing.

The clothing business is an attractive proposition. It is a live one—always something doing.

We shall be pleased to correspond with men who have decided to make a start for themselves in some live town or city, and who can show some tangible evidence of an earnest effort in that direction, with a view to extending the sale of our "Male Attire" brand of high class tailored clothing.

We propose as part of our scheme to give free advertising and promotion.

THE GARCIA CENTENARY

ADVISER OF SINGERS AND COMPOSERS HONORED BY KING.

The World Has Profited Not Only Through Music by His Having Lived, But Also in the Field of Medicine—The Inventor of the Laryngescope—Was the Teacher of Jenny Lind in His Youth.

On St. Patrick's Day, 1905, one of the most celebrated characters in the world of music reached his hundredth birthday, and was honored with messages from the King and the Kaiser, to say nothing of the remembrances from his distinguished friends in the world of art and science. This centenarian is Manuel Garcia, who continues to advise singers and composers in London, where he has lived for many, many years. His extreme age is the more astonishing when one reflects that in 1829 he retired from the stage on account of a weak constitution, feeling at the time that few years remained to him unless he husbanded his strength. Fortunately for the world of music, Gracia's farewell to the stage was not a leave-taking of the art of singing. Had it been so, much musical history would have been altered. As events have proved, he forsook the stage to enter on a more useful and important career, one which had a profound influence on his world for more than 75 years.

The Inventor of Laryngescope.

Not only the world of music, but that of medicine as well, has profited by the genius of Manuel Garcia, for it was he who invented the laryngoscope shortly after he had "retired," an instrument which has been of the utmost value to physicians as well as to scientific teachers of music. For this discovery Signor Garcia was made a doctor of medicine by Koenigsburg University. The investigations which led to the invention were most important from a scientific point of view. As a result of his experiments and observations Garcia wrote a monograph on the mechanism of singing, which was received with enthusiasm by the Royal Academy, and which has been the very foundation of all later articles on the subject. In 1847 he published a book on the art of singing, and this remains a classic. Other essays have appeared in musical magazines since then, and up to quite recent years there has been no apparent deterioration in the vigorous style of which he is master in more than one language.

The Famous Garcia Family.

Manuel Garcia comes of one of the most distinguished musical families in the past century. His father was a famous actor, singer, conductor and composer. While yet a young man his numerous comic operas had attained such a vogue that they were performed all over Spain. He sang in Paris with great success, and then when Manuel was a youth of 18 the family moved to London, where Garcia senior established a school of singing, and taught with much success. Later on he went to America with a strong company, which included his sister, the famous Malibran, probably the greatest singer of her time. Manuel was also with the company, and sang Figaro in the "Barber of Seville." In New York the Garcias created a profound impression, producing no fewer than 11 new Italian operas in a year. To Mexico they journeyed next, and their reception was enthusiastic. On their way home Garcia senior was robbed by brigands, losing $30,000 in gold. The career of this remarkable man was concluded in Paris, where he was reckoned the first teacher of his day. Forty-three operas were written and composed by him, few of which have survived, although none was a failure.

The Teacher of Jenny Lind.

Manuel was in his youth a noted baritone, and later on became a no less noted teacher. Some of the greatest singers of England, from Jenny Lind to Catherine Hayes, were his pupils at the Royal Academy, where he was a professor for more than 40 years; and it is through the fame of those whom he instructed that his great abilities may be most fitly judged. In Herman Klein's interesting book of musical reminiscences we receive interesting glimpses of the old teacher as he has appeared at odd times in the past 30 years. The author and the professor lived in the same house with the parents of the former in 1874, and this is the description we receive of him then: "He had just entered on his 70th year, but in appearance and bearing he did not seem much past 50. He had a light, buoyant step, always walked quickly, and had a keen, observant eye, which, when he spoke, would light up with all the fire and animation of youth. His dark complexion and his habit of gesticulation bespoke his Southern origin, and although equally at home in Spanish, Italian, French and English he always betrayed a decided preference for conversing in the French language. His modesty was remarkable. He could rarely be induced to talk about himself, but in his opinions he was firm almost to obstinacy, and a prejudice once formed was as difficult to remove as a liking. In argument he was a close reasoner, and would be either a doughty opponent or a warm advocate. The middle line never attracted him. But at all times he was a true, staunch and loyal friend."

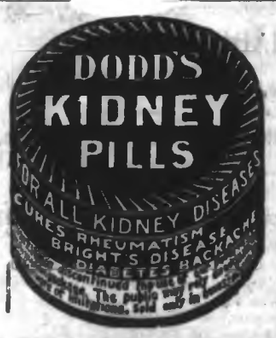
His Method of Instruction.

At this time Garcia was in his prime, and for 40 years his pupils had included some of the most famous heard in London and Paris. His method, as described by Klein, should be intergsting to a wider circle than singers.

"To see and hear Garcia teach," he says, "was ever a source of unqualified pleasure. Even when annoyed by a pupil's lack of ordinary intelligence, he seldom became abrupt or impatient, and he never worried or confused the student with technicalities not actually essential to the accurate understanding of his method. His voice had virtually gone, but he would liberally employ its pleasing remnants to impart the idea for the proper emission of a note or the phrasing of a passage. As often as not the sounds that he produced would be positively ugly, but they never failed to convey the desired suggestion, and though his own voice might tremble with sheer weight of years, he never, to my knowledge, brought out a pupil whose tones were marred by the slightest shade of inbrato."

An Incident of Malibran.

While Signor Garcia may not be a dispassionate judge on the subject, he holds his famous sister, Malibran, to have been the most natural genius he ever knew, and undoubtedly her name will go down to posterity as that of one of the greatest singers in the 19th century. Of her he relates the following incident: As a child of five she was singing a part in "Agnese" one night at Naples. There occurs in this opera a passage where the husband and wife are reunited through the agency of their little daughter, but on the night in question the prima donna forgot her part. There was a painful pause, and then the child took up the melody and sang it through with such vigor and resonance that the whole house was wrought to enthusiasm. It is in memories like these that Signor Garcia delights to live, and, though he may not precisely remember what happened yesterday, the events of nearly a century ago are indelibly imprinted on his memory.



DICKENS AS POLITICIAN.

Lord Halsbury Thinks He Was a Liberal Bordering on Radical.

The great influence of the work of Charles Dickens as a social reformer was emphasized in the discussion which followed the "Box" Club dinner, held at the Savoy Hotel recently to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of the famous novelist.

Lord Halsbury said that while he was full of admiration for Charles Dickens and his writings, he rather protested against the mixture of politics, morals and general observations presented by the chairman. He absolutely disagreed with the statement that Dickens was not a party politician. He was one of those persons who believed that party politics were a very useful part of our constitution—(Hear, hear)—and going through the novelist's works he thought almost every portion of them might be pointed to show that he was a Liberal politician, verging on the Radical.

It did not detract from his (the speaker's) admiration of Dickens that he was a party politician. (Hear, hear.) He had no doubt that Dickens had strong views on other things besides party politics. He had strong feelings on the administration of the poor law, and no one could read what he wrote in "Oliver Twist" without also feeling great indignation against the administration.

In some respects, no doubt, his writings effected some improvement in the poor law, but we must not forget that the poor law was then and now a very different question. We still had to consider what was to be done in respect to those people who were perfectly willing and able to work, but who could not get work to do.

Charles Dickens in his great poems—they were poems though they were in prose, for they were works of imagination—taught what all great poets tried to teach—truth and right. He recognised that we no longer needed the spear and tournaments to establish great and noble deeds. (Hear, hear.) Dickens' characters moved us because they were natural, and we knew what they were. It was doubtful whether his fame would be increased by putting him forward as a social or political reformer.—London Standard.

A Forgotten Custom.

An old Lenten custom, now defunct, or nearly so, was to make a "Jack o' Lent"—i.e., a dummy figure of a man, fashioned out of a suit of cast-off clothes stuffed with straw, to be carried through the highways and byeways and afterwards burnt. It was supposed to be representative of Judas Iscariot.

Obvious.

"What does he look like?"

"Oh, he dresses well enough—and yet—oh, you'd know directly you looked at him that he was a genius!"

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this same blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity, it dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"In the year 1898 my health was poor," writes Mrs. J. Hack, of 341 Broadway, Bath, N. Y. "I suffered from failing of womb, a disagreeable discharge, painful monthly periods, headache, backache and pains in the limbs. Every month was confined to bed for two or three days. Was weak, nervous and hysterical; life was a burden to myself and I made every one in the family unhappy because I was so irritable. My husband got me four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken the first bottle I was feeling some relief. The medicine made me well and strong, free from nervousness, aches and pain, and I felt like a new woman. Before I used the 'Favorite Prescription' I had been taking another physician's medicine for nearly three months, but had received no benefit. Your medicine is certainly the best in the world."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Don't let a selfish seller over-persuade you to accept a substitute for these Ought-and Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago and never equaled.

RECORDS LONDON HOLDS.

Queer Statistics About the World's Biggest City—£4,000,000 a Year Lost Through Smoke.

Heavy rainbursts mean a tremendous loss to London. For instance, the damage done in a 25 minutes' tempest to ladies' dresses alone has been assessed by experts at £12,000.

In the case of men's attire the damage caused by tempests has been assessed at five figures. The amount of damage done to men's hats by the mud of London is also an extremely heavy item.

The loss from injury done by London's smoke to paint, decorations, hangings, carpets and clothes has been estimated by Sir Charles Cookson. Taking all these items into consideration, in addition to the cost of extra washing and cleaning, he states that the sum amounts annually to £4,000,000.

Again, the amount of money spent on soap due to the hard condition of the London water is also an immense one. Soap makers have reason to be thankful that London does not use soft, moorland water.

Then, take the quantity of water used for extinguishing fires in the County of London. According to an official return issued by the London Fire Brigade, it amounts to some 27,000,000 gallons a year. This gigantic quantity of water weighs somewhere about 120,536 tons.

The actual amount of damage done by fire in London is incalculable. In a statement issued by the officials of the London Fire Brigade, it was stated that in the year 3,574 fires occurred in London.

London suffers tremendously from the roads always being "up." For instance, take the case of the disturbance to traffic caused by a single private company, the Gas Light and Coke Company. In evidence before the Tariff Commission, it was stated that in one year the company pulled up the streets in 21,273 places.

London, and especially one part of London, suffers very greatly from the depredations of rats. The sanitary authorities in the Port of London are continually waging war against rats. These rats are destroyed and their bodies burnt in ships' furnaces at the London docks. During a recent period of six months' alone the rodents' death roll reached no less a total than 238,531.

Dr. Robert Jones, the resident physician and superintendent to the London County Asylum at Claybury, has made the statement that London is responsible for the production of over 70 insane persons per week.

It seems that the insanity is due, not so much to overwork as to worry and anxiety. Alcohol is the cause of at least a fifth of all insanity occurring in the male of London and more than half the proportion in women.

The leading family in London is the Smith family. If the number of men bearing familiar names were counted in the new issue of the London directory it would be seen that the Smiths head the poll with a very large majority, as they are responsible for about 1,500 entries. Next comes the Jones family, with 950, followed by the Browns with 700, and the Robinsons with only half that number.

The City of London itself is only of small area, the total being 638 acres. This area contains 48½ miles of streets and has a rateable value of practically £5,000,000. This is one-eighth of the rateable value of Greater London.

Every day 100,000 vehicles and 1,250,000 people go into the city, but at night the tide ebbs back and leaves only a paltry village population of 26,923. The population during the day is estimated at 360,000.

In a single day 248,000 people use the crossing in front of the Mansion House, without counting 60,000 people who pass through the subway beneath the street.

Every working day before half-past ten more than 37 workmen's trains, 396 cheap trains and 365 ordinary trains run into Central London. In fact, more than 500,000 people arrive in Central London by that hour.

There is one house in London which rakes in over £2,000,000 sterling every week. This is Somerset House, and the Inland Revenue Department may well be called the gold field of the Strand. However, the burgling profession avoid Somerset House. Although the clerks of the Bank of England call once every 24 hours, they invariably do so in broad daylight and take away the money in four-wheelers.

In addition to this precaution, Somerset House has its own staff of police. The staff consists of old police pensioners and army and navy men. At night the private police patrol with lanterns.

Then, London has the biggest flagstaff in the world. The flagstaff upon which the Union Jack floats above the Houses of Parliament is the highest on any tower in the world. In order to get to it one has to ascend the long semi-circular stairway in existence.

Again, the great archway guarding the entrance to the House of Parliament is the third highest in the world.

PHRASES AUTHORS DISLIKE.

Some Words for Which They Have a Strange Aversion.

There are scores of well-known phrases and a whole host of words which are taken exception to by many of the best known authors. Nearly every prominent writer has some pet antipathy of speech. "Female" is a word which one novelist never permits himself to use; whilst another will have nothing to do with "comical." "There is more than one word in the English language that absolutely makes me grit my teeth," says a well known writer. "'Galore' I detest, and 'rotten' in its modern British application is a word I avoid. But my pet detestation is a harmless little fellow that goes by the name of 'comical.' That I cannot stand. The use of it by a writer makes me doubt his possession of a keenly analytical humorous sense." The pet aversion of yet another writer is "Suiting the action to the word." "If one," he says, "becomes a slave of hackneyed transitions—those well-worn stepping stones of rhetoric—it will haunt him persistently, and follow him for years." "Genius," "fondle," and "nasty" are other words that are neither used nor liked by some literary men.

Practices What He Preaches.

Mr. Edward Carpenter, whose book on "Civilization: Its Cause and Cure," has just aroused the cordial appreciation and interest of Tolstoi, has put his doctrines into practice by retiring from the world to a small Socialist community, which cultivates the land at Holmesfield, on the Derbyshire moors, between Chesterfield and Sheffield, says The London Star. He was a fellow of his college at Cambridge, and took orders in 1869, but five years later he relinquished his fellowship and his orders. After seven years' activity as a university extension lecturer he visited Walt Whitman in America, and his intimacy with the American thinker seems to have colored his philosophy ever since. "Towards Democracy," one of his best known works, is written under the Whitman influence, and in 1881 Mr. Carpenter commenced the farm life at Holmesfield, to which he subsequently added, as a work of social usefulness, the making of sandals.

The council has decided to install six more 50 c.p. incandescent lamps this week, on the street, which will be put up

The transformer which has been down for some time at Mr. Wright's corner, will be put up this week. This will take the arc lamp off the west end incandescent circuit, and therefore give a much better light.

Another town improvement is the granolithic walk between the west side of the Armstrong House and A. Rose's corner. The council pays 60 per cent. of the total cost, and the people who have it in front of their premises pay the balance. This walk will front C. Armstrong's hotel, H. T. Andrew's, C. William, W. Dineen and A. Rose's two lots.

A meeting to organize a baseball league will be held in the Windsor Hotel at Campbellford at 4 p.m., on Friday, the 19th inst. Delegates from Hastings, Ranmeath and this place will be present. Those from here will be D. A. Ford, P. Lancaster and J. W. Rose.

A new sidewalk is being laid at the west end of Matheson street, which is something that has been needed for some time. Repairs are being made in other portions of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. William Webb attended a china wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Stoker, of Hamilton, on Wednesday last.

A public meeting will be held at 8 p.m., in the town hall, next Monday evening for the purpose of deciding as to the advisability of having a celebration here on the 1st of July. If a celebration is decided on the proceeds will go towards paying the rent of the grounds.

He also spoke of it being a training school for the church. In the evening there was a platform meeting, when reports of the retiring Presidents of both senior and junior Leagues, were given, also a very instructive address by Dr. S. F. Ford. Special music was rendered at both services. On the Monday evening the annual social was held. The principal feature of the programme was a debate on the educational clauses of the Autonomy Bill, Mr. Edwin Squire leading the affirmative and Mr. L. H. At a meeting of the Women's Institute held in their hall on Tuesday evening last the President Mrs. Robt. Graham, was presented with a beautiful china tea set with the following address:—

Dear Mrs. Graham,—We, the members, of the Women's Institute hear with regret that you have decided to withdraw from the Presidency of our Institution. We would gladly have you continue to act in that capacity. The many happy and profitable meetings together have endeared you to each of us. We cannot let you give up the office without in some way showing our appreciation of your kind and loving services. We trust you may long be spared to continue with us as a member and help us by your cheerful and happy presence. We sincerely pray you may enjoy many good cups of tea as you have so generously bestowed upon us one and all during your connection with us."

The agricultural grounds which have been rented by the baseball team for the season was the scene on Friday afternoon last of a very interesting game, when the Benedicts of the village under the able command of Capt. R. F. Davidson, strove manfully to defeat the Bachelors, but alas the effect of the gentler sex does not enhance the value of a man as a baseball player as was demonstrated by the score, which was 9 runs to 3, in favour of the Bachelors. The spectators were divided as to favourites, the married ladies present being partial to the Benedicts, while the single ladies' sympathies were naturally extended to the players who were without better halves. The special features of the game were Ex-Warden Casement's clever base stealing and Village Clerk Sherin's heavy batting, while Reeve Tanner and Editor Ridpath composed a battery almost infallible.

The personnel of the team was as follows:—

Benedicts.	Bachelors.
Pitcher.
J. W. Ridpath	A. Bravender
Catcher.
E. A. Tanner	H. Simpson

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him in a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright Ave., Toronto, Ont.

THE GRATITUDE OF MOTHERS

Marvellous Cure of Two Babies Suffering for Months from Sore Eyes — Doctors, Hospitals, and Many Treatments Were of No Avail.

SPEEDY CURE IN EACH CASE BY CUTICURA

"I feel it my duty to tell you of two most wonderful cures of sore eyes by Cuticura Ointment. My little son had an attack of measles which left his eyes in a shocking state. The lids were inflamed and sore, and every lash fell out. They would be stuck in the morning, and bleed when washed, causing untold suffering to the child. I tried everything recommended, but nothing did any good. Then I got Cuticura, and from the first application I have had cause to be thankful. Before I had used one box the lashes showed signs of growing, and in a few months they were as healthy as ever. I recommended Cuticura to a Mrs. Phillips, whose little one was cured of sore eyes with less than one box.—Mrs. C. Todd, Old South Head Road, Waverly, Sydney, N. S. W."

BABY PHILLIPS

Cured by One Box of Cuticura After All Else Had Failed

"When my little girl was a few months old her eyes became very sore. I took her to the ——Hospital, and subsequently to the Children's Hospital at—— for twelve months, but her eyes seemed to be growing worse. One doctor told me they might be bad for years. I was one day stopped on the street by a Mrs. Todd who told me that Cuticura Ointment had cured her boy. I commenced using it that very night. The cure has been marvellous. Before I had used one box of Cuticura they were as healthy as ever. —Mrs. F. Phillips, Grafton Street, Waverly, Sydney, N. S. W."

The tannery is one of the oldest buildings in Keene, having been built in 1842. It was run continually until about 23 years ago, the last occupant being the late George Nelson.

The death occurred on Friday, May 12th of Archibald Angus in his 83rd year at the residence of Mr. William Campbell which the deceased has made his home for upwards of 20 years. Deceased has been in poor health for some time. The funeral was held on Monday at 9 a.m., and was largely attended, after which the remains were interred in the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. D. D. McDonald conducted the funeral service. The pallbearers were John Read, John Lang, A. Shearer and P. Drummond. Two sisters survive him, Mrs. Cummings, of Fenelon and Miss Christina Angus of Montreal.

The road building gang with the township grader commenced the season's work on Monday, May 15th. The work is again under the able superintendence of Mr. Duncan McFarlane.

There is some talk among local sports of organizing a football club. We have plenty of good material in Keene and the vicinity, and there is no doubt that a good team could could be easily got together.

WILL EXPLORE IN LABRADOR

Death of Leonidas Hubbard, Known Here, is Recalled

Companion of Deceased Man to Organize Another Party.

Mr. Dillon Wallace, author of "The Lure of the Labrador Wild," and companion of the late Leonidas Hubbard, whose wife is a native of Peterborough, and the news of whose tragic death is well known here, on the latter's ill-fated exploring trip in Labrador, addressed the members of the Alpha Lee Club at the Church of the Redeemer, in Toronto, yesterday afternoon. In opening his address, Mr. Wallace spoke of Hubbard's love for outdoor life, which had tended to cultivate the simple, earnest faith in God which upheld him all through the arduous extbrough the arduous experiences of the Labrador trip.

Speaking of his approaching trip Mr. Wallace said he hoped to continue the explorations begun by Hubbard and to carry out the latter's plan. The members of the party should be a young student of the School of Mines at Columbia University, another student of the School of Forestry on Mr. Vanderbilt's estate in North Carolina, and a Yorkshireman, who has been all over the world. Mr. Wallace having met him on the Labrador coast. Mr. Wallace has just returned from Missanabie, on the C.P.R. main line, whither he went last week to secure the services of George Elson, his half breed guide on his former trip. Elson would not go because he was just going to get married, but he had recommended an Ojibway Indian, Alex. Spaniel, who would make an acceptable substitute. The expedition will leave New York about the first of June, and Halifax a week later. Mr. Wallace hopes to return by the end of November, but even if he does not no undue alarm need be felt as the party are taking a good stock of provisions, including pemmican, flour and pork. They will take less sugar and more shoes, said Mr. Wallace in a humorous strain in allusion to the straits to which he and his companions were reduced when they had to boil and eat their raw hide moccasins.

The party will take two 60 lb. canoes, 16 feet long, 34 inches beam, and 16 inches deep, built of cedar, and covered with canvas. They will have two Winchester rifles, one Remington shot gun, and each a 32-calibre Stevens pistol.

Mr. Wallace and his party will strike first for Lake Michikamau, then across the height of land to the George River, and down that to Ungava Bay. On the George River they hope to find the Summer encampment of the mysterious tribe of Naskapees Indians.

The only scientific equipment carried will be aneroid barometers, thermometers and pocket transits. With the aid of the latter fairly accurate maps of the regions traversed can be made.

"DO IT NOW."

This life's a garden full o' weeds—
We've got to pull 'em all
Before they fill the field with seeds
When they are dry and tall.
While we complain the field gets full—
Don't sit with frownin' brow
An' fret because you've got to pull—
It's best to "do it now."

The job a fellow soldiers on
Is one that's never through;
Each day's another chance that's gone
An' left us more to do.
Nobody else can do your work
Like you can anyhow.
The task grows bigger while you shirk—
It's best to "do it now."

There's always lots o' time to spare
To tell your woes, my son;
The hardest work of all to bear
Is that that's never done.
The "put off" man, he does things twice
In spite of all his row.
Don't wait to ask or give advice—
Get out and "do it now."

Paine's Celery Compound Defeats Disease And Death

Paine's Celery Compound has a record of life saving that no other medicine can ever equal. It has rescued rich and poor from the grasp of death when physicians had their most carefully prepared prescriptions failed in the work. If the suffering men and women of to-day could but see the happy faces and hear the kind words spoken by the tens of thousands who have been made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound, it would soon dispel their existing doubts and fears.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that reaches the root of suffering; it is the only agency that can remove your terrible load of disease. Unsolicited testimonials of cures pour in every day. Young and old constantly bear witness that rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, dyspepsia and blood disease are banished permanently when Paine's Celery Compound is faithfully used for a time. Begin its use to-day poor sufferer; delays are dangerous.

The Governor's Commander.

The Hon. Hugh Tyrwhitt, who has been chosen to command the battleship Renown, in which the Prince and Princess of Wales will travel to and from India, is well known, says the London Daily Telegraph, as a most popular officer. He is the third son of Baroness Berners, and brother-in-law of Lord Windsy, and was private secretary to the late First Lord of the Admiralty, the Earl of Selborne, for three years. Entering the navy in 1879, when just over 13 years of age, it was his good fortune, as in the case of Capt. Keppel, to attract notice during the operations in Egypt in 1884. He was then acting as flag lieutenant to the commander-in-chief, and he landed with Admiral Hewett's naval brigade, which served with the Nile Expedition for the relief of General Gordon.

SADDEST CRIMINAL TRAGEDY ON RECORD

Little Girl Confesses to Murder of an Infant in Toronto--Kidnapped in Its Go-Cart--Threw the Murray Baby Over a Railway Embankment--It Rolled to the Bottom and Was Killed--Hid the Body of the Dead Child and Afterwards Told Police She Had Found It.

Toronto, May 22.—Through her own confession, Josie Carr, aged 13, is under arrest at police headquarters, facing the charge of having murdered the nine-month-old baby of Mrs. William Murray of 43 Wellington avenue, the disappearance of which with its go-cart from Eaton's store was reported on Saturday. That such a mere child should be guilty of such a crime seems almost beyond comprehension, yet she has told in detail the story of the murder after a most amazing and ingenious attempt to fasten suspicion on a mythical woman. From the first the various developments have been extraordinary. That a child should be kidnapped from the busiest of the shopping districts and no motive to be ascribed was most strange. Then the alleged finding of the body of the baby within a few hours in a lonesome, desolate spot, foully murdered, and with little or no clue to the perpetrators of the deed, but increased the mystery tenfold, and that the murderess should practically accuse the mother of her victim as the one to blame and should then be brought face to face without results makes little wonder that public sentiment was aroused to such at pitch on Saturday night as it rarely has been in recent years. The mystery and its sensational clearing up by Detective Forrest received more discussion yesterday than any other matter of public importance.

An Amazing Story.

The infant was taken away from in front of the T. Eaton store on Queen street, where the mother left it in a go-cart for a few minutes. On Saturday morning the police were notified of the finding of the body in a railway culvert near Greenwood avenue, naked and with its skull crushed. Detective Forrest, who had been detailed to the Woodbine race track, was sent for and at 4 o'clock saw the little body in the morgue. Then he listened to Josie Carr's wonderfully explicit statements concerning the appearance in the eastern locality on Friday morning and again on Friday afternoon of a woman with the child in a go-cart and of how she and her 10-year-old sister Maud, hunting wild flowers, found the body. Having seen the mother, Forrest at night took the Carr girls to see if they could identify her as the mysterious woman. Josie said it was not Mrs. Murray. Within three hours she had confessed her own guilt, and with it has come the revelation that such a child—such an attractive, bright, sharp-witted child, too—is depraved in instinct and in conduct to an extent amazing even to the police.

Who She Is.

Josie Carr is the daughter of a teamster in the employ of the Logan brick works. He and his family live at 422 Greenwood avenue. The child's story is that she was down town Friday afternoon with Annie Mitchell of 94 Lombard street, a girl of her own age. They walked around for a time and she saw this go-cart in Eaton's lane and wheeled it away with the baby in it. Up to this time her intention was to steal the go-cart, for she had stolen baby carriages before this, and had no definite plans of how she would dispose of the baby.

She boarded a Parliament street car and rode to Gerrard and Pape avenue, the end of the car line. Going along Jones avenue she came to the railway track and proceeded along the railroad until she came to within a hundred yards of Greenwood avenue. There she says she realized that the baby was an incumbrance. It was not tied to the cart; she jogged it and the baby rolled down the embankment into the ravine, a distance of nearly 100 feet. She then took the go-cart and hid it in amongst some bushes on the other side of the ravine and then carried the body of the child into the culvert which runs under the Grand Trunk tracks. She undressed the body of the dead child, carrying its clothes to her home, where she hid them in the house. On Saturday morning she took the clothes, and, with her brother Ernie, aged 7, hid them in a clump of bushes about a half mile from their home. This spot is near Gerrard and Pape avenue, and is another ravine.

Found On Her Sister.

Friday night her sister Maud, aged 10, was down to the ravine at the entrance to the culvert to gather wild flowers and saw the body of the naked infant lying about 25 feet from its mouth. She ran away and later told her father and sister, Josie, but no attention was paid to the story. Josie made no remarks about it and nothing was done that night. On Saturday morning Josie and Maud went down to the ravine and Josie went in and carried out the body of the child. The police were then notified.

In the meantime Josie had concocted a story, which she told to the police when they questioned her. It was to the effect that she had seen a woman with a baby and a go-cart wandering around the scene of the murder on Friday morning at 11 o'clock and again at 4 o'clock, when she claims to have been coming from school. Josie's description of the woman whom she saw on Friday morning and afternoon was told with a wealth of detail.

Bereaved Father and Mother.

The condition of Mrs. Murray, who, since the disappearance of her child, has been in a state of prostration, was stated last night to have improved somewhat. A doctor is still in attendance, however. Mr. Murray, when seen at his home, 43 Wellington avenue, last night, had not been told the circumstances that had brought about the death of the infant, beyond that little Josephine Carr had admitted having taken the child away from where it had been left by its mother. When, in reply to a question, the manner of the baby's end as confessed to by the [illegible] abductor, was made known to him, he was silent for a time. Then he said, simply, "Poor little girl," and in his after references he showed no other spirit than one of pity for the misguided little Carr girl, whose mind, he declared himself convinced, was not wholly sound.

Mr. Murray declared himself unable to understand how the little Carr girl was able to describe the dress of his wife so accurately as she did in her picture of the mythical woman, unless the girl had seen Mrs. Murray as she entered the store. The details tallied except in one particular.

"The shock of being under suspicion was very trying to her," said Mr. Murray, in speaking of the steps that had been taken in an attempt to clear up the mystery. The cause of the infant's death will not be told the mother until she has rallied from the extreme shock and is stronger.

What the Crown Must Prove.

"What punishment can be meted out to that child?"

T. C. Robinette, K. C., who has been retained by Mr. Carr, said:

"When the accused is between the aged of 7 and 14 years it is on the Crown to prove that the child appreciated the nature and the consequences of the act—that the child knew it was a wrong thing to do. If the accused is over 14 the law presumes the perpetrator knows the consequences of the crime. This child is 13. There is a section in the act which makes child stealing an offence at the age of 7 years, but this girl will likely be charged with the murder. If it is proven that she knew the consequences of what she was doing she could be sentenced to death, but there are no cases of capital punishment meted out to child criminals in Canada. There have been cases in the old country at very young ages."

The child will appear in the police court this morning and will be remanded.

NORTH OXFORD VACANCY.

Conservatives Have Nominated Mr. James G. Wallace for the Seat.

Woodstock, May 22.—At the convention of the Conservatives of the north riding of Oxford at the Clay Hall Saturday afternoon, James G. Wallace, barrister, of Woodstock, was unanimously nominated as their candidate in the ensuing bye-election for the House of Commons, made necessary by the death of Hon. James Sutherland.

The convention was attended by over 150 delegates. President Day of the North Oxford Conservative Association presided.

The following gentlemen were nominated, but all withdrew except Mr. Wallace: C. A. Muma, Drumbo; John Young, East Zorra; Capt. Dan Quinn, Thamesford; John Day, Blenheim; E. Cody, Embro, and J. G. Wallace, R. E. Butler, D. W. Karn and Mayor Scarff, all of Woodstock.

Dr. Welford brought before the convention a resolution of condolence with the relatives of the late Mr. Sutherland, which passed the convention unanimously.

NOW MINISTER OF WORKS.

Hon. Charles S. Hyman Takes the Vacant Portfolio.

Ottawa, May 22.—Hon. C. S. Hyman has been appointed Minister of Public Works. He will require to be sworn in in Toronto, where the Governor-General will stay during the coming week. Mr. Hyman left for the west last night. It is expected that the elections in London and North Oxford will be held in about three weeks.

The impression is growing that Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, ex-M. P., and ex-Attorney-General of British Columbia, will be the next Governor of the Yukon. It was said last night that if the appointment is not actually made it will be put through at an early date.

Committed Suicide on His Farm.

Port Arthur, May 22.—Andrew Johnson, pioneer of this place, committed suicide Saturday. He with his son had been opening up a farm four miles from the town. On Friday night the son came to town. The father not arriving here on Saturday night the son became apprehensive, and went out to the farm and found his father lying on the shack floor with his brains blown out and a rifle lying by his side. Johnson some years ago had an attack of sunstroke, from which he has never fully recovered.

F. B. Wade Very Ill.

Ottawa, May 22.—F. B. Wade, chairman of National Transcontinental Railway Commisson, is in a critical condition and his recovery is regarded as doubtful. Mr. Wade had been ailing for some months from what was at first thought to be gastritis, but later his physicians concluded that he was suffering from internal abscess and that he was too weak to undergo an operation.

Roumania Threatens.

Constantinople, May 22.—Roumania insists upon reparation for the act of the Vali of Yanina in arresting several Roumanian school inspectors in spite of the privileges conferred upon them by the Porte. The Roumnian Government declares that unless the demand for reparation is complied with, relations with Turkey will be broken off.

TROUBLE IS NOW SURE TO ENSUE

To Quell the Striking Teamsters in Chicago--Express Companies Act---Strike Will Spread to Much Larger Proportions Because They Refuse to Re-Engage Strikers---Test Will Come With Proposed Action of the Lumbermen's Association If Carried Out.

Chicago, May 22.—Sunday brought no change in the attitude of either side to the labor controversy now in progress in Chicago, and everything last night points to an extension of the teamsters' strike during the coming week. Officers of the seven express companies, whose refusal to reinstate any of their former employes, caused the collapse of the settlement of the trouble Saturday night, still adhere to their determination not to re-employ any of their former employes, and the other firms involved in the difficulty last night declared that they would stand by the express companies in the fight. The Teamsters' Union has taken just as firm a stand as the employers' and it was said by President Shea last night that the union would not call off the strike until the express companies came to terms.

Spread Begins To-Day.

The first spread of the strike is expected to come this morning, when the Lumbermen's Association, which has an organization of 2,400 teamsters, issued an order to their men to make deliveries to all business houses, regardless of whether they are involved in the strike. In anticipation of such an order, the teamsters met yesterday afternoon and voted to go on strike should any teamster be discharged for refusing to obey the order of the Lumbermen's Association.

With non-union drivers making the liveries for the lumbermen, the strike will undoubtedly spread to affiliated industries, as the union men employed on buildings will refuse to handle material delivered by non-union labor. Should this lumbermen's strike be called to-day, and there was nothing last night that would indicate how it can be avoided, there seems to be nothing that can prevent a general industrial upheaval throughout Chicago.

Sheriff Barrett said, after being informed of the action of the teamsters' joint council:

"It simply means that the troops will have to be called. We have found it difficult to maintain the peace with the force of police and deputies we have had, and now that there is a prospect of so much greater a body of men being on strike will, through the chances of rioting that it entails, be out of the question for us to handle the trouble without the aid from the military. As soon as the strike spreads I will be compelled to ask the governor of the state for aid. I have done all that I am able to do, and the prospect now is that the thing will get away beyond the power of my officers."

LANSDOWNE LODGE AT DIVINE SERVICE

Rev. Dr. Crothers Preached a Sermon Last Night on Patriotism at George Street Church.

Some Reasons Why British Subjects Should Be Proud of the Empire of Great Britain.

England Has Given the Bible to the World---Canada the Fairest of the Possessions.

Last night the members of Lansdowne Lodge No. 25, Sons of England, attended service at George street Methodist church, where a sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Crothers, in honour of their visit, upon patriotism. The Lodge was well represented at church, the centre aisle being almost filled with the members of the Order, who heard a good sermon, though no special reference was made to the Order to which they belonged or to the work for which they were organized.

Outside the attendance of the visiting fraternalists, there was a large congregation, the church being filled to the doors. The sermon was from the text, Jonah, 1; 8: "What is thy country, and of what people art thou?" A brief historical reference was made to the events leading up to the asking of the question represented by the text. A great many influences, go to make up an individual, and the people of all nationalities have different characteristics, with the English, it is solidity, the Irishman, impetuosity, the Scotchman, caution, and the Frenchman courtesy. But, while there are many different characteristics, represented by different people, there is one which should be common to all, that of patriotism. There are those who say that piety and patriotism do not go together, but he did not believe this, and did not think much of the man who looks upon all countries alike, and the world thinks of these men with contempt.

Patriotism a Duty.

The Bible teaches and commands patriotism. The Jews were a patriotic people and loved their hills and valeys and when they were separated, and in strange lands they were mournful, and could not "sing the songs of the Lord in a strage land." Patriotism should be fostered in the youth of the land, and boys and girls should be taught to reverence and look up to the flag, as the banner of right. There are some strong reasons why we should study the question of patriotism, the first of which was supplied when we thought of our country. We have no reason to be ashamed of it, while some of us are Sons of England, others do not claim that as our home, but we all belong to one Empire, and while each has different ideals, we all rejoice in our home, and the Englishman is the first to appreciate the value of the Irishman and Scotchman, while the two latter are always ready to accord full credit to their English brethren.

Extent of the Empire.

In thinking of the vastness of the Empire, it is impossible to adequately describe it, when its size is considered, figures do not convey its magnitude. Its area is 11,000,000 square miles, or a little less than one-quarter of the whole globe. The population is 400,000,000, constituting more than one-quarter of that of the whole world. The trade of the Empire is one-third of that of the world. There is not an ocean which does not wash the shore of a part of the Empire. Its people include those of all colours. It includes the continents of Australia, the Indian Empire, South Africa and Canada, the largest and fairest possession of them all. The Empire includes 38 groups of Colonies, in which are 40 parliaments or legislative assemblies, and of these 20 parliaments are responsible governments. Those possessions are self-governing and are bound only by sentiment to the British Empire. While this Empire is a great one, there have been others. In the time of Philip of Spain, that country had conquered nearly everything, but Holland and England remained unconquered, and the power was broken after the disastrous failure of the Armada.

Britain's Mission Divine.

In the progress of the British Empire, we can see the providential hand of God. He has been preparing this people to carry on this work, just as He did the Hebrews of old. If the world is to be lifted up, God must have some motive to do it, and the speaker believed that it was to this work that the British Empire had been called. We should be thankful that we are British subjects, and that we are not Turks or Russians.

God's hand has been seen in the history of Britain, and there never was a time when the latter was in danger of being conquered by France, though there was a time in its history when France was about to become identified with Great Britain. This was averted, however, by the death of Henry V.

Great Britain, the speaker said, was the mother of parliaments, which was no idle thing to say, and other countries are copying this Empire in this respect. The Empire has also been the peacemaker of the world, and, although in some quarters she has been looked upon as a land-grabber she has always endeavoured to promote peace. There had been a difference of opinion as to the South African war, but we know now that there has never been a more righteous war than that.

The speaker referred to the benefits which had accrued to countries possessed by the British, and instanced Egypt, where British capital and British engineers had worked wonders.

Fruits of British Rule.

By the expenditure of $100,000,000 slavery had been abolished, and coloured men for all time were made free as soon as they came under the British flag. The rights of conscience were also respected, and by the Catholic emancipation in 1829, Catholics were given equal rights with Protestants, whereas, before that time they had been under great disability, and the speaker said that it was not much wonder when the persecutions under the reign of Queen Mary. He asked where there was a Catholic nation on earth which had shown such consideration for the minority as Great Britain had in 1829? In 1858 the emancipation of the Jews took place, and Lord Beaconsfield was the first Jewish premier.

There are certain obligations which the world is under at the present time to the British Empire, greatest of which is the fact that it was this empire that gave the printed Bible to the world, which is the basis of liberty, success and glory. She has also sent missionaries to all parts of the world to preach the Gospel.

Speaking of our destiny, which he said, was a very serious problem, he believed that God, who had done so much for us, would solve it in such a way that it would bring glory to the nation.

In conclusion the speaker remarked that the Bible spoke of citizenship in Heaven, and he would ask of his hearers "What is thy country, or of whose people are thou?" He asked them to see that their citizenship was registered in Heaven.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Madame Louis Belleau, of 17 Ramsay St., Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound assisted me to pass the change of life with but very little sickness and pain, and I am pleased to give it my endorsement, for I feel that it is the medicine which every woman should take. I am the mother of three children, and when I reached the age of fifty naturally my health was none too good, and I feel sure that if I had not taken your Vegetable Compound I should not have passed the climax safely. I took it off and on for two years and now find that I am in splendid health and strength and feel younger and better than I did ten years ago. Much praise to your medicine, and may all suffering women learn of its value."

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

STRANGE CHARMS.

Old Beliefs Die Hard in the Motherland —A Highly Original Whooping Cough Cure.

The other day an aged dame appeared at a London Police Court in great distress. She had, she wailed, "lost a 'sacrament shilling'."

The magistrate was puzzled. "In what respect," he asked, "did a sacrament shilling differ from any other shilling?"

Whereupon, says Pearson's Weekly, the applicant explained that the coin in question was a certain cure for fits.

It had been given her by her mother, who had it in turn from her mother, who had got it over 100 years ago from the clergyman of her parish in exchange for an ordinary shilling, which had already been first exchanged for twelve pennies collected from twelve maidens.

The coin, it appears, to be efficacious, had to be worn in a bag hung round the patient's neck for seven times seven times seven days.

Similar strange beliefs linger in many out-of-the-way corners of Great Britain.

In Devonshire, for instance, the country folk still make "cramp rings" out of old coffin handles; and bracelets forged out of nails on which suicides have hanged themselves are worn by gouty people and deemed singularly efficacious.

Charmed belts are commonly worn in Lancashire for the cure of rheumatism. In Durham a cord round the loins is supposed to word off toothache.

Among the peasantry of Roxburgshire women who are nursing babies wear around their necks small cords of blue wool. These are never removed, day or night, until the child is wearied.

By taking this precaution they imagine that they insure good health both to themselves and their offspring during that critical period. The cords are handed down from mother to daughter, and are esteemed in proportion to their antiquity.

In Suffolk to prevent nose-bleeding people wear a skein of scarlet thread around the neck, tied with nine knots down the front. If the patient is a man, it is essential that the thread be put on and the knots tied by a woman, while if the patient is a woman, then these services must be rendered by a man.

Many curious prescriptions common in folk medicine have for their object the transference of the disease from the patient to one of the lower animals.

For example, in Devonshire and in Scotland alike, when a child has whooping cough, some hair is cut from its head, put between slices of bread and butter and given to a dog. Then if the latter in eating it should cough—as naturally he will—the complaint will be transferred to the animal and the child will recover.

In Cheshire it is by no means uncommon for a young frog to be held for a few moments with its head inside the mouth of a sufferer from thrush. In Cumberland and throughout the north of England generally a live fish is substituted for the frog.

Sometimes trees take the place of animals. Thus a certain old oak at Berkhamstead was long famous for the cure of ague. The transference was simple, but painful. A lock of hair was pegged into the wood, and then by a sudden wrench transferred from the head of the patient to the tree.

The Welsh peasantry cure toothache by scarifying the gums with an iron nail, which is then driven up to the head in an elm tree and there left. They also profess to believe that a shrew mouse, touched by a sick person and then pegged up alive in a hole previously bored in an alder tree, will carry off the disease from the patient.

Law to Save Ireland.

Dublin, May 22.—Chief Secretary for Ireland Long gave a banquet to the Irish Unionist members of the House of Commons Saturday night. He denounced the revolution proposals of Lord Dunraven, who, he said, was going down the road which was traversed by others who had surrendered their forces in disorder. Certain reforms in the Irish administration were desirable, he added, but the country would not prosper unless the law was enforced and liberty was secured for all.

Quebec Legislature Ended.

Quebec, May 22.—Prorogation of the Provincial Legislature took place Saturday evening, and although no special hour was fixed for the ceremony, a large number of the elite of the city were present.

TOO TIRED TO STIR!

ARE YOU ONE OF THE WEAK WOMEN

To Become Bright, Happy and Healthy?—Use Ferrozone.

Modern life makes demands on every woman's strength that seem impossible to meet. Only the robust and strong can stand the strain. The weak, with their delicately balanced organisms, must fail. Blood gets thin, it's innutritious. Nerves go to smash, vitality declines, and then follows misery and suffering caused by interference with certain functions upon which the very existence of every female depends.

Don't let your condition grow worse. Check the decline of vital force before it is too late! The one sure remedy is Ferrozone—not a temporary stimulant—but an uplifting nutritive tonic that contains the kind of building material a weak body requires.

FERROZONE revitalizes the system by putting new life into the blood. Not only does it nourish the ordinary blood supply—it does more, it makes new blood, the rich, red kind that denotes health.

Energy is reinforced, strength is steadily and surely rebuilt. Keen appetite, strong nerves, more restful sleep, buoyant feelings, all tell of the enormous good Ferrozone invariably accomplishes. For restoring the weak, the pale, the despondent, there is no treatment so instant and permanent in effect as Ferrozone. A trial proves this. Won't you use Ferrozone yourself? It will surely make you well—its effect is instant.

BUILT UP HER STRENGTH

Mrs. M. E. Etherington, a well known merchant's wife, of Troy, writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence, and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last Spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired and completely worn out. No doubt it is quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and, in fact, I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone Assures Good Health!

WARNING! Beware of the substitutor who urges you to accept something "just as good." Only FERROZONE can cure satisfactorily—see you get it, and nothing else. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all reliable dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ontario.

SUCCESSION TAX IS AMENDED

Drastic Changes Made in the Death Duties.

Executors Liable—Nothing Will be Chargeable on Property Transferred for an Equivalent Consideration.

Important changes in the law regarding succession duties are contained in a bill introduced by Hon. Mr. Matheson in the Legislature on Friday. The measure provides a new scale of duties on estates exceeding $10,000 in value, and among other provisions is one holding executors or administrators, who attempt to escape the act by distributing estates outside the province, personally liable for the full amount of the succession duties. Another clause provides that where any part of an estate exceeding $10,000 is willed to a person not a member of the family of the deceased, it shall be subject to a duty of $10 for every $100 of the value. All estates less than $10,000 in value are exempt. The provisions of the act in detail are as follows:

That the Act to amend the Succession Duties Act shall not apply—

To any estate, the aggregate amount of which does not exceed $10,000.

To property devised or bequeathed to any corporation or association, or any person or persons for religious, charitable or educational purposes, to be carried on within the province of Ontario; or if the work carried on by any such corporation or association, or by any person or persons extends beyond the province where the chief officer of such corporation or association, or the proper officer authorized by law to receive such bequest or the beneficiaries of one or more of the beneficiaries named in the will of the deceased resides or reside within the province.

To property passing under a will intestacy or o herwise, to or for the use of a father, mother, husband, wife, child, daughter-in-law, or son-in-law of the deceased, where the aggregate value of property, as defined by this Act, passing to persons mentioned in this sub-section, does not exceed $50,000.

That where the aggregate value of the property of the deceased exceeds $50,000, and passes in manner aforesaid, either in whole or in part, to or for the benefit of the father, mother, husband, wife, child, son-in-law or daughter-in-law of the deceased, the same or so much thereof as so passes (as the case may be) shall be subject to a duty at the rate and on the scale as follows:

(a) Where the said aggregate value exceeds $50,000, and does not exceed $75,000, 1 per cent.

(b) Exceeds $75,000, and does not exceed $100,000, 2 per cent.

(c) Exceeds $100,000 and does not exceed $150,000, 3 per cent.

(d) Exceeds $150,000, and does not exceed $200,000, 4 per cent.

(e) Exceeds $200,000 5 per cent.

Dutiable Property.

Provided that where the value of any dutiable property, as determined by the provisions of sub-section 4 of section 2 of this act, exceeds $100,000, and is devised, bequeathed or passes to any person mentioned in the next preceding sub-section, a further duty shall be paid on the amount so devised, bequeathed or passing, in addition to the rates in the next preceding sub-section mentioned, as follows:

(a) Where the whole amount so passing to one person exceeds $100,000, and does not exceed $200,000, 1 per cent.

(b) Exceeds $200,000, and does not exceed $400,000, 1 1-2 per cent.

() Exceeds $400,000 and does not exceed $600,000, 2 per cent.

(d) Exceeds $600,000 and does not exceed $800,000, 2 1-2 per cent.

(e) Exceeds $800,000, 3 per cent.

Where the aggregate value of the property of the deceased exceeds $10,000, so much thereof as passes to or for the benefit of the grandfather or grandmother or any other lineal ancestor of the deceased, except the father and mother, or to any brother or sister of the deceased, or to any descendant of such brother or sister, or to a brother or sister of the father or mother of the deceased, or to any descendant of such last mentioned brother or sister, shall be subject to a duty of $5 for every $100 of the value.

Further Duty.

Provided that where the value of any dutiable property as determined by the provisions of sub-section 4 of section 2 of this Act exceeds $50,000, and is divised, bequeathed or passes to any one person mentioned in the next preceding section, except the father and mother, a further duty shall be paid on the amount so passing, in addition to the duty in the next preceding sub-section mentioned as follows:

(a) Where the whole amount exceeds $50,000 and does not exceed $100,000, 1 per cent.

(b) Exceeds $100,000 and does not exceed $150,000, 1 1-2 per cent.

(c) Exceeds $150,000 and does not exceed $200,000, 2 per cent.

(d) Exceeds $200,000 and does not exceed $250,000, 2 1-2 per cent.

(e) Exceeds $250,000 and does not exceed $300,000, 3 per cent.

(f) Exceeds $300,000 and does not exceed $350,000, 3 1-2 per cent.

(g) Exceeds $350,000 and does not exceed $400,000, 4 per cent.

(h) Exceeds $400,000 and does not exceed $450,000 4 1-2 per cent.

(i) Exceeds $450,000, 5 per cent.

Outside the Family.

Where the aggregate value of the property of the deceased exceeds $10,000, and any part thereof passes to or for the benefit of any person in any other degree of collateral consanguinity to the deceased that is above described, or to or for the benefit of any stranger in blood to the deceased, save as is hereinbefore provided for, the same shall be subject to a duty of $10 for every $100 of the value

Provided that where the whole value of any property devised, bequeathed or passing to any one person under a will or intestacy does not exceed $200 the same shall be exempt from payment of the duty imposed by this section.

Provided that any portion of the estate of any deceased person, who at the time of his death was domiciled in this Province, which is brought into this Province by the executors or administrators of the estate to be administered or distributed in this Province shall be liable to the duty hereinbefore imposed; but if any succession or legacy duty or tax has been paid upon such property elsewhere than in Ontario and such duty or tax is equal to or greater than the duty payable thereon; and if the duty of tax so paid elsewhere is less than the duty payable on property in this Province, then the property upon which such duty or tax has been paid elsewhere shall be subject to the payment of such portion only of the succession duty provided for in the preceding sub-sections of this section as will equal the difference between the duties payable under this Act with respect to property in the Province of Ontario and the duty or tax so paid elsewhere.

Executors Responsible.

In case an executor or administrator shall in order to escape payment of succession duty, imposed by this Act, distribute any part of the said estate without bringing the same into this Province, such executor or administrator shall be liable personally to pay to his Majesty the amount of the duty which would have been payable had the assets so distributed been brought within this Province. Provided that this subjection shall not apply to payments made to persons domiciled without the Province out of assets situate without the Province.

Nothing herein contained shall render liable for duty any property bona fide transferred for a consideration that is of a value substantially equivalent to the property transferred.

OPENING OF SPECIAL SERVICES

Evangelist Russell Preached Twice at St. Andrew's Yesterday.

Large Attendance at Evening Service—Spoke Upon "Redemption Rights.

The eight days' special services at St. Andrew's Church opened yesterday. A large congregation attended the evening service at which Evangelist Walter Russell spoke on "Redemption Rights."

The preacher dealt with the subject in a somewhat unique, though forcible manner, instituting a comparison in his opening remarks between the "staking out" of claims in mining territory, and our "Redemption Rights" in the "mineral resources of the Gospel," which would make us multi-millionaires, heirs of God and shareholders with Jesus Christ. The first claim, upon which based his remarks, was to be found in Isaiah lv, 7: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

The speaker referred to the abundance with which some were blessed as compared with the poverty of others. It is the "superfluities" of life he pointed out, which are essential. This point was illustrated in many ways, after which reference was made to the grand staircase of "superlatives" offered by our Lord,—"abundant pardon," "abundant life" and "abundant resources," and after an appeal for more life in regard to Christian effort, closed with an earnest exhortation to the congregation to "never bend to the devil, or close your eyes till you are a shareholder in God's great resources."

May Have Been Drowned.

Brantford, May 22.—Word has just been received by the friends of Huron Nelles, causing them much anxiety for his safety. He left the Twin Lakes about April 5 to join a surveying party. When about thirty miles from the camp he was met by two of the packers from the camp, who strongly advised him not to proceed, as there were signs of the ice in the river breaking up. However, Nelles went on and it is feared he has been drowned.

May Result in Murder.

Toronto, May 22.—His head and face bearing the marks of an assault, Robert Ramson, boat builder, aged 50, was picked up in an unconscious condition last night at the foot of Sherbourne street. He was taken to the Emergency, where his injuries were found to be serious, and he was later removed to the General Hospital.

REDEMPTORIST FATHERS' MISSION

Introduced Yesterday at St. Peter's.

Large Attendance Yesterday and This Morning—Sermon by Rev. Father Heenan

Yesterday at St. Peter's Cathedral was commenced the Mission of the Redemptorist Fathers, in continuation of that of last year. The Mission will be of two week's duration, the present being devoted to women of the parish and next week to the men.

The Mission was introduced at the 10.30 o'clock mass, by Rev. Father Heenan, who spoke from the appropriate text, Acts 15-36, "And some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas, let us go again to our brethren in every city where we have preached the Word of the Lord and see how they do."

The preacher, after referring to the events preceding the context, including the conversion of St. Paul, who had become an ardent lover of our Divine Lord, and followed in his work, remarked upon the work assigned to the twelve Apostles, that of the conversion of the whole world. It was the custom of the Apostles, after visiting cities to return to see how they were doing, to ascertain whether the new members of Christ's family were as strong in the faith as at the time of their departure.

As this was the duty of those who have gone before, so it is our duty to return to our brethren for a similar purpose. Though circumstances did not permit of the return of the same missionaries, yet the visit was made by their brethren in the same cause.

Reference was then made to those who had been present last year, who had been called away to other places. Rev. Father Feency had of his own free will gone to Porto Rico, in which place he was now engaged, while Rev. Father Connolly had also been called away to another field.

The meaning of, and the necessity for, the Mission, were then explained. They were free to give the Mission but when this was commenced it was as had been said by St. Francis, a duty to complete the work. The desire of Almighty God is that people may be brought back to his service by having in their hearts a hatred of sin, and also that people should be brought back, not with servile fear, but through His love and goodness. The highest commandment of all is love of God. This was the work of the renewal of the Mission.

The dangers in being satisfied with present conditions were also pointed out, and illustrated by the desire for greater riches which exists among the richest men. The latter being the case, should it not be equally so with those strong in God's loving grace; do they not wish to grow stronger still? There are also those who have degenerated and fallen back from their previous promises and resolutions. For these is also necessary a renewal of the Mission. He wills not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may be converted and live. The urgency of attending was then spoken of, as, for many of those present, no doubt, it would be a last opportunity.

In conclusion an invitation was extended to those of other faiths to attend the Mission, at which, nothing which would insult or give offence would be said. The arrangements with regard to hours of service was also explained, these being, in the morning, five and half-past eight o'clock masses, followed by sermon. In the evening, devotions, sermon and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, at half-past seven.

At evening devotions yesterday, there was a large attendance, over 1,200 women being present. The sermon, of which the subject was "Relapse," was preached by Rev. Father Heenan.

Large congregations were also present at this morning's masses, that at the five o'clock numbering 500 women, and at the eight-thirty, about 800.

The Mission is being conducted by Rev. Fathers Heenan, Mullet and Zilles, the latter of whom, will arrive to-morrow.

Sunk at Sea.

Tynemouth, May 22.—The British steamer Broadmayne, Capt. Haynes, from Port Arthur, Texas, via Antwerp, has arrived here with her stem badly damaged. She reports having been in collision with the British steamer Vauxhall. The Vauxhall sank. Her crew were rescued.

Robbed Hotel Safe of $800.

Listowel, May 22.—Some time after midnight, D. Paul, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, was robbed of cash and cheques amounting to $800. On opening the safe yesterday morning he found it had been unlocked and ransacked.

OPPOSITION PROMISES.

There is a disposition in some quarters to remind Mr. Whitney of some of the things he promised to do, when he had the opportunity. We regard this as little short of cruelty. To remind a man of what he said in the fine, breezy, irresponsible days of Opposition is as indefensible as the conduct of a wife who reminds her life partner of the tremendously affectionate things he used to say in the parental parlour prior to the wedding day.

Opposition would be unendurable if Oppositionists were to be held to account for all their prattlings about what they would do when they were in office. A tramp's tale about how much wood he would saw after a cold collation might as well be credited. It may be urged that electors take these things seriously, and perhaps there is force in this allegation, but if the elector had actually heard Mr. Whitney, instead of reading him in the cold, serious type of a reporter's judiciously trimmed rendering he would not have expected too much. There should be a political department in our arithmetics, and in it opposition promises should be subject to a liberal and perhaps fixed discount. If performance amounted to 33 1-3 per cent., absolution should be granted. Lower than that might entitle the country to call for an explanation, while a higher average could be generously treated with applause from opponents—the sweetest incense that can be offered at Ministerial shrines.—Globe.

UNNECESSARY VEHEMENCE.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, worked himself into a rather dramatic exhibition of righteous indignation in the House a day or two ago over the Central Prison broom-making contract, which he declared was carried on at a loss to the Province, and over the renewal of the binder twine contract, which he practically charged had been irregularly made inasmuch as the signature of Mr Inspector Noxon had been affixed by a stamp fac simile. Hon. Mr. Hanna made much ado over the matter of affixing Mr. Noxon's signature, which was not an uncommon or improper practice. In this particular case Mr. Noxon was temporarily absent through illness and the next in authority had affixed his signature to a document which was regularly considered and drawn up. The question was one that had to be dealt with; the old contract was about to expire and it was necessary to deal with the matter. If Hon. Mr. Graham had authorized the affixing of Mr. Noxon's stamp, he had a right to do so, and no interest of the province was imperilled thereby. As to Mr. Hanna's statement that the Province lost money on some of these contracts it was not a matter of reproach or surprise under the circumstances. The industries are not carried on at the Central Prison with the chief object of making money—the real object is to keep prisoners employed and the best use possible has to be made of the material available. Many of the prisoners were unskilled and some were old men, and the results could not be expected to be as profitable as in a matter where the choice of suitable workmen possible. Notwithstanding Hon. Mr. Hanna's dark insinuation an impartial and unprejudiced examination of the circumstances will show that a proper contract had been properly made, and that the interests of the Province had not been neglected.

EDITORIAL NOTES

An American doctor asserts that residence in the Arctic regions will cure consumption. The question arises whether life is worth living which involves freezing to death.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentences paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragraphs contained in the pamphlet.

on the colonial office, London, for settlement. The question is to decide where Chief Justice Taschereau will sit, when, as representing Her Majesty's Vice-Regal representative, he assents to bills in the Senate.

Quebec is proposing to impose a stamp duty on stock transfers. This may tend to discourage the innocent amusement of dabbling in stocks, in which the inexperienced have as much as they can bear in the vexatious fluctuations of the market. It is argued that as the same block of stock frequently changes hands the same stock will be subject to mulitple taxation.

The Conservatives don't overdo their chivalrous treatment of their opponents. Hon. Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, when he was without a seat, was elected by acclamation, the Liberals going out of their way to facilitate his speedy return to the House. Now it is announced that Mr. Borden is to engineer the bitter opposition it is proposed to give to the election of Hon. C.S. Hyman in London, newly appointed Minister of Public Works.

HATS OFF.

Facts About the American Indian's Healthy Hair.

The American Indian accustomed from time immemorial to go bareheaded in all kinds of weather, is never troubled with falling hair or baldness.

The close atmosphere caused by our "civilized" head-gear is conducive to the breeding of infinitesimal germs which dig into the scalp and thrive on the sap of the hair-root.

The true cause of baldness is of recent discovery and explains the non-success of all hair restorers which treated baldness as a functional disorder.

Newbro's Herpicide is a direct exterminator of the germ. It destroys the germ and permits the hair to grow as nature intended.

HEAVY DOCKET AT POLICE COURT

Many Dog-Tag Cases Dealt With.

Seduction Case Enlarged—Henry Utman Receives Further Remand.

The docket at the police court this morning, assumed Denisonian proportions. The large number of prosecutions for failure to purchase the necessary canine decorations, were interspersed by other varieties of cases sufficiently to relieve the monotony.

The dog cases, and manner of their disposition, was as follows:

Mrs. Chambers, Allan Armstrong and John Butler, dismissed with costs of 85 cents; Isaac Noble, $2 and costs, amounting in all to $4.60; Alex Martin, case enlarged; M. Burk, fined $2, tag to be granted upon payment; Wm. Gainey, enlarged one week.

Harold Meldrum was fine $1 for setting off firecrackers, contrary to the town bylaw. The chief states that further infractions of this bylaw will be promptly prosecuted.

The case of John Sims, enlarged from last week, for erecting a wooden building inside the fire limits, received a further enlargement until Monday next to extend the opportunity to alter the building in conformity with the bylaw. In case this has not been done a fine of $10 will be imposed.

John Sweeney, on a charge of non-support was also remanded.

Henry Utman, the picture agent, who appeared last week, on a charge of fraudulently securing possession of pictures, was again arraigned on two counts this morning—the one upon which his arrest was secured, and one of fraudulently obtaining from Annie Bardow the sum of $5. The prisoner was remanded until Friday. Crown Attorney Wood appeared for the prosecution. F. D. Kerr, counsel for the defence.

The case of a young man for seduction of a girl under promise of marriage, was enlarged until Friday. The prisoner was released on $500 bail, consisting of two securities of $250 each. Crown Attorney Wood for the prosecution; F. D. Kerr for the defence.

GOLD RING FOR POPULAR SINGER

Mr. R. N. Joliffe Honoured on Departure From Town.

Members of Charlotte Street Choir Present Him With Ring.

Last night the members of the Charlotte street choir honoured one of their number, who yesterday spent his last Sunday with the choir as a member. Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, who for the last year has occupied the position of bass soloist, and who, for nearly three years, has been associated with the choir, is to leave town this week for Toronto, where he will continue his musical studies, in which line he has already won distinction, not only at home, but his departure for Toronto is the direct result of the impression he has made on Herr Wilhelmj by his singing.

Evidence of his popularity among the members of the choir, was furnished last night, when, at the close of the service, the members of the choir presented Mr. Jolliffe with a handsome solid gold ring, with raised initials, and on the inside the engraved inscription, "Charlotte street choir, May, 1905."

Miss Clarry as organist and choir-leader, spoke of the value of Mr. Jolliffe's services to the choir, and expressed the universal regret which was felt at his departure from town. He would be greatly missed by the choir for his musical talents, as well as for his other qualities, and he will be followed by the best wishes of every member of the choir for his future success.

Mr. Stocker, in making the presentation, also said a few words along the same line, and asked Mr. Jolliffe to accept the ring from the choir as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the members, coupled with their best wishes for his future.

In acknowledgment, Mr. Jolliffe expressed his appreciation of the kindness of the choir, as represented by the handsome gift, which he should always prize very highly but which was not needed to remind him of his pleasant associations with the choir of Charlotte street. He had thoroughly enjoyed the time spent in that organization, and he assured them that he should always look back with pleasure upon the time he had spent here.

Mr. Mitchell, on behalf of the Male Quartette, added a few words, regretting Mr. Jolliffe's departure, after which the latter held an informal reception, during which the members said farewell to the one of their number who was so soon to leave them.

FATHER SEEKS LOST DAUGHTER

Chief of Police Asked to Locate Mrs. Percy Bell.

Her Father in England Wants to Find His Child and Her Husband.

This morning Chief Roszel received a letter from England, telling a story of a separation which has some pathetic features. The writer is a father, who is searching for his daughter, who, he says, lived in Peterborough, though as yet no record has been found of anybody by the name of Percy Bell, the name of her husband, having lived in this town at the time indicated by the letter. The chief does not know anything of the persons mentioned in the letter, but of course will do all in his power to locate them as asked for in the communication, and if any one in town has any information which will lead to the missing persons being found, the chief will be glad to be made acquainted with it. The letter follows:

31 Cumberland street,
Southampton, England.

To Superintendent of Police,
Peterborough.

Dear Sir, — I shall be very grateful to you if you can give me any information of the whereabouts of my daughter, Therisa Bell. She was living with her husband, Percy Bell, and their little boy, Douglas, in Peterborough. I wrote to Peterborough Post Office, and the letters would arrive about a day or two after Christmas last. Some time later the letter was returned to me marked "Not called for." Well I have waited ever since thinking perhaps she would write. We are all very anxious to know where they are or what has happened to them. I feel certain you will help me if it is in your power. I remain, sir, yours faithfully,

G. M. Acom.

MR. E. PLOUFFE IS ABSOLVED

From Any Blame in Connection With Stealing Case.

Having been arrested on the 19th inst., upon a charge of stealing certain goods from the Canadian General Electric Company, I made the statement to the Constable that the property found in my possession was taken by me for the purpose of delivering the same to Eugene Plouffe, and made other charges of dishonesty against him.

Having done this gentleman serious wrong by making this statement, I now take this opportunity of making reparation as far as possible. The goods taken by me were not taken for Mr. Plouffe, nor had he any knowledge of my taking them, nor of any improper conduct of mine in regard to the Company. As far as I know, and I have every reason to believe, Mr. Plouffe is a man of absolute integrity of character, and the charges that I made against him, were made for the uprpose of saving myself from the consequences of my own wrongful conduct.

Having wantonly injured the reputation of a respectable man, I consider it my duty to endeavour to restore it as far as it lies in my power, and I trust that the publication of this letter will serve to remove any false impression, which my previous statement may have occasioned. I am, Yours truly,

(Signed.) GEO. KEITH.

SUMMER HOTEL TO BE ERECTED

Mr. Jackson's Hotel at Eel's Creek Soon to be Constructed.

Mr. R. H. Jackson, whose intention to form a syndicate to erect a summer hotel at Eel's creek, this season was announced in the Examiner, has made preparations for the construction of the building. A considerable portion of the material has been purchased, and Mr. Jackson is going up the lake to settle definitely on the site upon which the building will be erected.

His cottage will be erected at once and work on the hotel will be started in the near future.

This should prove a popular resort, and in view of the fact that there is at present no hotel in that vicinity, that of Mr. Jackson's is certain to be well patronized.

NO CELEBRATION ON JULY FIRST

Ald. Hicks Writes to Committee Advising to This Effect

Opposition Which Has Developed to Incorporation Given as the Cause

Ald. Hicks, the chairman of the Celebration Committee, has written letters to members of that committee with reference to the proposed celebration on July 1st. The letter follows:

Dear Sir, — Owing to complications arising from the opposition to the clause relating to incorporation in the town bill for special legislation I did not think it wise to call a meeting of the Celebration Committee until the matter had assumed definite form, and until the Mayor, the honorary chairman, had expressed himself, regarding the celebration.

At a meeting of the Town Council held on Tuesday evening last, the Mayor's expression could not be considered favourable, and the members of the council expressed themselves as unfavourable to carrying on the celebration, in view of the opposition. My opinion is that the celebrations could not be successfully carried on under the circumstances, and I have therefore decided not to take any further action in the matter. If this does not meet with your approval kindly let me have your views.

Yours truly,
R. Hicks.

Peterborough, May 20, 1905.

This will, of course, put a quietus on the celebration proposal, as the opinion of the majority of the members of the committee, as well as of the citizens generally, is that it would be unwise to undertake a celebration in face of the opposition which has arisen.

MacEWAN'S BUNCH DEFEATED SHERBURNES

Won From Fast Toronto Team on Saturday Afternoon, the Score Being 7-4.

A Second Win for the Local Team Which is Now Playing Winning Baseball.

Midland League Nine Shaping up Well and Should Have a Succesful Season.

The second game for the local Midland League team was played on Saturday and, incidentally, was won from the Sherbournes, of Toronto, the team picked to win the senior league in Toronto this year. The game, which was played on the Driving Park Diamond, was not as interesting, from a spectator's standpoint, as was that of the preceeding week, but, it was, nevertheless, a good exhibition of baseball, the errors, and what little loose play there was, being accounted for by the fact that the diamond was slow, and the ground unfamiliar to both teams, and it was almost impossible to play errorless ball on the ground in the condition in which it was.

It was an easy victory for the home team, and, although the score was 7-4, the homesters had all the best of it, and up to the eighth innings Manager MacEwan's bunch led, the score at that time being 7-1. In that innings the visitors brought in two runs and in the first of the ninth, another was scored.

There was plenty of batting in the game, both pitchers being touched up rather freely, but Douglas had the better of the argument, and had he been pressed could have done even better. His support was fair, on the whole, though in the first innings some errors in the infield pretty nearly brought in some tallies for the Toronto bunch.

The attendance was not as large as the quality of the game deserved, the distance of the Driving Park from the town no doubt being responsible for the smallness of the gate receipts. On this occasion, again, however, the team which Manager MacEwan has succeeded in getting together demonstrated its ability to play winning ball, and before the season is over, if the team continue to improve as it may reasonably be expected that they will, they should be found pretty near the grand stand when the pennant is being handed out.

Stayne, the new third baseman was in the game on Saturday for the first time, and, beyond an error in the first innings, played a good game, and his value was especially appreciated as a sticker, his work with the bat being of the best. Raftray, who has been signed by Manager MacEwan to do the back stop work in conjunction with Cadman, was on the bench on Saturday, his throwing arm being not in the best of shape to work against the strong wind, but he will likely be in the game on Wednesday with Lindsay, though it would be pretty hard to improve on Cadman's work in the game of Saturday as well as in that of the week before.

It must be admitted that the element of luck figured prominently in the game on Saturday, and the home team had their share of that commodity. Their first three runs were scored on a bad error by Thorne, who played third base for the visitors. There were men on first and second, and the batter sent a grounder at the third baseman, which should have been an easy out, but instead of touching his bag, and putting the man on second out on a forced run to throw to first, the ball going over the head of the man on the initial sack, and before it had been recovered three runs had been scored.

Gratton, who did the slab work for the visitors until he was hurt in sliding to second, was replaced by B. Stevenson, who pitched the last two innings, and no runs were scored off his delivery in the seventh he only pitched three balls. Grattan was inclined to be wild, and when he got them over the base he was hit pretty freely.

As a whole the visiting team was inferior to the home bunch, but is by no means a weak aggregation, and in winning from the team on Saturday the locals have won a victory which is not insignificant.

The visitors were first at bat, J. Stevenson being an easy out, Douglas to first. Weeks waited for four wide ones, but was out stealing second. B Stevenson got first on Shea's error, but Belanger fanned. The locals had a short session at bat, Sheridan striking out. Shea hit a grounder to short and Stayne was out, pitcher to first.

The visitors almost scored in the second innings. With a man on third and one out, it looked pretty good for a score, but the locals pulled themselves out of the hole. Bonnick was an easy out to J. Pilling Dickinson hit to Stayne, but reached first on the latter's low throw. Thorne got to first on a fielder's choice, Dickinson being out going home, and Timmerly flew out to Cadman. Only three men were up for the locals this innings also. Douglas drove a high fly to left field. Cadman was out, third to first and T. Pilling flew to Weeks

In the third the Toronto team succeeded in getting one run across the plate after two men were out. Grattan flew to Connors, B. Stevenson was out on a little liner to third. Weeks, who last year caught for Bowmanville and who is a good man with the willow, drove a two-bagger and came home on B. Stevenson's single. The latter was caught stealing second.

It was still one to nothing after the home team had their innings, J. Pilling was out, pitcher to first. Callaghan drove a hot one to Thorne which the latter fumbled, the runners reaching first. Connors got to first, hit by pitcher, Sheridan and Shea, however, both flew out leaving two men on bases.

The fourth was the lucky one for the locals. Belanger struck out; Bonnick got in the way of a pitched ball, getting his base, but Dickinson fanned and Thorne was out, Douglas to Pilling. Stayne led off with a safe hit to left, but was out trying to steal second bag. Douglas waited and got his base, Cadman following on a nice single. T. Pilling struck out and it looked to be all off, but thanks to Thorne, before the smoke had cleared away, three runs had crossed the plate. J Pilling sent a liner at Thorne, who instead of touching his bag and putting Douglas out on a forced run, he flew to first, the ball going over Stevenson's head, and the three men on basis come ambling home. Callaghan got his base on balls but Connors fanned.

In the fifth Timmerly hit safely to right, but was out stealing second. Gratton followed with a hit to centre field. J Stevenson fanned and Weeks was an easy out, short stop to first.

The home team scored four more runs in this innings on good clean hitting. Sheridan was out on a low one to second base. Shea got four balls and Stayne got first on a hit which the first baseman could not handle quickly enough. Douglas sacrificed advancing Shea and Stayne, Cadman got his base, hit by pitched ball. T Pilling proved his value as a pinch hitter, driving out a two bagger to left, scoring Shea and Stayne. Cadman came home on a wild pitch, and J. Pilling hit to left, scoring T. Pilling. This ended it, as Callaghan was out, short stop to first. The score was now 7-1. B Stevenson in sixth was out on a grounder to Shea. Belanger got first on a hard drive, which Shea could not get. Bonnick flew to Stayne and Dickinson fanned.

In the next innings B. Stevenson went into the box Gratton having been hurt sliding second in the fifth and in his first innings only three balls were pitched. Connors popped up a fly to Weeks, Sheridan flew to short stop and Shea was out on a grounder to short.

In the seventh Thorne flew out to Connors, Timmerly was out at first on Cadman's assist and McDonald also failed to reach the initial bag, his grounder being fielded by Sheridan. B. Stevenson's slow balls fooled the local batsmen in this innings as well, Stayne fanned, Douglas being out on a low one to second and Cadman the same at third. The visitors landed on Douglas' offerings in the eighth and brought in two runs. J. Stevenson struck out, but Weeks got his second two bagger for the day. B. Stevenson hit to centre, scoring Weeks, Belanger followed with a hit, scoring Stevenson. The side was retired, however, on a fast double play in which Sheridan, Shea and Pilling figured. Bonnick's grounder furnishing the opportunity. The locals were easy outs in their half, T. Pilling being out, third to first. J. Pilling fanned, and Callaghan was out, pitcher to first.

Another run was scored for the visitors in the ninth, Dickinson hit to left for a two bagger. Thorne fanned, but Timmerly's hit scored Dickinson. McDonald was an easy out on a grounder to pitcher and J. Stevenson flew to Connors, the final score being 7-4.

BASEBALL.

Our sister town, Peterborough, is surely bucking the tiger and playing to the hardest kind of luck, but are still in the ring and "gamey". Their two first games with city teams were called off on account of rain and snow, after the teams landed in town. At their last game they had a big crowd; some went through the gate turnstiles, but a great many sneaked in, as there is only a three-foot fence around the grounds. Umpire Lindsay's luck last year with Peterborough's—we did not have a rainy day during any game. Last week it rained the day before and the day after our game. If we had Peterborough's misfortunes to buck against the ball team would be in the foolish house.—Lindsay Post

The Lindsay Post says:—Citizens, it is not necessary to go to Toronto to see a first game of baseball. We have the "home grits" at the ball grounds and by remaining in town you will see some fast ball between Peterborough and Lindsay "Redpaths" on Wednesday next. All is ready for the opening game in the Midland League, and the local management have got some fifteen players signed and all looks well. We want a banner last year and are after it again. The old players are in the game. Patronize home trade.

THREE INFANTS BURNED.

Three Lives Lost in a Fire at Lac Du Bonnet.

Winnipeg, May 22.—The home of J. Hendrickson, an Icelandic settler at Lac du Bonnet, was burned on Friday morning, and his three children were cremated. The horrible occurrence took place while the little ones were in bed during the temporary absence of their parents. Hendrickson is a fisherman, and had just returned. His wife went down to the river to assist him in unloading, and while there the house caught fire, and before they could return their babes, aged four and two years and eight months respectively, were burned to death.

Felt Weak and Nervous.

Had Faint and Dizzy Spells.

These symptoms arise from a weak condition of the heart and nerves. Wherever there are sickly people with weak hearts and deranged nerves, will be found an effectual remedy.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Through the medium of the nervous system, they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body.

They restore enfeebled, enervated, exhausted, devitalized, or overworked men and women to perfect constitutional power.

Miss Maggie L. Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., tells how she was cured in the following words:—

"I was sick for the past year, and became thoroughly run down. I had faint and dizzy spells, and felt weak and nervous all the time. I tried numerous remedies, but could get no help. I then read in the paper about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them. Before I had used one-half the box I began to get better, so got another one, and by the time the two were finished I was as well as ever."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, TORONTO, ONT.

FOR DEFENCE OF THE NATION

Imperial Manifesto Creates a Preliminary Commission.

MAY CONTROL WAR SHORTLY

Russia Moves to Co-Ordinate the Activities of Her Army and Navy—Japs Drive Off Russians Who Attacked One of Their Hospitals in Manchuria—A Battle on Land Is Shortly Expected.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—The first step towards the institution of the long-contemplated council of national defence, to co-ordinate the activities of the military and naval administrations, has been taken in an Imperial manifesto creating a special preliminary commission under the presidency of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch. The formation of the council and the assumption by it of control of the war is expected to ensue shortly, as the main details have already been worked out. The despatch of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, who is designated, as the president of the permanent state defence council, to Manchuria to assume direct command of the Imperial forces there, has been several times seriously considered, and he has served repeatedly of late as representative of the Emperor on commissions dealing with vital questions of the war.

The step is an extremely important one, for which the events of the war in the Far East have shown the necessity, the two departments failing to work together to the best advantage even when actuated by the most harmonious feelings, and friction has been often manifested.

The council is created, not for the present war, but as a permanent organism of the state, subordinating the War and Navy Departments and even overshadowing the other ministers.

It is understood the formation of the new council means the definite abandonment of the plan of sending Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch to the Far East to assume supreme command on land and sea. Gen. Linevitch and Vice-Admiral Birileff will be left unhampered except as to the grand duke's outlines of strategy.

Drove Russians Northward.

Tokio, May 22.—It was announced Saturday evening from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in the field that the Russian forces advanced southward May 18 to the vicinity of the railway. The Japanese engaged them and drove the Russians northward.

A Russian Admission.

Gunshu Pass, (108 miles north of Tie Pass, Manchuria), May 22.—A general engagement is imminent. Field Marshall Oyama is deploying heavy forces against General Linevitch's left, and is contracting his troops along the centre, but his base is opposite the Russian right. It is not yet clear which wing is making a domonstration, and which will deliver the main blow. It is evident from Linevitch's preparations that he intends to accept a decisive battle.

Simultaneously five hundred Russian cavalry attacked a Japanese field hospital at Kangpin, on the right bank of the Liao River. Japanese artillery and infantry dispersed the attacking cavalrymen, inflicting heavy losses upon them.

"Malicious Fabrication."

Tokio, May 22.—It is officially announced that "the press report circulated in Europe about the removal by Japan of the Corean Emperor to Japan has absolutely no foundation, such an idea having never occurred to the Japanese Government. The report must be taken as a malicious fabrication circulated to do mischief to Japan."

Champagne in Russian Army.

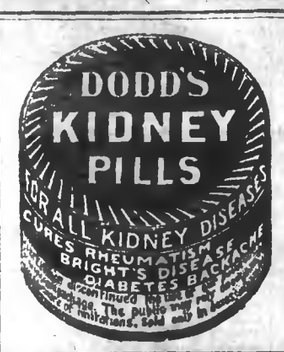
St. Petersburg, May 22.—Despatches from Harbin report a carnival of drunkenness and dissipation among the hangers on of the rear army. Champagne at $5 a bottle is said to be flowing like rivers, dives are abundant, and a multitude of sharpers and gamblers are reaping a rich harvest. The Emperor, at Gen. Linevitch's request, has appointed a new provost marshal-general, and the commander-in-chief intends to restore order and institute more satisfactory conditions in the rear.

Port Arthur Investigation.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—The commission investigating the surrender of Port Arthur has finished the first half of its labors. The investigation of documentary evidence presented by Gen. Stoessel in his own defence tended to show that the fortress at the outbreak of war was nearly defenceless, without supplies or cash.

The Bouligan Commission.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—The Bouligan rescript commission has practically completed its labors and will recommend the establishment of a representative assembly with limited legislative powers. The project will be published at the end of May.



INCREASING THE BRITISH NAVY.

Launch of Battleship and Armored Cruiser—Bids for Turbines Asked.

London, May 22.—The first-class battleship Africa, of 16,350 tons, was launched at Chatham dockyard yesterday. She is of the King Edward VII. type, and when completed will have cost $7,500,000.

The new armored cruiser Cochrane, of 13,500 tons displacement and of the Duke of Edinburgh type, was launched at Glasgow yesterday.

The Admiralty has invited engineering firms of Glasgow to make tenders for the construction of turbine machinery intended for one of the new battleships to be built in the Government dockyards. The specifications demand that the engine develop 23,000 horsepower.

FINES NOT SO HEAVY.

Pool Room Offenders Mulcted in a Total Sum of $450.

Toronto Junction, May 22.—Magistrate Ellis on Saturday imposed the following fines on those connected with the Toronto Junction poolroom:

Frank Baby, the president of the club, was singled out for the doubtful distinction of paying the top fine, $100. The other seven, Charles Pirie, the secretary, James Williams, John and William Hare, James Landers, Edward Hopkins and John Brennan, were fined $50 each or 60 days in jail. Baby's option was 90 days' seclusion. A check for the amount was immediately turned over to Crown Attorney Drayton.

Magistrate Ellis in sentencing the party said that they deserved to be treated leniently because they had pleaded guilty. He hoped that the business would be permanently closed. The closing of the business was of more importance than imposition of fines or imprisonment.

Fired on British Ship.

Paris, May 22.—The Temps Saturday publishes a despatch from Tangier, Morocco, announcing that a small British vessel, cruising on the Moorish coast, was attacked recently by pirates, who fired on the crew and riddled the British flag with bullets. CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Let go or die. That's the alternative of the shipwrecked man with the money bags. A great many people have a like alternative before them. Business men come to a point where the doctor tells them that they must "let go or die." Probably he advised a sea voyage or mountain air. There's an obstinate cough that won't be shaken off. The lungs are weak and perhaps bleeding. There is emaciation and other symptoms of disease, which if unskilfully or improperly treated terminate in consumption.

Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this testimonial so that some other poor sufferer may be saved, as I was, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Geo. A. Thompson, of Skelton Ave., Chatham, Ont., Canada. "I had a cough for years, expectorated a great deal, and was slowly failing. Was losing flesh every day. Last in weight from 180 pounds down to 128. My flesh got soft and I had no strength. Did not say anything to any one but made up my mind that the end was not far off. One day my wife was reading in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I said, that sounds more like common sense than anything else that I had heard. I at once bought a bottle of your famous remedy and before I had taken half of one bottle I felt better. Took thirteen bottles and it made a new man of me. I gained thirteen pounds and never have had a cough since. I feel splendid and give all the credit to your medicine."

Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, over 300 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure bad, foul stomach and constipation and so help to cure nearly every disease of mankind. They regulate, tone up and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquozone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquozone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does kill germs. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquozone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquozone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a Liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you.

Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

OPHTHALMIC.

It is all very well, Bobby Burns, to declare
That you wish that the power wad gie us
The giftie to see our curious selves
In the light that other folk see us.

But methinks were the sight so wished for vouchsafed
We would some of us die of the shock,
While opticians and sicia in a week would be rich,
And smoked glasses would be out o. stock!

The Sad Sent.

The origin of "crooked" as a synonym for sharp or dishonest practice is to be traced to the English Stock Exchange, where the letters "R.Y.," used to be employed to suggest fraud or trickery. This began through a stock jobber, who, having victimised a client and been detected and compelled to disgorge, filling in the restitutory cheque with "Pay to R.Y.," etc., in order to avoid direct evidence of the transaction against himself. The two letters being pronounced together like "wry," they presently became converted into "crooked," which word ultimately supplanted the former one altogether, and has been used as a term to express fraudulent practices and practitioners ever since.

Colds

How often you hear it remarked "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

RUSSO-JAPAN WAR TO CONTINUE

So Says an Inspired Article in St. Petersburg Paper.

Must Wait for Reforms Until Close of the War.

Special to the Examiner

St. Petersburg, May 22nd. — An inspired article appears to-day in the Novoevremya, which states that Russia cannot consent to terms of peace which would humiliate her, and that the war must continue. Every Russian should understand this, and wait patiently for reforms until the war question is settled.

CONFIDENCE MAN WORKED THE GAME

Slick Man Who Worked a Hamilton Merchant.

Chief of Police Roszel Has Warned Local Merchants of This Forger's Methods.

Readers of this paper will remember that a short time ago, a warning was issued by the chief of police against a cheque forger and his methods were outlined. The need of this warning and also of its repetition is emphasized by the following dispatch :—

Hamilton, May 22.—A confidence man played a slick game on Gardner & Thompson, North James street, Saturday afternoon. About 3 o'clock someone called Mr. Gardner up over the 'phone saying that it was Mr. Webster, the florist, speaking. "I'm paying my men by cheque to-day," the voice said, "and if any of them want to buy stuff from you, honor the cheques, for they are good." Mr. Gardner said it would be a pleasure for him to honor the cheques, and in a few minutes along came a man with a cheque. He bought three dollars' worth of goods, and got $14 in change for the order. Mr. Gardner afterwards called Mr. Webster up and found that he had not issued any cheques.

—The weather has been unusually cool during the last few days. On Saturday morning the thermometer was within one degree of the freezing point, and a few flakes of snow were observed. In the northern part of the county some two inches of snow fell, and the ground was covered for some hours with "the beautiful." Yesterday morning and this morning, the thermometer went down to 35 and 36 degrees respectively. The shade trees on our streets are a week or ten days behind time in assuming their summer dress.

—The Insurance and Finance of Montreal, says:—On the 10th inst., a fire on Notre Dame street, in this city, destroyed a furniture factory. When Mr. Bourassa, the proprietor, saw his property in flames, he exclaimed while weeping bitterly, "My God, $30,000 and twenty years work going up in smoke and not a cent of insurance!" It would be unfeeling to reproach a man so distressed, but those who are following his example by keeping property un-insured deserve the sharpest rebuke and condemnation for such recklessness.

CURIOUS SCRAPS.

Like Old Times.

"Afternoon tea" is not quite such a modern institution as people generally suppose. Dr. Alexander Carlyle, the eminent Presbyterian divine of the 18th century, in describing in his autobiography the fashionable mode of living at Harrogate in 1763, says: "The ladies gave afternoon tea in their turns, which coming but once in four or five weeks, amounted to a trifle."

Beaten in Her Ambition.

In the Copyright Register of Stationers' Hall is the entry: "Edward White, entered for his copie, etc., a ballade, showing how a fond woman falsely accused her selfe to be ye Kinge of Spaine's daughter, and beinge founde a lyer, was for the same whipped through London the xiii. jve day of December, 1592, beinge knowen to be a butcher's daughter of London, vjd."

Queer Use for a Royal Tomb.

In the Right Hon. William Windham's diary, under date July, 1785, is the entry: "Rode in the morning to Peterborough to see the Cathedral . . . tomb of Mary Queen of Scots removed to the dean's garden, and used as a summerhouse."

The Sign of a Deadly Crime.

According to local tradition the sign of The Sturdy's Castle, on the road between Woodstock and Banbury, has a very quaint origin. The story goes that in the long, long ago, while the house was being built, and approaching completion, a resident of the district named Sturdy was murdered by another whose name was Castle. The hanging of the latter on a gibbet near by and the opening of the hostelry coming near together, one of the earliest customers of the house flippantly called it Sturdy's Castle, and it has been known by that sign ever since.

Good Business.

In Grantham there is a tavern called The Living Sign. Before the house is a small tree, in the branches of which is established a well-populated bee-hive, and over the entrance to the hostelry is inscribed the couplet:

"Two wonders, Grantham, now are thine—
A lofty steeple and a Living Sign."

$1,000 Pile Cure.

A thousand dollar guarantee goes with every bottle of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, the only certain cure for every form of Piles.

Geo. Cook, St. Thomas, Ont., writes:

"Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me of a very bad case of Piles of over ten years' standing. I had tried everything but could get no permanent cure until I had used Hem-Roid. I had Blind and Bleeding Piles and suffered everything. Ointments and local treatments failed but Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cured me perfectly."

Hem-Roid is a Tablet taken internally which removes the cause of Piles. $1 at all druggists, or the Wilson-Pyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

A Veteran and a Hero.

William Stonehouse, of St. Catharines, Ont., who is about 70 years of age, was recently presented with a medal by the Royal Canadian Humane Society for promptness and courage displayed on the night of November 3rd last, in rescuing Charles Christmas from drowning in the Welland Canal at Allanburg. Mr. Stonehouse was employed on a Government scow, and happened to see Christmas fall overboard from the steamer Parent. Without a moment's hesitation, the old gentleman jumped into the water, and succeeded in saving the drowning man. It was a night of pitch darkness, and Mr. Stonehouse took his life in his hands when he made his perilous leap into the ice-cold water. Mr. Stonehouse is a veteran of '66 and is a highly-esteemed citizen of St. Catharines.

A FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION AT COMBER

Neibergall Stave and Lumber Mills Wrecked---Ralph Welsh Was Killed---Eight Men Were Injured, One of Them, Engineer Fisher, so Badly That he May Die---The Engine Was Shut Down---Terrific Force of the Explosion.

Comber, May 22.—A boiler in one of the mills of the Neibergall Stave and Lumber Co. at Staples exploded at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and killed Ralph Welsh, an elderly man, who leaves a wife and three grown-up children.

There were eight men injured—Robert Fisher, engineer, whose wife died a few weeks ago; Robert Reilly, wife and large family; Oliver Rondoi, wife and family; Oliver Chevalier, wife and family; Joseph Doe, wife and family; James Bailey, John Kelly and George St. Pierre.

Those who are injured will recover, with the exception, perhaps, of Engineer Fisher, who is badly scalded.

Fisher had closed down the engine to permit of some slight repairs being made to one of the draw ropes. It is said he carried a heavy pressure of steam on the boiler, and that the safety valve was performing its functions. In order to reduce the pressure he had blown out a portion of the hot water and started the injectors. Those accustomed to boilers state that in all probability too much cold water was injected. There were but two persons in the engine room at the time of the accident, the engineer and Welsh, who sat on a little stool smoking his pipe. He was struck on the head by a piece of the flying boiler.

Escape Was Miraculous.

That more deaths did not result from the accident is miraculous, as the big structure is a mass of ruins, and an iron brace from the dome of the boiler was carried fully one hundred rods away, striking the roof of the Neibergall general store, two stories high, cutting a large hole in the same and finally landing on the ground. A large square piece of timber was carried on a similar distance and landed in the back yard of a boarding house only a few feet from a boy, who was splitting wood. The shock was felt to a greater degree a mile away than right in the village. A horse and cart standing not far from the bill at the time were blown completely over.

Two or three of the employes were taken from the ruins with scarcely a mark on them. Fortunately for the employes, the boiler, which was located in the southeast corner of the building, traveled eastward in its flight.

In the mill were located two boilers. One of them, not in use, was filled with water ready for use. It was thrown out of the mill about fifty feet, and lies there intact.

The inquest will be held on Wednesday or Thursday.

Six Men Blown High in the Air.

Columbus, May 23.—Six men were killed yesterday by the explosion of the boiler of an engine that was standing near the Hocking Valley Railroad roundhouse on Westmound street. The six men who were killed were at work nearby. The building was damaged and quantities of debris were scattered for hundreds of feet in all directions. Several of the men killed were thrown high in the air. The engine that exploded was being tested for its first run after rebuilding. Four other engines standing nearby were wrecked. The bodies of the six men were terribly mangled.

Barber's Pole Kills Child.

Aurora, May 23.—Harold, the 4-year-old son of Jesse Bambury, was killed at noon yesterday by Bond's barber pole falling on him. The pole was on a square pedestal and on this the little fellow was trying to climb. He pulled it over on himself and a piece of iron piping which supports the pole, fell across his chest. He lived about three-quarters of an hour. The pole has since been fastened to a post.

Instantly Killed.

London, May 23.—William J. Plante was killed yesterday morning while working on the new Grand Trunk bridge at Hyde Park. A jigger used in the construction hit him on the neck, dislocating it.

Killed By a Train.

St. Catharines, May 23.—John H. McIntee, a highly respected farmer of Louth, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon on the Grand Trunk tracks, just west of the city. He was walking on the track and, being quite deaf, was unable to hear the approaching express, which is due here at 2.31. The head was smashed into a pulp. Mr. McIntee was 58 years of age.

Fatality At the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 23.—The Dipper Boom of Edward Bros., dredge fell and instantly killed Jas. McCluskie. He was badly crushed. He was single, 31 years of age, and his home was at Desbarits, Ont.

Accidentally Shot.

Parry Sound, May 23.—The adjourned inquest in the case of Vincoso Gutzzo was held at Falding on Saturday. Evidence by a gun expert went to show that the gun was an unsafe weapon and could easily have gone off had he fallen off the log which was by him. A verdict of accidental shooting was returned.

17 Killed In Explosion.

Vienna, May 23.—Seventeen persons are believed to have been killed by an explosion caused by fire damp in the Bosruck tunnel at Liezen, in Styria, yesterday morning.

MEN ACTED LIKE BRUTES.

Women Abused by Terrified Men Passengers in "L" Wreck.

New York, May 23.—Twenty persons were injured, six of them so seriously that they were sent to hospitals, and more than 100 persons narrowly escaped death or serious injury yesterday, when a swiftly moving train crashed into two others on the high elevated structure on Third avenue line at One Hundred and Thirty-third street and Alexander avenue.

Only the best of good fortune prevented a terrible tragedy.

The scenes which followed were wild beyond description. Men and women fought to escape from the cars, which, they feared, might pitch to the street below any minute.

Among the passengers in one of the wrecked trains was Miss Anna Wall, a trained nurse, of College Point, L. I. Miss Wall dressed the wounds of several injured persons, tearing to pieces her own white petticoats for bandages. Speaking of the scene when the trains crashed, Miss Wall said: "When the crash came, the men in the car acted like beasts. They made a mad rush for the doors, and paid no attention to the women who had been thrown to the floor by the shock. One man clambored through a window and another tore a woman's skirt off in his desperate efforts to get out.

"I saw one woman with a baby in her arms pleading with a man to take the child and save it, but he replied: "Why, I've got all I can do to take care of myself."

CASE OF T. H. LLOYD.

Bail Was Increased—Two Other Warrants Were Issued.

Newmarket, Ont., May 23.—The hearing of the charge against T. H. Lloyd, of failing to account for trust moneys, was again adjourned for a week by Police Magistrate Lloyd and Magistrate Woodcock. Bail was increased to $2,500, Mr. David Lloyd and Mr. J. M. Walton each undertaking $1,250. A certificate from Dr. Webb was submitted by Mr. Warren, who appeared for Mr. Lloyd, stating that the latter was on the verge of nervous collapse and unable to attend.

The other warrants were issued just before the court sat; the informations were laid by the executors of the Weddell estate, who are the complainants in the other charge. One was in regard to the $2,275 for the Brown estate mortgage, and the other related to $900 which it is alleged T. H. Lloyd borrowed from the executors of the David Weddell estate to lend to Mrs. Elizabeth Weddell on the understanding that it should be a first mortgage and was to be used to pay off a mortgage already existing. The first mortgage, it is alleged, was not paid off, and the Weddell estate was given a second mortgage as security.

JOSIE CARR IN COURT.

Baby Drowned or Suffocated — Death Not Due to Wounding.

Toronto, May 23.—Little Josephine Carr, the girl who has confessed to the murder of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, was quite calm and self-possessed as she walked through the hall into the Children's Court yesterday morning. Mrs. Agnes Whiddon was in charge of her. Mr. T. C. Robinette, K. C., appeared on her behalf, but she was not asked either to plead or elect, and she will not be asked to do so until after the inquest, at which she is expected to give evidence. She was remanded to the Children's Shelter for a week.

At the coroner's inquest last night the evidence cast doubt on the idea that the girl had murdered the baby in cold blood, and rather showed that the death of the baby had been due to drowning and exposure rather than to the injuries which it would have received had it been thrown down the bank, as Josie in her confession tells.

Another Girl Degenerate.

Chatham, May 23.—Maggie McCarthy Scott was found guilty of concealing the birth of her child and neglecting it to its death. The girl claimed to have been married to William Scott, a colored man, last December by Elder Selvey, who made no return of the wedding to the city clerk. Judge Heston reserved judgment for a week.

Motor Engines For Windsor Tunnel.

Detroit, May 23.—Plans have been completed for the Michigan Central Railway tunnel between Detroit and Windsor, and work will begin within tubes, about twenty-five feet apart, and trains will run in only one direction in either tunnel. They will go straight across the river, the Canadian end being at Assumption Catholic Church, near Sandwich. Work will be carried on entirely from the Canadian end. Powerful electric locomotives will be used in the tunnels. Two and a half years will be required for the work, and the cost will be $7,500,000.

THE BRITISH HOUSE SUSPENDS SESSION

Extraordinary Scene in British House of Commons---Wild Disorder Prevails---Liberals Would Not Listen to Colonial Secretary Lyttleton, but Insisted on the Premier Speaking---A Vote of Censure to be Moved on Premier Balfour by the Liberal Leader.

London, May 23.—The sitting of the House of Commons last night was marked by scenes of the wildest disorder, growing out of a motion by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to adjourn the House in order that he might discuss the charge against Premier Balfour of having violated his pledge not to deal with the subject of Colonial preference without first appealing to the country. Alfred Lyttelton, Secretary of State for the Colonies, was put up to reply to the Liberal leader, but the members of the Opposition shouted down his every attempt to speak, even after the Premier had demanded a hearing for the secretary. Finally the Speaker, after he had exhausted every effort to quell the turbulence, put into force for the first time a new rule empowering him to adjourn the House in cases of grave disorder.

The matter came up at the afternoon sitting, when Premier Balfour, replying to questions said he did not consider himself pledged to inaction in regard to Colonial preferences, except so far as Parliamentary action was concerned. He reiterated that the Government did not intend to deal with the fiscal question in the present Parliament. The matter of Colonial preference might, however, be submitted to a Colonial conference in 1906.

Sir Henry Campbell- Bannerman, the Liberal leader, charged Mr. Balfour with violating the pledge he had made in his Edinburgh speech and moved the adjournment of the House to discuss the matter. The debate on the motion came up at the night session. The Liberal leader demanded a plain answer from Premier Balfour, and Alfred Lyttelton, Secretary of State for the Colonies, rose to reply. The members of the Opposition drowned the efforts of the secretary with cries of "Balfour, Balfour." After continuing for about ten minutes, Mr. Lyttelton sat down. Winston Churchill then attempted to speak, but the Ministerialists drowned his efforts, the Nationalists joined in the din, and shouting for the police.

After several members had failed to secure a hearing the Premier rose to a point or order and a temporary lull followed. Mr. Balfour said he thought it highly improper that he should be immediately expected to follow the leader of the Opposition. He said he had never known the Opposition to refuse to hear a Minister, and he insisted that the House should hear Secretary Lyttelton, as otherwise the dignity of the House could not be maintained.

Mr. Lyttelton again attempted to speak, but the uproar was renewed.

Finally the Speaker said it was obvious that the scene could not continue, and he would, therefore, adjourn the House under the rules empowering the Speaker to take such action in cases of such grave disorder. The Speaker had been unable to secure even a semblance of order after howls and counter howls lasting over an hour.

The action of the Speaker and the scenes in the House created a tremendous sensation in the lobbies.

The Liberal leaders, after adjournment, held a conference, and it is expected that a vote of censure on Premier Balfour will be moved to-day by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

Colonial Conference In 1906.

London, May 23.—It is understood that a Colonial conference will meet at London early in 1906.

The Liberal papers this morning interpret Premier Balfour's remarks on the subject in the House of Commons yesterday as showing that some sort of compact has been arrived at between him and Joseph Chamberlain to defer the dissolution of Parliament until next [illegible].

JAMES BOGUE'S SEWER TENDER WAS ACCEPTED

Board of Works Will Recommend That he be Given Contract for Outfall Sewer and Septic Tank in Ashburnham--Price of Complete Work Will be $9410.00--Mr. Bogue's Tender the Lowest--Other Works Which Will be Undertaken by the Board of Works This Year--Requests for Sidewalks and Crossings--New Style of Cement Crossings to be Tried.

Last night the Board of Works met at the Town Clerk's office, when the only matter of importance taken up was the opening of the tenders for the construction of the outfall sewer and sedimentation tank in Ashburnham. For this work five tenders were received, and the contract awarded to Mr. Jas. Bogue, whose tender for $9410 for the whole work, was the lowest of the five submitted. The next lowest was that of Murphy & Lowery of Ottawa, their price being $9434, or $24 higher than that of the successful tenderer. On the septic tank, their figures were $2990, or $300 more than that of Mr. Bogue, but on the outfall sewer the Ottawa firm's price was $324 higher than Mr. Bogue's.

There was some discussion as to the construction of the septic tank, the opinion of some of the members being that there was no necessity for work on the tank being carried on this year, but the majority were in favour of proceeding with the work. It was pointed out that there would be strong opposition on the part of the icemen to putting in the sewer without the tank, and the Provincial Board of Health had refused to endorse the plans for the sewer unless the septic tank were included.

In view of this fact, it was decided to go on with the whole work tendered on. This work will be proceeded with at once, and it is expected that it will be completed during the summer.

This is the first municipal septic tank to be constructed in this province, though there are others in other provinces, and in Ontario there are a number of private tanks, which are reported to be working quite satisfactorily.

Those present at the meeting last night were: Ald. Adams, chairman; Mayor Best, and Ald. Batten, Hicks, Hall, Crowe, Johnston.

The first business was that of opening and considering the tenders for the outfall sewer and sedimentation tank. The tenders submitted were:

	Outfall Sewer.	Tank.
T. E. Wade...	$9993 56	$5000 00
Jas. Bogue	6210 00	3200 00
Wm. Newman, Windsor...	9986 00	2990 00
John F. Connely, Toronto...	7628 00
Murphy & Lowery, Ottawa	6534 00	2900 00

Ald. Hall moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that the tender of Jas. Bogue for the outfall sewer and tank, be accepted. This motion was carried.

Mr. John Kelly appeared before the Board asking that a board walk be repaired between the new block, at the corner of Sherbrooke and Rubidge streets, at the front of his store. Ald. Hall moved that the walk be repaired. The motion was seconded by Ald. Batten, and was carried.

Mr. Walter Stocker appeared before the Board asking that a sewer be constructed on Perry street between Aylmer and Stewart streets. He had a petition signed by 85 per cent of the ratepayers affected, and he was asked to have the petition signed by two more of the ratepayers, when it will probably be granted.

Mr. George Curtis requested that a plank sidewalk be constructed at the corner of London and Downie streets, which was granted.

Ald. Hall moved, seconded by Ald. Batten, that the Street Railway Co. be instructed to repair the crossings on the tracks torn up by them in constructing their track. The crossing at Sherbrooke and Park streets was mentioned particularly, and it was stated that at this point the track was four inches above the concrete crossing. Ald. Hall called the attention of the Board to the condition of the road on Park street. The street here has not been left in as good repair as it was before the track was laid, and if there was an accident the town would be liable.

Ald. Crowe and Batten moved that a new granolithic crossing be laid at the corner of Hunter and Queen streets. This is a new style of crossing and it is proposed to lay it here as a test. The crossing is expected to cost 20 cents a foot, and it if is satisfactory, it is probable that there will be a number of similar crossings placed at different parts of the town.

The report of the committee of the Board of Works, which viewed the streets upon which the Board proposed to do work this year, was received and discussed by the members. According to this report there will be considerable work done during this season.

The offer of Mr. Dumble to give a right of way for a street extending Cambridge street, was discussed, and it was decided that if he will amend the offer to strike out the clause respecting the macadamizing of the street, the town will accept the offer of Mr. Dumble.

The Board then adjourned.

Impurities In the Blood

TELL OF TORPID, SLUGGISH LIVER ACTION AND INDICATE THE NEED OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

There is no getting round the fact that the liver is responsible for the impurity of the blood in the spring.

Awaken the liver to action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you at once remove the cause of the ills and discomforts of this time of year.

Coated tongue.
Bitter taste in the mouth.
Shortness of breath.
Gas on the stomach.
Dull, sick headache.
Biliousness.
Irregularity of the bowels.
Weak, dizzy feelings.
Irritable temper, discouragement and despondency.

These are some of the most common indications that the liver is failing to filter the poison waste matter from the blood.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cleanse the system thoroughly and well, by causing a free action to the bowels.

By their direct and certain action on the liver they purify the blood and bring about a good flow of bile into the intestines — the only means by which constipation can be actually cured.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are an indispensable family medicine of proven worth. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson & Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author are on every box.

LAST APPEARANCE MALE QUARTETTE

At Charlotte St. School Room Last Night.

Rendered Excellent Programme—Mr. Norman Jolliffe Sings "Veteran's Song."

Of all the successful appearances of the Harmony Male Quartette, none could be more so than that of last night, when they furnished the leading parts of a delightful programme given under the auspices of the Sunday school class of Mr. W. Galbraith in the school room of the Charlotte street Methodist church. They were greeted with hearty and discriminating applause. Throughout the programme the large audience present manifested its appreciation of each number given by the quartette in a way which could not be mistaken.

Last night's appearance of the quartette is likely to be the last, at least with its present members, as Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe and Mr. G. W. Jones are to leave town in the near future.

The quartette was on the programme for four numbers, and were well received each time. The first number, "Old Black Joe," was given in the customary and charming manner, the encore being "The Bee."

The second number, "Swanee River," with imitation banjo accompaniment, was never better rendered, and their interpretation of this could be compared very favourably with the best quartettes of the country.

Their third number, "Uncle Ned," was given most feelingly, and was very much enjoyed. The final number by the quartette was a "Serenade," rendered in a manner, in point of excellence of execution, quite unsurpassed by previous efforts. Although it might be said that the quartette had the leading part of the programme yet the other artists must not be forgotten.

The opening piano duet by Miss Jolliffe and Miss Clarry, though a work of some difficulty, was brilliantly executed and was thoroughly enjoyed.

The recitation by Miss Annie Christie was one of the hits of the evening, and she gave as an encore "Little Dead Cat," in a charming manner.

Mr. Jos. Legg's solo, was a thoroughly enjoyable number, and in it his fine voice was heard to good advantage. He responded to repeated and sustained applause.

The readings by Mr. G. W. Jones and also by Miss Thompson were much enjoyed and provoked much merriment.

The solo, "The Veteran's Song," sung by request by Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, was exceedingly well received, and was excellently rendered. Great artists have their moods, and Mr. Jolliffe seemed to be in a very happy one, consequently his singing last night was also in a happy vein, and the audience showed their appreciation in a very hearty manner.

Another feature was the duet by Messrs. Legg and Jolliffe, which was well received and applauded vociferously.

The following was the programme:

Part I.

Piano duet... ... ...Faust
Misses Campbell and Jolliffe.
Quartette, "Plantation Melody"..... Harmony Male Quartette.
Reading, "Say, I've a Baby Brother" Miss Annie Christie.
Solo, "For All Eternity" ... ... Mr. Jos. Legg.
Quartette, "Swanee River" ..... (Imitation banjo accompaniment.) Harmony Male Quartette.
Reading..... ....Selected Mr. G. W. Jones.

Part II.

Solo, "The Veteran's Song"..... (By request.) Mr. R. N. Jolliffe.
Quartette, "Uncle Ned"... ... ... Harmony Male Quartette.
Reading, "Landy's Signal" ..... Miss L. Thompson.
Duet, "Bendemeer's Stream" ..... Messrs. Legg and Jolliffe.
Quartette, "Serenade"..... .... Harmony Male Quartette.

Miss Mabel Clarry, organist of the Charlotte street church, played the accompaniments with rare beauty and refined taste, and added not a little to the success of the entertainment.

At the conclusion of the programme Mr. Galbraith made a few very fitting remarks, expressing his appreciation, and on behalf of the class under whose auspices the concert was given, thanked all who had taken part, and also the large audience for their patronage. The National anthem brought the concert to a close.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN KNOX

Evangelist Russell Addressed Large Audience Last Night.

His Influence on the World--The Great Scotch Reformer and His Wonderful Work.

An interesting meeting of St. Paul's Christian Endeavour Society was held last night when three speakers dealt with the life, character and work of John Knox, the Scottish reformer. There was a good attendance and the addresses by ex-mayor G. M. Roger, Rev. Wm. Mackay and Mr. T. L. Anderson were instructive and calculated to impress upon the minds of those present many of the stirring incidents in the life of Knox, the quadricentennial of whose birth the Presbyterian church is celebrating.

Rev. Dr. Torrance presided.

Mr. Roger in his remarks gave a general run over the life and times of Knox who was born thirteen years after Columbus discovered America and lived mostly in the reign of Edward VI, although five monarchs were on the throne during his life. Shakespeare was born before Knox died and the union of the English and Scottish crowns had not yet taken place. Mr. Roger named these events as interesting contemporaneous history. Knox was celebrated as a great reformer. When Christ died he left his disciples to carry on the work. The church was very corrupt and it was hard for us in Canada, with the religious freedom which we have, to realize the conditions that prevailed in Scotland at that time. There was only one church—the Roman Catholic—and that was the state church. It was closely associated with the government of the land and in some cases was instrumental in deposing kings.

Mr. Roger then went on to speak of many reforms that took place in the church through the power, courage and piety of Knox. In Scotland the reformation was a religious one with political effects. In England it was largely political.

Mr. T. L. Anderson followed in a short address on the earlier history of Knox and spoke of the two previous reformers—Hamilton and Wishart, who had met martyrs' deaths. After Knox had spent two years imprisonment serving in French galleys and suffering other severities, during which time his health was much impaired, he was released, it is generally believed, through the good offices of Edward VI. The accession of the young king to the throne filled his heart with joy. He soon gained great influence with Cranmer and many of the nobles and ruling spirits in the court. His high reputation as a preacher and his suffering for the faith commended him to the King's council.

Rev. W. M. Mackay dealt with the later period of Knox's life. He said that the life of the Scottish reformer was so fruitful it was hard to know where to stop when reviewing it. In 1559 Knox returned to Scotland and prepared a confession of faith—not, however, the Westminster confession of faith, which came later. He also prepared a discipline for the church. The reformation in Scotland was not only a religious reformation, but it was a reformation in the state and in society as well. Parish schools were founded by Knox, who also was instrumental in establishing colleges and universities and from his work came the General Assembly.

John Knox was to them an endearing and enduring name, and while all may not agree with the manner in which he dealt with things all recognized his greatness, his power, his courage, his fidelity and his unflinching zeal and sturdy character.

The meeting closed with the benediction pronounced by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

WEARING OUT MONEY

EVERY step wears something off your shoe soles.

When the first pair of soles are worn out the uppers have become so stretched that re-soling can't restore smart appearance

The life of a fine shoe may therefore be measured by the wear of its sole.

One kind of sole leather wears through in 40 days—another kind lasts 140 days.

One kind of sole leather becomes water-soaked in a single hour—another kind cannot be water-soaked in less than four hours.

'Shoes cost you the same, and look alike, no matter which of these sole-leathers is used in them.'

How can you tell the difference?

Every genuine Slater Shoe has now got a sole of "Quick-Oak" leather, which wears like rawhide, and can't be water-soaked through in less than fourteen hours' immersion.

This new-process brand of leather is controlled in Canada by The Slater Shoe Company, and it can be had only in "The Slater Shoe," at no extra cost, but,—observe, in the genuine Slater Shoe only.

You'll wear out less money if you'll see that the next pair has got the slate-frame trade-mark stamped, inside on the lining, with the makers' price—$3.50 or $5.00.

PATRIOTISM IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Some Interesting Facts Concerning the Great Empire.

Peterborough School Children To-day Celebrating Empire Day.

The school children of Peterborough to-day celebrated Empire Day by special exercises. It was intended that these should have as their object the development of imperial patriotism—a sentiment broader than mere devotion to the land of one's birth. Children are certainly not less patriotic than their parents; but usually they are not quite conscious of the benefits enjoyed by British subjects. It should be the aim of all Canadian teachers on Empire Day to present to their pupils a few solid facts rather than a mass of twaddle, which is only another name for a lot of so-called "patriotic literature."

Patriotism in Schools.

In Ontario it is probable that 95 per cent. of the school children have been born under the British flag. In them it is not necessary to inculcate patriotic pride; although a plain recital of imperial facts will be none the less useful. But in other portions of the Dominion where the foreign-born population is larger—in Manitoba and the Territories, for example—the teaching of patriotism becomes a serious duty. This point has been brough forward by Dr. George Hodgins, who was for many years Deputy Minister of Education. It was shown the method adopted in the United States, were the assimilation of aliens is such an important problem. American schools seek every opportunity of impressing upon the children the glories, past, present and future of the Republic. Whether intentionally or not, they magnify and distort the part played by the United States in the world's affairs. They represent ordinary American citizens of a bygone age as heroes, and convey the impression to the children that there never was in history such a country as the United States, such a man as the American. We do not suggest that liberties should be taken with facts to stimulate Canadian patriotism, but better even exaggeration than the silence which now reigns. As a matter of fact, the British Empire does not need the panegyrist. It is big enough and great enough to fire the imagination by a mere recital of facts and figures.

British Subjects—4,000,000.

The British flag flies over 400,000,000 people, a minority of them white. In India the mass of the Empire's population is found, the last census, that of 1901, accounting for 231,000,000 souls. There are at least 29 well-defined languages unknown to Europeans spoken in India, and 12 distinct races alike in one respect—subjection to British authority. Surely no glowing tribute to British prestige could add to this simple fact that a gray island and a group so small that they could be lost in a country like this, should have sent forth men to rule over so vast a number of men to rule over so vast a number of the earth's peoples.

OTTAWA BOYS MAY NOW CHEER

Mayor Ellis Decides that they May Celebrate on 24th.

Law Respecting Fireworks is Suspended for the Day.

In Ottawa the Mayor has issued the following statement with reference to the discharge of fireworks within the city limits on Victoria day:—

Under the civic by-laws no fireworks can be discharged within the city limits at any time without the authorization of the Mayor or the city council. It is the duty of the Chief of Police to see that all civic by-laws, including this one, are observed, and he was quite right in stating that he would see that this particular by-law was observed so long as no authorization to the contrary had been given by the mayor or city council.

It has been found advisable in some years recently not to remove this restriction on Victoria Day, owing to the then prevailing dry wether and the consequent danger from fire, but in the present climatic conditions Mayor Ellis has come to the conclusion to suspend under the authority given him by the above by-law, the operation of the by-law for Victoria Day this year. He wishes it, however, to be distinctly understood that the by-law remains in force every other day of the year unless it is suspended in a similar way for some other holiday. The chief of police must, therefore, see that the by-law is observed at all times whenever it is not thus suspended.

The boys in Peterborough, will, according to the notices posted by Chief Russel, have to forego the pleasures which might be derived from the exercise of setting off fireworks, since the Mayor has as yet taken no action similar to that of Mayor Ellis, of Ottawa.

SUNDAY AT PARK ST. CHURCH

Two McMaster Students Speak in the Interest of the Institution.

Rev. C. J. Cameron, M. A., and student McKinnon, of McMaster University, conducted the evening service at the Park Street Baptist Church Sunday last. Mr. McKinnon spoke briefly in the interests of the University in relation to Evangelistic work, and Mr. Cameron gave a clear but gospel address from "The Blood of Jesus Christ His Son Cleanseth us from Sin."

The Ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed. The Hand of Fellowship was given to a young man who was received into the church.

A very interesting ceremony of installing two new Deacons was observed in the presence of a large representation of the church.

The Rev. Messrs. Cameron and McKinnon will visit the membership this week on behalf of the McMaster forward movement.—Com.

"THE GREAT HYMNS OF THE CHURCH"

Interesting Lecture by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner.

Dealt Comprehensively with Extensive Subject at George St. Methodist Church Last Night—Pleasing Musical Numbers.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Epworth League of the George street Methodist Church, at which an address of great interest was delivered by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, upon "The Great Hymns of the Church." The speaker displayed a wide knowledge of his interesting subject, which he presented in a most comprehensive manner, holding throughout, the undivided attention of his audience. The subject, one which, owing to its formidable extent, presents extreme difficulty, was treated with great breadth and fine literary discrimination.

The chair was occupied by Mr. A. O. Kidd, the meeting being opened with prayer offered by Mr. J. Jeffries. This was followed by a piano selection charmingly rendered by Miss Gumpricht. A vocal duet, "Come Ye Disconsolate," was then given with splendid effect by Misses Bertha Parnell and Edna Hill. A vocal solo, "Art Thou Weary?" was also pleasingly rendered by Mr. Jas. Browne.

Mr. Kenner in his opening remarks referred to the well known quotation "Permit me to write the ballads of a nation, and I care not who makes her laws." This saying is full of meaning. For the ballads of a people embody and perpetuate their national ideals. But better than all the ballads that ever were sung, are the splendid songs of the soul found in our Hymn Book.

Among poetic compositions the Hymn occupies a unique and peculiar place. It is not every poem even though it be sacred and religious, that is necessarily a Hymn. The essential thing is not sparkle of fancy, nor picturesqueness of form, nor yet that crystallization of doctrinal truth which would make it distinctly didactic. Its function for the most part is to express religious feeling.

Hymn writing is not an art of recent date. The heathen Pliny, a graceful Latin writer, in his celebrated letter to the Emperor Trojan, states regarding the primitive Christians that "they were accustomed on a certain stated day to meet before daylight, and to repeat among themselves a hymn to Christ, as to a God. The father of the English Hymn was Isaac Watts, whose "harp of solemn sound" many have since taken up.

The speaker expressed the belief that a better knowledge of the origin of these sacred lyrics would tend to a larger enjoyment, and gave a most interesting account of the origin and suggestive incidents connected with a number of our best known hymns, around the genesis of many of which, a great deal of interest will be found to gather. The occasion that gave them birth was often curious, sometimes romantic, and always exegetical. Their historic setting will lend an added charm to their intrinsic merit.

The speaker commenced with Hymn No. 109 "Rock of Ages," giving a brief sketch of its author, Toplady, passing on to "Nearer My God to Thee," which was written by Mrs. Sarah Fowler Adams. Many others of the most precious gems in the great treasury of sacred songs bequeathed to us by the foremost hymn-writers of various ages were then briefly, but comprehensively discussed.

At the conclusion of the address An duet, "Blest be the Tie That Binds" was rendered with beautiful effect by the Misses Chasty.

The accompaniments were played with much artistic expression by Miss Crothers and Miss Chasty.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker, on motion by Mr. Jeffries, seconded by Mr. Robertson, after which the benediction was pronounced by the Chairman.

EMPIRE DAY.

To-day is Empire Day. A few years ago Mrs. Fessenden, of Hamilton, originated the idea of an "Empire Day" to be celebrated particularly by school children, the day being set apart in the schools for the gaining of information concerning the British Empire. Mrs. Fessenden's idea caught the popular favour at once, and now Empire Day is celebrated not only all over Canada, but in many other parts of the King's dominions. The idea is not at all a bad one, though hot house methods of developing patriotic sentiments are not, perhaps, the best. While there is no objection to setting apart a day to glorify our Empire and country, yet every school day should be employed to impress upon pupils information regarding the glories, achievements, resources and privileges of citizenship in the greatest Empire the world ever saw, or perhaps will see. Then school children would have an intelligent foundation for their pride of Empire and patriotism, a pride and patriotism based on the solid substatum of knowledge and not a mere spasmodic flag-waving and possibly momentary enthusiasm. We cannot build a strong national sentiment without a sure and strong foundation. But by all means maintain the observance of Empire Day. If the lessons suggested have been impressed during the school days the observance of Empire Day will serve the purposes of a review which is a feature of all successful and permanently beneficial teaching.

VICTORIA DAY.

To-morrow will be Victoria Day, the 86th anniversary of the birth of the greatest and best sovereign of history. It however does not need this formal recognition to keep her alive in the memory of those of us who lived during her glorious reign. It is becoming however, to keep the memory green in the minds of those less, so to speak, personal knowledge of the late queen, an easy matter, for her late majesty's successor has grandly perpetuated the characteristic features of her reign. He has wisely walked in her footsteps and has apparently moulded his course in the work of kingship upon the humanly perfect model she established. On such an anniversary the queen will be remembered with all the more lively gratitude in view of the blessings of wise rule we enjoy under King Edward VII. He has not only ruled wisely his own people, but in the roll of "Peacemakers," a title he has well earned, he has done more to promote the happiness of the world than kings with long rolls of bloody victories to their credit. He has been an effective advocate of civil and religious liberty of justice and public righteousness. Therefore we pray with heart and voice:

Send him victorious,
Long to reign o'er us,
God Save the King.

GENEROUS ALDERMEN.

The Board of Works is a modest body. It doesn't want much. Mr. Dumble made, what appears to be a generous offer—to give free—gratis—without a cent—the land for the extension of Cambridge street, on condition that the street be macadamized. The Board very generously offers to accept the gift, if Mr. Dumble will waive the condition of macadamizing. This seems to be a profitable and reasonable condition. It is equivalent to getting the land for nothing, for the macadamizing is in itself a boon and will not probably be done for years except on such quasi compulsion. By the way, we don't see much macadamizing done nowadays. Where is the stone crusher? Is it in commission, or in the junk heap? Are we to have any permanent street work done? Putting on gravel is at the best a makeshift. On streets, especially where water and sewer pipes are laid, some stretches of good permanent roadbed, like Aylmer and Water streets, at certain points, should be made. Then, again, what about the extension of George, street—that long, drawn-out legacy from the former council? If that street had been opened this spring, it is probable that a small village of houses would have been erected on the way to-day, and the assessment roll would have been largely added to. That would seem to be a better way to raise the assessment in the south ward, than the means adopted last year. An article in another column shows the fruits of delay.

LICENSE LAW ENFORCEMENT.

The effusive temperance organizations which went into mild ecstasies over Mr. Whitney's declaration that he would apply in office, the principles he advocated in Opposition in regard to rigid enforcement of the license law, have not had much cause for addition to their enthusiasm. It cannot be said that there is a rigid adherence, on Mr. Whitney's part, to these principles any more than to the position that the enforcement of the license law was to be divorced from political influences. We have the Port Hope incident in which an inspector, who was given an excellent character by the commissioners appointed by Mr. Whitney himself, supplanted by a man outside the centre of the greater number of licenses in the district, with the result that, according to the Mayor of Port Hope, the license law is laughed at in that town.

Now we have Niagara Falls itself in danger of having its cold-water monopoly broken by beer — through the action of the Government which was to not increase licenses in either new or old Ontario. Just outside of the municipal bounds of Niagara Falls town — at Falls View—there has for a long time existed a tavern, which has done a roaring trade especially in beer, the patrons being the Italians and other foreign navvies engaged in power development works. So brisk was the trade done that an ambitious would-be Boniface tried hard to get a license from the Ross Government. The ministers of the city opposed his claim and on appeal to Hon. Mr. Stratton, then administering the License Department, they were successful in preventing the issue of another license at Falls View, and now these same ministers are pained and annoyed to find that what the commissioners under the Ross Government refused, those appointed by Mr. Whitney have granted—a second license. They feel that this action is a distinct violation of the pledges of the Government, as it is an increase of licenses in the township of Stamford, where prohibition sentiment is strong. A staff correspondent of the Toronto News which is strongly in political sympathy with the Whitney Government, and who furnishes the above details, says:—

"The one tavern at Falls View has been a centre of riotous drunkenness since the foreigners appeared. Now there will be two centres. This, by the way, is given by some as a defence of the action of the commissioners. They say that the navvies are made up of Hungarians and Italians, and when they get together they fight and draw knives on each other. With two barrooms available the Huns can go to one and the sons of Sunny Italy to the other, and harmony will prevail no matter how drunk they become. This argument is put forward in rather an apologetic way, as if it were not expected to carry much weight.

"When I visited Falls view yesterday I found Mr. McLeod, (the owner of the new beer shop) bustling about superintending the improvements to his new hotel with as much enthusiasm as if he had fallen into an inheritance. Across the road in the court yard of the rival and original hostelry, sat Mr. Durham, (proprietor of the previous beer joint) blinking at the fresh paint and imposing facade of the "McLeod House" and regarding the house as a nuisance and its keeper as an intruder. It is a case of straight competition between the two in the sale of beer to the navvies, and the one who has enjoyed the monopoly until now can see no force in the old maxim that "competition is the life of trade."

The correspondent adds that "as to the public necessity for a second tavern at the Falls View, he could not find the slightest evidence"; and one reason why the temperance people felt so strongly about the question "is that since the adoption of the Crooks Act there have been only two licenses in the township of Stamford. And now, in the face of Mr. Whitney's policy of reduction of license, there is an actual increase in the township, against the strongest protest that could be made."

So much for the promised reduction of licenses. Now as to the separation of license law administration from politics. Here the testimony of the News correspondent may be again be submitted and he has this to say of the motive which influenced the granting of the obnoxious and unnecessary second license. And the motive is political. The News says:—

This has made them search for a motive and the result of their investigations is to convince them that Mr. Fraser, (the Conservative candidate at the last provincial election) who was strongly supported by Alex McLeod, the holder of the new license, in the general election has used his influence with the Commissioners to secure the license for him. They recall the efforts that McLeod made only last year, when as a lifelong Liberal he applied for a license, and was refused. Credit for this was given to Mr. Stratton, to whom the temperance people appealed at the time. In the present instance they appealed to Mr. Hanna, but without effect. He has been unable or unwilling to do for them what Mr. Stratton did. A promise was given to Rev. Mr. Findlay that the Department would write to the Commissioners, but they say no such letter was received. It appears that Mr. Murray, the License Commissioner who is held responsible for the affair, had always been a Liberal until the last election. So that the two persons most intimately concerned have been political friends. A good deal of surprise was manifested that men like C. J. Durand and C. C. Cole were passed over in the appointment of Commissioners. Rev. Mr. Magwood in a letter to the local paper asks: "Was there a contract made between Mr. Fraser and Mr. McLeod? Mr. McLeod to corral a certain vote for Mr. Fraser, and the license to be the price for services rendered. Then, if a contract was entered into, it was all important that a man be appointed as License Commissioner, for this end of the county, who would see the deal through successfully. Was Mr. Murray appointed for this express purpose? If he was, events have proven the wisdom of the choice. No better selection could have been made for Mr. Murray displayed a zeal in this matter which was worthy of a better cause. That the license was not granted on its merits is quite clear to anyone acquainted with the situation."

MR. JOHN DUNFORD SEVERELY INJURED

Dangerous Scalp Wound Inflicted on Saturday Evening.

Mr. John Dunsford, on Saturday night, while assisting in loading horses at the Cavanagh House, was the victim of a painful and distressing accident.

Mr. Dunsford, at the time of the occurrence, was holding a horse by the head, when the animal, which was a spirited one, reared up, coming down with great force with its fore legs, upon Mr. Dunsford's head, rendering him unconscious, and inflicting a gaping cut across the side of the scalp.

The injured man was removed at once in a cab to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the wound, which necessitated 17 stitches, was dressed by Dr. McGrath. He was then removed to his home. His condition is still critical, as he was last night in a feverish condition, but his many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. Dunsford is a carter by occupation but is frequently engaged in assisting Mr. T. Cavanagh in the shipping of horses. He was at one time the proprietor of the livery at present conducted by Mr. Corneil.

NOT HEREDITARY

Baldness Due to a Luring Minute Germ

Many people, even unto the present day of grace, consider baldness due to hereditary influence.

Nothing is further from the truth—Baldness is caused by the onslaught of a minute organism which secretes itself beneath the scalp and attacks the roots of the hair—causing it to lose its life and fall out.

This organism cannot be got rid of except by the free and persevering use of Newbro's Herpicide.

No matter how badly the scalp is effected the dandruff surely disappears and hair health is restored when Herpicide is applied.

"Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

A SERIOUS STABBING AFFRAY AT LAKEFIELD

An Italian Labourer Probably Fatally Wounded Last Night in a Drunken Quarrel--Employees of Cement Company in an Intoxicated Condition Indulge in Street Fight--One of the Number Received Stitetto Cut Three Inches Deep and May Die---The Accused Man Arrested and Now Lies Awaiting His Trial Before County Police Magistrate Edmison.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Lakefield, May 23rd. — The Italian colony here, was the scene of a stabbing affray last night, when two of the sons of Sunny Italy, got into an altercation, and when the crowd had been dispersed, one of the men was found lying on the ground with a cut three inches deep in his body from a stiletto in the hands of one of his countrymen.

About fifty Italians are employed in the construction work on the addition to the cement works here, and last night a large number of them came into town and imbibed rather freely of their favourite beverage, beer, with the result that some of them became intoxicated.

On their way home a quarrel ensued, and the argument becoming hotter, one of the men, whose name the local police have not been able to learn, stabbed another of the party his name also being impossible to obtain.

After having stabbed his companion the Italian made good his escape, but was afterwards captured by Constable Doidge, and lodged in the cells here awaiting trial.

Last night it was impossible to obtain the services of a physician, for the injured man, the doctors being all out of the village, so that it is impossible to ascertain just the extent of his injuries. He is believed to be in a serious condition, however, and is very weak from loss of blood, the wound having bled profusely. He was attended to as well as was possible by his companions, and taken to the shack in which they make their home, but it is said that during the whole night he was delerious, and his friends fear that the injury may prove fatal.

County Police Magistrate Edmison had not been notified of the affray at 11 o'clock this morning, but it is probable that during the day he will receive word and he will try the accused man.

BIG INITIATION OF FORESTERS

Court Langton Will be Increased in Membership.

Organizer Copeland has several candidates to initiate into Court Langton, C. O. F. at a special meeting to be held at Foresters' Hall, George street, Friday night, May 26th.

This court is now in exceptionally good standing. They have a membership of about 100 and intend to increase it to 200 before this special effort for new members ceases.

The initiation fee has been lowered to $3.00 which includes everything. There are in town a large number of Foresters who have not attached themselves to local courts, they are invited to put their cards into Court Langton, who will receive them free of cost.

Members of sister courts are invited to attend special meeting on Friday night.

TO RE-ARRANGE THE DEANERIES

Joint Meeting Will be Held in Lindsay To-morrow.

To-morrow the rural Deaneries of Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham and Victoria, will hold a meeting at Lindsay, when the question of a revision of the boundaries of the Deaneries will be brought up. At the present time the arrangement is such that it is inconvenient for the churches in the southern part of the Peterborough Deanery to reach the northern parts, and the proposal is being made to form a new Deanery, comprising the southern part of the diocese, a central Deanery, with the centre at Peterborough and a third, embracing the northern parts to be known as the Haliburton Deanery.

An alternative proposition is to amalgamate the three into two with the centres at Port Hope and Peterborough.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Wm. Major an Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rural Dean, will go to Lindsay to attend this joint meeting.

NO EXTENSION OF GEORGE STREET

Unlikely That This Will Be Done This Year.

Owners Unwilling to Give Land Un-Street Cars Run on the New Street.

The extension of George street will not be carried out this year! This was the conclusion reached at last night's meeting of the Board of Works. The options with the persons from whom options had been secured for property through which the new street would pass have expired and the terms have not been taken advantage of, consequently it will be necessary now to secure new options, and, although it is probable that the properties could still be secured for the prices quoted in the the options, it is probable that the matter will not be dealt with this year.

Mayor Best is one of three property owners who agrees to give the ... n their land for the street free, but it is on condition that the street railway shall pass down the new street. It appears that there is not much probability that the company will do this, at least this year, and in view of this fact these property owners are not anxious that the street should be opened.

The property owned by Miss McManus is the only one for which a satisfactory settlement has not been arranged, and some of the members of the council are of the opinion that the best course to pursue is to proceed at once and secure as much land as is possible and leave the disputed property until later.

The mayor, however, is in favour of allowing the whole matter to stand until later.

It appears that their are two alternative proposals now being considered, one of which is to open up Aylmer street instead of George and the other is to open a new street half way between George and Aylmer streets. It is recognized however that these are not as desirable as the continuation of George street and if it is possible to secure the land to open it, the majority are in favour of that plan. In any event it looks now as if the matter will not be taken in hand during this year, and if the street is opened at all, it will be by a succeeding council, the present body apparently having decided not to deal with it.

ROBT. HAMILTON'S BODY RECOVERED

Was Found at Dam No. 2 by Two of Deceased's Neighbors.

Had Been in the Water Since Saturday, May 13th—No Funeral Arrangements Made.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Lakefield, May 23rd.—All doubt as the fate of Robert Hamilton, the Smith township farmer, who left his home a week ago Saturday morning and whose coat was afterwards found lying on the bank of the canal at Lakefield, has been dispelled by the finding of his body at Dam No. 2, at 12.30 o'clock this morning.

Ever since the day of Mr. Hamilton's disappearance, his late neighbours have taken turns in remaining on duty at No. 2 Dam, and ropes have been stretched across the water, to which were attached a number of hooks, for the purpose of catching his clothing should the body float down the river.

This morning at the hour mentioned, Walter Sanderson and William Hunter, jr., were the two men on duty, and they discovered the body floating at the dam, the rope having caught the clothing of the body and thus prevented it from being carried over the dam and into the river below, in which event it is doubtful if it would have been found, at least for some time.

They immediately took the body out of the water and although the features were hardly recognizable, it was identified as the body of the unfortunate Mr. Hamilton, and was taken by the two men who found it to Bickle's Undertaking rooms, where it now lies, Coroner Grey having been sent word of the discovery of the body. The coroner, however, is in Toronto to-day and cannot take action, but it is improbable that an inquest will be deemed necessary.

Mr. Alex. Hamilton, brother of the deceased, has been notified of the recovery of the body, and will arrive here to-morrow, and in the meantime arrangements for the funeral are not being made, pending his arrival.

The deceased leaves five children, the oldest of whom, a girl, is fourteen years of age, while the second is a boy of twelve years. These two are the only ones who are old enough to understand the loss which they have sustained, and they are prostrated with grief.

The children are living upon the farm upon which their parents lived and are being taken care fo by Mr. and Mrs. Deck, the latter a niece of the deceased.

OPERA HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

Work Will be Commenced in a Few Weeks.

Head of New York Theatrical Exchange Here This Week—Work Done by Local Tradesmen.

Mr. Fuller Claflin, representing the New York Theatrical Exchange, is expected in town this week in connection with the new Opera House. This firm is in the business of erecting opera houses, and to it will be entrusted the work of providing the new opera house for Peterborough. The local promoters will contract with them for the erection of the house, and the firm will call for tenders among local contractors, and by them the actual work of construction will be carried out, on plans prepared by the New York firm, which makes a business of this work, and consequently has plans already prepared for almost any style of an opera house.

There appears to have been some little misunderstanding among the people of town in this matter, many having the idea that the work was to be done by imported mechanics, but such is not the case, as the intention is to give the local tradesmen the preference. The Examiner is informed that in all probability work will be started in connection with the construction in the course of a few weeks.

CENTRAL WON FROM SOUTH CENTRAL

Fast Game in Senior School League Series.

A good exhibition of baseball in the Senior Series took place last evening on the South Centra grounds between teams representing the Central and South Central schools. The Centrals won by a score of 11-7. It was a splendid exhibition of baseball. The pitchers both played good ball, the fielding of E. White being an especial feature. The batting of the Central's was also a good feature of the game.

South Central.—W. Dunford, 3rd b.; W. Gibson, c.; G. Cummings, 2nd b.; J. Patterson, r. f.; W. Fortye, 1st b.; S. Sanderson, l. f.; C. Waram, c. f.; G. Minorgan, s. s.; E. White, p.

Central.—S. Laing, c.; H. Bellegham, p.; R. Heaslip, 1st b.; H. Kearns, 2nd b.; G. Long, 3rd b.; K. Crane, s. s.; A. Hall, l. f.; L. Borradaile, r. f.; R. Grange, c. f.

Mr. John Main made a most satisfactory umpire.

BASEBALL.

The Auburns will practise to-night at the Oval. All players are requested to turn out as the team will be picked for to-morrow, at 6.30 sharp.

• • • •

The St. John's and St. Andrew's Guild teams played an exhibition game last night on the latter's grounds, McDonel street, when the St. John's were beaten by the rather one-sided score of 11-1. This was the latter's initial appearance and as they have lots of good material, though in need of practise, better things are looked for before the season ends.

They play another game next Thursday and good ball will be given out. St. Andrew's will be very strong this year and will have something to say about who gets the Examiner silverware. Every man gets up a good game and if the team sticks together it will be among the top-notchers.

Following is the line-up:—

St. John's.—Cavanah, p.; Sawers, c.; Hodgson, 1st base; Metcalf, 2nd base; Dusty, s. s.; Pate, 3rd; J. Simons, r. f.; D. Fortune, c. f.; N. Simons, l. f.

Umpire—Mr. Stacey.

A rattling good game was pulled off last night on the Charlotte Street club's grounds on Sherbrooke Street, when that team won from the T.A.S. by 7 runs to 2, with one innings to spare. game was pretty fast and some good ball was given out,—the feature of the game being the five drive of Squire's, who made the full circuit, bringing in two men with him. Thornton of the Guild team caught for the T.A.S. and put up a good game. Voltz was hit freely, but received good support and McWilliams who twirled the last innings, did not let a man get to second base and all through the game played good ball. Roddy, the regular pitcher, did not come out at all and with him and the rest of the regular men Charlotte Street will make them all go some.

For the T.A.S. Quinlan, Treanor and Green in the garden played well, though out in the field there was not very much doing, and the men did not show up so well. However, they haven't their best team and as these two teams play the return game next Friday evening in the Murray St. set grounds another good game is looked for.

Following is the line-up:—

T. A. S.—Odell, p. and 3rd base; Callaghan, 3rd base and p.; Thornton, c.; Treanor, 1st base; Green, 2nd base; Quinlan, s. s.; Derocher, l. f.; Fitzpatrick, c. f.; Grady, r. f.

Charlotte Street.—Voltz, p. and c. f.; A. McWilliams, c. f. and p.; Lang, c.; Crowe, s. s.; Squire, 1st base; Heaslip, 2nd base; Williams, 3rd base; Ryan, r. f.; Roddy, l. f.

Umpire—Nelson McWilliams.

• • • •

The game between the Auburns and the fast Toronto Manufacturers' League team will start at 2.30 sharp, at the Oval to-morrow afternoon. This promises to be a good game, and will be played on a first-class diamond with the following team in their respective batting order representing Auburn, Pilling, 3rd; McCorry, p.; Long, 1st.; Shaw, l. f.; Clegg, s. s.; Weatherstone, c. f.; Rutherford, and A. Weatherstone, r. f.; Bellegbem, c.; Davidson, 2nd.

The Charlotte Street Guild team won their game with the Night Owls by the rather one-sided score of 18-nil. The latter club did not have their best team on and were not in anything like their best playing form. The Charlotte Street bunch, however, showed good form and will be very strong this year. Roddy pitched excellent ball and, had good support.

The line-up was as follows:—

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

REASON No 35

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because of its Flavor.

Why do you buy certain varieties of fruit and vegetables? Is it not because you like the flavor of some better than others?

Flavor is the special quality which stamps one brand of food product as superior to another, and is the quality that always commands the highest price.

The delicate, fragrant flavor of Red Rose Tea is the result of scientific study and methods on the tea plantations, and in the tea testing and blending rooms.

It has what might be called a fruity taste—a rich, ripe flavor that is very pleasing to the palate—a taste you won't forget.

The Blue Label is recommended.

BEWARE OF LIQUID CATARRH CURES.

Alcohol Holds Out False Hopes.

Catarrh sufferers who have become slaves to liquid catarrh remedies, as soon as they stop the treatment find themselves worse instead of better. These unfortunate victims often learn from their physician for the first time that a liquid catarrh remedy simply makes the mucous membranes drunk, destroys the natural sensations of the parts, deceiving them by false stimulation into the belief that the medicine is helping. Everyone knows that alcohol in any form will deceive. It deceives the head, it deceives the hands, it deceives the feet, but nowhere in the body is alcoholic deceit more apparent than upon the mucous membranes. Catarrh can never be cured by alcoholic deceits and the people are learning to avoid alcohol catarrh cures. Furthermore, they are fast learning that Smith's Triple Cure, handy, efficient and in tablet form, is far better and yields more lasting results. Catarrh sufferers know that while liquid remedies give temporary relief, because the alcohol makes the membranes drunk, such medicines soon intensify their trouble. They become slaves to the alcohol habit as surely by using liquid catarrh remedies as when whiskey is used as a beverage. Smith's Triple Cure not only is free from alcohol, but it actually cures catarrh in every part of the body — dry catarrh, stomach catarrh, bowel catarrh, systemic catarrh, in fact, there is no form of catarrh that Smith's Triple Cure does not cure fully and completely. Have nothing, therefore, to do with alcohol or liquid catarrh remedies, but use Smith's Triple Cure, which consists of four separate preparations, three in tablet form, to be used internally, curing catarrh of the stomach, liver, bowels, pelvis and systemic catarrh, and making rich, red blood, and a catarrh cream used locally, curing catarrh of the head and nasal passages, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the lungs. A full two weeks' course of the four preparations in one large box, sold at only 50 cents by all dealers, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send 25 two-cent stamps by mail today and we will send it postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

THE RAILWAY A STRAIGHT LINE.

First Report of the Transcontinental Commission.

LOW COST OF OPERATION

Comparison of Haulage Charges With the Intercolonial — Two Routes Through New Brunswick Available —Difficulties Were Exaggerated— Estimated Cost of Building Road Per Mile—In the House.

Ottawa, May 23.—Parliament received yesterday the first report of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission. It covers the period from the inception of the commission to March 31 last. In order to cover the first year the commission was voted $500,000. They have paid out $440,460, and incurred further liability of $175,760.50, so that on the first year's operations they have exceeded their grant by $116,221. F. B. Wade, chairman explains that the expenditure is necessary and took the responsibility. For the current year they ask $1,323,500 for the expenses of the commission, and suggest a further vote of $3,000,000 be made, so as to be available in case it is deemed desirable to begin letting the contract during the present twelve months.

For the purpose of survey, the commission made five divisions between Moncton and Winnipeg; division A from Moncton to the Quebec boundary; Division B from there to Clear Lake; Division C from there to the Ontario-Quebec boundary; Division D from there to the 84th meridian, west longitude; Division E from there to Lake Nepigon, and Division F from there to Winnipeg.

Difficulties Exaggerated.

The surveys show that the difficulties building through New Brunswick were exaggerated and that a road can be built with a maximum grade for east-bound traffic of 4 per cent., and for west-bound traffice 6 per cent. Such a line can be 90 miles shorter than the I. C. R., and constructed at $33,000 per mile. The engineer suggests that it might be advantageous in places to build with a somewhat steeper grade, say 1 per cent., and to use a "pusher" engine. By doing this the line could be shortened another twenty-five miles.

Mr. Butler, assistant engineer, figures it out that the eastern section, from Quebec to Moncton, will be in every way a better line than the I. C. R. A standard engine on the I. C. R. will pull twenty-five cars loaded with 30 tons each, or 660 tons. On the new route it would pull forty-two cars. Suppose the I. C. R. were to run ten freight trains daily for 313 days of the year, the cost of carriage would be $3,016,711; for the Transcontinental $1,783,518, or a saving of $1,237,192.

This Part for $30,000 a Mile.

From the Quebec bridge westward to Waymontachene, a distance of 423 miles, a maximum grade can be secured of 4 per cent. going east, and 6 per cent. west. This part can be built for $30,000 a mile, and trains can be hauled for 42 cents per ton as against 73 cents on the I. C. R. On Division C the surveying parties have been considerably hampered by lakes, and the indications are that the more northerly of the two lines which they have surveyed will be found preferable.

The route between Lake Nepigon and Winnipeg is said to be quite possible, and the country contains timber in sufficient quantity to supply the Thunder Bay branch as well. The country is rocky and intersected by a series of lakes.

The commissioners have found it desirable to secure a uniform set of specifications for all parts of the line, and note that the survey made by the Grand Trunk from Winnipeg to North Bay has not been found available, owing to the fact that the line as now projected will run farther north than contemplated in the Grand Trunk's original plans.

Other Business.

Mr. Foster asked the Prime Minister to make a statement on the halfbreeds' script scandal to-day.

Mr. Ganong of Charlotte, N. B., made a two hours' speech on the report of the commission to enquire into the fisheries of the Maritime Provinces. In reply to Mr. Foster, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he did not think an immediate answer was expected, but he defended the composition of the commissions. The question of an export duty on fish would have to be thoroughly investigated.

The bill to incorporate the Northwest Telephone Co. was read a third time.

A discussion took place on the McDermott divorce case evidence, but the divorce bill was finally passed on a vote of yeas 38, nays 13. Two other divorce bills from the Senate were carried without debate, viz., the bill for the relief of George Dacecharper, and that for the relief of Jane Marie Fitzsimmons.

The House voted $300,000 in committee of supply, for immigration, after explanations by Mr. Oliver.

The Government's motion, that the House adjourn over Victoria Day was carried.

The House rose at 1.30 a. m.

Unhappy Women!

No woman can be happy when her health is undermined. No woman can have good health while she suffers from female weakness, inflammation, ulceration or any disease of the delicate womanly organs. Nervous, sleepless, fretful, suffering in body and mind, she does not live but only exists.

More than a half a million such women have found a perfect and permanent cure for their diseased condition in the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Women cured by this remedy say it is a "wonderful medicine," so perfectly does it restore them to health and comeliness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other harmful drug. It is in the strictest sense, an honest, temperance medicine. Its ingredients are purely vegetable, and it will agree with the most delicate constitution.

Don't be hypnotized, or over persuaded, into accepting a substitute. This medicine has a record that's worth far more than any difference in price.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, either personally or by letter, absolutely without charge or fee, thus avoiding the unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments considered necessary by many local practitioners. All correspondence treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMEN'S AILMENTS.

Eighty per cent. of the ills of womankind are due to Kidney derangement. Backache, pain in the side, headache, depression, pimples and eruptions, swelling of the feet, bad taste in the mouth, all come from disordered kidneys allowing poisons which should be carried off to remain in the system.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets positively cure all kidney trouble, and free women from aches and ailments.

Mrs. Richard Meyrs, Preston, Ont., says: "I had a severe pain in my back that gave me no release in the day time and disturbed me nights. Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets cured me of the pain, and I have no longer that depressing weakness in the morning as formerly."

Dr. Pitcher's B.-K. Tablets are 50c. a bottle, at druggists or by mail. The Dr. Elias Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

The World's Best Spring Medicine—

Paine's Celery Compound

Paine's Celery Compound is the only spring medicine that the best physicians are now recommending, because no other remedy can so quickly bring new and vigorous health to the ailing and broken down.

Paine's Celery Compound, cures disease by first purifying the blood and strengthening the nerves. It makes the weak strong and keeps them in good health. Seeing that experience of tens of thousands has proven that Paine's Celery Compound is the best of all spring medicines, it is foolish and suicidal to defer its use. One or two bottles used at this time will quickly banish all symptoms of disease and fit you for the work and duties of spring and summer.

When you ask for Paine's Celery Compound see that you get the genuine with the name PAINE'S and the STALK of CELERY; other celery preparations are deceptions.

HON. MR. HYMAN SWORN IN.

Ceremony Took Place In Toronto in Presence of His Excellency.

Toronto, May 23.—Hon. Charles S. Hyman, who was appointed Minister of Public Works on Saturday, to succeed the late Hon. James Sutherland, was sworn in at 11.15 Monday morning, at Glen Stewart, the home of A. E. Ames. His Excellency Earl Grey was present, and the oath was administered by John J. McGee, clerk of the Privy Council at Ottawa. The bye-election will be held on June 13.

Announcement in the House.

Ottawa, May 23.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, shortly after the opening of the House yesterday, announced that His Excellency had appointed Hon. Charles S. Hyman Minister of Public Works. Mr. Hyman's seat in London, therefore, becomes vacant and the nomination day has been fixed for June 6, polling taking place on June 13. The election to fill the vacant seat for North Oxford will be held at the same time.

The political complexion is not very decided one way or the other. It gives large majorities or small majorities for either party. In 1891 Hon. C. S. Hyman was elected by 183 majority. He went down in 1896 under an adverse majority of 41, but in 1900 regained the seat by a majority of 547. On November 3 last, his majority was only 23 over Mr. Gray, who will likely be his opponent in the ensuing contest.

On January 25, Hon. Adam Beck defeated Mr. Rumball, his Conservative opponent, by 565 majority.

Will Finish To-day.

Toronto, May 23.—The Legislature will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and it is the intention of Mr. Whitney to sit through until the business is completed. Prorogation will take place on Thursday.

Balfour Buys In Manitoba.

LAND FIGHTING HAS RESUMED

Big Armies Now in the Heart of a Hard Conflict.

A Big Battle Began on Friday Night And Has Continued Ever Since.

Chanchun, Manchuria, May 23.—The armies are engaged on a battle line from forty-five to fifty miles wide, extending from the northeasterly bank of the Liao River west of the railway to Hailungchen, on the old Chinese road, to the Yalu River. The main divisions probably are not more than fifteen miles apart, but since Friday night the advance columns have been continuously in conflict, with varying results. On the left of Gen. Linevitch's centre the second Siberian army corps has repulsed the Japanese advance on Chungkuchen, and at the last report was holding the left bank of one of the tributaries of the Liao River.

The right wing of the army attacked the Japanese on Friday night, and continued the engagement on Saturday morning in the territory between Fakumen and the Liao River. A division, mainly of the three Moscow regiments, with cavalry and two field batteries, attacked about seven battalions of mixed troops at the Village of Majadien. The engagement continued throughout Friday night in the chain of hills running northwest toward the Lahoe River. Simultaneously another division of Russian forces attacked at Shawjutsa, on the west of Fakumen, driving in three battalions of Japanese in what developed finally into a hand-to-hand fight.

On Saturday the enemy was strongly reinforced with cavalry and field artillery, and the attacking Russian forces, making a junction, retired on the entrenched camp at Tungkotss. The Japanese advanced Sunday morning on both sides of the Russian camp.

Linevitch Reports Success.

St. Petersburg, May 23.—Gen. Linevitch, in a despatch from the front dated May 21, announces that two Russian detachments occupied the valleys of the Kaak, and Khanda Rivers westward of Nanshentsi, on the Mandarin road, after dislodging forces of Japanese cavalry and infantry. The despatch adds that Gen. Martynoff's detachment from Tadlub also drove back the Japanese advanced cavalry outposts. Gen. Linevitch also reported fighting near Shahotse May 18, but did not give the result. He said a Russian detachment east of the railroad approached the Village of Shahotse and was attacked by a considerable force of Japanese from the coal mines south of that place.

Tokio, May 23.—Imperial army headquarters made the following announcement yesterday:

"In the direction of Changtu on May 20, a force of the enemy made a detour to the eastern height at Santaohou, and from the vicinity of a coal mine ten miles east of Changtu, commenced a bombardment. Subsequently another Russian force advanced from the eastern side of the village, but they were repulsed. Another mixed force of the enemy entered Erhshihlipse, where they set fire to the village and retreated. A body of the enemy's cavalry, dismounted, attacked Tangshed on the morning of May 20. After two hours the enemy retreated in disorder, abandoning 300 men killed and wounded."

Captured Whole Bunch.

Tokio, May 23.—It is reported that a junk filled with Russian officers has been captured. It is presumed that they were making a reconnaissance from Vladivostock.

Suicide By Carbolic Acid.

Toronto, May 23.—Released from the asylum a fortnight ago, after having been confined there for some months, Mrs. Richard Berridge of 99 Van Horne street committed suicide shortly after noon yesterday by taking carbolic acid. Her husband is a brass polisher employed by the Pease Furnace Co., and there is a family of five.

Settlement Chances Good.

Chicago, May 23.—After a conference of several hours, representatives of the Teamsters' Union and of the employers' association, it was declared at midnight that the prospects for the settlement of the strike are excellent, and that the end of the trouble may be looked for at any time within the next 48 hours.

CEMENT WORKS ARE NOW A POSSIBILITY

Large Deposits of Marl Purchased Near Keene--The Beaver Meadows Contain 500 Acres of Rich Marl---Mr. Johnston, of Montreal, Bought it From Mr. W. Stark--Other Properties are Being Negotiated for--Keene People Excited Over Prospect of New Industry--Works Might Come to Peterborough to Secure Power and Shipping Advantages.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Keene, May 23rd. — This village is considerably excited over the announcement that part of the property known as the Beaver Meadows, has been purchased by a Mr. Johnston, of Montreal, representing a cement company, and the impression left by him here is that a large cement works will be established here. This property lies between Keene and Drummond's station, and is in close proximity to the G. T. R. tracks, making shipments of the marl easy.

The property purchased by Mr. Johnston belonged to Mr. W. Stark, and is said to be very rich in marl deposits. The whole property is about 500 acres in extent, and is said to be one of the most valuable marl beds in this part of the province.

This fact has been unknown to the majority of the local residents, who have never thought of this property as being of any special value, and the prospect of a large cement works being established here has aroused the village considerably.

It is understood that the man who bought the property from Mr. Stark has been looking at other marl beds east of the village, and this strengthens the belief that the intention is to establish a large works in this vicinity.

This despatch may not be without its significance to Peterborough, since there is a strong probability that if the company referred to above decides to establish a works, they will be located here, since the power facilities here would be much superior to those in the vicinity of the marl beds, and as the railway runs practically through the deposits, shipping it to Peterborough would be comparatively inexpensive, while for shipping out the product, this place would offer many advantages, the fact that it is served by two lines of railway being one of them.

EMPIRE DAY IN THE SCHOOLS

Appropriate Ceremonies Were Held This Afternoon

Patriotic Songs and Addresses in the Different Schools.

This afternoon in the schools of the town, Empire Day was observed with appropriate exercises, and the event was one in which the scholars participated with evident pleasure.

This morning the Union Jack was hoisted from every public school in the town, and during the whole day the spirit of the occasion pervaded the work of the scholars.

At the Central school in the afternoon, the pupils of Mr. Wm. Smith and Mr. J. C. Smith combined, and held the observances in the kindergarten department. There were patriotic songs and readings, and Mr. J. H. Burnham gave an address. Miss Nicholls' and Miss Oulton's classes united, and Lieut.-Colonel Edwards addressed the pupils. Mr. Wallace's scholars gave an interesting programme in the gymnasium. Miss Jenkins' and Miss Howson's rooms also united and gave an entertainment, the pupils taking part in the programme.

At the Wes Ward school an open air gathering was held during the afternoon, Rev. J. C. Davidson and Rev. W. J. Jolliffe giving addresses.

At the South Ward school the Senior and Junior Fourth classes combined and Rev. A. H. Brace and Rev. W. M. MacKay gave addresses. Mr. Kerr spoke to his pupils in the morning on "The Progress of Canada," dealing with the modes of living and peculiar habits of the old settlers. A good programme of songs and recitations was given in the other classes.

At the George street school the classes also combined and the young students gave a programme of patriotic songs and recitations. Rev. W. Major of All Saint's, addressed the scholars.

The North Ward School spent the afternoon in songs and recitations, no speakers being available.

At the Fifth Ward School the pupils sang a number of patriotic songs and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt gave an address on patriotism.

—The dredge "Trent" which has been dismantled in order to allow it to pass under the Hunter street and C.P.R. bridges, on its way to "Devil's Elbow," is now below the C.P.R. bridge.

—The Peterborough Hunt Club had an outing yesterday, Chemong being the destination. Those taking part in it were Capt. Ackerman, Capt. Medd, Mr. F. D. Kerr and Mr. W. Cameron.

—Mr. Fred Lund, of the Munro House, had the misfortune, through the carelessness of some of the boarders at the house, to have his most valuable and much admired art treasures broken.

—For potatoes, parsnips, carrots, beets, turnips, cabbage, hams, pea-meal bacon, eggs and butter, canned tomatoes, peas and corn, cheap; also nice mixed biscuits, call upon James R. Bell, 161 Hunter street. 'Phone 456.

—Evangelist Russell would like all who can sing "The Glory Song" to come to St. Andrew's to-night and help sing it. This hymn and chorus has been greatly blessed in the Alexander-Torrey meetings and at Northfield and Winona Conferences. So it will be a special favour for all who know it to help to-night.

—The Bible School conducted by Evangelist Russell in St. Andrew's church every afternoon this week is open to all Christians. The subjects are (1) "The Holy Spirit in the Son of God. (2) "The Holy Spirit in the Word of God," (3) "The Holy Spirit in the Church of God." (4) "The Holy in the People of God." Remember the hour, 3.30, and bring your friends; Your own Bible will also be a help.

—Work on the new Separate school building, at the head of Little Brock street, is going ahead rapidly. The foundations, laid in concrete and Longford stone, are nearing the ground level. The disposition of the earth removed in excavating, will make the eastern portion of the lot a nice level, and make a useful lawn and grounds of what seemed, at cursory view, an undesirable location for a school site.

—The City Mission Band, banded together for the one purpose of glorifying God, and blessing mankind, will hold services in the mission hall, 366 1-2 Water street, on Sunday, May 28th, at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m. Those anxious to know God are kindly invited to attend these services. A special invitation given to those who are in doubt, darkness, sadness or trouble of any kind. Address all communications to the secretary of the City Mission Band, Box 599, Peterborough.—Com.

—Some way or other it always happens that the judicious advertising succeeds. Judicious means many things. Some people better never advertise. Managers who are honest, whose advertisements mislead and whose shows disappoint, they had better let advertising alone. The managers of Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels, endeavour to advertise nothing but what they can show. They are in a class by themselves, being the only recognized negro minstrels that play the first class theatres, and cannot afford to mislead their patrons. Some show people are careless in their statements. They become so accustomed to writing "Biggest," "Grandest," "Best," and "World's largest," that they can only think in superlatives. They mean to be honest, and probably are. They are merely careless, and failure is the price of carelessness. Go to the Opera House on May 26th, and judge if the Georgias are over-advertised.

GIRLS' AUXILIARY AT ST. LUKE'S

Held Last Meeting of the Season Last Night.

Report of Annual Meeting Printed—A Social Evening Enjoyed.

Last night the last meeting of the season of the Girl's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church was held in the Sunday school room, when the report of the annual meeting of the Diocesan Auxiliary at Toronto was presented by Miss Isabel Hay, who was the delegate to the meeting. Miss Hay's report was very comprehensive, and covered the entire proceedings of the meeting.

The treasurer, Miss Lizzie Stewart, presented her report which showed that there was a good credit balance in the funds of the Auxiliary.

The Diocesan Secretary stated that during the year two large bales of clothing had been sent to the Indian School of the North-west.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, the rector, addressed the meeting, expressing his pleasure at the splendid reports of the work of the year. He congratulated the members of the Auxiliary upon the work it had done and spoke a few words of encouragement for the future, to continue in the good work.

After the meeting refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was spent by the young ladies. Last night's meeting was the last until September.

HAVE TWO GREAT FLEETS ENGAGED?

Unconfirmed Rumour That Togo Has Been Defeated--Oyama Has Much Success--Russian Cavalry And Infantry Attempting to Make a Detour in Rear of Left Army, Were Twice Defeated--Fears That They Are in Danger---Between Two Forces of the Japanese Army.

Manila, May 25.—There is an unconfirmed rumor that the Russian and Japanese fleets have met south of Formosa, and that the Japanese were defeated.

Kuropatkin Is Recalled.

London, May 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Times says that Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch has demanded the recall of Gen. Kuropatkin.

Ross Rear Guard Driven In.

Tokio, May 25.—Bulletins from the Manchurian war field received last night indicate that Marshal Oyama's successful movement is well developed, and that the enemy's rear guard has been driven in at all points west of the railroad. A bulletin announcing that the Japanese entire army has advanced as far as Siatatsu is regarded as extremely significant, as this point is 24 miles north of Fafumen, where the opening engagement in the general advance took place last week. It is clear that the Russian lines have been driven in on the southwest and that the advance movement against the right wing of Gen. Linevitch's army is in full swing. These bulletins were made public by the Imperial army board.

A Ruse Defeat.

"The Russian cavalry and infantry, which attempted to make a detour in the rear of the left army southwest of Fafumen, were defeated in two engagements. On Monday night they were driven further southwest, leaving 100 dead and wounded, and will be unable to turn to the main Russian line unless they can escape the Japanese forces on the other side of the Laohe River. Another detachment of the enemy which was driven from Talfangchen on Saturday night joined several battalions of infantry at Siaotatsu twenty-six miles from Fafumen, on Sunday night, and on Monday morning our artillery brigade forced them with much loss to retreat to the right bank of the Mallen River.

"Several small camps of the enemy's forces further east on the left bank of the Mallen River were defeated Tuesday night and retreated north in great disorder. All our advance engagements have been successful. The enemy's right wing, which on Saturday had its position at Shentai, is now in the entrenched hills at Lamatung, nineteen miles farther north. The outposts at this point are being engaged.

Fear Russians Are Cut Off.

Gunshu Pass, May 25.—It is feared that a considerable body of Russian cavalry and infantry has been cut off by the Japanese southeast of Shantu. When heard from on Sunday night, they had been forced to cross the west bank of the Liao River near Fafumen and compelled to attempt their escape by the road from Defulu. Tuesday it was announced that a big Japanese force had taken possession of the Laohe River, which makes it probable that the Russian column is between two forces of the enemy.

Despatches from the front announce severe fighting in the region of Fafumen. Prince Troubetsky's detachment was compelled, because of superior Japanese artillery fire, to evacuate the hills north of Shantu Station, near the railroad. Another strong Japanese column dislodged a mixed detachment of infantry and cavalry occupying the entrenched Village of Armagan, after a night engagement, in which the Russian losses were more than 100. The Japanese movement from the southwest on the right of the Russian line continues, and reinforcements are being hurried down by the commander-in-chief in order to prevent the Japanese from proceeding in strength north of the Laohe River.

On the centre the Japanese have occupied Hoahiling, and their extreme left yesterday was attacking the Russian position at Chaoyanjan, on the easterly road to Kirin. There is a report here, through Chinese sources, that the Japanese fleet has met with a serious misfortune.

Vladivostock All Right.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—Yesterday replies were received from Harbin, saying that both the railroad and the telegraph lines to Vladivostock are working, and the Associated Press is authorized to deny the report of the fortress' isolation.

Severe Fighting.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, May 25.—The situation is very tense. The rival commanders are watching each other like hawks, but there has been no decisive move yet on the part of Field Marshal Oyama. Lieut.-Gen. Rennenkampff made a bold reconnaissance at the cost of several hundred casualties, but the correspondent of the Associated Press is not allowed to telegraph the results obtained. It is possible that it was Rennenkampff's cavalry which penetrated southwest of Fakoman.

Some Small Engagements.

Tokio, May 25.—Imperial army headquarters made the following announcement yesterday: "On the afternoon of May 21 a battalion of Russian infantry and six squadrons of cavalry attacked the northern height at Chinyangpao, ten miles north of Vesyuanpaomen, but were repulsed.

"On the morning of May 22 a battalion of Russian infantry and three troops of cavalry advanced along the Kirin-Taolu roads toward Chienchentsu, and one company of infantry gained the western height near the village but we repulsed them.

"The Russian cavalry on the right bank of the Liao River commenced a retreat on the morning of May 23, and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon the enemy had reached a point south of Talun, which lies seventeen miles west of Fakuman."

Japs Had to Get Out.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—Gen. Linevitch, under date of May 23, reports that a Russian detachment successfully attacked the Japanese trenches on the heights north of the station of Changtufu May 21, forcing the Japanese to evacuate their trenches.

BOMBS THROWN.

Governor of Baku and Bystander and Coachman Killed.

Baku, Caucasia, May 25.—The Governor of Baku, Prince Nakachidze, was assassinated yesterday by a bomb, which was thrown at his carriage. The Lieutenant who was accompanying the Governor and a bystander were also killed by the explosion, and the coachman is believed to have been fatally injured.

Police Chief Escapes Bomb.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, May 25.—The chief of police of Siedlco (capital of the Government of that name) was severely injured by the explosion of a bomb at midnight. He was sitting on the verandah of a club when an unknown man approached and hurled a bomb at him. The missile, however, fell short, but it exploded near enough to the chief of police for fragments to injure him seriously. Three other persons were also injured. The man who threw the bomb escaped.

To Limit the Debate.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—The Government has now taken formal measures to prevent the zemstvos, Dumas, and other Provincial and district institutions from indulging in unrestricted debate, and adopting resolutions on the subject of a change in the form of government. Interior Minister Bourlin has issued a circular declaring such discussions do not come within the scope of the Imperial ukase of March 3. The ruling in effect is that this privilege only applies to the individuals.

Sergius' Assassin Glad To Die.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—It is semi-officially announced that Ivan Kaleieff, who murdered Grand Duke Sergius at Moscow, February 17, was hanged at 8 o'clock the morning.

On the scaffold Kaleieff made a speech, in which he said:

"It is said that I asked for pardon. It is a lie. I am faithful to the tradition of the People's Will. I did not ask any favor. I am glad to die."

The People's Will is the name formerly borne by the party identical with the present social revolutionaries.

—The residents of the fifth ward are complaining vigorously of the condition of the tail race below Allister's mill. It is reported to be a nuisance, and the odour is said to be especially repugnant.

RUSSIANS AND JAPS IN NAVAL BATTLE

Persistent Rumors That Fleets Are Now in Action off the Island of Formofa---Manilla Dispatch Says 50 War Vessels Passed There---London Naval Are Inclined to Believe the Rumors---A Great Naval Engagement---News Anxiously Awaited at St. Petersburg and London.

(Special to the Examiner.)

London, May 25. — The correspondent of the Central News at St. Petersburg, wires that persistent rumours are heard in naval circles to the effect that a naval battle has commenced off the coast of Formosa.

Manilla, May 25th. — Official advices have been received from Vigan that on May 20, over fifty war vessels were sighted of the east coast of the Botan Islands, sailing in a north-east direction. It is supposed that the vessels were Russians.

LONDON BELIEVES IT.

London, May 25th. — The impression prevails here in naval circles that the Japanese and Russian fleets have met in battle, and news is being eagerly awaited as to the outcome of the supposed conflict.

THE JURY SAYS EMPLOYERS "GUILTY"

Boiler Which Exploded in Staples Was Defective---Employees Feared Accident--Some of Them Were Even So Afraid of the Reliability of the Boiler That When Steam Went Up They Went to Seek for a Place of More Safety--The Verdict.

Comber, May 25.—The adjourned inquest into the cause of the boiler explosion in the Village of Staples on Monday, at which Ralph Walsh was killed and several others more or less injured, convened yesterday.

Employes said that the boiler was not what it should have been, and that they had feared on accident. Most of them seemed to think the boiler could stand a pressure of 85 pounds, but felt somewhat nervous when the engineer allowed the pressure to jump to 120 pounds. It came out that the boiler could not be tested by cold water pressure when it was repaired in March, as some of the valves were leaking. Ex-Foreman McGinnis had noticed this leakage, but had not brought it to the notice of the management.

The jury adjourned to the boarding-house, where Engineer Fisher is confined. His face is badly swollen from the bruises and scalds. He could give no explanations as to the cause of the accident. There were fully 4 inches of water in the water-glass and the injectors had been working an hour before the accident. He had a big fire on when signalled to shut down to allow repairs, and steam ran up to 105 lbs very quickly, but he did not think anything of it, as it had often been as high before. He had heard that the boiler had a bad reputation by the men in the mill, who ran out occasionally to seek a place of safety. He had intended to clean the boiler on Victoria Day while the mill was closed for the holiday. He noticed the boiler was leaking just where it had been rivetted.

Oliver Larondot stated that the pressure on the boiler stood at 132 lbs. at 12.50 o'clock, and David Boyd had taken French leave when the 115 mark was reached.

The jury decided that there was "negligence on the part of the said company not providing adequate protection by testing the boiler for the safety of their employes."

Coffee Urn Exploded.

Quebec, May 25.—An accident occurred on board the new R. and O. steamer Tuesday night. A coffee urn, connected by a pipe from a boiler, suddenly exploded with great force by over pressure of steam, and scattered the boiling liquid over a number of waiters in the pantry. Two of the number were badly scalded.

Two Men Killed at New Toronto.

Toronto, May 25.—Two men met death on the tracks at New Toronto either an Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. They are Marshall Amy and Charles Riddle, both residents of New Toronto Village. Both the bodies were dreadfully mangled, and death must have been instantaneous. The men had apparently been walking on the track toward the village, and had stepped out of the way of an approaching train when they were run into by a train coming the other way. The traffic is very heavy on the road at this point, and there are many trains during the night.

Killed at Level Crossing.

Brantford, May 25.—Wesley Farrow, pump manufacturer, when driving across the G. T. R. track on Gilkinson street, West Brantford, Tuesday evening, was struck by a yard engine drawing two cars. He was instantly killed. Norman Farrow, aged about 16, was in the wagon, but by jumping he escaped with bruises and scratches.

Fatally Hurt Playing Baseball.

Cornwall, May 25.—Herman Boyeau of Valleyfield died in the Hotel Dieu Tuesday morning, aged 22 years. He was a deckhand of the steamer Garnet, and when she was lying in port here, Boyeau engaged in a game of baseball with some men off the steamer John Lamber. Boyeau fell over a piece of timber, broke two of his ribs and crushed a kidney.

Tot of 18 Months Is Killed.

Toronto, May 25.—Little Catherine Crawford, aged 18 months, daughter of William H. Crawford of 619 Lansdowne avenue, was run down by a Bloor and McCaul street car in front of her home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and sustained injuries that resulted in her death a few hours later.

Child Killed by Fire Truck.

Montreal, May 25.—Marie Louise Boucher, 7 years of age, living at Point St. Charles, was killed Tuesday night by being run over by a fire truck while on its way to a fire.

Drowned at Montreal.

Montreal, May 25.—A drowning accident happened on Lake St. Louis yesterday afternoon. Melvin Jeffreys, a young man of 25, took a number of friends out on his yacht, and while they were out on the lake the yacht was capsized. Jeffreys was carried away from the yacht and drowned, two friends who were in the boat at the time being helpless to render him any assistance.

128 Fishermen Drown.

St. Servan, France, May 25.—All hope has been practically given up here for the safety of the three-masted sailing vessel, Cousins Reunis, which left this port eighty-two days ago for St. Pierre et Miquelon, off the coast of Newfoundland. She had on board 128 fishermen, and great grief prevails here among the missing men's families.

Accidents at Kingston.

Kingston, May 25.—There were two casualties here during Victoria Day. When G. Allen of Rochester was preparing for an ascension his balloon caught fire and started to rise. When he was about 40 feet up, he jumped, receiving some painful but not serious injuries. In a fight, Joseph Tengwith of Cataraqui had his leg broken.

Fatal Railway Wreck.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 25.—A Santa Fe passenger train, north bound, on the Hutchinson branch, collided with several freight cars yesterday afternoon on account of an open switch. A mail clerk was killed and the engineer and fireman jumped and suffered probably fatal injuries. Five others passengers were slightly hurt.

VICTORIA DAY AT ST. ANDREW'S

Bible Conference Was Held Yesterday by Evangelist Russell.

Last Night's Meeting Largely Attended —Three Conditions of Humanity.

Notwithstanding the many re-unions, associations and attractions of Victoria Day, to which citizens could legitimately, with pleasure and profit turn a large number were glad of the holiday to enjoy the services in connection with the Bible Conference in St. Andrew's Church. Last night a most impressive address was given by Evangelist Russell from Romans 3, 19-20, "That every mouth may be stopped, and all the world become guilty before God. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight; for by the law is the knowledge of sin." Mr. Russell in very vigoours and earnest tones pictured the deluded condition of (1.) Ruined Humanity, (2.) Respectable Humanity and (3) Religious Humanity, in their unsaved state, and appealed to his auditors to consider the matchless grace and love of God in the wonderful provision made for man in the Redemption through Christ.

THE CEMETERY DIRECTORS MET

Decided on Improvements and Work to be Carried Out This Summer.

This Beauty Spot Takes on its Spring Dress—The Greenhouse.

The annual outdoor spring meeting of the directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company is being held this afternoon. The special object of this meeting is to formulate plans for urgent improvements and lay out the work for the summer.

The Cemetery is looking extremely well, notwithstanding the backward character of the weather. The continuous high winds have had a parching and drying effect on the newly made flower beds, but the grass is coming on well, and the frondescent period of leaf and foliage of the shrubs and trees is well advanced.

Large numbers of our citizens visited the cemetery on the 24th mostly for the purpose of spending some time beautifying around their lots. At Windmill Point, the superintendent has made some pleasing changes. Three beds of evergreens and shrubs have been put in which enhance the appearance of this pretty spot.

The tulip beds in rich combination colours in the front of the grounds as well as about twenty private tulip beds throughout the cemetery, present a beautifully bright and pleasing effects. The private bed of Mr. Harry Long on section Q., is deserving of special mention.

The new greenhouse adjoining the superintendent's residence, is quite an acquisition to the cemetery. It is proving quite an accommodation to the patrons of the cemetery who desire to procure flowers and plants on the spot for decorating their lots. It is well stocked with a choice selection of the most wanted kinds of cemetery flowers, in fine, hardy bloom. Superintendent Wise is very proud of his greenhouse.

The interments this year, so far, are about the same as previous years. Some changes have been introduced at burials. The graves are not filled in at the time of burial—only enough earth being used to cover the rough box. The filling in is done afterwards by the workmen, who are not now required to be present at the interments.

A School Teacher

ON WHOM TWO OTTAWA PHYSICIANS OPERATED IN VAIN FOR

Bleeding Piles

WAS AFTERWARDS COMPLETELY CURED BY USING TWO BOXES OF

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The folly of risking a surgical operation, with its pain, expense and danger, is illustrated in the case of Mr. Lepine, who was cured of bleeding piles by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, after the surgeon's knife had failed.

Mr. Arthur LePine, school teacher, Granite Hill, Muskoka, Ont., writes, — "I am taking the liberty of informing you that for two years I suffered from bleeding piles, and lost each day about half a cup of blood. Last summer I went to the Ottawa General Hospital to be operated on, and was under the influence of chloroform for one hour. For about two months I was better but my old trouble returned and again I lost much blood. One of my doctors told me I would have to undergo another operation, but I would not consent.

"My father, proprietor, of the Richelieu Hotel, Ottawa, advised me to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and two boxes cured me. I did not lose any blood after beginning this treatment and I have every reason to believe that the cure is a permanent one. I gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the best treatment in the world for bleeding piles."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, the only positive and guaranteed cure for every form of piles, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

REGIMENT HAD FINE TURN OUT

276 Men of All Rank March the Streets Tuesday Night.

Good Hour's Drill in T. A. S. Grounds After the March—Company and Squad Drill—"Marching Past" Practised by Whole Regiment Orders for the Week.

The 57th Regiment had a grand parade and march out on Tuesday night, and presented a very fine appearance. Although not up to the full strength, the Regiment showed up well and put in a good hour's drill in the T.A.S. field after the march out.

The Regiment paraded at the armouries at 8 o'clock Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller comenanding and marched out in column of sections, the brass and bugle bands leading. The route taken was as follows,—armouries to George, to Charlotte, to market square, to Simcoe to George, to T. A. S. field, where regimental drill was put through. The men were marched round the field several times in quarter column, when the captain's took command of the companies and drilled them for a short while in company and squad dri'l. The rally was then sounded and when the Regiment had formed once more, wheeling the Regiment in column was practised. Then the band was marched to one side and "marching past" by the whole regiment was also practised. After an hour's very successful drill, the men were marched in and dismissed after the Colonel had notified them all to turn out looking their best on Sunday next.

The Regiment was by no means up to its full strength, 28 men being the most out in any Company, that of No. 4, the total strength being 19 officers, 257 rank and file; men of all ranks 276.

The following are the orders:—

FIRST TRIP UP STONY LAKE

The Holiday Attracted Large Numbers to Summer Resorts.

Over 400 Passengers from Peterborough Yesterday took Trip by "Stony Lake."

Over four hundred persons left town on the two local trains to Lakefield, on the 24th, the one at 8.30, the other at 12.45. Of those who went up on the morning train about one hundred took in the excursion trip up the lakes, on the new steamer "Stony Lake." The steamer was well crowded as she left her Lakefield wharf, as, in addition to those on board from the city, there was a fairly good crowd who were attending an excursion under the auspices of the W. M. S. of the Lakefield Methodist church.

Many of those from the city were owners of summer cottages, who were taking advantage of the holiday to inspect their property after the winter.

The sail up the lake was greatly enjoyed, genuine "Queen's weather" prevailing all day, although the high wind made it a trifle cool on the water. Everything is looking "in lovely verdure clad." This popular summer resort is beginning already to attract its crowd of tourists, bent on enjoying a good full season's holiday. Quite a number of cottages were occupied during the holiday.

The water is very high, but Capt. Scollard and his crew made the varied landings without a hitch. The steamer got back to Lakefield in good time to connect with the regular train for the city in the evening.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, J. P., presided at the police court this morning. The docket was light, only two cases being dealt with.

A young man pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly, and was given 20 days in gaol.

Edgar Herron, was fined $1 and costs, amounting to $4.75, for having celebrated a little too strenuously on the holiday.

PLEASURE PARK GRAND OPENING

Yesterday Afternoon Formal Opening Took Place.

Many Clever and Amusing Features—Madam Tramill's Scottish Selections Make Hits—Prof. Irwin's Clever Dogs Also Score Success.

The opening of the Peterborough Pleasure Park yesterday, was in every way a success, and if the management only puts on as good a bill during the season, as yesterday, the success of the enterprise is assured.

The excellent band, and fine piano solos, were much enjoyed by those arriving early. Mr. Ramsey, of town, played in his usual charming manner, several well known and popular selections, which held the attention of the large audience. He also played the accompaniments during the programme.

The bill was a large one, and included many good features. Warrington Bros. did a clever tumbling act, the antics of these youthful acrobats making quite a hit with the audience.

Next came "Irish Molly," who shone forth in song and story, and caught the younger portion of the audience.

Bensley, the famous novelty foot juggler, was one of the features, and showed some clever foot work with the barrel and wheel, keeping time to the piano.

Madame Helen Fremill's solo, "Bonnie Bessie of Dundee," was very much enjoyed, and she responed gracefully to an encore. Her singing of the Scotch selection made an instant hit, especially with those of that nationality. She has a voice of great sweetness and of wide range and power. Her encore, "I Wonder if You'll always Call Me Honey!" was well received.

There was also a clever bag-punching act, keeping time to music.

Then a mowelty was introduced, which was very amusing. The manager selected eight boys, all about ten years of age. He had them take off their boots and put them in a heap on the stage. The boys after this operation all sat down on the front of the platform in a row. They were blind-folded, and on the word were to turn around and run to the pile of boots, select their own, put them on and lace them, and who ever did so would receive 50 cents. It was certainly a great hit with the small boys. Next on the boards was a barrel jumping act, which was a very clever turn, though rather handicapped for room, and held the attention of the audience all through the act.

Last came Prof. Swain and his trained dogs, which were certainly clever. These wonderfully trained canines would do almost everything asked of them, and do it well, too. The show concluded by Prof. Swain outside and sending one of the smaller dogs up the ladder fifty feet high, the dog jumping off the platform at the top.

Before announcing the first number, Mr. J. H. Ryan, the Manager, made a short introductory speech, in which he stated that he had met with considerable loss and disappointment in getting started, but that everything would proceed as advertised, and he would endeavour to put on as good a show as could be found anywhere, and if Mr. Ryan only gives as good an entertainment during the season as yesterday afternoon his success is certain. He will run the entertainments all summer, with a complete change of bill every week.

The large hall was devoted to dancing and many enjoyed the exercise.

EMPIRE DAY IN FIFTH WARD

How it Was Celebrated in the School on Tuesday.

The loyalty of the youthful citizens of the Fifth Ward was amply in evidence to-day by the enthusiastic manner in which they celebrated Empire Day. In the forenoon the Kindergarten pupils were on parade and presented a very pretty sight each pupil carrying a Union Jack.

In the afternoon the pupils of the various rooms assembled "en masse" in the Kindergarten room which was decorated with flags for the occasion. The programme consisted of patriotic songs, which were sung with an enthusiasm which boded well for the patriotism of the rising generation, and a stirring and inspiring patriotic address by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

Mr. Langfeldt, after paying a tribute to our late Queen spoke for some time on the importance of celebrating Empire Day, the freedom of our British institutions and the part each of us has to play in our Empire.

A hearty vote of thanks, moved by Arthur Packenham and seconded by Bert Gillespie was tendered to Mr. Langfeldt, for his excellent address.

The programme was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem and "Three Rousing British Cheers."

DOMINION DAY AT HAVELOCK

Citizens Decide to Hold Demstration on July 1st.

An Accident to Mr. H. T. Andrews—Improvements to C.P.R. Round House.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Havelock, May 24.—Mr. Geo. Benor, of Campbellford, spent Friday in town on business.

Miss Maggie Dorricott left on Thursday afternoon for an extended visit to friends in Toronto.

A very pleasant time was spent by the young people of St. John's Church at a proverb social given in the basement last Thursday evening.

The grade, which has been an eye sore for a number of years along the front of Mr. Patrick Sheridan's is now being cut down and this will greatly add to the appearance of the street.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred last Friday, when H. T. Andrews was attending to his young horse. The animal got frightened at a sheet of paper which dropped in the stall and shot up its hind feet. The caulks in the shoes caught Mr. Andrews in his trousers, pulling him down. The horse, now thoroughly frightened, commenced to jump with Mr. Andrews still under his feet. He is lame yet from the effects of the scrimmage.

A number of residents in town are having the granolithic walks laid up to their doors.

Mr. Wm. Cooper is laid up with a very bad sprained ankle.

The town boys' baseball team goes to Marmora on the 24th, where they play Sterling. The boys are confident of winning.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed at a party given by Mr. R. Nolan of town, at his residence on Monday evening.

The meeting, which was adjourned a week ago Friday for the purpose of discussing whether to celebrate the 1st July or not was called again Monday night May 22nd. A new meeting was called although the following business was transacted:—

Moved by G. Sills, seconded by T. E. Dineen, that Dr. J. Holdcroft, be made chairman.

Moved by W. B. Ritchie, seconded by R. E. White, that Mr. J. Campany, be made chairman. This was put to a vote, and Dr. Holdcroft was elected by a majority of 2, the vote standing 9-7.

Moved by Jas. Watson, seconded by W. Jones, that C. B. Jennerette be elected secretary.—Carried.

Moved by J. F. Lancaster, seconded by J. Boyd, that I. Campany be made treasurer.—Carried.

All the committees were appointed to look after the sports of the day.

Baseball, lacrosse, small sports, brass band, horse racing, and a parade and a possible balloon ascension. The programme will likely start in the morning as there is such a large list of sports and a good selection of purses being put up, that the whole day will likely be needed to run everything off satisfactorily.

It is expected that a large number of improvements will be added to the now up-to-date round house of the C.P.R. at this point. A machine shop with the latest machines will be installed in connection with the above.

OMEMEE

Farmers Purchasing High-Bred Stock —Police Court Notes.

From our own Correspondent)

Omemee, May 23rd. — The weather is very cool and unseasonable, and vegetation is slow.

The Omemee Football Team suffered defeat last Friday at Peterborough. They beat the Business College here at Omemee, and feel they can repeat the dose.

The fruit prospects were never better.

"The Home Missionary at Work," illustrated by many new and excellent views, will be given in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening next, and promises to be instructive and entertaining in every respect.

The following parties have purchased the imported horses brought here from Scotland: George McQuade, has bought a 3 year old black stallion, 1550 lbs., for $1600. He will be kept in his own stables; E. Costello has bought Sir Ben, for $1000; he is a four year old, and weighs 2000 lbs. Jas. Stewart, Franklin, Miss Renwick. All these horses have taken prizes in Scotland.

There was a police court held here on Monday by Col. Deacon. Some school boys were found guilty of breaking windows in a vacant house in a country section north of here, and fined $4. Messrs. O'Connor and Weldon were the lawyers represented.

DR. PITCHER CURES A PETROLIA MAN

A Splendid Tribute From Mr. G. F. Stone of That Town.

Backache and Bladder Trouble Made Him Unfit for Work—Now He is Splendid

In the town of Petrolia there are many people who have a good word to say for Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets as being the best remedy for backache, kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Mr. G. F. Stone, when spoken to a short time ago, related his experience as follows:

"I had been having so much lameness in the small of my back, constant dull aching over my kidneys, that I was depressed and unfit for anything. It did not pass off as formerly, but began to affect my kidneys; the bladder was also affected, causing frequent inclination to urinate. After I began using Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets, all those troubles disappeared. I have had no remedy that acted so promptly before. They caused no inconvenience whatever. I would not have known that I was taking medicine where it not for the beneficial effects.

In purchasing Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets see that Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature are on the package.

Price, 50 cents a box, or three boxes for $1.25, at druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont. 45

DISRESPECT OF LAW.

There seems to be something wrong with the moral training of our youngsters — at least the results are not satisfactory. There seems to be utter disrespect for authority. Several days ago warnings were posted against discharging squibs, crackers, and other explosives within the town. Yesterday there seemed to be as much of this sort of amusement as ever, no attention whatever having been paid to the prohibition. Everybody recognizes how difficult it is for the police to catch offenders in the act and to prove a charge of breaking the bylaw. The difficulty is intensified by the fact that parents must have known that their children were breaking the bylaw. What's the use of passing bylaws that cannot, or will not, be enforced. Such laws tend only to bring all law into contempt, and lead to wholesale lawbreaking. We have over a thousand civic bylaws, many of them so broken every day that if all cases of such offenders were prosecuted, and punishment inflicted, half of our population would be in jail. For instance the bylaw against using the pavements for riding on bicycles, is more generally broken than observed. Old men, young men, boys, preachers, lawyers and aldermen, can be seen using the pavements for their wheels. Of course they have a ready answer, if not a justification — the walks make good wheeling, while the majority of the streets are too rough for the safe and comfortable use of a wheel. It may be held that a breach of such bylaws is a small thing. It is a great thing. In itself an isolated breach of such bylaws is a trifle, but when scorn or disrespect of bylaws are the prevailing conditions, it is a serious matter — apparently small, but like a leak in a Holland dyke, capable of destructive results.

CANADA AND IMPERIAL NAVY

The Pall Mall Gazette, in referring to the outrage of the Uruguayan Government, upon the crew of a Canadian vessel, says that the incident should impress upon Canadians the anomoly of the present system, whereby the navy defends the whole Empire, one portion bearing the whole cost. This seems plausible upon the face of it, but it is a question whether if the source of strength, represented by the colonies, were removed, the central portion of the Empire would have much to bear the cost with. Seeing that Great Britain and Ireland are only a speck upon the map of the world, they would soon dwarf into isolated insignificance, without the resources of the remaining portion of the Empire. The colonies may cost the central government something but it seems that they are worth the cost. And it also seems that the colonies are a greater source of strength, by using their financial resources to develop the national resources, with the resultant trade, than they would be if they wasted their funds in maintaining expensive fleets, to the neglect of the development of commerce, which is, after all, the true source of strength of the Empire. The navy is a mere incident in comparison, subordinate to the main enterprise of imperial activity. Canada does a good deal towards the defence and strengthening of the Empire. If Canada can act as the commissariat department—the granary of the Empire, if she maintains a good strong militia, if she maintains a garrison of imperial troops, she is doing a good deal — more than these things being absent — she would do by manning a fleet of half a dozen battleships.

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

(Brantford Expositor.)

When in Opposition Mr. Whitney and his associates took strong grounds against most of the railway subsidies which were proposed by the Ross Government, although when their own constituencies were being attended Conservatives were found to be quite as ready as Liberals to vote for them. Now that he is in power, Mr. Whitney announces that he will have no subsidies to propose during the session now drawing to a close, but for the future he reserves the right to grant them, more particularly in New Ontario, when a sufficiently good case has been made out. In taking this position he differs but little from the general policy of his predecessors, with this exception, that the field is now fairly well covered and consequently there is less necessity now for subventions being given to railroad enterprises than there has been in the past.

Up to and including 1903, cash subsidies aggregating $7,337,835 have been voted by the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, as also land grants to the extent of 7,200,000 acres, though of the latter but little has yet been earned. In addition, there are cash subsidies not yet earned amounting to $2,411,400, but some of these have not been cancelled, and other will not be earned.

Save in most exceptional cases, the province is no longer granting cash subsidies, but is aiding railroads by means of grants of land—lands situated along the route of the proposed road—and under conditions of settlement by which the companies only obtain about as much land as the parties placed on lands by them, under their contract, would obtain from the government under the ordinary regulations as to settlement. Practically all such lands were absolutely worthless without a railway, and the construction of a railway through them not only promotes the settlement of the country, but gives value to the lands and timber retained by the government. It may fairly be said, therefore that roads constructed in that way not only cost the province nothing, but are in reality revenue producers.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Who says that Premier Balfour is not in favour of Colonial preference? He has shown it by purchasing an estate in Manitoba. If this be true a great impetus will have been given to North-west development. Mankind has been compared to sheep—inclined to follow the leader. And if the Premier Minister of the Empire sets the example of becoming a North-west farmer, his example will have more force than many immigration pamphlet sermons.

Mr. Whitney is reaping no little glory — from his adulators—for his hostility to Provincial railway bonuses. In this he deserves no particular credit, except as it is another plank of the policy the recent Ross Government he has adopted. Only in rare and exceptional cases did the Liberal Government grant railway bonuses, because the demand has been pretty fully supplied, and the latter day bonuses and land grants have had conditions attached which brought compensating advantages to the country. An article published elsewhere from the Brantford Expositor clearly sets forth the situation.

This is the lynching record of the United States for four and one-half years:—

1901	135
1902	96
1903	104
1904	89
1905 (January 1 to May 12)	16

There is a big decrease for 1905. A contemporary asks if it can be possible that our strenuous American cousins have run out of rope? Or is it more probable that the recent large influx of Hungarians, Italians and other foreigners, has introduced modifying influences of civilization?

The Conservative Government of Ontario, not satisfied with a remarkably heavy bill of expenditure piled up at their opening session, are seeking new fields for employment of provincial funds, to assume provincial responsibility for developing power at Niagara Falls and selling it at cost to consumers, a process which Hon. Mr. Beck airily calculates could be done with a revenue return to the province of $250,000 a year. Investing $900,000 a year in University support at the expense of the Public Schools, is simple compared with running Niagara Falls by Government machinery. The latter may be practicable but its practicability needs a little better demonstration than the theorising of a Cabinet Minister who is not claimed to be an expert authority.

Toronto has agreed upon the principle of a bylaw to transfer street cleaning and garbage to the Medical Health Department of the city. Some such addition of power and authority transferred to the Peterborough Board of Health would bring good results. At present the local Board of Health has no more effective power than a husband at housecleaning time, nor even as much for the husband if he is good is allowed to pay the cost. The Board of Health has no funds and no means of carrying out its desires. It is simply an advisory body and its advice is followed about as much as is the good advice our friends are accustomed to shower upon us. We admit that it is good for somebody else to act upon, and there is an end of it. The Town Council heartily recognizes the wisdom of the decrees of the Board of Health—as an abstract proposition—but the idea of acting upon it is heterodox—it would be doing something besides talk.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentence paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

WILSON COWLING KICKED TO DEATH

Shocking Accident Which Occurred in Cavan--Only Son of Mr. Thos. Cowling Killed by Horse in His Father's Stable--Was Feeding Horse When the Animal Kicked Him, Fracturing His Skull and Penetrating the Brain--Lived Seven and a Half Hours and Died on the Way to Nicholls Hospital.

A shocking death occurred in Cavan on Sunday night. Wilson Cowling the only son of Mr. Thos. Cowling, whose farm is on the 4th line of Cavan, about two miles southeast of Millbrook, was feeding a horse in the stable, when the animal kicked him in the head, the calk of the shoe penetrating the skull and injuring the brain.

The unfortunate boy was only 12 years of age, and was engaged in helping his father doing the chores on the farm. The latter had taken the milk pails, and gone to the cow stable near that where the horses were, and the boy went into the latters' stable to feed and water them.

In a few minutes his father heard a noise in the adjoining stable and ran in to find his son lying on the floor unconscious, with his head crushed, where the horse's shoe had struck it. One foot had hit the boy in the head inflicting the injury mentioned, and the other had hit him on the leg.

The injured boy was carried into the house, and what assistance could be rendered was given by his parents, until a doctor could be procured.

Fears were entertained for his recovery, and it was decided to bring him to the Nicholls Hospital here, and the injured lad was placed in a buggy and the trip to Peterborough commenced, but the injuries were so serious that he expired while on the road, never having regained consciousness.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to the Centretown Cemetery, Northumberland Township.

The deceased was the only child, and his parents have the sincere sympathy of the community in their trouble.

FROST IS NOT ALWAYS A MATTER OF LATITUDE

Heavy Frosts in Niagara District Escape Peterborough.

Low temperature, and frost, are not a matter of latitude altogether. In the Niagara district, at least a degree farther south than this district, with temperature softened by the proximity of Lakes Erie and Ontario, on Saturday night there was a heavy frost, which did much damage, and on Tuesday night there was another frost, which cut down what the previous frost spared — tomatoes and early strawberries suffering greatly. In Peterborough we have had a little hoar frost, and the thermometer got down to 33 degrees on two occasions, but no reports of any damage, except to very tender plants, are to hand.

FIRST RIVER TRIP OF SEASON

Band Excursion Yesterday Was Well Patronized.

An Enjoyable Day's Outing at Jubilee Point—"City" Carries 300 Excursionists.

The first excursion down the river took place yesterday when the 57th Band took about 300 excursionists by the steamer "City of Peterborough" to Jubilee Point and the day was a thoroughly enjoyable one from every standpoint, many taking advantage of the first trip down the Otonabee to visit the popular Rice Lake summer resort.

Upon arrival at the point dinner was partaken of, mine host Gilman serving the wants of the visitors to their entire satisfaction.

During the afternoon the band rendered a concert in the pavilion, and dancing was enjoyed by the majority of the excursionists. A start for home was made at five o'clock and the wharf was reached at 8.30, a thoroughly enjoyable day having been spent.

The ceremony took place at 11 o'clock under an arch appropriately decorated, and was performed by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church.

There was no bridesmaid or best man, her borther, Walter, giving the bride away. Only a few immediate relatives were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pilling, Mrs. Wm. Pilling, Miss Gertie Pilling, Mrs. George Benton, Mrs. Liddell, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Wallace.

The happy couple left on the 11.45 train for Kingston, Tweed, and points east. They will return on Saturday, when a reception will be given at the home of her mother, where they will reside for some time, to their many friends. The young couple received many handsome and beautiful presents.

BOUNDARIES WILL NOT BE CHANGED

Rural Deaneries Will Remain As They are at Present.

This Was Decided Upon at a Joint Meeting Yesterday.

The joint meeting of the Rural Deaneries of Peterborough and Haliburton held yesterday at Lindsay to discuss the re-arrangement of the boundaries was unproductive of results and the consequence is that the boundaries will remain the same as formerly. Those present at the meeting, which was presided over by Rev. John Creighton, of Blackstock, were :—Rural Dean Davidson, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Wm. Major of Peterborough; Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield; Rev. Christopher Lord of Apsley; Rev. J. Creighton, Blackstock; Rural Dean Creighton, Bobcaygeon; Rev. Mr. Siward, Kinmount; Rev. C. H. Marsh, Lindsay; Rev. E. W. Pickford, Norwood.

A lengthy discussion took place on the proposal to combine the two northern deaneries, but nothing was done with reference to it, the clergymen of the Haliburton Deanery being opposed to the contemplated amalgamation, while those from this Deanery were strong supporters of it.

The meeting adjourned without any action being decided on, and it is probable that nothing will be done, since the matter has been frequently discussed in the past and the same opposition has developed at each meeting held to consider it.

The members of the local staff of the Bank of Montreal received the pleasing intelligence on Tuesday that they were to be given a bonus amounting to 17 1-2 per cent of their salary. The balance to credit of profit and loss account was $583,196.01 to which was added the profits making $1,365,156.41. A dividend of 5 per cent. (being at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum,) and amounting to $700,000.00 was paid, leaving the balance to the profit and loss, $665,156.41.

PETERBOROUGHS WON FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Masterly Work of Douglas, Who Was Well Supported by Other Members of Team.

Local Team Got Off to a Good Start — Many Supporters Cheer Team on to Victory.

Yesterday the Lindsay Baseball Team, champions in 1904 of the Midland League, and playing under the shadow of the much coveted banner, representing that championship, went down to defeat in the first championship game of the season, their victors being Manager MacEwan's bunch of heavy hitters, and the figures 5-2 represent the score by which the game was won by the visiting team.

It was a gala day in Scugogville yesterday, for was not the champion Lindsay team about to start off upon another glorious season of victories?

Promptly at two o'clock the widely announced procession started from the head of Kent street for the ball grounds. The procession was headed by the Sylvester Brass Band and the visiting team followed, on foot. The home nine was next and a number of carriages carrying the club officers brought up the rear.

It was an auspicious opening of the Midland League season, as far as the ceremonial part was concerned, but from a championship standpoint it was disastrous to the Lindsay aggregation of erstwhile ball players and the last year's champions, who, from time immemorial have won at home, were sent down to defeat by a team which outbatted and outplayed them.

Douglas excelled himself, allowing only two scratchy hits, while the visitors piled up nine against the two pitchers who did the twirling for the homesters, one of them a southpaw, and the other, a boy, with a spectacular delivery and a wide outcurve which fooled some of the visitors. But he was landed on for several hits and his support was not of the best, Cinnamon's throwing to bases being open to improvement. On the other hand, Douglas was given good support, except in the first innings, when on two errors the home team scored as many runs, but this was the last time they brought men over the home plate, though they once got three men on bases. Douglas however, was invincible in tight places, and fanned out the heavy hitters such as Workman, McGill and Cinnamon.

A high wind blew over the field fooling the fielders somewhat, but in spite of this disadvantage, some brilliant plays were made, Connor's sensational running catch of a fly in deep centre and Rattray's catch of a difficult foul fly, for which he had to run to the fence being among the number.

The attendance was large but fully half of the spectators were supporters of the visiting team and wore blue and white ribbons, and their voices were used to cheer the team on to victory.

The train upon which the team went in the morning, carried a large number of supporters, while well on to a hundred went by the 11.45 train via Millbrook.

The Peterborough team was well treated and there was hardly a disputed decision on the field, both teams entertaining the best of feeling for each other. J.H. Rosevear, of Port Hope, handled the indicator and did it well, his work being satisfactory to both teams.

The Peterborough team in a League game showed that when called upon they can "deliver the goods," and if they continue on the same line throughout the season with the improvement which further practice will give, this year should be one in which they will achieve fame.

Rattray was in the game yesterday, his arm being in good condition and he proved his ability to the satisfaction of the fans, and promises to become a favourite. He uses his head well and his throwing to bases is perfect.

The Lindsay team outside of the pitching staff is practically the same as the last year's nine, the infield being identical with that of 1904, except that Mark replaces Miller at short, and his work there did not stamp him as a brilliant success in that position.

"Curly" MacLachlan, who pitched them into the championship last year, is conspicuous by his absence this season, his place being filled by a southpaw, Leeson, who is fair, and who lasted four innings yesterday, his place being taken by Burnham, a youngster, who looks like a comer. Only two runs were scored off him, and one of these was due to a high throw to second by Cinnamon. He ties himself up into a knot before delivering the ball, and unwinds with a quick jerk. He throws a wide out curve and it fooled some of the heavy hitters. Killen is also a new man on the field where he may be of some assistance to the team, but his stick work is below par.

Upon arrival at the grounds, and after the work-out, to do the thing up in proper style, and give it an air of importance, the first ball was pitched by Mr. S. Fox, M. P. P., to J. Carew at bat, Ald. O'Reilly, the finance minister of the town council, doing the backstop work, with S. Parkin as umpire. Poising the ball in mid-air the representative of West Victoria in the Legislature, applied the sativa and, after the preliminary unwinding process, which no doubt furnished the idea to Burnham, hurled the ball in the direction of the home plate. It was undoubtedly a "spit" ball, and the pitcher's control was faulty, but after the catcher had recovered the ball, and had returned to his post, the umpire declared the batter out, and the side retired.

The Game.

T. Pilling, who led off for the visitors, got to first on a nice grounder to left, but was caught off the base on Shea's fly to Burnham, who doubled up to McGill. Stayne flew out to Menzies.

By a couple of errors the home team scored two in their half, the only runs scored by them in the game. McGill drove one to Stayne, which the latter, in his effort to catch the runner at first, threw low, the ball going through Pilling's legs, and McGill reached third, and scored on Shea's fumble of Mark's drive, after Workman had fanned. Cinnamon got his base on four wide ones, and Leeson sacrificed. Burnham drove one to right, which the wind carried from Callaghan, and Mark crossed the plate. The innings ended with the score 2—0.

Douglas led off in the second, but was out on a grounder to Workman. Rattary got first on Mark's error, and by some nice work stole second and third, but died then, Callaghan striking out and J. Pilling flew to Killen. It was a case of one, two, three, for the home team in the next, Menzies being out on a grounder to Stayne, Killen, on Douglas' assist, and Stalker flew to J. Pilling.

In the third, Connors, who by the way, is getting pretty heady with the stick, sent a hot one at Mark, which he fell down on, and the clever centre fielder stole second and third. Sheridan popped up a foul fly, but T. Pilling hit to third. Shea sacrificed, scoring Connors; Stayne came to bat and drove out a two-bagger, scoring T. Pilling, and making it even up. Douglas followed with another double and Stayne crossed the plate, Rattray singled but Callaghan was out at first. The score now stood 3—3.

It looked pretty good for the home team in their half. Connors dropped McGill's fly, but the latter was forced out at second by Workman, Mark beat out Shea's throw to first, and Cinnamon had Carpe called on him, but Rattay dropped the ball. The runner was caught at first, but Mark and Workman advanced one. Leeson was hit by pitched ball, and with the bases full and two out, Burnham went to bat. It was up to him, but Douglas was master of the situation and struck the batter out.

There was nothing doing in the fourth. J. Pilling fanned, and Connors and Sheridan flew to centre field. It was equally short in the second half, Menzies flying to Shea, Killen being out, pitcher to first, and Stalker on a liner to J. Pilling.

Burnham went in to pitch in the fifth, and there was nothing doing, T. Pilling singled, Shea flew out, and Stayne and Rattary fanned, after Douglas had got to first on being hit. Douglas, however, turned the tables, on the home team in the last half, striking out McGill and Workman in succession. Mark was out on a pop fly to Shea.

The visitors got two men on bases in the sixth, but no score resulted. Callaghan had three strikes called on him, and J. Pilling flew to Workman. Connors drove the first ball pitched to him to left field for a single, and Sheridan got his base on balls. T. Pilling flew out to Burnham, however, and the side was retired. Douglas made short work of the Lindsay batters in their half, putting Cinnamon out at first, fanning Leeson, and Burnham was out on a grounder to Shea.

The next was the lucky seventh for the visitors. Shea led off with a single over Workman's head, stole second and scored on Cinnamon's high throw in an attempt to catch him at second. Stayne lined out his second two bagger for the day, but Douglas and Rattary fanned, and Callaghan was out on a grounder to third. The score board now read 6—2.

Menzies and Killen were out on grounders to short stop and pitcher respectively; Stalker was given 4 pass, but McGill flew out to Stayne. There was nothing doing in the eighth. J. Pilling flew to workman, Connors fanned, and Sheridan flew to Leeson. The home team was retired in their half on three brilliant plays. Workman drove a grass-cutter between first and second, which J. Pilling fielded, and caught the batter at first. Marks was out on a foul fly, which Rattary got, after running to the fence for, and Cinnamon drove a high fly which Connors got after a hard run.

The visitors added another in the ninth. T. Pilling was out on a grounder to short stop. Shea singled and was advanced on Stayne's sacrifice. Douglas lined the ball to left, scoring Shea; Rattray retired the side, striking out. The score was now 5—2, at which figure it remained, Leeson, Burnham and Menzies, the only three batters for the home team to face the pitcher, going out on grounders to second, third and short stop. The game ended with the score 5—2.

ONE BOX OF DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, as many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them:—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and fearing my danger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

HEALTHY OLD AGE

There is No Reason Why People of Three Score Years and Ten Cannot Be Active, Bright and Healthy. Nature's Way of Making Old People Well.

In old people, no matter how healthy the individual may otherwise be, there is often a tendency to coldness of the extremities, sluggishness of the circulation, torpidity of the liver and constipation. This tendency is really a condition, and one of the many accompaniments of old age and not a disease. If there is one remedy more peculiarly adapted for this condition than another, that remedy is Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They impart energy to the whole system, increase the circulation, increase the flow of digestive juices, thus improving the stomach action and nutrition. They quickly relieve all unpleasant symptoms usually experienced by old people, resulting in torpidity of the liver, constipation, feeble circulation, headaches, etc. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills are of inestimable value not only in advanced age, but also in people of all ages. They prevent premature wrinkles, give a health glow to the skin, and render their antiseptic and blood cleansing influences the complexion retains its freshness, while sallowness permanently disappears. Hundreds of grateful old ladies in their letters write: "Your pills make me look and feel ten years younger. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always make old age comfortable and promote digestion and nutrition by their specific action on the stomach, liver and bowels. They always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents at all dealers.

PROROGATION HELD TO-DAY.

The Legislature Concluded Its Business On Tuesday.

MANY BILLS WERE PASSED

Mr. Harcourt Warned the Treasurer That He Was Laying Up Trouble For Himself in the New Succession Duties, Which Might Easily Be Evaded — Closing Session Largely Routine.

Toronto, May 25.—The Legislature closed up its business on Tuesday and is ready for prorogation to-day.

The session began at 3 o'clock. Several bills were withdrawn. Hon. Mr. Monteith's County Councils bill, Mr. Ferguson's bill to amend the land titles act. Mr. Tucker's bill to widen sleigh runners, and Mr. Lennox's bill respecting conveyancing.

Amending Statute Law.

Mr. Whitney's omnibus bill, amending the statute law, was explained in detail by him. It makes public school inspectors eligible as members of the Legislature. It is provided that a registrar may not take any fee except his salary and all fees shall form a part of the consolidated revenue fund, and shall be paid in stamps; a fee of $2 shall be paid in every civil case in the High Court entered for trial to provide a fund to enable a reduction to be made to litigants for copies of evidence; any money standing to the credit of the shorthand reporters' fund shall, after September 1, be paid over to the Provincial Treasurer. Where a municipality is a party to a suit the jurors shall be selected from other municipalities. The County Council may increase the fee allowed jurors to $3 per day. Before a bill is registered an affidavit shall be filed by the executors, or administrators, showing that an account has been filed with the surrogate registrars, pursuant to the succession duty act. Chattels affixed to realty are to remain subject to lien. Any town, township or village within the County may, with the consent of the County, acquire any toll road within or adjoining such municipality and may provide for payment out of the general funds, and shall thenceforward maintain the same. The time for compliance with the act respecting houses of refuge is extended to 1908. In respect to the payment of taxes to separate schools any notice given in pursuance of a resolution by the directors of a company shall be deemed to be sufficient. Sleigh runners are to be not less than four feet apart; this applies to sleighs manufactured after December 1, 1906, and does not apply to cutters. A penalty of not more than $10 nor less than $5 is provided for under the act.

Motion to Withdraw Bill.

On motion of Mr. Whitney, Mr. Ferguson's bill to amend the land titles act was withdrawn. Mr. Tucker objected to the bill and asked that it be held over till next year, but the promoter declined to withdraw it and the Premier's motion was the result.

Hon. Mr. Hanna presented the report of the university commission, appointed to enquire into certain charges against the faculty. It was ordered that it be printed.

Before the land grants bill went through an amendment was inserted to make it plain that it applies only to volunteers, so that speculators may not benefit.

At the suggestion of the Mayor of Toronto, a provision was inserted in the university bill to authorise the issue of debentures for 40 years instead of 30 years.

In committee of the whole House on Col. Matheson's succession duties bill, Mr. Harcourt thought the Provincial Treasurer was making trouble for himself by changes made in the succession duties act. A revenue easy of collection was required, and one not easy of evasion. The section providing for debt or incumbrance opened the door for such evasion, and would be made use of. He hoped it was not too late to consider whether he had not made a false step. The other amendments were largely taken from the English acts, but in minor matters only, whereas in the fundamental matter the Government had departed from the English practice. He liked the graded feature.

Mr. Ross: Does the hon. gentleman expect a much larger revenue under this act?

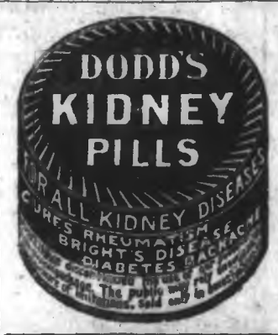
Col. Matheson: Yes, we expect a much large revenue.

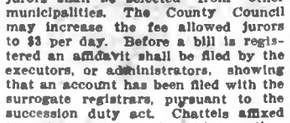
The bill passed.

A large number of bills were read a third time and passed.

Adjournment Till Thursday.

At 6.30 the Premier moved that when the House adjourned it adjourn till Thursday at 3 p. m. The House then adjourned, the members engaging in the usual diversion of pelting each other with order sheets and cushions. In conclusion the National Anthem was sung by all present.





FROM HEAD TO FOOT

you feel the good that's done by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cleanses, regulates and invigorates Stomach, Liver and Bowels and so purifies the blood. And through the blood, it cleanses, repairs, and invigorates the whole system.

In recovering from "grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other exhausting diseases, nothing can equal it as an appetizing, restorative tonic to build up needed flesh and strength. It rouses every organ into natural action, promotes all the bodily functions, and restores health and vigor.

For every disease that comes from foul or Weak Stomach, a torpid Liver or impure Blood, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, or Scrofulous affections, the "Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Don't be hypnotized, wheedled, or over persuaded into accepting a substitute only that some selfish medicine seller may make a greater profit on the inferior article. The "Discovery" has a great record of nearly forty years with thousands of cures behind it.

Dear Sir—Several years ago my blood became impoverished and I became run down in health. I had no appetite, could not sleep, and was practically unfitted for work. Suffered from innumerable boils and was in bad shape. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery relieved me of my wretched condition. The medicine built up my system and restored me to a normal condition of health. I can speak most highly also, of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has been used in my family for years in cases of female trouble.

Mrs. Mary Livermore Dead.

Melrose, Mass., May 25.—Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, the well-known writer and reformer, died at her home here Tuesday forenoon.

Mrs. Mary Ashton Livermore was born in Boston on December 19, 1820, and was active in the anti-slavery agitation and Washingtonian temperance movement. During the civil war she took a leading part in the work of the United States sanitary commission. She delivered lectures all over this country and in England, and Scotland, and was the author of many books.

The World's Best Spring Medicine—

Paine's Celery Compound

Paine's Celery Compound is the only spring medicine that the best physicians are now recommending, because no other remedy can so quickly bring new and vigorous health to the ailing and broken down.

Paine's Celery Compound, cures disease by first purifying the blood and strengthening the nerves. It makes the weak strong and keeps them in good health. Seeing that experience (of tons of thousands has proven that Paine's Celery Compound is the best of all spring medicines, it is foolish and suicidal to defer its use. One or two bottles used at this time will quickly banish all symptoms of disease and fit you for the work and duties of spring and summer.

When you ask for Paine's Celery Compound see that you get the genuine with the name PAINE'S and the STALK of CELERY; other celery preparations are deceptions.

CHICAGO STRIKE GROWS.

Employers Demand Unconditional Surrender By the Teamsters.

Chicago, May 25.—Final rejection of the union teamsters' demands, especially those of the express drivers, was officially announced yesterday by the employers, thus annulling any present settlement of the teamsters' strike. The employers demand unconditional surrender. The employers sent their goods all over the city under police protection without encountering violence. The strike in the lumber yards spread rapidly; and nearly all lumber business is at a standstill. One cause for this condition was that the city was unable to afford the drivers police protection.

Mayor Dunne last night issued a call for 1,000 extra policemen. This will be the second 1,000 of extra policemen sworn in since the beginning of the strike. Sheriff Barrett yesterday swore in several hundred deputies.

Death of Major Gray, C. E.

Toronto, May 25.—Major Henry A. Gray, M. Inst., C. E., engineer in charge of the public works of Canada, died Tuesday. He caught a severe cold, which developed into an attack of pneumonia, while on an inspection tour at Fort Frances, Rainy River District, in connected with the Dominion Government power concessions. Major Gray was widely known throughout Canada, and his sudden death will be a severe shock to his many friends. He was born at Edgbaston, near Birmingham, England, November 21, 1842.

Maybee and Coste Ready.

Washington, May 25.—J. P. Maybee of Toronto and Louis Coste of Ottawa, two of the three British members of the deep-waterways commission appointed to meet with commissioners of the United States, to discuss questions involved in international waterways, particularly between the United States and Canada, called on the president yesterday. They were introduced by Charles B. Warren, counsel for the American commissioners. The point commission is to assemble here to-day, if possible.

—Some way or other it always happens that the judicious advertising succeeds. Judicious means many things. Some people better never advertise. Managers who are honest, whose advertisements mislead and whose shows disappoint, they had better let advertising alone. The managers of Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels, endeavour to advertise nothing but what they can show. They are in a class by themselves, being the only recognized negro minstrels that play the first class theatres, and cannot afford to mislead their patrons. Some show people are careless in their statements. They become so accustomed to writing "Biggest," "Grandest," "Best," and "World's largest," that they can only think in superlatives. They mean to be honest, and probably are.

still follow antiquated methods of raising cake, biscuit, bread and pastry with home-made mixtures of what they suppose to be cream of tartar and soda.

They do not know that these articles as now sold in the groceries are almost anything else but cream of tartar and soda.

The best housekeepers use the Royal Baking Powder instead. Its scientific composition insures uniform results. Only by its use can the finest flavored, most wholesome cake, biscuit and pastry be produced. To any housekeeper who has not used the Royal Baking Powder we would like to send our Cook Book, free. LACROSSE TEAM'S FIRST VICTORY

Started Off a Successful Season Yesterday at Cannington.

Defeated That Team by 4-3 in a Strenuous Game—A Pleasant Trip.

The local sporting aggregation were very successful yesterday. The senior lacrosse team which played in Cannington, came home the victors by a score of 4-3, and started auspiciously on a season which promises to be a most successful one.

The team this year shows signs of being the strongest in a number of years, and the supporters may be prepared to see a team which will bring credit to the town in the lacrosse world.

The holiday was celebrated in Cannington with a programme of sports, including horse races, baseball, and lacrosse games. The local team was well entertained and had a very pleasant day, not the least enjoyable part being the fact that they came home victorious.

A procession headed by the village band and participated in by the school children, visiting lacrosse and baseball teams, etc., paraded the streets to the grounds upon which the game was played.

The game was somewhat strenuous, due largely to the laxity of the referee. A Cannington man, who allowed everything to go. The boys were royally entertained, however, and have nothing but the best words for the Cannington team, Rev. A. W. Martin, Presbyterian minister of that town, and an enthusiastic lacrosseist was energetic in entertaining the visiting team, and did all in his power to make their visit pleasant.

At three-fourth time the score was a tie, three all, and during the last period the visitors scored another and a fifth was sent in just as the time-keeper's whistle blew for full time. The local team was:—

Goal, Boyle; point, Dillon; cover, Glover; defence, Morgan, Meta, Donovan; centre, Hamilton; home, Ford, Bea, Cavanah; outside home, McCoy, inside home, Judd.

BASEBALL.

Charlotte Street Guild Baseball team yesterday defeated a Campbellford team at home by a score of 21-4. Roddy and Voeltz did the twirling for the winners.

• • • •

Eight consecutive wins is the record of the as yet undefeated B.A.C. and the last of these victories was achieved yesterday morning when they defeated the St. Paul's Guild team, the score being 10-6 in a seven innings game. It was played on the McDonel street grounds and was witnessed by a number of spectators.

R. P. Watt and Alex. Gillespie did the twirling for the Guild team, while R. N. Jolliffe was in the box for the Bachelors and did great execution among the opposing batsmen, and had it not been for some errors on the part of the infield and backstop the score would have been smaller.

The teams were:—

A large bunch of fans were at the Oval yesterday to witness the baseball game between the Auburns of town, and the McDonalds of the Manufacturers' League, Toronto. The latter fully intended to play contrary to what some people thought and came as far as Port Hope, expecting to get railway connection with Peterborough in time to play. This, however, was impossible, and the game had to be called off. The Queen City team are a pretty fast aggregation and would have given the local plenty of exercise to win out.

• • • •

The Quaker Baseball team will practise this evening. A full attendance of members is requested in order that a team may be chosen.

• • • •

On Saturday afternoon the local senior team will play a game with the Langmuir Mfg. Co's team, of Toronto, a fast aggregation of ball players.

• • • •

The George Street Guild team will practise to-night. All the players are asked to be on hand.

• • • •

The Guild League Executive will meet to-night.

• • • •

The Night Owls journeyed to Campbellford yesterday and in a rattling good game of baseball defeated the Juniors of that town by the decisive score of 11-5. The local team played a good game and every boy put up the game of his life. In addition to this they spent a very pleasant day and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

• • • •

To-night the Guild League Executive will meet at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock.

LACROSSE.

The Young Peterborough lacrosse team played the senior Millbrook aggregation yesterday in Millbrook, and were defeated, the score being 2-1. The half-time score was a tie—one all.

FOOTBALL.

The Quakers will practise to-night at the Driving Park at 7 o'clock.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington County, Ont., writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs along with other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which built her up."

FIGHTING ALONG THE ENTIRE LINE

Engagements Between Jap and Russian are General—Jap Artillery Closing Up—Preliminary Stages of the Long-Looked-For Battle Are Under Way North of the Hun River — Admiral Avellan Discloses Rojestvensky's Intention to Force Battle on Vice-Admiral Togo.

Gunshu Pass, May 26.—Engagements are general along the entire line. Reconnaissances in force southeast and southwest have pretty well determined the position of the Japanese army. Lieut.-Gen. Rennenkampff's forces are returning from a brilliant raid on the extreme left. The cavalry penetrated the enemy's lines southwest of Fakuman, but at a cost of several hundred men. On the attempt to return from the southwest three squadrons of cavalry were cut off and finally had to fight their way across the Liao River, being unable to carry their wounded.

Forced Japs to Retire.

A Russian detachment of 1,500 mixed troops on Tuesday night made a successful attack on the Japanese trenches built on the heights north of Changtu, just east of the railway, forcing the Japanese from the northerly trenches and thoroughly enclosing their positions there. On the left flank of the Russian army an advance by eight Japanese battalions with three guns was on Tuesday stopped just south of the Village of Sahedze. Further on the extreme east a counter force of Siberian infantry and cavalry seized the villages of Shachsou and Syaosichshou, forcing the Japanese to retire across the Gorts River. At this point all the Russian lines are intact and several detachments have defeated small columns of the enemy.

Jap Artillery Moves.

The Japanese artillery is moving upon the centre and a general attack is imminent. Russian cavalry reconnoitering the Japanese position southwest of the railway and twelve miles north of Fakuman was compelled yesterday morning to retire before a superior force.

Chinese bandits are active on the Mongolian border.

Japs Reports Cover Four Points.

Tokio, May 26.—Bulletins from the Manchurian war field yesterday afternoon and evening indicate that the preliminary stages of the long-looked-for battle are under way north of the Hun River. Four different points, each of them widely separated, are touched in the bulletins and cover the operation of the troops up to Tuesday evening. It is clear from one bulletin that a considerable Russian force of cavalry which was compelled to retreat southwest on Monday night has not yet escaped from the Japanese lines. This division was attempting to make its way north on the right bank of the Liao River on Tuesday morning, and at that time was fighting at a point south of Tafun, seventeen miles west of Fakuman, the headquarters of the Japanese left army.

The bulletin announces that 300 dead and wounded cavalry were abandoned in the flight across the Liao River. This is the force composed of seven squadrons which last Saturday night attempted to get in the rear of the Japanese left army, and since has been fighting with several detachments of Japanese troops.

RUSS WILL PROJECT BATTLE.

Rojestvensky Is To Force Togo to Come to a Sea Fight.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—Admiral Avellan, head of the Russian Admiralty Department, confirms the Associated Press despatches saying Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky is steaming north to give battle to Admiral Togo. He considers it possible that news to the effect that the two fleets have met may be received any day.

"Do you anticipate a sea fight soon?" the admiral was asked. He replied: "Certainly. The Japanese cannot afford to allow Rojestvensky to reach Vladivostock without an engagement. I personally expect it to take place in the near future, though I admit the Admiralty knows nothing of Rojestvensky's strategy or plans, the Emperor having accorded him complete freedom of action." In response to a suggestion that Togo might intentionally allow Rojestvensky to get to Vladivostock, contenting himself with torpedo attacks while the Russians are on their way there, and then try to bottle Rojestvensky up in Vladivostock, Admiral Avellan smiled and said:

"The story of Port Arthur will not be repeated. Rojestvensky will try to wrest the mastery of the sea from Togo. There are many ways of compelling Togo to accept battle. Rojestvensky will only have to bombard one of the coast cities to force Togo to appear in its defence."

The Japanese Loan.

New York, May 26.—Between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000, representing the final instalment from subscribers to the latest Japanese loan of $75,000,000, recently negotiated in the United States, was paid to the underwriting syndicate to-day.

British Detains Russian Steamship.

London, May 26.—The British Government has ordered the detention of the Russian steamship Alexymorch, which is loading at Millwall dock for St. Petersburg.

Bulgaria Buys Warships.

London, May 26.—The Sofia correspondent of The Daily Chronicle asserts that the Bulgarian Government has purchased four armored cruisers and three torpedo boat destroyers from the Argentine Republic for Russia.

G. T. P.'S NEW TERMINUS.

Kai Wai Island, Quite Close to Port Simpson, British Columbia,

Montreal, May 26.—Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, yesterday morning confirmed the despatches that the island of Kai Wai had been selected as the terminal of the G. T. P. He said also that only a part of the island would be expropriated for this purpose. The choice of the new location, he considered, would not severely affect the prospects of Port Simpson's development, as the new terminus was quite close to that place.

Fire at Sturgeon's Falls.

Sturgeon Falls, May 26.—Cockburn & Sons' sawmill was destroyed by fire about midnight Wednesday. This will be a loss to the town, as quite a number of men have been employed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Perhaps Fatally Stabbed.

Lakefield, May 25.—A stabbing affray took place in the Italian colony here Tuesday evening. The men are employed on the construction of the new cement works. Some of them became intoxicated, and one was perhaps fatally stabbed with a stiletto in the hands of a foreigner. The assailant has been jailed.

Postal Rates Barred.

London, May 26.—It is officially announced that the Postmaster-General has no intention of submitting to the Colonial conference the question of postal rates and the Canadian Empire cables.

RURAL TELEPHONES.

Messrs. Dunstan and MacFarlane on the Stand at Ottawa—The Gist of Their Evidence.

Ottawa, May 26.—Mr. Dunstan, the local manger of the Bell Co. in Toronto, was examined at the special committee on telephone yesterday. The witness, who was called by the Bell people, gave some details regarding the contract between the city and the company. The contract was not satisfactory to the company. After the contract expired the city advertised for a plant. The Bell Co. was always willing to have good relations with the city, and he so informed all the mayors.

There were 13,500 instruments in the city, and of this number 2,300 were the old Blake transmitter. There was no difficulty with the city about routes. The policy of the Bell Co. was to put wires underground. The company moved poles at the request of the city, although not under contract to do so. As to rates, they were fixed by the head office. The Blake transmitter was not more expensive than the long-distance transmitter. New subscribers could have the Blake transmitter. The number of calls in Toronto had increased 50 per cent.

Mr. McFarlane, Montreal, general superintendent of the Bell Co., was next examined. He repudiated the idea that the company did not desire to extend the service to rural districts. The Bell Co. was anxious to have a continuous service all over British North America, but the difficulty was to get capital to do this. He cited the efforts that had been made in Ontario to give rural telephones. There were 2,000 rural telephones out of 3,500 miles of line.

Sir William Mulock: What is the lowest rate for rural telephones you charge?

Mr. McFarlane: $15.

Mr. Chrysler: Can't you do better than that?

"No, sir."

"But if you could do it and wanted to do it, why can't you give rural system for $10, like some of the independent companies can?"

Mr. McFarlane pointed out that where independent companies were careless in the maintenance of their lines the Bell was very careful, and necessarily the expense was greater. Mr. MacFarlane said the Bell Co. was doing business in rural districts and giving the best service they could, although it might be more expensive than that given by other companies.

Sir William Mulock instanced the case of Ohio, with a population of a little over 4,000,000 people, and with an area less than two-thirds that of Canada. Ohio had 507,000 telephones. Canada had 90,000 telephones.

Mr. McFarlane answered that the telephone development in certain States of the republic was extraordinary. It was a case of "Dog eat dog." There would be a slump some day. Sir William was not willing to accept this statement, but advanced the opinion that the lack of development on the part of the Bell was due to the high rates charged.

Mr. McFarlane was not able to give any opinion as to the automatic system. He admitted that in the territory covered by the Bell the number of 'phones in use in rural districts amounted only to 1 to 1,146 of the population. He thought that the 749 public pay stations in the rural districts offset this and were very beneficial.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Occupied Large Share of Attention of Dominion Parliament on Thursday —Canadian Garrison at Halifax.

Ottawa, May 26.—Doubts which have arisen as to the Canadian Militia Department being able to take over the duty of garrisoning Halifax on July 1, as arranged, are not shown by Sir Frederick Borden, who in the House yesterday stated that four hundred men had been enlisted for the purpose. Sir Frederick also announced that 25,000 of the active militia would be drilled this year.

Indian affairs occupied a large share of the attention of the House yesterday. Mr. W. H. Bennett lamented the disregard for the interests of the wards of the nation which he saw in the sale of a number of islands in Georgian Bay, because one of them had been purchased by Mr. F. W. Grant, brother of Mr. Geo. D. Grant, vanquisher of Hon. George E. Foster in North Ontario. Mr. Bennett claimed the Indians had been ignored in the sale of the islands, and that the prices realized were insufficient.

Hon. Mr. Oliver assured the House that the Indians had been ignored in this sale only to the extent to which they had been ignored in all the sales since 1885, and vigorously defended the policy of his department.

Hon. Mr. Foster charged that scrip wrongly issued to half-breeds who had gone to the United States had fallen into the hands of speculative friends of the Government. Mr. Oliver deprecated the implied suggestion by Mr. Foster that the half-breed lost his birthright, because he went to the United States, and justified the policy of the department. Last evening the proper amount which should be paid for thoroughbred bulls for improvement of herds on Indian reserves in the Northwest was debated with vigor by the Opposition.

COLD STORAGE AND PROVISION CO.

Description of its Proceedings.

Gentleman Prominently Connected With Company Gives Examiner an Interview.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Cold Storage and Provision Company, held in the Foresters' Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, May 23rd. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering the winding-up of the Company, under the Joint Stock Companies' Winding-up Act.

A gentleman prominent in the affairs of the Company was this morning called upon by a representative of the Examiner, to whom he gave a brief account of the proceedings, together with the previous transactions.

The gentleman spoken of, stated that it had become evident to the Directors last summer that there was no prospect of successfully carrying on a cold storage company, and an effort was made to transform it into a sugar company. Considerable opposition was manifested towards this proposal. It was insisted that those who did not wish to go into the Sugar Company were to be allowed to withdraw from the Company. The money previously invested, less their proportion of expense to date, this being distributed over the whole body of shareholders.

Mr. James Fowler first took up the question and it was anticipated that he would put sufficient money into the Company, to pay off those going out, the balance coming to them, and to furnish sufficient funds to give substance and standing to the Company, and enable it to go ahead as a Sugar Company with some prospect of success. Just when it was expected that these negotiations would prove successful, Mr. Fowler withdrew entirely from the scheme.

It was then represented that a wealthy Detroit Syndicate was ready to take up the the proposal, and submit a proposition to establish a Sugar Company. On the faith of this the shareholders January 12th last, passed a resolution authorizing an application to the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council asking for extended powers to enable them to take up the sugar business.

That proposition was not forthcoming till March 16th, when it was put in the form of a proposition that the Detroit syndicate, whom it was proposed to call "The Construction Co." should build and equip a factory at the price of $400,000, to be paid as follows,—$25,000 on April 15th and subsequent monthly installments of $10,000 each, with interest at 6 per cent on the unpaid principal, until $175,000 should be paid. The Construction Company was to take $60,000 of fully paid up stock and first mortgage bonds to the amount of $50,000, in addition to $175,000 of cash.

The directors looked upon this proposition as too serious to enter upon, even though coupled with the proposition that the Construction Company would hold the notes of the company until the stock was sold for the balance over the $25,000 and it was not considered.

At the request of those promoting the sugar scheme however a circular was sent out to ascertain whether the first $25,000 to be paid in cash on April 15th could be provided by sufficient of the shareholders agreeing to put their money into the sugar business to make up this sum. The returns were made from the shareholders representing 664 shares, and of these 213 shares on which payments had been made, were to remain in the sugar business, and 297 paid shares to go out. 101 shares on which no payments had been made were to remain in as against 54 unpaid to go out. The shares remaining in the business would produce, if the balance unpaid on them were paid at once, $10,647, thus being considerably less than half of the $25,000 stipulated for to be paid on April 15th.

The directors accordingly, at a meeting held on April 15th, decided that they could not see their way to accept the proposition submitted, as it was wholly impracticable. They therefore determined to call a meeting of the shareholders to wind up the company on May 23rd.

About May 1st, a further proposition was made on behalf of the Detroit syndicate represented by Mr. Simons, the feature of which was that the Construction Company assumed the responsibility of financing the whole proposition.

A memorandum was accordingly formally agreed to, prepared and in writing, which provides that upon the directors dropping the winding-up proceedings, the construction company, should put up a sufficient sum to make the scheme practicable, as well as show their faith in the enterprise, which they were promoting. This was to include a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the application for extended power and change of name, so that if, through any cause the scheme should go no further, the shareholders would be in no worse position, and also a sum sufficient to pay off any shareholders going out, so as to avoid any delay or complications, and also sufficient money to make the factory a success, without calling upon the shareholders to pay more until the factory is ready for business.

It was also provided that the proposition to build the factory at the price named should be left open for the consideration of the shareholders remaining in the re-organized company.

The representative of the Detroit Syndicate, in a letter dated May 1st, accepted the principles of this memorandum and asked that a meeting of the Directors should be called to meet Mr. Simons, which was held accordingly on May 9th, Mr. Simons appearing, and addressed the Directors. He stated that he and those associated with him were interested in the Wiarton plant to the extent of twelve-fifteenths, and that this plant would be sold at a sacrifice. He stated that he was not in a position to tell the Directors that his syndicate was going to run the plant, but, if the directors felt like interesting themselves in a sugar plant this was a good opportunity. He stated with reference to the agreement proposed, and which the meeting had been called to consider, that it was altogether out of the question, and that he would not entertain it, as it was too one-sided. On a suggestion made to him he afterwards stated that he would take 60 per cent. of the stock, if the shareholders would put up the other 40 per cent.

Mr. Simons having thus repudiated the agreement which had been proposed by his solicitor, the Directors determined to call the meeting, to decide as to winding-up, on May 23rd.

The Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Act requires a majority of three-fourths of the shareholders present or represented at the meeting to carry a resolution to wind up the Company.

At the meeting on Tuesday there was considerable discussion, many of the shareholders present complaining of the course taken by the promoters of the Company.

On the vote being taken the result showed that 549 shareholders who had made payments on their stock, and were entitled to vote, as not being in arrear, for calls upon their stock, had voted upon the question to wind up. The result, as declared by the scrutineers, showed that 410 shares had voted in favour of winding up the company, and that 139 of such shares had voted against winding up. The number voting for winding up was thus just two votes short of the requisite three-fourths majority, and upon this narrow margin the motion was declared lost. In addition to the votes of the shareholders who had made payments on their stock, there were tendered the votes of some shareholders who had paid nothing upon their stock, and which were therefore held not entitled to vote. Of these votes, 402 of unpaid shares were held by three individual shareholders, and represented largely the stock held by the original promoters of the company, upon which nothing whatever has been paid.

In view of the fact that the vote showed that practically three-fourths of the requisite majority were in favour of winding up the company, and in view also of the fact that, as matters now stand, there is no practicable scheme for carrying on a sugar business before the directors, it is probable that a further meeting will be called at some future date to decide the question by a pronounced majority either one way or the other.

BRAIN FAG IN SPRING.

FEELINGS OF DISCOURAGEMENT AND DESPONDENCY FROM WEAK BLOOD—CURE IN

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Of all the blood supplied as nourishment to the human body, one-fifth is consumed in the brain in the manufacture of nerve force, the vital power which is transmitted through the sympathetic nerve to the lungs, heart, kidneys, liver, bowels, etc., and which supplies the motive power to these organs.

In the spring when the blood is thin and watery and the nerve force becomes depleted, the ill effects are often first felt in the brain. The head aches. The mind is dull and listless. It is difficult to concentrate the thoughts. Feelings of gloom and discouragement come over you.

Energy and ambition seem to be all gone. You begin to look on the dark side of things. Your temperal easily irritated.

But enrich and purify the blood by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will soon find disease of body and mind disappearing.

The tired nerve centres of the brain receive new vitality from the new, rich blood, new nerve force is sent tingling along the delicate nerve fibres, and every organ of the body responds to the new call to health and duty.

If you would avoid the ills and weaknesses of spring, use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on every box.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

To Be the Banner Crop.

Winnipeg, May 26.—Yesterday's railway crop reports show a record of healthy crops throughout the west as growing vigorously and blessed with plenteous rains and desirable warm weather. The wheat now stands from 3 to 5 inches high, while a few points advise the grain as high as from 6 to 8 inches. The rains have generally been heavy. Every indication points to 1905 being the banner crop season in the history of the west.

Interesting Debate in Literary Society—Methodist Church Held Tea.

From our Own Correspondent.

Hall's Glen, May 24th. — The North Smith Dairy Company have increased the value of their property by finishing off the upper part of the factory for a living room, and by the erection of a stable. Last week they put in a new whey tank. Mr. William Carveth, who had the contract for this latter piece of work, narrowly escaped being crushed to death, by the falling of some of the heavy timbers used as staying.

The Hall's Glen Literary Society, held their last meeting in the hall on Thursday evening. The business of the year was wound up satisfactorily and a debate on the respective merits of a vegetable and meat diet was listened to with much attention. The judge decided in favour of the vegetable eaters.

A LETTER UPON SCHOOL QUESTION

"Independent" Answers "Tolerant Traveller."

And Enters Upon an Historical General Disquisition.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I notice a stupid and absurd effusion from the pen of a "Peterborough gentleman", signed "Tolerant Traveller", dealing with the educational clauses of the Autonomy Bills, now before parliament, written for the Toronto News and published in your issue of the 17th inst. The writer of the article adduces no argument in support of the proposal to coerce the new provinces in the West into maintaining a dual system of schools, but at once launches into a condemnation of, and charges as bigots, the newspapers and people of Ontario in general, because they conscientiously oppose the coercion of the proposed new provinces at the dictation of the Province of Quebec, and also makes the groundless statement that "all history proves the absurdity of the separation of education from religion". These assertions are not worthy of a moment's consideration by your readers, who are, I am inclined to believe, better acquainted with history than this "gentleman", who has demonstrated his ignorance of history, and his want of knowledge regarding; the whole question, which is agitating the Canadian people at the present time. He tells us that the French Canadians show us an example in tolerance and eulogizes their generous treatment of the Protestant minority of Quebec in graciously permitting them to have the privilege of a system of Public Schools, and contends that, on this ground, we should not deny the same privilege to the Roman Catholics of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Does he not know that there is no analogy whatever in the two cases? Is it to be inferred that he is so ignorant of this question as not to know that before confederation no system of Public Schools existed in Lower Canada as in Ontario. In Upper Canada the schools were non-sectarian, and open alike to Protestant and Catholic. In lower Canada the schools were strictly Roman Catholic, devoted to teaching Roman Catholic dogma, and under the practical control of the Roman Catholic hierarchy. In Upper Canada if a school section only contained a single Catholic child it could attend the Public school without impediment or embarrassment, while in Lower Canada, there were, and still are, whole counties where absolutely no provision exists for the education of isolated Protestant families. Considering the circumstances, then, is it to be wondered at that the Protestans of Lower Canada requested that their educational rights be protected by a provision in the Imperial Act of Confederation? And have the French Roman Catholics of Quebec shown such an inordinate degree of tolerance and generosity in permitting Protestants to enjoy that which is solemnly guaranteed to them by the Constitution.

With regard to the statement of "Tolerant Traveller" as to the separation of education from religion, permit me to say that his contention is both absurd and preposterous. The literary education of the earliest generations of Christians was obtained in the pagan schools, in those great imperial academies which flourished in Europe, Asia and Africa, and attained their highest development and efficiency in Greece. The first attempt to provide a special education for Christians was made at Alexandria, and is illustrated by the names of Clement and Origen. The later Latin fathers took a bolder stand, and rejected altogether the auspicious aid of heathenism. Tertullian, Cyprian, and Jerome washed the antagonism between Christianity and Paganism to be recognized from the earliest years, and even Augustine condemned with great harshness, the culture to which he owed so much of his influence. The result of this clerical usurpation was that long hours were spent in the duties of the church, and in learning to take a part in elaborate and useless ceremonies. A most important part of the monastry was the writing room, where missals, psalters, and breviaries were copied and illuminated, and too often a masterpiece of classic literature was effaced to make room for a treatise of one of the fathers or the sermon of an abbot. The discipline was hard; the rod ruled with indiscriminating severity. How many generations have had to suffer for the floggings of those times. Hatred of learning, antagonism between the teacher and the taught, the belief that no learning can be efforted which is not repulsive and distasteful, that no subject is proper for instruction which is acquired with ease and pleasure. All these idols of false education have their root and origin in monkish cruelty.

Education was still secular in the most important countries, as in Rome, until Greece took her conqueror captive. A child was trained for the duties of life in the forum and the senate house. Prussia arose by leaps and bounds from a petty marquisate until she became one of the mightiest nations of Europe, and surprised the world, in 1870 by almost annihilating the powerful legions of France. Von Moltke attributed the success of the Germans on this occasion to the training which they received in the public schools, and so expressed himself to Bismarck on the field after one of the most decisive battles which has been fought in the history of Europe. About the middle of the last century Japan adopted a system of Public Schools, and has since displayed a progressiveness and a readiness to avail herself of modern civilization in marked contrast to the rest of Asia, which has rested in the most sluggish conservatism, sleeping while Europe and America were actively moving, content with its ancient knowledge while the people of the West were pursuing new learning into its most secret lurking places. The United States of America, a nation almost solely the outgrowth of the nineteenth century, has a history full of great steps of progress illuminated by a hundred events of the highest promise and significance, and stands today as a beacon light of national progress and human liberty to the world, and with her expansion and growth and the amelioration in the conditions of life, the earnest problems of government have been brought home to the people by the teachers in her public and non-sectarian system of schools and colleges. On the other hand, in countries, such as Spain, Austria, Mexico, Italy, and the South American Republics, where they have proved an ignominious failure, and these sleeping nations show little signs of waking up to the fact that the world is moving around them, some of them swamped under the tide of inertness and barbarism and existing only in their ruins.

The following was written by that eminent and brilliant Frenchmen, Victor Hugo, when the Roman Catholic hierarchy were seeking to get control of education in France:—"Ah, we know you. We know the Clerical party; it is an old party. This it is which has found for the truth those two marvelous supporters, ignorance and error. This it is which forbids to science and genius the going beyond the missal, and which wishes to cloister thought in dogmas. Every step which the intelligence of Europe has taken has been in the spite of it. This it is which caused Galileo to be scourged for having said that the stars would not fall. This it is which put Campanella seven times to torture for saying that the number of worlds was infinite and for having caught a glimpse at the secret of creation. This it is which persecuted Harvey for having proved the circulation of the blood. In the name of Jesus it shut up Galileo. In the name of St. Paul it imprisoned Christopher Columbus. To discover a law of the heavens was an impiety, to find a world was a heresy. This it is which apathematised Pascal in the name of morality, Moliere in the name of both morality and religion. You claim the liberty of teaching. Stop; be sincere; let us understand the liberty which you claim. Is it the liberty of not teaching? You wish us to give you the people to instruct. Very well. Let us see your pupils. What have you done for Italy? What have you done for Spain? For centuries you have kept in your hands, at your discretion, at your school, those two great nations, illustrious among the illustrious. What have you done for them? I shall tell you. Thanks to you, Italy, whose name no man who thinks can any longer pronounce without inexpressible filial emotions; Italy, mother of genius and of nations, which has spread over all the universe all the most brilliant marvels of poetry and the arts; Italy, which has taught mankind to read, now knows not how to read. Spain, magnificently endowed Spain, which received from the Romans her first civilization; from the Arabs her second civilization; from Providence and in spite of you, a world, America-Spain, thanks to you, a yoke of stupor, which is a yoke of degradation and decay; Spain has lost this secret power which it had from the Romans; this world which it had from God, and in exchange for all you have made it lose, it has received from you the Inquisition—the Inquisition which certain men of the party try today to re-establish; which has burned on the funeral pile, millions of men; the Inquisition, which disinterred the dead to burn them as heretics; which declared the children of heretics infamous and incapable of any public honours, except only those who shall have denounced their fathers; the Inquisition, which, while I speak, still holds in the Papal library the manuscripts of Galileo sealed under the Papal Signet. These are your masterpieces. This fire which we call Italy, you have extinguished. This colossus that we call Spain you have undermined—the one in ashes the other in ruins. This is what you have done for two great nations. What do you wish to do for France? Stop. You have just come from Rome. I congratulate you, you have had a fine success there. You came from gagging the Roman people, and now you wish to gag the French people. I understand. This attempt is still more fine, but take care, it is dangerous. France is a lion and is still alive."

France to-day, conscious of her disadvantage as compared with the superior educational facilities of the bordering State of Germany, at an enormous expenditure, is secularizing her schools and wiping the Clerical Orders, which furnished the teachers, the option of conforming to the new law or quitting her shores. She is also abolishing the concordat made between Pope Pius VII. and the first Napoleon, thereby completing the separation of Church and State. Would France be acting thus if she was not thoroughly convinced that such a course is essential to her retention of a leading place among the nations? Are we not justified, therefore, in pronouncing the statement of "Tolerant Traveller" that "all history is opposed to the separation of education from religion" as a stupendous falsehood? And are we to be denominated "narrow-minded bigots" for this "gentleman" because we believe that Separate Schools are not in the interests of Canada; and are using legitimate and constitutional means of preventing the politicians from violating the Constitution? I can assure this "gentleman" that those who are opposing the coercion of their fellow citizens in the West, by a statesman who, in the past, was as unalterably opposed to legislation of this kind as those who are now called bigots and fanatics, will not be so derelict of their duty as Canadians, who have been nurtured in the great principles of civil and religious liberty, to swerve from what we conscientiously believe to be right, because of foul and ungentlemanly epithets flung at us by such "gentlemen" as "Tolerant Traveller", who were once the champions of the principles which they now denounce.

Jury Says Manslaughter.

Port Arthur, May 26.—The case of Everet West and Nic Aho, charged with murdering Nic Pathrakos at Fort William, concluded yesterday. West was found guilty of manslaughter, and Aho was acquitted. According to West, he, with Aho, came out of a dance hall and met deceased, and West, being drunk, the former shoved him off the sidewalk, at the same time calling him filthy names. West pulled out a pocketknife and opening the blade, made at Pathrakos, and a fight ensued, the latter being stabbed in the heart. The son of deceased at first swore that Aho had held Pathrakos, but it was proven that he was not there at the time of the deed.

Only 75 Acceptable Men.

Chicago, May 26.—The strike did not spread to any great extent yesterday, and there was little disorder. Mayor Dunne and Chief of Police O'Neill did not meet with the response expected when they called for 1,000 volunteers for additional policemen. About 140 men responded and 75 of these proved acceptable.

SHE KNEW WHAT A "HIT" MEANT

An Amusing Incident in Connection With the Ball Game

A Peterborough Lady Who Had the Courage of Her Convictions.

One of those who accompanied the ball team to Lindsay on Wednesday relates an amusing incident which took place on the grand stand, during the progress of the game there. A young lady from Peterborough was attending the game, her escort being a Lindsay youth. Naturally she was an enthusiastic supporter of the visiting team, while her friend had some money up on the "red skins." As the game progressed every good play on the part of the visitors was applauded by the lady and deprecated by her young gentleman friend. When "Speedy" Pilling laced out a nice single to left field, the Peterborough girl could contain herself no longer, and said to her friend:—"there's a pretty hit for you," to which her companion replied that there was no hit about it, and that he did not believe she knew what a hit was. To the great amusement of those who were in the vicinity she retorted that she did know, and when pressed for a definition said that it she slapped him in the mouth, and she looked capable of doing it, that would be a hit. It also made a "hit" with those who heard it, for they gave her a hearty cheer.

THE LETTER OF THE LAW

The Conservative newspapers in dealing with provincial politics have not hesitated to assail the judges. No consideration of decency or respect seems to restrain them when abuse of the judges can be made to serve partizan ends. Sir John Boyd comes in for a large share of abuse, and his recent decision that a steam boat is not a "conveyance" within the meaning of the election law, is used as a ground of new attack. Yet Sir John Boyd is right. The statute distinctly specifies what forms of conveyance used for hire for conveyance of voters are contrary to law, and a contributory element in voiding an election. A few years ago conveying voters by free railway passes was not an illegal act, as was demonstrated in the trial of an election protest in West Northumberland, because not specified in the law. Sir Oliver Mowat changed the Election Law so as to make the employment of railway passes to convey voters an illegal act. But to this day there is no legislation making the conveyance of passengers by steam boat, by free pass, a breach of the election act. Therefore in the meaning of the election law a steam boat is not a conveyance. Sir John Boyd cannot change the law, he can only apply it, and if the law does not specifically make the conveying of voters by steamboat an offence against the election act, then it is not a "conveyance" according to the election law definition. Free passage of voters by flying machine would not be illegal, for no such "conveyance" is mentioned in the law.

IMITATE ROSS GOVERNMENT.

In referring to the satisfactory nature of Premier Whitney's declaration that railway subsidies will be granted only under exceptional circumstances, the Farmers' Sun says:—

"The Sun would like to see Mr. Whitney go still further, and declare that under no circumstances will free grants of land or money be made to any railway corporation by his Government. If cases do arise in which the building of a railway is necessary on public grounds, and private capitalists do not feel disposed to undertake the work unaided, then let the new Government follow the example set by its predecessors in the case of the Temiskaming Railway and build, own and operate the necessary lines on its own account."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Guelph has struck a rate of 23 1-2 mills on the dollar. The Royal City does things royally, even in the matter of a vulgar process like levying taxes.

With the erection of the Northwest Territories into two new provinces, a new centre of political activity, is created. Reports state that pipes are being laid to dispute Premier Haultain's long undisputed possession of power. If the local political fight will be as lively as the political struggle attendant upon the creation of the provinces, there will be wigs on the green, for somebody.

The Russian armchair strategists state that Rojestwensky will force Admiral Togo to a battle before he gets to Vladivostock. That's just what Togo has been wanting, though, up to the present, the Russian Admiral has not shown any indelicate anxiety to measure broadsides with the Jap sea dog. "Brag's a good dog," but he does not show it by skulking for shelter under the French flag.

The city of London, (where the Hyman bye-election is being held,) says the Montreal Herald, has a very fine opportunity before it. It has the opportunity of declaring that it is in sympathy with the broad national policy which recognises the rights of all the different elements that make up the Canada of to-day. It has the opportunity to show itself in line with a principle of toleration that has united the West and the East in favour of the Government's measure. It has the opportunity to recognise that the conceptions of education that prevail among its own majority, are not necessarily to be imposed by sheer force upon a minority elsewhere, especially when that minority is one that has contributed so greatly to the life and progress of Canada.

Time, even the short space of a generation, is a great healer. It has toned down the anti-confederation feelings of Nova Scotia, and Halifax, particularly. In the closing years of the sixties Nova Scotia was kicking like a hornet-harrassed mule, against all and sundry features of confederation. The bonds chafed to the bone. Now the newspapers of Halifax are discharging inky artillery of a heavy order on the question of deciding on which of three alternate days Dominion Day can be celebrated when the day itself falls on a Sunday. This year Nova Scotia, forgetting the things that are behind, will press forward to the front rank in celebrating Dominion Day. Confederation has been too great a success for the Bluenoses to continue to cherish hostility. Nothing succeeds like success—it's the strong-sort of logic.

A grave crisis has been averted at Ottawa. Sir Elzear Taschereau, who had a little ruction with supercilious Senators, about occupying the Vice-Regal throne in the Senate, in assenting, as representative of the Governor-General, to some bills, and who was accused of showing disrespect to the Senate, has been cleared of the latter awful charge. It develops that notice of Sir Elzear's descent should have been sent by the Governor-General's officer, but this was neglected owing to the absence of the military secretary — fishing, probably. Thus one war cloud passes away, but there remains unsettled the portentious question of Sir Elzear's right to occupy the throne when acting as proxy of the Governor-General in the matter of placing the hall-mark upon legislative enactments.

AN INTERESTING ITEM OF HISTORY

How Two Great War Fleets Were "Sparring for Wind" a Hundred Years Ago.

Manoeuvring of Nelson and Villeneuve Which Culminated at Trafalgar.

In view of the fact that the Japanese and Russian fleets are at present pursuing and fleeing from pursuit, it will be interesting to recall something similar which happened a hundred years ago, when two great fleets, British and French, were manoeuvering for a great and decisive battle such as will be that between the Japanese and Russian fleets should they meet:

History repeats itself. Just a century ago, two great fleets were manoeuvring in preparation for one of the greatest naval battles ever fought. On April 4, 1805, Nelson was informed of the sailing of the Toulon fleet, commanded by Villeneuve, and in May followed him to the West Indies. On June 4, the English fleet was at Barbadoes and Villeneuve was only two hundred miles away at Martinique. They never approached more closely until the eve of the fateful 21st of October. Villeneuve recrossed the Atlantic, but failed to make the combination planned by Napoleon, as a precedent to the naval control of the English Channel while he invaded England. Instead, he retreated to Cadiz.

Peremptorily ordered by the Emperor to take the risk of a naval engagement, Villeneuve left Cadiz on October 19, with the combined French and Spanish fleets to enter the Mediterranean. Nelson, who had just taken command of Collingwood's squadron, faced him off Trafalgar, and on the 21st the death-blow was struck at Napoleon's power. Since that time no great naval engagement by two powerful fleets has been fought. Under the altered condition which steam and electricity have brought about, no two great fleets have met and been manoeuvred in the open sea, so as to demonstrate the extent to which machinery can replace in naval warfare, human skill, human genius and human courage. The issue of the impending battle in the Far East may be as momentous as that of Trafalgar itself.

SELLS AND DOWNS TO SHOW HERE

Second Circus Will be Here in Near Future.

Peterborough is to have another circus this year, Sells and Downs United Shows, which have been showing in Canada this spring, have written the Examiner that they will visit Peterborough in the near future and show here. Mr. Sells, one of the proprietors was formerly associated with the former Sells Brothers' Shows, and is said to have gotten together a splendid aggregation of funmakers and a good menagerie.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington County, Ont., writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs along with other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which built her up."

OLD RESIDENT PASSED IN TO REST

Mr. John Whitfield, of North Monaghan, Dies at Advanced Age of 84.

Another old resident has passed away in the person of Mr. John Whitfield in his 84th year. Death overtook him yesterday morning about 4.00 o'clock, at his late residence, lot 8, concession 9, North Monaghan, the end being in perfect peace. He had, it is stated, never known what sickness was, and was able to be around the day before he died.

Deceased was born in the Parish of Allendale, in the County of Northumberland, England, in the year 1821.

At an early age he came to Canada, and settled in the Township of Cavan, remaining there for one year. He removed to North Monaghan and located on lot 7, concession 11, remaining there until 1860. He then secured 200 acres of wild land on lot 8, of the 9th concession, where he has lived ever since, proving a successful farmer and a kind and obliging neighbour.

He was twice married; first on a return trip to England, in 1844, when he brought back to Canada as bride, Miss Mary Brodie. She died in 1856, leaving two children, both deceased. His second wife was Miss Isabella Wilson, her father being the late Thomas Wilson, one of the first settlers in the township. Three children survive—William, Wesley and Louis, all of whom are at home.

Mr. Whitfield was a very well known and popular man, not alone in Monaghan, but in surrounding townships, and although never taking any part in politics he served the municipality for many years as assessor and tax-collector. He was a life-long and consistent member of the Methodist church, and was a thorough Christian gentleman.

The funeral took place from the family residence, lot 8, concession 9, North Monaghan, this afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery.

TO-DAY'S TRIAL AT HAVELOCK

Fatted Calf Case Will be Heard Before Judge Edmison.

County Police Magistrate Edmison, Crown-Attorney Wood, and High Constable Cochrane left for Havelock on the noon train to attend the trial of William Seen and John Grieves, of Belmont, who were arrested in Havelock on May 18th, charged with the theft of a fat calf from Mr. E. Curtis.

At the preliminary hearing before Judge Edmison in Peterborough last week, they were remanded until to-day at one o'clock.

The prisoners assert that the calf was discovered by them in the woods some time after it had "shuffled off this mortal coil," and had removed its hide which they had sold.

Mr. G. J. Sherry, of Norwood will conduct the defence.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide. Is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil and grease.

BANDSMAN FOR QUARTER CENTURY

Bandmaster Packham has Spent Almost That Period.

A Remarkable Career of a Salvation Army Bandsman—Will Lead Local Band.

Bandmaster Packham, who recently came to Peterborough to live, and who has taken a position with the Salvation Army Band, as assistant to Bandmaster Greene, as leader and trainer of that most creditable musical organization, has had a remarkable career, and has had experiences which very few men have passed through. He is not yet very old, but he has been for twenty-four years a bandsman in the Salvation Army, which organization he joined at the early age of five years, at Tunbidge Wells, England. There after the great riots in this pretty watering place, twelve years ago, he reorganized the band.

After leaving Eastbourne the Bandmaster went to Johannesburg, South Africa, and had the honour of starting the first Salvation Army in that city after the war. After remaining in South Africa for two years, he was appointed a delegate to the great International Congress, which met in London, Eng., in July, 1904. The Congress was attended by delegates from all parts of the world, and the Bandmaster was chosen to play in the special Congress Band, taking the solo cornet parts. The whole orchestra numbered 5,000 instruments, and the effect of this great organization, all playing at once, may be imagined. Bandmaster Packham remained in England four months, during which time he played in the Coventry band, making a tour through Scotland.

In September last he came to Canada, and during the greater portion of the time since then, has played in a Toronto band, and now intends to remain in Peterborough, and will train the band here, which he considers one of the best in the country.

The subject of this sketch holds the record for length of service in a Salvation Army Band, and also for the early age at which he started to play.

In his twenty-four years experience he has acquired the ability to play the cornet in five octaves, which he say anyone can accomplish by training. The instrument he plays is a modern cornet, manufactured by the Salvation Army Trade Headquarters, London, England.

The local Army Band has increased considerably in size and efficiency during the last two years; twenty-one new members having been added during that time, the majority having come from England. There are two or three bandsmen here now for whom there are no instruments, and a saxophone, tenor and baritone are needed, to bring the band up to its full strength.

BANDMASTER PACKHAM

was a very pleasant re-union a few weeks ago when the Army emigrants arrived in Peterborough, for among the number were two, Messrs. Card and Richardson, from that city, and they were acquainted with Mr. Packham, in fact he was for some time the leader of the band in which they played.

At the age of five years, just after he had joined the Army, Bandmaster Packham, who, even at this early age, showed the possession of musical ability, he commenced to learn to play an instrument, learning on an old E. flat trumpet. A year later, when he was six years old he became a bandsman in the Salvation Army, and has been one ever since.

At ten years of age he commenced to teach the other bandsmen and among those who received instruction from him was Bandsman Card now a member of the local band, and, another who was a member of the Household Troops Band, which visited Canada sixteen years ago, and which on that occasion came to Peterborough.

He remained in Tunbidge Wells for twelve years as a member of the band there, and at the age of 18 went to Eastbourne, Sussex, where he lived for ten years, teaching the band there for nearly all that time.

PICKPOCKETS ARE OPERATING

Young Lady Had Purse Stolen at Noon

Was Passing Corner of George and Simcoe Streets and Was Robbed.

A young lady passing along Simcoe street at noon, while the Minstrel Band was playing, had her pocket picked. She was walking along the north side of the street, and did not stop, so that the thief must have been an experienced pickpocket. The loss was reported to the police, who are on the look-out. It would be well, however, for those who have occasion to be in a crowd to-night to leave their valuables at home or to keep a sharp lookout.

THE MISSION AT ST. ANDREWS

An Impressive Address Given by Evangelist Russell

Miss Bryce Assisted in Musical Service —A Good Attendance.

The service in St. Andrew's last night proved to be one of the most impressive and interesting of the series. Miss Bryce sang with excellent effect, "A Clean Heart," and "Never Alone." The pastor conducted the devotional exercises and the song service was most inspiring. The Rev. Dr. Torrence led in prayer. Evangelist Russell spoke of the great need to-day, as in the past of the uncompromising life. Compromise was the great card played by the devil from the beginning. In Exodus 10; 26, Moses made an uncompromising statement to Pharoah,—"Our cattle also shall go with us, there shall not an hoof be left behind." No offer of the wicked King could be considered God would deliver; God would bring them out of bondage and bring them into the land of rest. Moses was called to this work and after a curious, yet so natural, a series of excuses and arguments he is invested with all the potencies of the eternal.

Mr. Russell then described in a very impressive and picturesque manner the various steps forward to the land of promise and carried his hearers along the spiritual plane revealed in God's dealings with Israel. Emphasis was laid upon the supreme value of the hidden life of which Canaan was a type—that life seen and felt in the wonderful work of McCheyne and Bonar. Columbus turned the ne plus ultra into the plus ultra and in his conviction that there was more beyond secured the sacrifices of the Queen of Spain to enable him to carry out his heart's desire. The Christian church has every reason to know that there is a larger, a greater and a fuller life, and every Christian can enter into a happier Christian experience.

HOSPITAL PATIENT'S EARLY FLIGHT

Young Man Broke Away in Sprint Down Town.

A somewhat startling incident occurred at about 6.30 o'clock this morning, when a young man, who is undergoing treatment in the Nicholls Hospital, broke away from the ward in which he was confined, and ran down street, very much on deshabille.

The patient who was attired only in a shirt—bicycle length—reinforced by a nurse's apron, which he secured possession of previous to his flight, ran as far as Cavanagh's hotel, Simcoe street, where he was secured by the hospital authorities, and taken back.

POST SAYS THE BEST TEAM WON

Finds Fault With the Home Team for Losing Game.

Visitors Played Snappy Ball—Some Bouquets for Peterborough Team.

Lindsay has no fault to find with the umpire for losing the game on the 24th, but the Post lays the blame on the home team, as if the loss of the game was not enough without having it "rubbed in" by the Post, which says:—

"The game was a first-class one from the Peterborough point of view, and suited the Lindsayites a little. The simple fact of the matter is that Peterborough played the best ball and won on their merits, while Lindsay showed lack of practice, and did not get a smell of luck. With the lesson learnt that over confidence is not the thing to win with, and that Lindsay supporters want winning ball, the local seniors will have to get down to hard work.

Peterborough played a snappy game and were applauded for good plays. Their battery, Douglas and Rattray, worked like a charm. Both are good men and are able to hold their own. The 'Pilling boys, along with Sheridan and Connors, played their usual good game, and among the new players Shea at short and Stayne at 3rd, showed up as good 'uns. Callaghan will be there with the goods.

Lindsay will be here in a game or two, but showed signs of indifferences, and as a result of loose ball lost the game. Cinnamon's throwing being out of form. Leeson, of Merriton, pitched the first four innings, and struck out two men, being batted freely. Burnham, the youngster, replaced him, and in the remaining five innings struck out seven men. Mensies and Clark [illegible] two errors. Stalker showed up good in the field, the rest having nothing to do. At bat the hits did not come when needed.

LANGMUIR TEAM HERE TO-MORROW

Will Play Manager MacEwan's Team at the Driving Park.

To-morrow afternoon, Manager MacEwan's team will play a game with the Langmuir Mfg. Co's team, of Toronto. Play will start at 3 o'clock, at the Driving Park, and Quinlan will do the twirling for the local team, and should do good work to-morrow. He has shown up well so far, and will no doubt hold his own with the visitors' slab artist.

The Peterborough team has now demonstrated its ability to play winning ball and should be well supported by the local fans.

BASEBALL.

The Midland League Standing after the first games is:—

	Won.	Lost.
Bowmanville	0	0
Cobourg	1	0
Port Hope	0	1
Oshawa	0	1
Lindsay	0	1

Peterborough, Cobourg and Bowmanville, were the winners in the opening games in the Midland League on Victoria Day. Two of these were the visiting teams.

The Lindsay team should profit by the defeat of Wednesday. They put a man in to pitch who had only arrived in town the night before, and had not had an opportunity of showing his worth.

The Port Hope Guide, the "official organ," of the secretary of the Midland League, and the medium through which that official gives his chunks of baseball wisdom to the world, says of the opening game in the League on Wednesday:

"Yesterday was an ideal day for baseball, and the six teams of the Midland League started in to work. Peterborough went to Lindsay, Port Hope to Bowmanville, and Oshawa to Cobourg. The article of ball displayed was good, and the Midland League this year promises to afford some exciting contests. Most of the teams are stronger than last year, and when the season is a little further advanced, and the players become supplied up, there will be great goin's.

"Most of the interest was centred on the Peterborough-Lindsay contest, and the news that the former team had pulled out a victory came as quite a surprise to many Port Hopers. It was rumoured about town early in the day that Leeson of the Niagara District had been secured to do the slab work for the Lindsayites, and with this addition the majority of the sports here thought that Lindsay should have things easy. But there is not much in a name, and the Lindsay management are to-day of the opinion that pitcher 'Leeson' needs a few 'lessons' before he can catch on with their team. He was certainly a great failure, and had to be replaced early in the game by the Lindsay youngster, Burnham, who with a little more experience would be fast enough for the Midland League Company. But then there were other drawbacks besides the pitching. Bill Cinnamon's work behind the bat was not of the gilt-edged variety. Lindsay's best batters failed to connect with the sphere very often. When they did land on a ball they were unfortunate enough to place it nicely in a fielder's hands. Then there were several bad throws to bases, and, lastly, Lindsay was up against a pretty hard proposition. Peterborough has an evenly balanced team and it will take a pretty strong nine to beat them. Douglas, whom they secured from Toronto, was in the box, and he dishes up the curves to the king's taste. He has good control and yesterday made several of the Lindsay men fan the air. He is backed by a strong field, and it will take a pretty strong team to beat the men from the 'Porridge Town,' as the Lindsay Post terms it."

St. Andrew's and St. John's Guild teams played a tie game last night on the former's grounds, each scoring three runs.

The game between Charlotte Street and T. A. S. although started in good daylight, ended in a sort of Egyptian darkness which enveloped the land last night and made good play impossible. Only two innings each way was played, the score ending a tie, 2 all. The batteries were Quinlan and Thornton of the Guild team for the T. A. S., and Roddy and Long for Charlotte street.

In a School League game last night on the T.A.S. grounds, the Separate School defeated the Fifth Ward team by 25-4. The game was a good one in spite of the one-sidedness of the score. F. Conroy twirled for the winners and received [illegible] support. The separates lined up as follows:—

C., J. Eano; p., F. Conroy; 1st, J. O'Brien; 2nd, H. Heffernan; 3rd, C. Hayes; s. s., W. Clancy, r. f., H. Hickey, c. f., S. Shehy, l. f., F. O'Shea.

PHARISEE AND PUBLICANS.

Jews Fights Jews in Warsaw—Eight Are Dead, 100 Are Wounded 19 of Them Seriously.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, May 26.—The Jewish disorders here Wednesday night arose from an attempt of the Jewish Socialist organization, called the Bund to purge the Hebrew district of Warsaw of all disreputable persons. The Bundites with the view of expelling their undesirable co-religionists commenced to wreck disorderly houses, fences, and other reports. The fighting spread to the surrounding streets, continued until midnight and recommenced yesterday morning. The Bundites have been permitted to carry on the work of destruction without any interference on the part of the authorities. Fourteen of those wounded Wednesday night are reported to be dying.

Eight Killed; 100 Wounded.

The disturbances continued all day and were still in progress late last night. Eight persons have already been killed and 100 wounded, 19 seriously. The damage to property has been considerable. There has been no pillaging, but the destruction of the furniture in the houses has been absolute. The mob, armed with axes, smashed the doors and windows and brought the furniture out on the streets, where they broke it into small pieces. The owners of the furniture, in attempting to save their belongings, were attacked, beaten and even killed. Late last night Cossacks fired on the crowds at two points, wounding four persons. The police did not interfere actively during the day.

Battle of Classes.

The affair is a conflict between the respectable Jewish social classes and the disreputable Jewish element. The report is that the respectable Jews, tired of hearing the members of their race called opprobrious names, resolved, as the police were receiving bribes for protecting disreputable houses and persons, to take the matter into their own hands. Another report has it that Jewish roughs, in the guise of members of the Bund, were levying blackmail upon shopkeepers.

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed late last night when the crowds visited the better section of the city and demolished apartments filled with costly effects.

The affair was carefully organized. The leaders were supplied with the addresses of the owners of disreputable houses and scarcely a single resort in Warsaw escaped destruction.

The Caucasus Excited Again.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—The most disquieting news regarding the internal situation and of the renewal of hostilities between Armenians and Moslems, in the southern Caucasus, has reached St. Petersburg.

Who Threw Him Over Fence.

London, May 26.—A somewhat lively scene occurred in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon when Charles Devlin asked the names of the constables who threw Higgins, J. P., over a stone wall at Carrowkeek on April 30. Secretary Long replied that Higgins was not thrown over the wall. Devlin retorted, midst Nationalist cheers, that he had seen the dead dead and it was a brutal exhibition. Long replied he had reason to believe his information was correct.

DEATH OF F. B. WADE.

Chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission.

Ottawa, May 25.—F. B. Wade, chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, died at the Russell House at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening after a protracted illness. His death is greatly regretted by his former colleagues of the House of Commons, for he was of the sterling, manly disposition that makes friends even among political opponents.

Fletcher Beth Wade was born at Greenville, Annapolis County, Nova

THE LATE F. B. WADE.

Scotia, nearly 52 years ago. Educated in his native County, he studied law, and was admitted to the bar at an early age. As a barrister he was in the front rank and enjoyed a good practice. In 1900 he was induced to run as Liberal candidate in Annapolis against J. B. Mills, whom he defeated. Mr. Wade sat but one term in the Commons, as he did not offer himself for re-election in 1904, having been appointed to the chairmanship of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission immediately after the session of that year.

Upon the duties of his office Mr. Wade entered with enthusiasm, and it was his noble ambition to make of the new transcontinental project the success from a national and financial point of view that its promoters predicted for it.

The body of the late F. B. Wade, chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, will be taken east Friday morning, connecting with the Halifax express at Montreal at noon.

It is learned that it was cerebro spinal meningitis which caused his death.

TOOK CANADIANS' POSITIONS.

Pere Marquette Railway Officials Are To Be Deported.

Ottawa, May 26.—It was learned last night that the Government has decided to enforce the alien labor law against the persons named in Judge Winchester's report upon the Pere Marquette Railway. These employes took the places of Canadians. Those who are on the mechanical staff will be deported at once, but the officials will be given a period of grace in order not to hamper the operation of the railway.

The men ordered deported are J. S. Pyeatt, superintendent; E. Cain, trainmaster; J. R. Gilhula, chief despatcher; J. McMany, assistant master mechanist; Geoning, general foreman; Shoemaker, assistant general foreman; O. C. Leseur, assistant engineer; Osborne, foreman of the interlocking plants and signals; O'Laughlin, private secretary of the superintendent's office, and Hunter, storekeeper, all of St. Thomas, and Edgar Britton, district passenger agent at London, Ont.

It is understood that steps already have been taken toward an appeal. Frederick Stevens, general counsel of the Pere Marquette road, holding that the alien contract labor law of Canada does not apply in this case, or in any case involving such skilled labor as is required by these officials.

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, as that the lumps and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

LEGISLATURE PROROGUED.

Small Attendance of Members At the Prerogation.

BILLS PASSED ASSENTED TO

Only a Few Spectators Were Present to Hear the Closing Speech of the First Session of the 11th Legislature—Reference to Interest in the Electric Power Problem—The Governor's Speech.

Toronto, May 26.—Fifteen minutes sufficed for the prorogation proceedings of the first session of the eleventh Legislature of Ontario yesterday afternoon. The attendance of members was small, and there were only a few spectators on the floor and in the galleries of the spacious chamber of the House. The guard of honor consisted of 100 men of the Royal Grenadiers. His Honor, accompanied by Capt. Macdonald, his private secretary; Premier Whitney, and several officers of the garrison, entered the chamber on the stroke of 3, and after assenting to the bills passed during the session delivered the address proroguing the Legislature, and shortly afterwards left the building. The address was as follows:

Speech From the Throne.

In relieving you from the labors of the session, I thank you for the attention you have given to your public duties, as well as for the beneficial legislation which I have just sanctioned.

Since the opening of the session the Province has been honored by two visits from Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess Grey. The evident interest taken by both Their Excellencies in all that touches the prosperity and well-being of the Province and its people has been highly appreciated, and the grace and charm of Her Excellency have endeared her to us all.

Public approval will no doubt be given to the act amending previous legislation in the interests of our veterans. The extension of the time within which claims may be made was very desirable, and there is good ground for confidence that the other provisions of the act will bring about good results.

It has given me much pleasure to assent to the act respecting the University of Toronto. The passing of this act is the second great event in the history of our Provincial university. The situation had become indeed acute, and the effect of the act will undoubtedly be to place the finances of the university on a sound, stable, and permanent footing, relieving all anxiety as to its future, and by means of it we will be enabled to do our manifest duty towards the youth of the country, and to hold our own, in an educational sense, among the other communities on this continent.

Electric Power Possibilities.

I have noticed with satisfaction the interest you have displayed with reference to the possibilities which the future may have in store with regard to electric power, as well as the determination on your part that the interests of the Province in this very important question shall be carefully safeguarded.

I observe with pleasure the various amendments you have made to the statute law, the municipal law, and the Succession Duties' Act, all of which I believe will be found to be beneficial.

The activity in business circles, together with the increase in wants of our people, are shown by the growing volume of private legislation. Some of this legislation is of the most important character and bears evidence of having received that careful supervision which, always desirable, has become for several reasons very necessary.

I thank you for the liberal appropriation you have made for the public service. The supplies granted by you will be expended with economy and in the public interest.

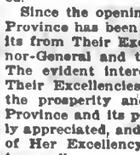
In closing the session I desire again to commend your zeal in the public service, and to join with you in expressing the hope that God's blessing will continue to rest upon our country and our people.

Didn't Keep Them All.

Hewitt—How many meals did you have on the voyage?

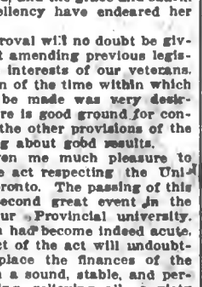
Jewett—Gross or net?

The Song of the Cradle.



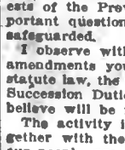
Bye, bye! Hope rises high!
There's a sweet little cradle hung up in the sky;
A dear little life that is coming to bless;
Two soft chubby hands that will pat and caress!
A pure little soul winging down from above;
A darling to care for, a baby to love.

One of the grandest agencies which enlightened Science has discovered to relieve motherhood from excessive suffering is the "Favorite Prescription" devised by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.



This wonderful "Prescription" imbues the entire nervous system with natural, healthy vitality; gives elastic vigor to the delicate organism specially concerned in motherhood, and makes the coming of baby entirely free from danger and almost free from pain.

"I wish to state that I have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with very good results," writes Mrs. Katie M. Annis, of Hudson, New Hampshire. "Had been in poor health for over four years and had been twice in the hospital. My husband brought home of your 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has carried me easily through my last two confinements. We are now blessed with two healthy children, and I am sure your medicine has done me more good than all the other treatment I have ever received."



BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

THIS advertisement looks the same in a newspaper of one thousand circulation as it does in a paper of fifty thousand.

You who read this paper probably do not know its circulation.

But we, before we buy space in it, want to know, first of all, how many people read it.

Because, it is worth fifty times as much to us to have fifty people read this "ad" as to have one.

Now the hidden things in shoes are as important to you as the hidden circulation of a newspaper is to us.

You should look under the polished finish of the shoe for its real merit.

Or, you should have the responsible guarantee of the Factory that made them, as to the actual value there is in them.

No retailer, however honest, can tell what kind of leather is hidden under the finish of the sole or upper.

Nor can he tell how far the expensive workmanship has been slighted, for "economy" sake, in the vital but unseen parts of the shoe.

The Makers alone know what service, comfort and shape retention there is in every pair, and they alone can be held responsible for results.

The only shoes in Canada which are price-controlled by the Makers are "The Slater Shoes."

Stamped on the lining, inside the boot top, will be found the slate-frame trade mark with the Makers' retail valuation $3.50 or $5.00.

OPERA HOUSE BY-LAW PASSED IN COMMITTEE

Meetings of the Fire, Water and Light, and Supervision Committees Last Night--Engineer and Drivers Awarded a Raise in Salary--New Lights for Victoria Park --Ground Floor and Balcony Plans of Opera House Were Presented.

Meetings of the Fire, Water and Light and Supervision Committees were held last night, the following being present: Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, Hall, McIntyre, Mason, Crowe, Leary and Mayor Best.

Fire Water and Light Committee.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee first discussed the bylaw with regard to the opera house, prepared by Town Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, A.d. Johnston occupied the chair. Messrs. R. H. Bradburn and R. M. Dennistoun waited upon the Committee presenting the ground and balcony plans of the structure, which were discussed.

A communication from the engineer and driver of the Fire Brigade asking for an increase in salary, was then read.

After some discussion it was moved by Ald. Crowe, seconded by Ald. McIntyre that an increase of $25 be granted to the engineer and two firemen, this to constitute the maximum salary for the position, and take effect upon June 1st.—Carried.

A communication from Mr. J. H. Larmouth on behalf of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, in reply to an enquiry on behalf of the Council, that they were lighting the streets on a moonlight schedule, and that it was unnecessary for them to run the lights for more than 300 nights in the year, although, as a matter of fact they do. On an occasionally cloudy night, when the moon is obscured, the lights are turned on. It may also happen that when this occurs, the lamps were not trimmed, as the company counted on having sufficient carbon in the lamps to run them for the number of hours the moon was not shining, consequently if the lights were turned on early in the evening, some of the lamps might burn out before morning. They consider it more preferable to turn on the lights during the early hours of the evening, when there were more people on the street, than very early in the morning. If the council wished the lamps to burn all night under these circumstances, there would have to be a different arrangement made. The opinion of the company was that at the present time they were giving a better service than the contract calls for.

It was resolved to charge up for the lights on the nights when they were not burning.

Supervision Committee.

Ald. Hall, Chairman of the supervision Committee, stated that in the matter of suits of clothing for the Police and Firemen for which tenders had been advertised, only one tender had so far been received, and as several others were in prospect it was deemed advisable to suspend action pending their reception.

It was decided to recommend to the Council the following by aw:—

Section 12 of Bylaw No. 392 of the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough, is hereby repealed, and the following substituted therefor:

12. No person shall place or expose any goods, wares, or merchandise, or articles of any kind, upon any street or sidewalk, or hang or put up any goods, wares or merchandise outside of any building, so that the same shall project over any portion of a street or sidewalk.

Nor shall any person open any box or crate, or other package of merchandize, or other goods on any street or sidewalk; provided, however, that this section shall not prevent shop-keepers from displaying goods, (other than fruits, provisions, and other articles for human consumption,) outside their places of business, provided that the lowest part of such goods are at least two feet above the level of the sidewalk, and do not occupy a greater width than eighteen inches measured from the street line, nor shall it prevent any person using the street or sidewalk opposite his premises for a reasonable time for taking in the boxes, crates, and other packages, in which the merchandize or other goods, are sent to him, provided such crates, boxes, or other packages, are not opened on the said street or sidewalk.

A clause was also added, after discussion, to the effect that no fruit, or provisions, intended for human consumption, shall be placed in position, where, without adequate protection, they would be exposed to the dust from the street.

On motion of Ald. Leary, seconded by Ald. Mason, it was decided that wire waste baskets shall be placed upon the street corners in the centre of the town, and it was urged that it will be the duty of citizens to pick up and deposit therein any waste paper lying upon the street.

It was also decided, upon motion of Ald. Crowe, seconded by Ald. Leary that it shall be the duty of one of the police force to be in attendance and keep order on the nights of the band concerts in the park.

The matter of the placing of lights in Victoria Park and Jackson Park, then came up for discussion.

It was moved by Ald. Hall, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that the committee recommend that 24 incandescent lights be placed in Victoria Park, the town to furnish the wiring and lamps, and the current to be transmitted free by the Power Co., as the latter had proposed to do.

The meeting then adjourned.

SEVERAL CASES AT POLICE COURT

Judgment Reserved in Utman Case.

Fine of $5.00 Imposed in Assault Case —Seduction Charge Was Withdrawn.

There was a large docket at the Police Court this morning. The first case was that of a young man charged with an assault which took place at the G. T. R. station. A fine of $5.00 was imposed.

Henry Utman, the prisoner arrested in Toronto, charged with fraudulently obtaining money and pictures, was the next to appear. Considerable evidence was heard in this case, judgment being reserved till Monday next.

Mrs. Robert Sarginson in giving testimony stated that the prisoner had in company with another young man in a similar employment, called upon her at her residence, about the middle of the month of January, and had represented that in order to secure an order for an enlarged picture he was prepared to supply this absolutely free of charge, on condition that a frame was purchased. The frame had a nominal pecuniary value attached of $4.50. Witness had given a photograph accompanied by an order to the two gentlemen, who were the representatives of the "Urban Art Studio," a company who were alleged to have a number of German artists who were zealously labouring in the production of artistic gems in a studio over Mr. A. E. Dickson's dry goods store. The prisoner and his companion had made a second call upon witness on Feb. 14th, bringing with them a "proof" of the prospective portrait and after securing the sum of $2.25 which represented half the price of the frame, had departed for other scenes of labour.

Evidence was also taken from several other witnesses, one of whom had been similarly defrauded and had on many occasions called at the "Studio," but had never discovered any sign of life within.

Mr. George Hall whose apartments are situated next those bearing the sign of the "Sculptograph Co." was next called.

Witness stated that he had been besieged by callers with inquiries as to the whereabouts of the artists, and this had led him to take a view of the apartments through the transom above the door. No new information was however attained by this, as within "all the air a solemn stillness held." He had not noticed any sign of occupation except upon one occasion, when he had seen a man in a somewhat inebriated condition fumbling at the door in an evident endeavour to solve the "keyhole puzzle" which arises naturally upon such occasions.

Judgment in the case was reserved until Monday next. Crown Attorney Wood for prosecution, F. D. Kerr for defense.

R. B. Rogers was fined one dollar and costs for trespassing upon the property of Henry Cox, situated between Concession street and the Lock.

A charge of seduction against a young man was dismissed.

MR. DICK O'BRIEN SAVES A LIFE

His Presence of Mind and Promptitude of Action in a Canoeing Accident.

Saved a Young Man from Being Swept Over the Locks Dam Slide and Drowned.

On Victoria Day a fatal canoeing accident was averted by the presence of mind of a young man who put his head and his swiming powers to good use. It was at the locks. There were two canoes in the basin separated by the boom. The canoe on the west side of the boom containing three persons accidentally upset. Two of the occupants, being swimmers, had no trouble in reaching safety, but the other, who could not swim clung to the canoe which was being rapidly drifted towards the slide with the certainty that if he had gone over he would have drowned. Seeing the young man's dangerous predicament, Mr. Dick O'Brien, Gilmour street, son of Mr. M. O'Brien, Separate School Inspector, realized that before the canoe occupied by him and his companion, could be got over the boom, the young man would be swept over the slide, and getting upon the boom and plunging in like Cassius — "accoutred as he was," with clothing, boots, etc.—plunged into the water and swimming out to the perishing lad, brought him to safety. In the meantime his companion had got the canoe over the boom to help in case of necessity. Thus Mr. O'Brien's presence of mind and promptitude of action saved a human life at the risk of his own. Many a less courageous act has been rewarded with the medal of the Royal Humaine Society.

IMPORTANCE OF PETERBORO' MARKET

Its Value to the Business of the Town—Increasing Industrial Activity Results in Increased Volumne of Business in Farmers' Market—Has the Reputation of Being Best of its Kind in the Province—Farmers Appreciate its Value to Them by Patronizing it Extensively.

The fact that Peterborough is increasing in importance, as an industrial and market centre, is becoming daily more apparent, and the attendance at the market this morning was an eloquent evidence of the fact that the farmers of this county find it profitable to bring their products to the markets here.

During the last few years the market has been steadily improving, and to-day it is said to be the best in every respect of any in Ontario, for a place the size of Peterborough.

Years ago the Peterborough market had a wide reputation, and was visited every Saturday by hundreds of farmers, not only from this county, but also from other counties adjoining, who found it profitable to trade here, but since that time it has declined somewhat, and until a few years ago it was only, at best, a second-rate market.

During the last three or four years, however, the old-time prestige enjoyed by the local trading place, has been returning, and that there is an increasing amount of business done on it, is attested to by the fact that this year the market tolls reached a higher figure than they have for a number of years. This was based on the operations of the market during the past year, but during the first half of 1905, the volume of business done is considerably larger than it was in 1904, and the present prospects are that the increase of business will still continue.

Every Saturday morning at daylight the roads leading to Peterborough are literally black with people on their way to the market here, and by seven o'clock there are usually some hundreds of people on the market square.

The recent industrial activity here is doubtless responsible to a large extent for the large market, and as this activity increases, as it is bound to do, the value to the town of the weekly farmers' trading place will also increase. The farmers have found that they can obtain higher prices for their produce at Peterborough than they can at any other town in this district, and in fact, it is also said that this market is better for the farmers than that of Toronto. At any rate it is certain that each week sees an increasing number of farmers patronising it, and Saturday's business in town has become an important factor in the calculations of the merchants of the town.

In proportion to the increasing use of the market by the farmers, will the sales of the local merchants increase, for invariably they spend their money with the stores here, and the business men report that almost every Saturday brings some new customers attracted here by the market.

Every morning train on Saturday carries its quota of passengers to Peterborough and it would surprise one who had not visited the stations on a Saturday morning for some time to see the numbers who come here to do their shopping. Every station on both the lines of railway within a reasonable distance from Peterborough furnishes a large number of passengers for this town.

The illustration on this page is a reproduction of a photograph taken at the market here last Saturday.

LABOUR CONDITIONS IN PETERBOROUGH

Ald. Johnston's Report to the Labour Gazette is Most Encouraging---Six Miles of Granolithic Walks to be Laid During This Year---Exceptional Activity Reported in Majority of the Industries---All Lines of Labour Busy ---District Notes.

Ald. W. J. Johnston, the local correspondent to the Labour Gazette sends the following report of the conditions of industrial activity in Peterborough during the month of April:—

Work was plentiful throughout April and mechanics of all classes were well employed. A number of houses were under construction, operations being conducted as rapidly as possible. The large shovel and tool factory was completed, and the work of installing machinery, proceeded with. Construction was begun on the large lock factory, and the extension of the Canadian General Electric shops will be begun in May. The laying of about six miles of granolithic walk by day labour was begun by the corporation. The Machine Telephone Company was actively engaged erecting lines and installing equipment. Freight shipments were heavy, especially of the products of the cereal mill, the C.G.E. shops and the canoe works. Wholesale and retail trade was more active than in some time past. Banks had a good month. There were no changes in wages, no definite decision having been arrived at in the matter of the request of the teamsters for an increase of 50 cents per day. Cordial relations existed between employers and employees.

Condition of Local Industries.

Agriculture.—Farmers were busily engaged seeding under favourable weather conditions. A fairly good maple sugar season was reported.

Lumbering.—Saw-mills were all very busy, the demand for lumber being so great that the product was being taken immediately from the saws to buildings in course of erection. About 12,000 telegraph poles were taken out during the past season and are now being delivered.

Manufacturing. — Exceptional activity prevailed. The Canadian General Electric employes about 900 hands, and was very busy. The Cereal Company employes 500 hands, and was also very busy, owing to the destruction by fire of the company's plant at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mining.—Exceptional activity prevailed, a number of valuable discoveries having been made.

Railway Construction and Employment.—Track repairing on an extensive scale was under way.

Condition of Particular Trades.

Building Trades.—Bricklayers and masons were very busy. Plumbers were busy, and builders' labourers were fairly busy. Among carpenters, plasterers, painters, stonecutters and gas and steam-fitters very active conditions prevailed.

Metal, Engineering and shipbuilding Trades.—Bicycle workers, tool sharpeners, sheet metal workers and blacksmiths were very busy. Machinists and engineers, electrical workers and linesmen and boiler-makers were busy, iron moulders, iron workers and helpers, brass workers and horseshoers were very active. Ship workers were well employed on repairs.

Woodworking and Furnishing Trades.—Woodworkers, upholsterers and pattern-makers were busy, and coopers, car builders and carriage and wagon makers very busy. Gilders, varnishers and polishers were well employed.

Printing and Allied Trades.—Active conditions prevailed. Owing to increased business, the Peterborough Examiner installed the new improved Roger's typograph typesetting machine, which gives them a capacity at present equal to that of 16 hand compositors.

Clothing Trades.—Journeymen tailors, garment workers and boot and shoe workers were very busy. Millinery establishments were also very busy but glove makers were dull.

Food and Tobacco Preparation. — Bakers, butchers and cigarmakers were busy.

Leather Trades.—Leather workers were very active, full staffs being employed and full time worked.

Miscellaneous. — Barbers, clerks, stenographers, delivery employees, hotel and restaurant employees and laundry workers were active. Furriers were slack.

Transport. — Railway employees, both in the freight and passenger service, were very busy, but steamboat men were still quiet. Cab drivers, hackmen, expressmen, etc., were busy.

Unskilled Labour.— Ordinary labourers were well employed.

District Notes.

Favourable commercial conditions were reported in the country districts, the roads having greatly improved and saw-mills throughout the country having begun work. Prevailing prices for farm produce were as follows:—Hay, $9 per ton; pork, 10 to 12 c. per lb.; potatoes, 75 c. per bag; apples, 60c. per bag; butter, 22 to 24c. per lb.; eggs, 14 to 15c. per dozen; chickens, 60 to 75c. per pair; maple syrup, $1.50 per gallon; honey, 10c. per lb.

Lakefield.—A bonus of $15,000 to a furniture company was voted.

Bridgenorth.—The council of the Township of Smith on April 10 approved that a bylaw be submitted to the ratepayers at the next election for the purpose of granting $1,000 to an employee of the township who lost his leg while operating a stone-crusher.

Mr. George Carruthers of Peterborough, is visiting Mrs. Wetley, of Charles street.—Port Hope Guide.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

Nation Not So Grateful as Appeared Probable at Her Death.

Queen Victoria has been dead but four years, yet so quickly has she been forgotten that it has been found impossible, owing to lack of funds, to carry out in its details the splendid memorial designed by Thomas Brock and Sir Aston Webb, both members of the Royal Academy, writes the Marquise de Fontenoy. So profound appeared the sorrow throughout the length and breadth of the British Empire at the time of the Queen's death, so immense the appreciation of the blessings conferred upon her people by her wise and sagacious reign of more than three score years, that no doubt whatsoever was entertained but all the money needed for the erection of a fitting memorial to her would be speedily subscribed many times over.

We have all seen the designs accepted by the commission over which the King in person presides. They comprised, in addition to the statue of the Queen, a semi-circular colonnade, a screen behind the monument in front of Buckingham Palace, and a processional road from Buckingham Palace along what was formerly the Birdcage walk, terminating in a bridged arch, connecting the two wings of a new Government building on the West Strand. The memorial included marble groups representing the British colonial dependencies—Canada, Australia, India, the West Indies, etc.

At first money came in freely. Then the flow diminished. Finally it has ceased, and so relatively little over the $750,000 required for the execution of the original design has been subscribed that many of the most attractive features of the monument have had to be abandoned, and others, such as the splendid colonnade, mutilated. For the species of meagre looking balustrade now in course of erection has little in common with the grand colonnade of which we have seen the design. Nor are there to be any colonial groups. There is no money for them.

Certified British Sea-Cooks.

Another blow has been aimed at the romance of the sea. The day of the haphazard ship's cook, better known as "the doctor," has passed says The London Express.

The Board of Trade proposes to keep a paternal eye on the culinary department of the merchant marine, and to this end Mr. Gerald Balfour has introduced a bill into Parliament. It provides for certificated cooks being carried by every British foreign-going ship of a thousand tons and upwards.

A cook shall not be considered "certificated" unless he is passed as competent in cooking by the Board of Trade or by some school of cookery or other institution approved by the Board. As an alternative he must hold certificates of discharge showing at least two years' service as cook.

Moreover, the cook must be able to prove six months' service at sea in any capacity, and shall be rated in the ship's articles as ship's cook or steward. This proviso is for the protection of "doctors" who are seamen first and cooks afterwards. Otherwise, landlubbers of the most objectionable type might find their way into the merchant service solely on their ability to make puddings and broil mutton chops.

Although the new act will not be effective until December 31, 1907, it is already unpopular

THE PREFIX "HONORABLE."

Do Provincial ex-Ministers Retain the Title for Life—Mr. Joseph Pope Says "No."

Mr. Joseph Pope, of Ottawa, in reply to The Mail and Empire gives some authorities in the course of an interesting letter respecting a current subject of interest as follows:

I have read with no little surprise your criticism of the timely protest by The Halifax Chronicle against the practice of continuing to style members of the provincial Executive Councils "Honorable" after they have retired from office.

You say that this province "is not going to penalize anybody for continuing to use the title 'Honorable' when addressing an ex-minister." That is no doubt true. It is equally true that this province is not going to penalize anybody for styling ex-members of Executive Councils "Your Lordship," which would be a very silly thing to do, no doubt, though less improper than the course you apparently defend.

There are two ways to regard titles of honor. One is to proclaim that this is a new and democratic country, where all such distinctions are entirely out of place, and then proceed arbitrarily to confer the title of "Honorable" upon every man in the community who holds, or who has ever held, any political office. This is the United States custom, and I am sorry to see that it is beginning to infect Canadians. The British plan, and, indeed, that of all monarchial countries, is to regard titles as emanating from the Sovereign—the fount of honor—and to be governed accordingly. As a part of the British Empire we necessarily adhere to the latter system. The King has not left us in any doubt as to the application of titles of honor in Canada. On the contrary, he has embodied his direction in words so plain that they cannot possibly be misunderstood. (I quote from the authorized table of titles):—

"6. Executive Councillors of provinces to be styled 'Honorable,' but only while in office, and the title not to be continued afterwards."

The King here does not explicitly command that retired Executive Councillors of Canada may be styled by some other title, and, therefore, I maintain that it involves a less flagrant disrespect of authority to style a retired Executive Councillor "Your Lordship" than to style him "Honorable," because the latter is the one title His Majesty has categorically declared he is not to enjoy.

The ostentatious disregard of the authorized regulations which you excuse or defend, scarcely seems to me justified by the argument that this is a free country, and a man can call himself what he pleases in it.

I am equally unable to share your view, that because members of the King's Privy Council for Canada retain the title "Honorable" for life, therefore retired Executive Councillors of provinces should be accorded the same privilege. A cursory examination of the authorized table of titles would show that it is based on the principle of gradation—that the more honorable position should enjoy the more honorable distinction. Few persons will be found to dispute that the advisers of His Excellency the Governor-General in respect of the Government of Canada, are charged with higher duties and responsibilities than the advisers of the Governor-General's deputy in respect of the local affairs of one province of the Dominion. So impressed was Sir John Macdonald by the dignity of the office of Privy Councillor, that he desired that the title "Right Honorable" should appertain thereto, and he thus gives his reasons in 1867:—"Canada will soon have as large a population as Ireland, and the duties and responsibilities of Privy Councillors of Canada are much greater than those attaching to similar offices in Ireland."

Lord Monck, the first Governor-General of Canada, agreed with his chief adviser in this matter, for he writes to Sir John:

"My own wish would be to treat the Privy Councillors of Canada, both as to title and tenure of office, exactly as the Privy Councillors of England and Ireland are dealt with. I have stated this view very strongly in conversation as well as in a formal despatch to the Duke of Buckingham, but up to this time I have had no intimation of his views on the subject."

In conclusion, and with regard to the practice of the indiscriminate application of the title of "Honorable," I would recall the wise and true remark made by Mr. Edward Blake on the floor of the Ontario Legislature when the attributes of the Lieutenant-Governor were up for discussion many years ago, "That it adds to no man's dignity to assume unjust and unfounded pretensions."

While I am on the subject, may I be permitted to call your attention to another misapplication of terms, which is just now rife. I refer to the constant use in the press and elsewhere of the word "Parliament," meaning thereby the Provincial Legislature. This is altogether a misnomer, as the most casual reference to the Act of Union will show. That Act declares that there shall be "one Parliament for Canada," and a Legislature for Ontario, and throughout it carefully differentiates between the two expressions.

This incorrect use of the word "Parliament" has frequently been called attention to, notably by Sir John Macdonald, as Minister of Justice, in his report on the Statutes of Ontario, dated 1st July, 1868, and by Hon. Edward Blake in his review of the legislation of Manitoba and Quebec for the year 1876. In the latter report Mr. Blake explicitly states that the expression "Parliament" is "objectionable," as applied to the Local Legislature.

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN

Mothers should never give their little ones a medicine that they do not know to be absolutely safe and harmless. All so-called soothing medicines, contain poisonous opiates that stupefy the helpless little one without curing its ailments. Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine for infants and young children that gives the mother a positive guarantee that it contains no opiate or harmful drug. Milton L. Hersey, M.Sc., (McGill University,) has analysed these Tablets and says: "I hereby certify that I have made a careful analysis of Baby's Own Tablets, which I personally purchased in a drug store in Montreal, and the said analysis has failed to detect the presence of any opiate or narcotic in them." This means that mothers can give their little ones these Tablets with an assurance that they will do good —that they cannot do harm. The Tablets cure indigestion, colic, constipation, diarrhoea, simple fevers, teething troubles and all minor ailments. Sold by druggists everywhere or sent by mail at 25 cts. a box by writing to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE HALIFAX DOCKYARDS.

Their History as Set Forth Authoritatively by the Dominion Statistician, Mr. Geo. Johnson.

Mr. George Johnson, Dominion Statistician, recently contributed an article to The Halifax Herald, in which the history of the Halifax docks is authoritatively set forth. The beginning of the story takes us back to the days when the English and French struggled for the mastery of the New World The Halifax dockyards and fortifications were begun in 1758, in order to furnish a base from which Wolfe might operate against Louisburg. This powerful French fortress had been built at great cost, as part of the plan which designed to keep the English colonists hemmed in New England. Other forts, each links in the same huge shackles which France hoped to place on the English, were at New Orleans on the Ohio River, at Niagara, and at Quebec. For long it appeared that the chain would hold. At last it was snapped, after years of desperate struggling, and in the result which has had its effect on each one of us Halifax and its dockyards played no inconspicuous part.

Pitt Renews Struggle.

The years 1775-6-7 were disastrous ones for British arms in America, but in 1778 there was a renewal of the struggle under more hopeful circumstances. Pitt was again in command of England's political destinies, and he planned an attack on Quebec and Louisburg. A large fleet was to assemble at Halifax, and this made a dockyard necessary. A tract of swampy ground was selected. Since 1749 the settlers had been dumping into it the rocks and superfluous earth from their five-acre clearings, and in 1758 it seemed to the naval authorities that they could turn the dumping place into a dockyard with great advantage. Accordingly Col. Charles Laurence, the Governor of the Province, deeded to Admiral Lord Colville, commander of the fleet, and two trustees, the old swamp and the hill to the north.

Construction of the Dock.

Some of London's army, writes Mr. Johnson, waiting in Halifax since the previous year, were put to work, and by the middle of May Boscawen's fleet from England anchored off the just begun but even then useful yard. Boscawen's men giving a hand during the fortnight they had to wait for Gen. Amherst, the works made brave progress, and the dockyards were increasingly useful during the short stay of the 157 ships and 12,000 men destined to reduce Louisburg. Wolfe was there, and on the unequal ground of the dockyards spent most of his time training a corps of light infantry in new tactics similar to those the Japs have been using—tactics which he employed with good effect before Louisburg a month later. Guy Carleton was there, and no doubt both men, being Imperially minded men, discussed plans for making the dockyards suitable in every respect as Britain's great depot in our North Atlantic waters; for be it remembered that the settlement founded in Halifax is the first (and only) instance of a "British colony of free men founded by the Imperial Government for definite and Imperial purpose"; and both Wolfe and Carleton knew that purpose, and appreciated it, too.

After Louisburg Had Fallen.

Mr. Johnson also notes that at the inauguration of the dockyards were Fraser's Highlanders, one of the first Highland regiments in the British army, for it was only the year previous that Scotchmen began to serve in the English army.

After the successful siege of Louisburg, the fleet and army returned to Halifax, and remained there some time to refit. The little town became a camp for the troops and was hard put to it to provide three meals a day for the forces. The dockyards were piled up with ammunition and stores and private property removed from Louisburg, and in every available corner the men were bivouacking. The next year Halifax was the rendezvous for the army and navy on their way to Quebec, and the dockyard, now fairly furnished with musthouse and other needed buildings, filled an important place in most important and far-reaching movements. For some years after it was the centre of attraction, the harbor being the constant resort of squadrons under Lord Colville and others till the close of the war in 1763. Twenty years after the inaugural services in 1758 the military authorities resolved upon the transforming the hill behind the town into a citadel, and in carrying out their purpose they cut eighty feet off the top and used the materials to fill in the south end of the dockyard, which in 1770 had been surrounded with a highway, by whose gates sentries have passed night and day for 125 years.

The Great Explosion.

Coming down to later years, Mr. Johnson notes as the most sensational incident in the dockyards' modern history the terrific explosion which wrecked the powder magazine. This occurred while the Americal Civil War was in progress, and was caused presumably by blockade runners, who, while attempting to rob the stores, accidentally dropped a match in some powder. They paid dearly for their rashness, however, as they must have been blown to atoms. Since then the Halifax dockyards have witnessed other stirring scenes, which have strengthened their claim to being one of the "sights" of the Maritime Provinces.

Ryerson, the Pioneer.

In the School Review for last month, issued by the University Press, Chicago, there is an article on the Educational Museum of Paris, in which the following statement occurs: "In the City of Toronto, more than half a century ago, there was established the first educational museum in history, while it is nearly thirty years since progressive little Japan added this feature to her system of education; and even the South American countries have now been represented for several years by museums at Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres. Until recently the only attempt in the United States was made at Washington, in 1868, and was soon abandoned for want of support from Congress or any other source. Although a special appeal has often been made by the Commissioner of Education, the museum has never been revived." It is worthy of note that this museum was organized under the auspices of Dr. Egerton Ryerson.

A Cavalry Reform.

Gen. Baden-Powell, the inspector-general of cavalry of the British army, has just inaugurated a reform which is so sensible that it deserves attention. Until now cavalry recruits on joining have been put through a course of rough riding in the riding schools, which has not only done much to dishearten them, and thereby retarded their training, but which has quite often broken their spirit. Baden-Powell has abolished this method. He has arranged that the recruit is to be introduced to his horse under comfortable conditions, calculated to inspire confidence, and that his powers as a rider should be developed gradually. Under the new plan the recruit is sent out into the field on a quiet mount, and rides about as he pleases, with and without a saddle. He is allowed to familiarize himself with the animal before any serious riding takes place, and thus acquires, not only confidence, but also a liking and interest for his work. Afterwards the polishing work takes place in the riding school, but it has been shorn of most of the brutality and roughness by which it was formerly characterized, and which was foolishly regarded by the old-fashioned riding masters as indispensable to proper instruction.

A MEDICAL TRIUMPH

An Ottawa Physician Unmasks One of Nature's Secrets.

A diamond is pure carbon. So is charcoal. Chemists say the difference is due to the arrangement of the atoms.

Fruit is good for you. Fruit juices help to tone up the stomach—act on the liver—keep the bile flowing—make the bowels move regularly. But when disease comes—when Constipation poisons the blood, when indigestion upsets the stomach, when the kidneys are not working right—fruit juices in themselves can't cure.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices in tablet form.

Fruit-a-tives are the diamond—fresh fruit juices are the charcoal.

Fruit-a-tives get their wonderful power just as diamonds get their brilliancy and value—by a peculiar arrangement of the atoms.

An Ottawa physician tried to change charcoal into diamonds—that is, he tried to change fruit juices so they would act quickly and surely on stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys.

First, he found that the combination of apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained the medicinal properties of all other fruits and in a more marked degree.

Then, by a lucky chance just as he was about to give up his tests, he succeeded in changing the atoms so that the medicinal action was intensified many times.

Now, Fruit-a-tives are not a mere cathartic or laxative. They are a bowel tonic. Where fresh fruit has only a slight action on the liver, Fruit-a-tives tone up and invigorate.

Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets.

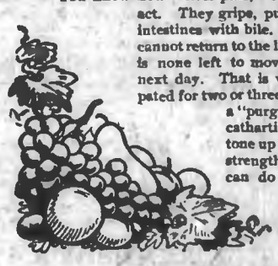
"I have much pleasure in stating that I have found "Fruit-a-tives" the best medicine I ever used for Constipation and Biliousness. I suffered from headaches of a severe kind for a long time, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives," I have become entirely free of them.

I can with every confidence, recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to any one suffering from Constipation, Biliousness or Headaches—and more especially that the tablets are exceedingly mild in their action—without producing any griping or distress."

Mrs. M. E. DEWAR, Ottawa, Ont.

You know how "liver pills," calomel, salts, etc. act. They gripe, purge and flood the intestines with bile. This bile, which cannot return to the liver, is lost. There is none left to move the bowels the next day. That is why one is constipated for two or three days after taking a "purgative" or common cathartic. Fruit-a-tives tone up liver and bowels—strengthen them so they can do their own work without any help. They make the bile flow freely but do not exhaust the supply so there is plenty for the next day's work. Instead of the dose being increased, the number of Fruit-a-tives may be steadily diminished. From two at night, to one—then one every other night—and so farther and farther apart until stomach and liver and bowels are so strong and healthy that they need no further help.



Cure yourself with Fruit-a-tives. 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. At all druggists, or sent to any address on receipt of price.

THE OLD DAYS.

Veteran Historian of U. E. Loyalist Link With the Past.

Dr. Wm. Canniff, one of the fine old fathers of the Province, whose life story is a luminous compendium of the history of Ontario during the past 70 years, is in Toronto again, after an absence of nearly a decade, says the Mail and Empire. Though now past the allotted three-score-and-ten years, Dr. Canniff is still comparatively hale and vigorous. His recollections of a strenuous life, full of varied experiences in peace and in war, in professional and in public life, in literature, politics, and travel, form a most interesting commentary on the development of the people of Canada, socially, commercially, and politically, during the past half century.

He is a veteran of the Battle of Ridgeway. He is one of the oldest medical practitioners in the Province, having been licensed as a medical practitioner for Upper Canada in 1854, and becoming later the first professor of pathology in Canada, lecturing on that subject in the medical department of Victoria University before it became merged with the Toronto School of Medicine. He was also the first Medical Health Officer of Toronto, to which office he was appointed in 1883, and which he organized with signal success. While occupying this position he was one of the prime movers in securing the passage of the present Ontario Health Act.

Records of U. E. Loyalists.

As a writer, Dr. Canniff has done much to preserve for succeeding generations the records of the stirring pioneer days of Upper Canada. His work, "The Settlement of Upper Canada," is a standard reference book of Ontario history, and an invaluable account of the patriotism, indomitable pluck, energy, and genuine heroism of the United Empire Loyalists, whose influence upon the whole subsequent social and political life of this Province is only dimly appreciated by the present generation. Among his other numerous literary efforts may be mentioned his "Manual on the Principles of Surgery," and his "History of the Medical Profession in Upper Canada From 1763 to 1850." Both works have had a large sale, and are now among the most valued reference books on the shelves of the Provincial Archivist.

The other day Dr. Canniff talked for a most interesting half hour of the memories of Ontario's "boyhood days." He remembered vividly the old days of "the little red schoolhouse," when, as a young teacher, he boarded round with the farmers in the school section where he taught, in the Bay of Quinte district. Those were the days of open voting, when money and whiskey and free fights were the arguments used during the week of open polls. Cholera and yellow fever and smallpox were also some of the prominent features of those good, old days.

During a trip to England, as a young medical man, Dr. Canniff recalled traveling in company with the late James McNeil Whistler, who invited him to dine with him at Paris, On calling at the latter's residence, however, the doctor found that Whistler's Bohemian companions were not exactly congenial, and he accordingly departed without waiting to dine. During his stay in England he met Prof. James Simpson, the discoverer of the anaesthetic properties of chloroform, and the latter gave him an ocular demonstration of the effects of the anaesthetic on a patient brought in for operation.

Among Dr. Canniff's political reminiscences are included many stories of the early years and rise to power of Sir John A. Macdonald, with whom he always held a close friendship. He was a prominent worker in the Canada First party, and was one of the founders of the National Club and of the United Empire Club of Toronto. He was a political co-worker with Mr. J. J. Foy—then a very young man—when the great political turnover in the Federal House came in 1878.

His Will on Birch Bark.

Unique was the last will of Robert McNeill, whose life has just ended far away in the frozen north, at the headwaters of the Stewart River. On a piece of birch bark he, by the light of a tiny oil taper, scrawled a last message to his loved ones, bequeathing to them the wealth he had made in toilsome years of prospecting and mining.

Viola and Freda Finn, of Spokane, Wash., daughters of a deceased sister, are the ones to whom the dying man left his property. The birch bark statement is in the hands of William Rice, a Stewart River prospector. Henry J. Ross, who journeyed from the graveside to bring out news of the death of McNeill, says McNeill's estate chiefly consists of valuable claims on the river in a rich locality, and may turn out to be worth thousands.

Ross says: "About two months ago McNeill and Rice left Dawson for the Stewart River. They had just begun to work some promising claims when McNeill was taken ill. I came across them camped in the snow. It was only a few hours before McNeill died. He said he wished to leave his property to his nieces, and asked me to hunt them up. We had no paper, so the sick man wrote his will on a piece of bark and Rice and I signed as witnesses. McNeill died that night and we buried him in the snow."

Strange to say, the father of the two girls died in the north also. He went there at the outbreak of the Klondyke excitement and lost his life in a snowslide while trying to cross one of the passes.

Relic of Olden Days.

A frame building at the corner of Princess and Ontario streets, Kingston, Ont., brought there from Carleton Island in 1784, is the object of much interest. It is being renovated. The outer boards have been torn off, revealing the nature of the log houses. It was constructed over 100 years ago.

The walls consist of some of the largest beams ever seen in the Limestone City. They are about twenty-five feet long and a foot and a half wide, and eight inches thick, and in a splendid state of preservation, notwithstanding that they were put together over 125 years ago by the British army while stationed at the Island.

The plaster has also lasted all that time, and its underdressing consists of hay and straw. The building is one of the landmarks of Kingston and will not be much altered.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McIsaac, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

GREAT BUT HARD WORK

THE RECLAMATION OF PRISONERS WITHIN THE DOMINION.

Many Are Apparently Mere Creatures of Circumstances, but Others Commit Crime Because of the Devilment That is in Their Make-Up — The Question of Indeterminate Sentences.

Brigadier W. P. Archibald of the Salvation Army, Dominion Commissioner for Paroled and Discharged Prisoners, writes of his work as follows:—

I am sure all question in connection with the work of parole will settle themselves if we keep faithfully at work on just and right principles. There is a great deal that is illuminating in the present duty faithfully discharged, and the light of it creates an ample amount of daylight in which to attend to the duty that comes next. It is like walking with a lantern on a dark night, so long as you keep going the light will keep far enough ahead to show you the way, which is much more intelligent than to sit down as many do with their problems and discuss the question as to how to get through the darkness that is a mile ahead of them.

Reconstruction of the Individual.

The fundamental principle of our work is reconstruction—to make men new creatures. Everything else with me is subsidiary matter. Society cries punish the evil-doer. I say not only punish, but correct him. If a man has been in prison for 5 years it is a momentous instant for him when the guard slips the bolt at the gate and he steps out a free man. But if this man was a criminal five minutes before he was discharged from prison, so is he five minutes after he had been let out into the fresh air. Moving the bolt only resharpened his circumstances without doing anything to change the man, and the proof is often verified by this man's return to prison in a few days or weeks as the case may be. Change of circumstances is no index of change of character. Constructive work has first of all to be put into personality. It is not conditions that transform the man into the new creation, but conditions have both place and influence as a means.

Creatures of Circumstances.

It is a painful fact, but there is no denying it, the great mass of men living to-day are tools of circumstances; thistle down to the breeze, straws on the river of life, their course is shaped for them by the currents and the eddies of the streams, but only in proportion as they are things, not true men and women. Man was intended not to be the slave but the master of circumstances; and in proportion as he recovers his humanity, in every sense of the word, in proportion as he gets back his manliness, which is truly self-sacrifice, affection, loyalty to his nation and to a God above himself, so far will he rise above his circumstances. It would be nearer the mark to say that man is the architect of circumstances. It is character that builds an existence out of circumstances. Our strength is only measured by our plastic power. From the same material one man builds palaces, another hovels, one warehouses, another villas. Bricks and mortar are simply mortar and bricks until the architect can take and make them something else. Thus it is that in the same family, in the same circumstances, one man rears a stately edifice, while his brother, vacillating and incompetent, ever lies among the ruins and finds his way at last to the felon's cell. The block of granite which was an obstacle in the way of the weak becomes a stepping stone in the pathway of the strong. True humanity consists not in the startling and shrinking at tales of misery we come in contact with in the prisons but in a disposition of heart to relieve it. True humanity appertains rather to the mind than to the nerves and prompts men to the real and common sense methods in extending to the fallen the helping hand in a practical way.

The Relapsed Criminal.

The great plague of society is the recidivist. He is the man or woman who has gone to prison half a dozen times, or it may be fifty or a hundred. In some countries a criminal who has been to prison two or three times is regarded as a recidivist without reference to the nature of his offence. Under the German system he is regarded as a recidivist only when he repeats his offence.

There are recidivists who are professional and anti-social. It is the last, whether he be a general recidivist, committing a variety of crimes, or a special recidivist, confining his infractions to a single line, who is the most dangerous. The real problem in dealing with this matter is to distinguish between the accidental or occasional and the habitual criminal.

Discharged Prisoners.

We cannot separate the proper treatment of the discharged prisoners from the large and important question of prison administration. When a man returns to prison a second or third time it may be because when he went out he was not properly educated to go back into society, or it may be because society was not properly educated and prepared to receive him. If the convict has learned a trade, or has the manual treatment and employment in prison which lies at the basis of all trades, it is not so difficult to place him. But, if a man come out of prison without the fundamentals of industry inculcated into his life, it is hard to tell which is the more helpless, the prisoner who asks for work, or the man who would like to befriend him by giving his employment. I have come to the conclusion that our efforts, to be effective and lasting, must be carried on as a supplementary effort in behalf of the discharged or paroled convict, when he leaves prison, following up all the influences for his good during his incarceration, for he meets (as a rule) an apathetic and sometimes hostile society when he begins to breathe the atmosphere of freedom. This is where the services of the Prison Gate Department are active and potent. We stand by the man till placed in a situation, should he fall we will endeavor to lift him up. Should he hold fast his determination to reform we encourage him in his good intentions till the man once so weak and almost helpless begins to feel his footing and in the course of time he becomes a social unit. Thus he is saved to the citizen and State.

As to Indeterminate Sentences.

The indeterminate sentence system would greatly strengthen our hands in working out the problem in connection with the relapsed criminal in Canada. I would apply this system to every man going to jail or prison on the third commitment, and sometimes on the first and second. If a man had made up his mind to follow a criminal life, he is better off in prison than at liberty. Society also will benefit by this protection. When conditionally released he will have the opportunity of proving himself, and, if he should lapse into his former life he would immediately forfeit his parole and be returned to prison. Let me cite the Swiss system in dealing or reducing the recidivists and discharged prisoners in the Canton of Neuchatel. The recidivists in their prisons in the year of 1870 number 75 per cent. of the total population. With the indeterminate sentence system from 1870 to 1882 recidivism decreased to 4 per cent. Now the recidivist is seldom found in their prisons. Our present system in Canada has but little effect on the recidivists. Very few relapsed criminals desire to reform or change their way of living, hence on their discharge they refuse any work offered or provided to assist them. Many have said openly to me, "I prefer to follow the graft." Something must be done to lessen this great evil. Give the indeterminate sentence system a trial and the axe will be laid to the root, and this persistent parasite will begin to diminish and disappear under the good and wise administration of our Canadian prisons.

Friend Poor Criminal Needs.

True friendship can only be made by true men. Hearts are the soul of honor. There can be no lasting friendship between bad men. Bad men may profess to love one another, but their friendship is a rope of sand, which shall be broken at any convenient season. If a man have a sincere heart within him he can be true and noble, and we can confide in him and lift him to his feet. It is all nonsense to say that all men are bad who are sent to our prisons. It takes years of study from practical experience to be able to determine which is the criminal by intent or choice and the criminal fallen by temptation.

Favorite of King and Queen.

Admiral Sir Archibald Berkeley Milne, who has just been appointed second in command of the Atlantic squadron of the British navy, is a particular favorite of the present King and Queen. For some time he has been commodore of the Royal yachts on which he had served both as lieutenant and as captain.

He is, however, no mere courtier and has seen a good deal of war service, although much of it has been on land. He was first under fire in the Transvaal campaign, then in the Zulu war, being wounded at the battle of Ulundi, and he was Admiral Hoskin's flag lieutenant during the Egyptian war, and likewise fought on land at the battle of Tel-El-Kebir. He is 56 years old and a son of the late Admiral Sir Alexander Milne, who for so many years was one of the Lords of the Admiralty, and a grandson of that Admiral Sir David Milne, who was second in command of Lord Exmouth's expedition against Algiers in the early part of the last century.

Sir Archibald's name is known abroad principally in connection with an unfortunate contretemps at the house of William Waldorf Astor in London. The latter had been subjected to no end of annoyance by persons coming to his entertainments without invitations, and seeing Sir Archibald, who was a stranger to him, angrily ordered him out of the house although he had come in response to a request of Lady Orford, one of the invited guests, with whom he had been dining and who had asked him to act as her escort. The affair has been straightened out, but caused no end of unpleasantness at the time.

A SCOTCH MOTHER.

How Her Last Words to Her Emigrant Boy Produced a Citizen Canada Is Proud Of.

"Be a brave laddie."

As she said it she placed her arm around his neck and kissed him. Donald was going away. He had never been far from home before, but he had heard of Canada and her great rivers, her great lakes, her great prairies, and her greater possibilites. He had dreamed of the land beyond the sea in his early morning hours; he had dreamed of it before sleep came and often in the stillness of the night, and in the quiet of the night he sat thinking of the new land, and Scotland seemed small and narrow. And now he was on the threshold to leave.

"Be a brave laddie." When she said it Donald noticed a tear in her eyes and felt a dimness in his own. He watched her as she stood in the doorway,for the road was clear; he watched her till the smile was lost, till the face grew indistinct, till the waving arm was discernible no longer, till the figure left and the door was closed.

Life was before him. He was free; he was his own master; he could do as he pleased.

A day later Donald was in London, that maelstrom of humanity,waiting for the boat to sail for America, and in that little Scottish home, in the quiet of her room, a mother prayed.

"Lord, keep my laddie safe."

And Don, was lonely in this great city, this pulse of the world; he saw much to tempt; he saw much to lead, but over its roar and din he was conscious of the words: "Be a brave laddie," and took heart again.

Two days later he stood on the deck of the vessel and watched those who were left behind as they waved goodbye to the ones they loved. But no eye searched him out, no handkerchief fluttered for him; he was alone in the world, and the world seemed wider than he had thought.

Donald watched the home land fade, watched it disappear into space, even as his mother disappeared in the doorway of his cottage home.

Donald is older now, his face is bearded and his voice is firm and his action resolute.

He found it hard when he came to Canada—he found it difficult, he found that even in this land there were 20 men willing for one who was needed and capable.

He often became discouraged, but the voice of his mother was stronger than the discouragement. He was often tempted bitterly, but the same voice was stronger than the temptation, and if he fell, it bid him rise again, for he heard the words, "Be a brave laddie," and often fancied that he felt the imprint of that kiss and that gentle pressure of her arm about his neck.

He felt that he was held. He did not know how or why, but could he have visited the little home, could he have listened at the door of her bedroom, he would have heard the words: "Lord, keep my laddie safe."

She is dead now, but Donald lives, a prosperous and respected citizen of this Canada of ours, and his children wonder that when sometimes the old home is mentioned his voice becomes soft and his eyes moist and his head is turned away.

She is dead now, but Donald is kept by the Power Invisible.—Charles F. Raymond, in Toronto Star.

Arsenic in Beer Barrel.

Extraordinary evidence was given at an inquest at Bury St. Edmunds, England, on Robert Dickman, a farm laborer, who died after drinking a glass of home-brewed beer at the North Stow Farm, on the Culford estate.

The county analyst stated that an analysis of a sample of the beer of which Dickman had partaken had revealed the presence of 98 grains of arsenic per pint, sufficient to kill 25 or 30 persons.

The barrel from which the beer was taken was shown to have originally contained a double-strength weed destroyer, consisting of a strong solution of arsenic. When sent out by the manufacturer it bore large brass labels at either end, warning users of the dangerous contents of the barrel.

The career of the barrel was traced through various hands until it was finally sold by auction to a West Stow butcher, who afterwards sold it to Dickman's brother-in-law, the tenant of North Stow Farm, who used it for brewing beer.

Arsenic was found by the analyst still clinging to the sides of the barrel, and he estimated that there was sufficient to kill over 2,400 persons.

The jury brought in a verdict of "Death from misadventure."

Fire by Friction.

A recent writer gives the following description of the method by which a Kaffir produces fire by friction:

Two special sticks made of a light wood are taken. One is pointed, and in the centre of the other a conical hole is made. Placing the latter on the ground, the native holds it firmly with his feet. Then he puts the pointed stick in the conical hole and begins slowly twirling it with his hands, using a good deal of pressure, until the wood becomes powdered, lying round the revolving point in a little heap of dust. When he thinks he has made sufficient of this wood dust he twirls the stick very rapidly, and in a moment the powder bursts into flame, which he uses to set fire to some dried grass.

LAMENT OF THE IRISH EMIGRANT.

By Lady Dufferin.

Lady Dufferin, poet, who was born in 1807 and died in 1867, was the author of many popular songs and ballads, of which the one given below is the best known. She was the granddaughter of the dramatist and orator, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, and mother of the late diplomat, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava.

I'm sittin' on the stile, Mary,
Where we sat side by side
On a bright May mornin' long ago,
When first you were my bride;
The corn was springin' fresh and green,
And the lark sang loud and high;
And the red was on your lip, Mary,
And the love-light in your eye.

The place is little changed, Mary;
The day is bright as then;
The lark's loud song is in my ear,
And the corn is green again;
But I miss the soft clasp of your hand,
And your breath, warm on my cheek;
And I still keep list'nin' for the words
You nevermore will speak.

'Tis but a step down yonder lane,
And the little church stands near,—
The church where we were wed, Mary;
I see the spire from here.
But the graveyard lies between, Mary,
And my step might break your rest,—
For I've laid you, darling, down to sleep,
With your baby on your breast.

I'm very lonely now, Mary,
For the poor make no new friends;
But, O, they love the better still
The few our Father sends!
And you were all I had, Mary,—
My blessin' and my pride;
There's nothing left to care for now,
Since my poor Mary died.

Yours was the good, brave heart, Mary,
That still kept hoping on,
When the trust in God had left my soul,
And my arm's young strength was gone
There was comfort ever on your lip,—
And the kind look on your brow,—
I bless you, Mary, for that same,
Though you cannot hear me now.

I thank you for the patient smile
When your heart was fit to break,—
When the hunger pain was gnawin' there
And you hid it for my sake;
I bless you for the pleasant word,
When your heart was sad and sore,—
O' I'm thankful you are gone, Mary
Where grief can't reach you more!

I'm biddin' you a long farewell,
My Mary—kind and true!
But I'll not forget you, darling,
In the land I'm goin' to;
They say there's bread and work for all,
And the sun shines always there,—
But I'll not forget old Ireland,
Were it fifty times as fair!

And often in those grand old woods
I'll sit, and shut my eyes,
And my heart will travel back again
To the place where Mary lies;
And I'll think I see the little stile
Where we sat side by side,
And the springin' corn and the bright May morn,
When first you were my bride.

"I am 76 years of age and smart and active as a boy, and I give Dodd's Kidney Pills all the credit for it.

"Before I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I was so used up I could hardly ride in a buggy, and I could not do any work of any kind. Everybody thought I would not live long. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful remedy."

The Kidneys of the young may be wrong, but the Kidneys of the old must be wrong. Dodd's Kidney Pills make all wrong Kidneys right. That is why they are the old folks' greatest friend.

The British Bathing Fallacy.

One of the earliest impressions of an American in London is that Englishmen regard a bath as a luxury, and not as a matter of course—a luxury to be paid for. At the hotel he has landed in he must pay two shillings for a warm bath. And his conclusion is, that the Englishmen, in spite of his traditional tub, is not a clean man. He cannot afford to be clean in a London hotel. Two warm baths a day. That is the American's average. Four shillings. He has a wife and a son and daughter. Sixteen shillings a day. Reckon out the expense and you will find that this man must pay about $300 a year to keep himself and his family clean. The American visitor has figured out that at least twelve calls on that bath are made every day. Nine hundred a year profit from a bathroom that certainly did not cost £900 in the building.—London Chronicle.

"OZONE" IT'S BEST FORM

The prompt and permanent removal of any internal germs is most surely affected by the use of "Solution of Ozone" if it's 'the coupon kind.' It means the liquified oxygen is in the most concentrated form and that in addition is given free with either the fifty cent size or the one dollar size of the solution a coupon good for a twenty-five cent package of "Celery King." This splendid tonic laxative is needed to obtain the best results in the use of the stringent "Ozone without lessening its curative properties. The Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont. control exclusively the manufacture of both "Solution of Ozone" and "Celery King." Sold by W. B. Warne, druggist. 19

An opportunity for a young man to start business for himself

There are hundreds of young men throughout the country, who have mastered the details of merchandising, and are now dreaming of the time when they can be proprietors—many of them with a few hundred dollars laid by for the purpose.

Nearly every prosperous well rated merchant of to-day, made a beginning in a modest way.

At the very outset such young men as we have in mind—such as are capable, thoroughly in earnest, reliable, and have saved a little money, say enough to fit up a store and pay for part of their stock, can make a connection with our house, and in short order, they can be at the head of an establishment where men can be outfitted with the best of clothing.

The clothing business is an attractive proposition. It is a live one—always something doing.

We shall be pleased to correspond with men who have decided to make a start for themselves in some live town or city, and who can show some tangible evidence of an earnest effort in that direction, with a view to extending the sale of our "Male Attire" brand of high class tailored clothing.

We propose as part of our scheme to give free advertising and promotion.

HEART OF MONTROSE.

It May Be Lying in Some Canadian Attic—Story of Its Wanderings and Disappearance.

The Duke of Montrose, who recently arrived in the United States on a visit of some duration, writes the Marquise de Fonteney, in The New York Tribune, is anxious to discover the whereabouts of the heart of the most famous of all his ancestors, James Graham, Marquis of Montrose, which, regarded as the talisman of his family, disappeared in France at Boulogne, after the most extraordinary vicissitudes, about one hundred years ago, and is believed to be hidden away at the present moment in some private collection of curios, relics and bric-a-brac in the United States or Canada, still inclosed in that wonderful little steel case made of the blade of the great Montrose's sword. The Marquis of Montrose, it may be remembered, after fighting bravely for King Charles I., was taken prisoner by the forces of Parliament, sentenced to death and executed at Edinburgh in 1650 under circumstances of great indignity. The body, after hanging three hours to the gallows, was quartered, in accordance with the sentence, the head being set upon a spike at Tolbooth, while the limbs were dispersed in various parts of the kingdom, the arms being sent to Dundee and to Aberdeen, where they were nailed up against the principal city gates. The dismembered trunk was inclosed in a "little short chest" and buried on the Boroughmuir, which was the usual place of execution and of burial of the worst criminals, a place of evil reputation, little sought by day and much shunned by night.

The Heart Removed.

Montrose before his death had bequeathed his heart to his niece by marriage, Lady Napier, to whom he was passionately devoted. On the night after the execution Lady Napier caused the trunk to be dug up and the heart to be removed and brought to her by trusted and devoted adherents. She then had it embalmed and inclosed in a little steel case made of the blade of her hero's sword, and placed the case in a fine gold filigree box, which had belonged to her husband's kinsman, John Napier, the inventor of the logarithms. Shortly before her death Lady Napier despatched the casket to the son of the Marquis and his successor, who was living in exile in Holland. In some way or other, probably through robbery, the heart was lost, and all hope of recovering it had long been given up, when a friend of the Graham family recognized the gold filigree box inclosing the steel case in a curiosity shop in The Hague. He purchased the relic at once and returned it, not to Lord Montrose, but to Lord Napier.

Stolen in India.

On the death of the fifth Lord Napier it passed into the keeping of his only surviving daughter, Hester, afterward Mrs. Johnston, whose husband was a commodore of the Royal navy. While on a voyage out to India with his wife and her possessions on board the commodore's ship became engaged in a fight with a French man-of-war, and during the course of the encounter a splinter struck the casket, shattering the gold filigree box containing the heart, but fortunately leaving the steel casket intact. In India Mrs. Johnston caused a clever goldsmith to construct a gold filigree box in the place of the one destroyed, and this in turn was placed in a silver urn, on the outside of which was engraved in two native dialects a short account of Montrose's life and death. The urn soon came to be regarded by the natives as something uncanny, and the report spread that it was a talisman. Before long the urn and its contents were stolen and for a long time could not be traced. Ultimately evidence was procured tending to show that the relic had been sold for a large sum of money to a powerful chief in the neighborhood of Madura.

In Return For a Life.

Years went by, and one day Mrs. Johnston's son happened while out shooting to save the life of the child of this Madura chief from death by laying low a tiger with a timely bullet just as it was about to spring. The chief, in true Oriental fashion, offered to give young Johnston anything he might choose to ask, and Johnston naturally availed himself of the opportunity to beg for the restoration of the urn containing the heart of Montrose. The chief readily complied with his request, and, it may be added, was later on put to death by the English for rebellion against the Nabob of Arcot, after having in vain sought immunity by relating his surrender of the Montrose relic. The Johnston family returned to Europe in 1793, and, passing through France on their way to England, were arrested by the revolutionary Government at Boulogne, not before, however, they had time to intrust the silver urn, with its inclosures, to an Englishwoman living there, who promised to keep it hidden until it could safely be conveyed to London. Unfortunately the woman in question died soon afterward, and the Johnston family, on the restoration of peace, were unable to find any trace of the silver urn and of the heart.

The Search Kept Up.

The search was taken up by the late Duke of Montrose, and has been prosecuted with a good deal of vigor by the present Duke, everything tending to show that the relic has found its way to this country. It is possible that the silver urn has been disposed of separately; but there can be no mistake about the little steel case and about the filigree casket of Indian gold. The present Duke of Montrose would give a large sum to recover the relic, which has furnished the theme for some of the most celebrated novels, and should he not be able to furnish the full amount required himself—for he is not rich as Dukes go—there is no true Scotch Graham who would not gladly contribute toward the recovery of the heart of Montrose, and to the bringing about of its finding a final resting place on Scottish soil after all its extraordinary wanderings and vicissitudes.

GHOST GIVES SECRET.

Tells Bishop of Swansea Where to Find Lost Treasure.

The Bishop of Swansea had an interesting conversation with a ghost on the last Saturday in February.

The spirit had taken up his abode in the house of Mr. Howells, the County Court Registrar at Lampeter, and manifests itself by weird metallic rappings and the rocking of beds.

It is fast becoming a local institution, and the street near Mr. Howells' house is thronged with people who want to hear the ghost knock.

The Bishop went to the house with Professor Harris of St. David's College and half a dozen other gentlemen. The spirit was coaxed with raps and questions, but it was coy and made no answer.

It was suggested that the presence of a sceptic in the room was the cause of the silence, and the party left, with the exception of Mrs. Howells, her two young sons and a London artist. But it was not until a servant, who, it was thought, might be a good medium, was brought into the room that the ghost deigned to speak—or, rather, rap.

It expressed a desire to chat with the Bishop, and when he returned told him that money was concealed in an attic chimney, and that it could be reached without much trouble.

A young lady who questioned the ghost interpreted its message that the house would have to be pulled down before the money could be found, but this is generally believed to be a misunderstanding.

When the rest of the original party joined the Bishop and others in the room the spirit lapsed into silence, which it only broke to rap out an emphatic "Yes," when it was asked if it was tired.

A local curate who was passing the house after early service the week before heard an extraordinary noise. One of the servants came out and asked him in, and as he went upstairs he heard the noise again.

"In one of the bedrooms," says the curate, "I saw Mr. Howells and his son Jacky lying in separate beds. Mr. Howells told me that he had been distrubed all night by strange noises, and while I was looking at Jacky's bed I distinctly saw it move towards the wall and back again twice."

Mr. Howells is finding the knocking very monotonous. To vary it one night he rapped the fall to the time of "Say Au Revoir," and was surprised to hear responsive taps correct in time and measure. His son then tapped out "Bill Bailey," and the spirit obliged again.

A solicitor who has heard the knocks says that they always occur when Jacky is in the room. Mr. Howells says that Jacky has been put to sleep in four different rooms, and in each the raps have been heard and the bed has rocked. It is stated, however, that Jacky is only 11, and there is no suggestion of his playing tricks.

THIRTY SKULLS IN CAVE.

A Remarkable Discovery Near Raft Cove, British Columbia.

The steamer Queen City, from the west coast of Vancouver Island, brought news recently of the exploration of a cave at Raft Cove, between Quatsino and Cape Scott. This cave was discovered some time ago by two prospectors. The prospectors on the occasion of their visit to the cave were amazed at finding a number of skeletons. A letter from Mrs. Halstad, wife of one of the discoverers of the mysterious cave, states that, in all, the skulls of thirty human being had been found. Her husband, who has had a great deal of experience among the natives, is of the opinion that the skulls are not those of white men, in which event the find would be all the more remarkable. The Indians on the coast have known of such a cave, and it is presumed that the skeletons where exposed to the air would not for the centuries that have elapsed since the time when it is alleged the natives placed their dead in caves have remained in the same state of preservation.

There are those who have an opinion that the dead are all the mortal remains of some shipwrecked crew. This theory has occurred to many minds since the report of the discovery was published. The loss of the sealers Maggie Mac and May Belle (the former with about thirty Victorians aboard), which were last seen in the locality, is still remembered, and discussed in connection with this report. The cave has possibly been created by some action of the sea, and it is regretted that some of the skulls have not been sent to Victoria for examination.

A SUDDEN TWINGE

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous uric acid which is the cause of the disease.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of rheumatism after I had tried a dozen remedies without relief and also gone West in search of health," writes Harry Kitter, of No. 1445 6th Street, Denver, Colo. "Only those who have suffered from this dread malady know the pain and misery I endured for over five years. Whenever the weather was damp or cold my troubles were increased and my joints would be so stiff and sore that I was hardly able to move about, and often unable to dress myself. I used a number of highly recommended medicines, but they had no effect whatever on me, and I came to Colorado hoping to regain my health, but failed to obtain the relief I had prayed for. A gentleman in the house where I lived advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and in four months and a half after I began using it I was a well man, and have had no touch of it for the past seven months."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets. These tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not forget the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor. Put up in vials; always fresh and reliable.

JAPS SEEK OUR SEAL.

Venturesome Schooner Now on the Canadian Pacific Coast.

Indications how the progressive Japanese is turning the tables industrially on the Caucasian is well illustrated in the latest development of sealing industry. For years Victoria's (British Columbia) sealing fleet has crossed the Pacific to hunt along Copper Islands and in waters contiguous to Japan. Lately a fleet has sprung up at Yokohama which has exploited waters of the Asiatic coast, not till this spring however, have they crossed to this side. News received from the west coast recently by the steamer Queen City, describes the arrival at the old historic port of Nootka, of the Japanese sealing schooner Kinsei Maru. She came in for fresh water and to seek shelter from recent southeast gales. She left Japan on December 6, and has already been down the California coast after pelts along the very routes followed by Victoria schooners. The fact that some of the best white hunters of the port of Victoria now hunt off Yokohama probably accounts for the Japanese knowledge of these waters. They have a catch of a hundred skins, and after leaving Nootka will hunt along the British Columbia coasts and Aleutian Islands and finish the season in Behring Sea.

The vessel will return to Japan about Christmas. She is a staunch-built schooner of 130 tons, and has a crew of 30 men, only four of whom are whites. The crew assert this is an experiment on the part of the owners, and should they be successful this season quite a number of vessels will come across next year and try their luck. The Japanese enjoy a great advantage over British Columbia sealers inasmuch as they are not bound by the modus vivendi, and can hunt within nine miles, instead of sixty miles, of the rookeries. They have no close season to observe such as British Columbia hunters are compelled to observe between May 1 and August 1.

A View of Edward Blake.

The Hon. Edward Blake—presumably with the permission of Mr. John Redmond, who had allowed an hour to elapse without making a speech—led the resumed attack on the Commissioners. Mr. Blake is something of a Parliamentary mystery. He was a great politician in Canada, leader of the Liberal party, among other things. A learned man and an eloquent, he joined the Irishmen at St. Stephen's thirteen years ago amid a perfect salvo of flattering predictions of inevitable distinction.

Unhappily, his admirers have been disappointed. Mr. Blake has not moved. Why, a House cognisant of his great gifts often wonders. The only explanation is that Mr. Blake is too mild of manner and too moderate in language to become a successful Irish politician. He carries no rhetorical shillelah. As compensation, he can, and did yesterday, say some deliberately pointed things in Latin. This style, however, did not appeal to his Irish colleagues.

In appearance Mr. Blake fit the picture of cleverness. A finely-chiselled face is spanned by a pair of gold spectacles, and a mass of curly hair, tinged with grey, is brushed back from a broad forehead. If the member for Longford were asked what other great man he most closely resembles, he would probably answer, and with truth, William Makepeace Thackeray.

A stale and unprofitable debate ended with a division on an amendment moved by Mr. Blake to reduce by £100 the Civil Service vote. The motion was defeated by a majority of 74.—London Daily Mail.

Historical Mansion Sold.

The Baby mansion, one of the landmarks of Essex County and one that is intimately associated with the history of that part of Canada, was sold recently to Dr. Beasley. The house was built by the late Charles Baby, in 1778, upon ground given him by the Crown. It is built of walnut logs, with stone and brick trimmings. Its architecture will be preserved.

Dreamed a Dream.

A peculiar incident occurred in Blenheim one day last week, and was related to the News by Mr. John Elkington of Paris, who was in town on Thursday last, and who is a relation of Mr. Marshall, one of the parties interested. Roy Marshall lives with his father, Steven Marshall, Lot 1, Concession 13, Blenheim. A few days ago he lost a valuable watch. The hired man, Thomas Laidlaw, lives in a house on the farm. He did not know of the loss of the watch, but dreamt he saw it lying in one of the cattle stalls. Next morning he told his wife about the dream, and, as it was not part of his duties to go to the cattle barn, he also told Roy. The latter searched in the place described, and was rewarded by the finding of the watch. He had no doubt dropped it there the previous evening. Who says there is nothing in a dream?—Ayr (Ont.) The "Force" of Herpicide.

Even the first application of Newbro's Herpicide (THE ORIGINAL REMEDY THAT "KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM") shows the hair-saving and satisfying "force" that is in it. This "force" is the sum of two characteristics that are united in no other hair remedy.

Herpicide has the ABILITY to destroy the dandruff microbe, and the QUALITY to delight those who wish a dainty hair dressing. It holds the secret of popularity and pleases every one who is discriminating enough to have a preference. It is not sticky. It will not stain the hair.

The curative effect of Herpicide is sometimes little short of marvelous, for after the dandruff germ is destroyed, and kept out of the scalp, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, sickness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Basic Bonds will prevent poisoning. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. RACE SUICIDE.

London Doctor Says It May Be Nature's Economic Agent.

The questions raised by the growing inability of the modern mother to nurse her own children were discussed at a conference held the other day at the Sanitary Institute, London. They are causing distinct alarm among medical men and sociologists, for it is considered that such inability as this must have a profound effect upon the future of town dwelling humanity.

Prof. Bunge, of Basel, in the course of exhaustive inquiries into the subject, came to the conclusion that the diminution in the function of naturally feeding children was increasing throughout civilised Europe. The difficulty at present is to find a cause and a cure. An eminent doctor who not only is connected with one of London's greatest hospitals but is much sought after as a consultant said:

"My experience seems to point to the fact that, however a mother may be fed, her own nourishment has no effect upon her power of nursing her children.

"During the siege of Paris women who were in a state of semi-starvation were able properly to nurse their babies, and again the tall, healthy, athletic modern matron of the better class is markedly failing in her powers in this direction. One might almost trace a connection between the improved physique of the modern woman and the diminution in this important function, but statistics to prove this never have been compiled. My own impression is the cause is deeper and more subtle. It may be nature's protest against the unnatural town life, or it may be connected with the decreasing birth rate and prove that England being fully populated, nature wishes by these means to prevent overcrowding. The most alarming aspect of the situation is the fact that breast fed children undoubtedly have the best chance of surviving. They escape the many dangers that the artificially fed infant is subjected to, and when the mother's milk is suitable usually are healthier.

"I have noticed that Jewish women in the east end not only have large families but are, as a race, perfectly capable of nursing their children. Again, the explanation is difficult unless it lies in the elaborate and scientifically sound hygienic code of that race. The Irish peasant women, too, as a body are able to nurse their children, and they also have large families. They lead a more natural and less sophisticated life than the town women, and this also points to the city dwelling as a factor in the mischief."

Poor "Old Aristocracy."

Never before have there been for rent so many mansions of the great nobility in London, and magnificent old country places in the Provinces. Life nowadays in the United Kingdom is so frightfully expensive, with all the numerous calls of one kind and another on the purse, that the old aristocracy finds it almost impossible to keep their various country places up. There is an authentic instance of an English duke with a large nominal income—a quarter of a million dollars a year—who actually offered to let his immense and historic country seat in the midlands, not merely rent free but likewise to pay his tenant $40,000 a year, provided the lessee would undertake to keep the place up properly and in thorough repair. His offer has been investigated by several men of considerable wealth, who, however, when they realised the expense involved by the maintenance of such a huge place, with its regiment of servants and army corps of gardeners, farm hands, laborers, and estate office clerks, bailiffs, etc., and the acres of roofs to be kept in repair, hastened to decline, without even thanks.

In fact, the day of these grand old country places has gone by. They lack the modern comforts and luxuries, which are regarded as necessities by the new multi-millionaires, who alone have money to keep them up, which their present owners are too poor to do any longer. Before many years they will have disappeared. Many fires that have taken place during the last two or three years, resulting from defective insulation of electric wires, among tinder like old wooden panelling and draperies, involving the destruction of grand old country places, have been blessings in disguise and far less of a loss to the owners than has generally been realised. For not only were they in a measure recouped by the insurance but they also were relieved of what had constituted the most frightful drain upon their resources—the maintenance and keeping in repair of a great country place.

George Meredith and Women.

Mr. Meredith has sent the following letter to Mr. Hugh W. Strong, managing editor of The Cornish Leader: "Since I began to reflect, I have been oppressed with the injustice done to women, the constraint put upon their natural aptitudes and their faculties generally, much to the degradation of the race. I have not studied women more than I have men, but with more affection, a deeper interest in their enfranchisement and development, being assured that women of the independent mind are needed for any sensible degree of progress. They will so educate their daughters that these will not be instructed at the start to think themselves naturally inferior to men because less muscular, and need not have recourse to particular arts, feline chiefly, to make their way in the world. I have no special choice among the women of my books. Perhaps I gave more color to 'Diana of the Crossways' and Clara Middleton of the 'Egoist,' and this on account of their position.

Descendant of Defoe.

At Essex Quarter Session the other day Howard C. Pearce pleaded guilty to stealing £30 from a grocer at Southend.

Counsel said that Pearce was a descendant of Daniel Defoe and inherited the author's romantic disposition. He had been to sea and returned to Southend, and when he committed this theft ran away to Canada. Being conscience-stricken, however, he returned and surrendered.

He was released on promising to go to sea.

Wouldn't Wake Up.

Mrs. C. one morning last week thought she smelled gas. Bravery came to her mysteriously, and she crept downstairs to investigate. After smelling about for some minutes she rushed upstairs, called Mr. C., then shook him, and at last aroused him. Then this was hear:

"John, there's a leak in the gaspipe in the kitchen. We'll all die if it is not fixed."

Leaks had been heard of before, and Mr. C. sleepily asked:

"Is it a-leaking much now?"

"Not much," screamed his wife, and then, as Mr. C. turned over, this soothing advice was given:

"Put a bucket under it and come to bed."—Birmingham Post.

When the Horse is Idle.

Feeding should not be suspended because the days have come when the work horses have less to do. Manage to give them some work every day or turn them in a yard or paddock to move about. Feed enough so they will not run down or get soft, as it will cost much more to get them in good condition again if allowed to fall off. They should have at least two feeds of grain each day. Corn and oats ground, from four to eight pounds, fed on cut hay, in two meals, is a good ration.—Farm Journal.

HERO OF RORKE'S DRIFT.

How Sergeant Henry Hook Won the Victoria Cross—Decorated on Field of Action.

The London Daily Graphic publishes the following:—

The death is announced of Sergeant Henry Hook, V. C., one of the few survivors of Rorke's Drift, who was recently compelled by ill-health to retire from his position as an attendant at the British Museum. Here he had been for twenty years an unobtrusive but familiar figure to every frequenter of the reading room. A Daily Graphic representative once had an interesting chat with him there about that memorable day at Rorke's Drift in 1879. He said that the most important particular in connection with the thing was that he was the only man who got the V. C. on the spot where it had been won.

"Lord Wolseley gave it me," he said, "on August 3rd, within seven or eight hundred yards of the hospital."

The Zulus had got close up to the hospital, and the defenders had to get through one partition after another, breaking holes through.

"In the second room," said Hook, "there were several patients; and for a few minutes I was the only fighting man there. A man of the 24th came to me from another room with a wound in his arm. I tied it up. Then John Williams came in from another room and made a hole in the partition, and we got the sick through that. While he was doing it the Zulus smashed the door open and tried to get in. So I stood at the side of it, and shot at them and bayoneted them as they tried to get in. But they could only get in one at a time, and I killed them as they came in. One Zulu got hold of my rifle and tried to drag it away. But I slipped in a cartridge—the muzzle was against his breast—and so he fell dead. When all the sick were out but one, who couldn't move, having a broken leg, I went through the hole, too, dragging him after me. I broke his leg again doing that. Then I stood at the other side of that hole, as before, while Williams made another hole into the next room. And so at last Williams and I get them all through, one hole after another, and then through a window into the outer defences. And there we stopped with the rest during the Zulu attack."

The World's Best Spring Medicine—

Paine's Celery Compound

Paine's Celery Compound is the only spring medicine that the best physicians are now recommending, because no other remedy can so quickly bring new and vigorous health to the ailing and broken down.

Paine's Celery Compound cures disease by first purifying the blood and strengthening the nerves. It makes the weak strong and keeps them in good health. Seeing that experience of tens of thousands has proven that Paine's Celery Compound is the best of all spring medicines, it is foolish and suicidal to defer its use. One or two bottles used at this time will quickly banish all symptoms of disease and fit you for the work and duties of spring and summer.

When you ask for Paine's Celery Compound see that you get the genuine with the name PAINE'S and the STALK of CELERY; other celery preparations are deceptions.

Irish Courtesy.

An Irishman has oftentimes such particular regard for the feelings of a stranger, that, rather than contradict him, he will appear to acquiesce in many things that he could not be expected to believe. I said, he will appear to acquiesce. A tourist who was sailing upon Loche Erne once wished to test the alleged character of Irishmen for politeness. Now, there was a regular squall on, and as a moment when the old boatman was engrossed and had all his energies bent to keep the little craft before the wind, the inquisitive one, leaning over the old boatman, shouted in his ear, "Very little wind to-day." "Very little, indeed," was the reply; "but what there is of it is mighty strong!"—Seumas MacManus.

Old Trees.

An old yew tree stands in the churchyard at Fortingal, in Perthshire, which De Candolle, nearly a century ago, proved to the satisfaction of botanists to be twenty-five centuries old, and another is still standing at Hedsor, in Bucks, which is 3,240 years old. How De Candolle arrived at an apparently correct estimate of the enormous age of these living trees is a simple thing, and the principle is doubtless well known to-day to all. The yew, like most other trees, adds one line about the tenth of an inch to its circumference each year. But the oldest living thing in the world to-day, so far as known, is a cypress tree in Chapultepec, Mexico, that is 6,260 years old—New York Tribune.

Flag Commander at the Nore.

Commander W. Lumsden, who has just taken up his appointment as Flag Commander to the Commander-in-Chief at the Nore, Sir Hugo Pearson, says The London Star, is a promising officer in the navy. He was present at the bombardment of Alexandria, where he was slightly wounded, and took part in the Egyptian war. He is the eldest surviving son of Mr. Henry Lumsden of Pitcaple Castle, Aberdeen. Like so many naval officers, he is married to an Australian, whom he met when he was in command of the Royal Arthur, the flagship of the Australian Squadron. She is a Melbourne girl, daughter of Sir Thomas Fitzgerald, the most famous surgeons under the Southern Cross.

POET WILLIAM MORRIS

APPRECIATION OF THE GREAT CRAFTSMAN AND SOCIALIST.

His Fame in Literature Will Be Aristocratic in Two Distinct Respects—An Anomalous Fact When the Democratic Nature of His Literary Ideals is Considered—His Work in Making Common Things Beautiful.

Nine years have passed since William Morris' death, and it is not perhaps overbold to predict the way in which he will come to be regarded by the new generations which must pass judgment on the old reputations. It is already sufficiently evident that his fame in literature will be aristocratic both as regards the restricted limits of its scope and as regards the refinement of taste which the appreciation of his prose and verse demands. This fact is in itself anomalous, when we consider the democratic nature of Morris' literary ideals. Then as regards art, we must recognise the fact that his significance lay chiefly in the impetus which he gave towards the creation of beautiful things, and towards a healthier conception of the part which beauty should play in the everyday life of the people. He was not, apart from literature, in any high sense a creative artist, but an inspired and zealous craftsman, with strong and often sane convictions, which he had force enough to impress upon his generation.

What interests one most deeply in Morris is the ease and mastery with which he passed continually from one absorbing occupation to another, and therewithal the unity of purpose and the rugged sincerity which underlay this apparent diversity. We know him first as a boy at Marlborough College whetting his curiosity on the Roman and pre-Celtic remains of that district, and gathering those impressions of natural beauty which pass like a gleaming thread through the prose and verse of his maturer years. Oxford, about whose grey towers something still lingered of the enchantment of the middle ages, stimulated his love of architectural beauty, a love that was deepened until it became a passion by his journeys on foot among the Gothic cathedrals of northern France. Oxford gave him, too, the inspiration of a kindred spirit, his life-long friend and associate in all his labors, Burne-Jones. Then followed the comparatively brief infatuation for Rossetti, who was old enough and emperious enough to become the master spirit of that early group. At Rossetti's instance and under his inspiring yet erratic guidance Morris for several years strove loyally to gain a mastery in painting. To this end he abandoned his chosen profession of architecture, but for the first and last time in his life he was forced to acknowledge himself beaten. However, with Morris every experience was turned to ultimate advantage, and even this painting venture can scarcely be considered as a false start, for it gave him a securer mastery of detail and a surer sense of color in the decorative work of later years. Already he had given evidence of original power and exceptional facility in both prose and verse, and it must certainly have puzzled his friends to know the precise direction that his creative energy would take. The furnishing of the Red House at Upton at a time when the art of decoration had sunk to its lowest ebb of cheap or pretentious vulgarity presented problems which in their solution gave Morris an impulse towards the most persistent and probably the most important labor of his life. For the artistic detail of this house, down to the smallest piece of furniture, Morris and his friends made themselves responsible, and from their co-operation grew first the idea and then the successful establishment of the firm with which Morris' name will always be associated.

"One evening a lot of us were together," says Rossetti, in the account given by Mr. Watts-Dunton, "and we got to talking about the way in which artists did all kinds of things in olden times, designed every kind of decoration and most kinds of furniture, and someone suggested—as a joke more than anything else — that we should each put down five pounds and form a company. Fivers were blossoms of a rare growth among us in those days, and I won't swear that the table bristled with fivers. Anyhow, the firm was founded, but, of course, there was no deed or anything of that kind. In fact, it was a mere playing at business, and Morris was elected manager, not because we ever dreamed he would turn out a man of business, but because he was the only one among us who had both time and money to spare. We had no idea whatever of commercial success, but it succeeded almost in our own despite."

Now painting was abandoned and poetry for the time was laid aside, and Morris, the craftsman, steps forth. "He was willing," Miss Cary writes, "to exercise his faculties on the humblest undertakings, with no other aim than to make a common thing pleasant to look upon and agreeable to use. Half a century ago 'craft' was not the fashionable word for the kind of work with which the firm chiefly concerned itself, and in doing the greater part of what he did Morris was merely writing himself down, in the language of the general public, an artisan. Conforming to the truest of principles, he raised his work by getting under it. Nothing was too laborious or too lowly for him. Pride of position was unknown to him in any sense that would prevent him from indulging in manual labor. His real pride lay in making something which he considered beautiful take the place of something ugly in the world. If it were a fabric to be made lovely with long-disused or unfamiliar dyes, his hands were in the vat. If tapestry were to be woven, he was at the loom by dawn. In his workman's blouse, steeped in indigo, and with his hair outstanding wildly, he was in the habit of presenting himself cheerfully at the houses of his friends, relying upon his native dignity to save appearances, or, to speak more truly, not thinking of appearances at all, but entirely happy in his role of workman, though frankly desirous that the business should prosper beyond all danger of the 'smash' that would, he owned, 'be a terrible nuisance.' 'I have not time on my hands,' he said, 'to be ruined and get really poor.' It was to the peculiar union of the ideal and the practical in his nature that his success in the fields on which he ventured is due."

In the intervals of this exacting yet joyous labor at various handicrafts, which embraced, apart from the general management of the business, innumerable experiments in dyeing, weaving, embroidery and stained glass, Morris found time to produce poetry which in its extent and in its strikingly original quality takes high rank in a period when poetry was both abundant and powerful. These poems can never be in an age not wholly alive to poetry, popular, nor in an age not wholly dead to poetry can they be neglected. Two things especially command attention in Morris' poetical work: first, the devout and racy mediaevalism of the early pieces, and, secondly, in his greater period, the story-telling quality. All modern attempts in the mediaeval manner must perforce be factitious, and in his poetry no more than in his decoration can it be said that Morris recaptured quite the spirit of the middle ages. But the inspiration which he drew from the thirteenth century and from the art already tinged with self-consciousness of Chaucer's century was more vital and unaffectedly genuine than in the case of any other author in a period of mediaeval worship, both sham and sincere. His narrative poems, which contain almost all the really great stories of the world, were a reaction, and a timely one, against the modern habit of sentimental introspection and soul torture, which Morris so heartily loathed. Prolix these poems doubtless are, and deficient in consequence in the intensity which strikes in tragic flashes from the pages of many a lesser poet. But Morris never wrought without a purpose, and the dearth in his poems of those splendidly isolated phrases which are dear to the quoter's heart was part of this conscious purpose. He felt that modern poetry had become too literary, and that the skill of the modern poet was devoted to the over-elaboration of individual passages, with a consequent loss of spontaneity, and with a frequent sacrifice of that unity of impression which a perfect poem, like a perfect picture, should convey. Morris is not, therefore, a poet of purple patches. Although never a careless artist I am convinced that he would have preferred to lapse into occasional roughness and naive incoherence rather than produce a phrase so redolent of literature as, for example, Tennyson's "Laborious orient ivory sphere in sphere."

Discussion of Morris' poetry, to be wholly satisfactory, cannot fail to deal with some of the question that I have touched upon, and Miss Cary's treatment of Morris' poetry glances off the surface of the subject. However, she never fails to interest us, and her estimate of Morris in his many capacities is far from superficial. In conclusion I may say that I do not know any book more likely to stimulate an interest in Morris, or more reliable in the picture which it presents of this many-sided man.—Prof. Pelham Edgar, in Toronto Globe.

A Famous Nurse Dead.

Another link connecting the present generation with that of the period of the Crimean campaign has been severed by the death last week of Miss Jane Catherine Shaw Stewart, sister of the late Sir Michael Shaw Stewart, of Ardgowan, Greenock. She was associated with Miss Florence Nightingale in active nursing work in the military hospitals in the Crimea, and at the close of the war appreciation of her practical services was shown by appointing her matron superintendent of Netley Hospital, in which capacity she served till 1868. For many years past she had lived in retirement at the country village of Slinfold, Sussex, where, by her own request, she was buried, her funeral being attended by her nephew, Sir Hugh Shaw Stewart, M. P., and a few intimate friends.

Disraeli's Dress.

A contemporary of Disraeli in his memoirs records this impression of that famous dandy's personal appearance: Usually he wore a slate-colored velvet coat, lined with satin; purple trousers, with a gold braid down the outside seam; a scarlet waistcoat, long lace ruffles falling down to the tips of his fingers; white gloves, with brilliant rings outside them, and long black ringlets rippling down over his shoulders. When he spoke in Parliament he was accustomed to wear a bottle green frock coat, with a white waistcoat, collarless, and a copious supply of gold chains.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN NORWOOD MILL

Richard Kirk Loses Two Fingers in Edging Machine.

Death of Old Resident—New Ministerial Association—Late Norwood News.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Norwood, May 25.—At the Presbyterian church on Sunday Rev. Geo. MacLennan preached an interesting sermon of a biographical character, touching on the birth and education of John Knox, and followed the history of his life to its glorious ending. In the evening the sermon was a continuation of that of the morning, in which he did ample justice to the great Scotchman, who Thomas Carlyle said was the one man to whom Scotland and the world owed so much. Special music was rendered at both services. Mrs. Callander sang "Calvary" in the morning, and chose "Abide With Me" as her evening selection.

The funeral of the late Charles Buck, a well known resident of this community, took place from his late residence, Hastings Road, on Friday afternoon at 2.30. Place of interment Norwood Cemetery. Rev. C. Parker, Methodist minister, Norwood, and Rev. Steele, Methodist minister, Hastings, conducted the funeral service. The deceased had been in poor health for a long time, but had only been confined to his bed for about ten days. He was in his sixty-sixth year, and was born in Asphodel on the homestead, about two miles south of the village and resided on this locality all his life. For over 30 years he resided on a farm on the east side of the Hastings Road, lot 10, concession 9, Asphodel, three miles south of Norwood. He was a very industrious man, and by close application to work managed to accumulate considerable wealth. About six years ago he retired from farming and moved to the village. His wife, who survives him, is a daughter of the late James McConnell, of Belmont. They have no family. Mr. Buck was the second son of the late Oliver Buck, of Asphodel. His mother, who is in her 91st year, is living with her son, Oliver. Five brothers and four sisters survive him, viz., Thomas and John, of Michigan; James and Oliver, of Asphodel; George, of Chicago; Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs. J. Worden and Mrs. Burdick, of Michigan, and Mrs. Louis Downer, who lives in the North-west. The bearers were, James H. Buck, Oliver Buck, George Buck, Robert McConnell, Thomas McDonnell and Samuel McCoghel.

Mr. L. H. Kirkpatrick and Mr. D. A. Fraser were in Peterborough on business on Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Pearce was in Marmara on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Swain, of Havelock, were staying with friends in town over Sunday.

Miss C. Calder and Miss MacCarthy, of Campbellford, were guests at the home of Mr. James Calder over Sunday.

Owing to the illness of Miss Brighty, the primary class teacher of the public school here, a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Norwood High and Public School Board was called on Wednesday night, for the consideration of engaging a substitute for the remainder of the term. After two or three names were brought before the Board for consideration, Miss Lillie Buck was chosen to fill the vacancy.

The Norwood football team, who were to have played their second match with the Quakers of Peterborough on Saturday last, were unable to on account of the Quakers not being able to get their team together.

The concert under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, which was held in the town hall Friday evening, was a pleasing success as far as the concert was concerned, but the attendance was not very large. Miss Elspeth MacDonald, Scotch reader, who was the principal performer of the evening, rendered a number of pieces, her greatest hits being "Them Oxen," J. M. Barrie's "Garin Witness," and "Ken You Come Out." The musical part of the programme was furnished by home talent. Instrumental solo, Miss May Lilly; instrumental duet, Misses Pettigrew and Cumming; solo, "Jessie Dream," Rev. Geo. MacLennan; solo, "Message of Violets," Mr. J. Roxburgh; solo, "The Lighthouse Bell," Mr. D. Pettigrew; two male quartettes, Messrs. Molesman, Lilly, Finlay and Roxburgh, their first selection being "Hail Us Ye Free," and the second, "Rule Britannia."

Richard Kirk, an employee of the firm of Buck & McLean, met with a serious accident on Friday which resulted in the loss of his third and fourth finger on his left hand. His usual work was nailing boxes but it seems his work ran out so he started to assist in edging the cheese boxes. He was warned by the employees that it was no business for a novice, but he heeded not the warning. He was immediately taken across the road to Dr. Pettigrew's, where chloroform was administered and the hand dressed. Mr. Kirk seemed to be unfortunate. About two years ago he was working on the roof of Mr. John McMullen's private residence, Peterborough street, which was then in course of erection, when he fell off the roof, breaking his leg and sustaining other injuries, necessitating his going to the hospital, and this was the first work he had done since.

The East Peterborough Ministerial Association met for the first time in the ladies' parlour of the Methodist church on Monday morning for organization purposes, its objects and aims being mutual edification and co-operation in Christian work. The association is to meet the last Monday of every month at two o'clock. The officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Rev. Geo. MacLennan, (Presbyterian, Norwood) vice president, Rev. Mr. Thompson, (Presbyterian, Hastings) sec.-treas., Rev. E. W. Pickford, (Anglican, Norwood.)

Those present at the meeting were Rev. C. Parker, Methodist, Norwood, Rev. E. W. Pickford, Anglican, Norwood, Rev. George MacLennan, Presbyterian, Norwood; Rev. H. MacQuade, Methodist, Warsaw; Rev. H. Foley, Methodist, South Dummer; Rev. Thompson, Presbyterian, Hastings; Rev. Steele, Methodist Hastings; Rev. Campbell, Presbyterian, Havelock; Rev. Holman, Baptist, Havelock. There were also communications from some who could not be present.

The second meeting will be on June 19th.

FORTY MILES OF LOCUSTS.

Stopped a Railroad Train in Uganda While Proceeding to Mombasa.

The Daily Express publishes the following:—A remarkable sight was witnessed recently by passengers in one of the down trains on the Uganda Railway, writes an Express correspondent.

When passing Nairobi, the headquarters of the railway, a dense swarm of locusts, closely followed by an enormous flock of hawks, circling gracefully round in pursuit of their prey, was seen high up in the heavens.

An even stranger sight, and one which told only too plainly of the havoc being wrought in their aerial ranks, was presented by the discarded wings of the locusts which fluttered to the ground like falling leaves.

Not long ago, while proceeding from Lake Victoria to Mombasa, a train ran into a perfect bank of these destructive pests, which continued, with more or less density, for a distance of nearly forty miles.

In some places they were between four and five inches in depth; but, curiously enough, the entire invasion was confined to a strip of not more than fifty yards on either side of the four-foot way.

As soon as the engine struck the swarm the train was brought to a standstill, and for the next two hours a breakdown gang had to be employed in shoveling the locusts from the metals and covering them with sand, the stench being described as almost overpowering.

WEAK LUNGS.

Made Sound and Strong by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If your blood is weak, if it is poor and watery, a touch of cold or influenza will settle in your lungs and the apparently harmless cough of to-day will become the racking consumptive's cough of to-morrow. Weak blood is an open invitation for consumption to lay upon you the hand of death. The only way to avoid consumption and to strengthen and brace the whole system is by enriching your blood and strengthening your lungs with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich, warm blood. They add resisting power to the lungs. They have saved scores from a consumptive's grave—not after the lungs are hopelessly diseased, but where taken when the cough first attacks the enfeebled system. Here is positive proof. Mrs. Harry Stead, St. Catharines, Ont., says: "A few years ago I was attacked with lung trouble, and the doctor, after treating me for a time, thought I was going into consumption. I grew pale and emaciated, had no appetite, was troubled with a hacking cough, and I felt that I was fast going towards the grave. Neither the doctor's medicine nor other medicine that I took seemed to help me. Then a good friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had used four boxes it was plain that they were helping me. I began to recover my appetite, and in other ways felt better. I took six boxes more, and was as well as ever, and had gained in weight. I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved me from a consumptive's grave, and I feel very grateful."

Now, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the strength in just one way—they actually make new blood. That is all they do, but they do it well. They don't act on the bowels. They don't bother with mere symptoms. They won't cure any disease that isn't caused by bad blood. But then, nearly all common diseases spring from that one cause—anaemia, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, sideaches, backaches, kidney trouble, lumbago, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, nervousness, general weakness and the special secret ailments that growing girls and women do not like to talk about even to their doctors. But you must get the genuine with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around each box. If in doubt send the price — 50 cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes, to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and get the pills by mail postpaid.

The Greatest Doctor.

A story is told of an Englishman who had occasion for a doctor while staying in Pekin, says the Birmingham, England, Post. "Sing Loo, greatest doctor," said his servant; "he saves my life once." "Really?" queried the Englishman. "Yes, me telibile awful," was the reply; "me callee in another doctor. He gives me medicine; me velly, velly bad. Me callee in another doctor. He came, and give me more medicine, make me velly, velly badder. Me callee in Sing Loo. He he come. He saves my life."

BABY CAME NEAR DYING

From an Awful Skin Humour—Scratched Till Blood Ran—Wasted to Skeleton—Hands Like Claws—Cuticura Brings Blessed Relief and Speedy Cure.

"WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA"

"When my little boy was three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he came near dying. It itched so he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin. He got so weak he took fainting spells, and we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time.

"I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that I put him in the cradle. You don't know how glad I was when he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment, one cake of Cuticura Soap, and about half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, to cure. I think he would have died only for the Cuticura. —Mrs. M. C. Maitland, Jasper, Ont."

No return in 14 years: Mrs. Maitland writes, under date of Feb. 24, 1903: "It affords me pleasure to say that it is fourteen years since my boy was cured of the terrible skin disease. He has been permanently cured and is hearty and strong."

WIZARD OF THE AIR.

Marconi Talks of Wireless Messages Around the World—Absolute Certainty of Ocean Wireless.

William Marconi's head offices in narrow Finch lane, London, just back of the Royal Exchange and around the corner from the Bank of England, are a busy place, and any sight-seer who strayed in just to see what the headquarters of wireless telegraphy looked like would find himself much in the way of messenger boys, clerks, mechanical experts and administrative officials, all moving about as if electricity were in the air. The guiding spirit of the establishment has a plain, dingy little room which tells the story that its occupant is too busy with one of the biggest ideas of the century to bother himself about appearance.

Chevalier Marconi is rarely interviewed, partly because he is always desperately busy, and doesn't care to talk, and partly because, whenever you go to see him, the chances are ten to one that he is somewhere else. I caught him by appointment just as he was preparing to dash off for his native Italy for a few days. Then he will turn up at his station away down in Cornwall, and then, it seems, he is to make another flying trip to the United States to take another big step—perhaps almost the last—toward the complete establishment of wireless telegraphy across the Atlantic. He has never been willing to set any date for this feat, and I wanted to see if I could not pin him down to one, writes C. B. to the Toronto Globe.

"Is it absolutely certain," I asked, "that we are about to have wireless telegraphy across the ocean established on a commercial basis?"

"Absolutely certain," said Mr. Marconi, chopping his words off as if there were no more to be said on the subject.

"Aren't you prepared now to say exactly when?"

"Probably this year; maybe in a month. "You see, there are fourteen cable lines, and if one of them breaks down there are the others to fall back on. With us there is only one system, and if there is any breakdown people will say they always knew the plan was not practicable. I can send a message clear across the Atlantic now, but I want to effect certain improvements and alterations to insure success.

"Then we shall have messages across the Atlantic at ten cents a word instead of twenty-five, and press messages at five cents instead of ten, and we shall probably get faster transmission than at present."

"Then what?"

"I want to see what the Pacific will do, and to experiment with currents around the earth. There are many new conditions that would have to be made and many obstacles removed before we can send a message clear around the earth."

"And are you going to enable us to talk back and forth across the Atlantic without wires? What is the prospects for ocean telephones?"

"I do not see anything in it at present. You will be able to telegraph faster than you can talk, so it would not pay, apparently, to work at the changes necessary to effect long-distance telephoning without wires."

"Do you mean you have given up long-distance wireless telephoning as a bad job?"

"No, no; I may take it up again if it becomes apparent that there are possibilities in it. At present I have my hands full with experiments at the station in Cornwall and with administrative work here. Our greatest distance so far is 3,000 miles, from Cape Cod to Cornwall, and 2,200 from shore to vessel."

"Have you anything up your sleeve?"

At this point Mr. Marconi's somewhat stern face was permitted to relax a little, and he smiled.

"I always have something up my sleeve," he said. "I had up my sleeve for six months the agreement we have just made with the British Government for the sending of messages to ships anywhere on the Atlantic from any post-office in England. We have such an agreement with the Western Union in the United States, but the facilities there seem to be hardly as good as they are in England."

The honors showered upon him by the nations of the earth do not appear to have turned Marconi's head in the least. He is simple, direct and straightforward, and gives one the impression that he is too much occupied with important matters to concern himself about trying to make an impression. Hard work, however, is beginning to tell on him, and, although he will be only 36 on the 25th of next April, he looks near 35. His marriage to the Hon. Beatrice O'Brien will probably bring about a considerable change in his work. Last year he traveled nearly 40,000 miles—mostly back and forth between England and America—but he can be expected to be a bit more stationary hereafter.

Mr. Marconi is as little given to writing about his discoveries as he is to talking of them, and has repeatedly refused glittering offers from editors and publishers. He says writing is a slow and difficult business for him. An invitation from the Royal Society, however, is not to be overlooked, and consequently the inventor has been devoting a good deal of his time of late to a paper containing his first complete and careful account of his work, which he is to read before some of the chief British scientists at the request of the Royal Society.

The King and His Portrait.

The King has turned many leisure moments to good account by sitting for his portrait, and on the testimony of the many artists who have had the honor of limning his features his Majesty is an ideal "sitter," full of patience, and sufficiently interested in the development of the work to give the artist the opportunity of catching his features in a pleasant animation. Last week His Majesty, says a London correspondent, visited two exhibitions, the International in the New Gallery, and on Saturday before going to the football match at Queen's Club he inspected the Watts exhibition at Burlington House. His Majesty has promised to give a sitting this week to Mr. Harold Speed, who is painting his portrait for the Belfast Corporation. As a patron of art His Majesty has commissioned Mr. Cope to paint for him the German Emperor in field marshal's uniform, a setting in which the Kaiser's Imperial bearing will appear to great advantage. Mr. Cope has just finished a portrait of the late Sir William Harcourt, sittings for which were given shortly before Sir William's death. The presence of these portraits will make the forthcoming exhibition at Burlington House one of exceptional interest, although it is to be hoped that the portraits in this year's show will not be quite so disproportionate to the total exhibits as at last year's academy. One of the "show" pictures at the exhibition will undoubtedly be Sir Alma Tadema's "Finding of Moses," and Mr. Herbert Marshall's water colors of London may also be sure of much attention.

Morley's Promise.

"What," asked Mr. Morley, in the House of Commons the other night, "is the right hon. gentleman going to do about higher education in Ireland?" "I should like to know," said the Prime Minister, "what you would do?" Mr. Morley was equal to the occasion. "I will tell you," he said, amid loud cheers, "when I am Prime Minister."

KIDNEY TROUBLES OF WOMEN.

Thousands of women suffer from backache and kindred kidney ills.

There is no need for any woman to be ailing for an instant. There is a sure and positive cure in

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE-KIDNEY TABLETS.

There is no one more to be pitied than the woman who has to drag through the day's work suffering from a terrible ache in the back, a darting pain between the shoulders, a heavy dragging pain in the loins, or a persistent headache that will not let up for an instant.

More than three-fourths of the sufferings of womankind come from disordered kidneys and poisoned blood—not from so-called "female troubles."

Get the kidneys acting right—have them filter the poisons from the blood and pains and aches flee and good health returns.

Here is a statement from Mrs. W. J. Smith, Smith's Falls, Ont., a woman who knows whereof she speaks:

"I believe Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets did me more good than any remedy I ever used. My kidneys and back caused me much misery, but the Tablets promptly relieved me. I gave them to my little girl for weakness of the kidneys and the results were satisfactory. My mother also has used them and thinks there was never a kidney medicine to equal them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets are small, chocolate-coated and easily taken. Price 50c. a bottle of 50 Tablets, at druggists or by mail. The Dr. Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

REASON No 36
WHY YOU SHOULD USE
Red Rose Tea

Because it is Economical.

Red Rose Tea is composed of what are known in the trade as "high-grown" Ceylon and Indian teas. These teas are grown at high altitudes on the mountain slopes, where the tea bushes grow more slowly and are more carefully cultivated than in the valleys, where the climate is warm and humid.

High-grown tea is not only a finer quality, but contains much more tea juice or extract than valley-grown tea.

This can be easily proved by comparing a drawing of Red Rose with any other tea. By doing so you will find that a pound of Red Rose Tea will spend as far as 1¼ to 1½ lbs. of other teas.

The saving is most apparent in the Blue Label and better grades—buy a pound and make the test.

BATTLE OF THE THAMES.

Important Historic Event—Neglect of a True Friend of Britain in The Hour of Peril.

The following lines clipped from a late newspaper form a reminder of an important historic event and of the neglect of a true friend of Britain in the hour of peril and failure to recognize the services of a brave Indian alley:

Tecumseh.
1813-1905.

Full ninety years have sped since that dark hour
When, 'mid war's fierce flame and wild alarms,
Foremost among the nation's sons in arms,
Tecumseh died. Since then in golden dower
Blessings have crowned us. Now a bright array
Of wealth, in men and cities, fields and gold,
Is ours. Yet from the stormy days of old
There lingers still one mighty debt to pay.
Eternal granite tow'ring to the skies
Should fitly witness his eternal fame,
Who with his country nobly strives and dies.
Instead—well may we blush with honest shame!—
Tecumseh died the nation's life to save,
This is his monument—an unmarked grave!

—Victor Lauriston.

Battle of the Thames.

The battle of the Thames was fought in October, 1813. Fifty-nine years ago there stood on the roadside on the Longswoods road a little log schoolhouse; a few rods away stood a wayside tavern called the Tecumseh house, marked by a swinging sign with the rude painting of an Indian on it. The spot is situated about two miles as the crow flies from Thamesville, that is, the Thamesville of that day, which was a hamlet on the Longswoods road, the traveled route at that time from the west to London, Hamilton, and other places east. The Thamesville of to-day is on the Great Western Railway, now the Grand Trunk which had not at that time been built or apparently been thought of. The little schoolhouse stood within a few feet of where Tecumseh was killed. The writer in 1846 taught Young Canada in that little schoolhouse. Right there was the Battle of the Thames fought. Gen. Proctor, with a few regulars and a body of Indians under Tecumseh had been retreating before the large forces of Americans under Gen. Harrison, until this spot was reached, when Tecumseh, it is said, positively refused to retreat further, but resolved to make a stand in defence of the Indian settlement of Moravian-town, about a mile further up the river.

Death of Tecumseh.

The spot was well chosen for defence. The surrounding country was covered with primeval forest trees, the only approach to it being the road. There was a sandy ridge running westward and on the side next the road a black ash swale. Behind this ridge Tecumseh and his men had erected a rude breast works of logs. Proctor had one field piece pointing down the road; but the story goes in the locality that he had retreated before the Americans had arrived, and not a shot was fired. As the Kentuckians advanced along the road thinking the Indians were farther east and that they would outflank them, rushed through the swale, but instead came directly on Tecumseh's position and there the Indians fought and many of them were killed, among them their great chief, whose body is said to have been mutilated by those Kentucky riflemen. After Tecumseh's death and the scattering of his men in the woods, Gen. Harrison made no serious attempt to penetrate much farther into the country, but soon retired again to Detroit.

Saw the Great Chief.

The late Mr. Cornwall who had a small saw and grist mill at Thamesville when the writer was teaching in the neighborhood said he was a small boy at the time of the battle, and the evening before the battle, as he was in the woods looking after the cows he came right on Tecumseh's camp. The Indians had killed a cow and were cooking steaks for supper. He said Tecumseh was a fine tall man, wearing an officer's sash, and had around his neck a ribbon on which was suspended a large silver medal. Mr. Cornwall said Tecumseh could speak English and spoke kindly to him, patting him on the head. Many have wondered that while monuments have been erected to the memory of others, perhaps less deserving, this great Indian chief has been treated with neglect. It is doubtful if any one knows the location of his grave. The story there at the time is that his braves carried the body away into the woods leaving no mark where they left it. The stage always made a stop at the Tecumseh house, on the battle ground and the Americans who were passing through the country, cut down saplings and made canes out of them, as souvenirs of their visit to the place of an American victory over a few Indians.

Sir William Van Horne.

William C. Van Horne, one of the world's great railroad men, began his career as a telegraph operator in Chicago, says Success. He rapidly rose to high places in railroading, and in the early 80's he had attained such a reputation in the business that Lord Strathcona, the financier of the project to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway, selected the young American as general manager and chief of the building operations. He was so successful in this work and rendered such important service to the Dominion of Canada in pushing the railroad across her vast expanse to the Pacific Ocean that in 1896 Queen Victoria knighted him. Pre-eminently endowed with common sense and humor, he is not the man to take his knightly honors too seriously. Shortly after receiving his title he exclaimed to a group of friends:

"This 'Sir William' business is very fine, but I'd like to hear what the boys down in Chicago will have to say about it. They used to call me just plain Bill."

Spiteful.

"No man could kiss me," said Miss Plainun, with decided emphasis.

"Oh, I don't know!" rejoined Miss Dimples. "Some men are awfully reckless."

SATURDAY'S NAVAL FIGHT A VICTORY FOR JAPAN

Late Reports Gives the Russian Loss at 19 War Vessels, 13 of Which Were Sunk and 6 Captured---Admiral Togo Wins a Decisive Victory---Russ Fleet Practically Annihilated---Russian Admiral's Flag Ship Said to be Lost---Greatest Naval Fight Since the Time of Nelson---Details of the Battle.

NINETEEN SHIPS LOST.

Washington, May 29.—An official telegram from Tokio states that Admiral Togo reports to his Government that the total losses sustained by the Russian fleet Saturday and Sunday were,—Two battleships, one coast defence ironclad, five cruisers, two special service ships and three destroyers, all sunk. In addition there were captured, two battleships, two coast defence ironclads, one special service ship, one destroyer and over two thousand prisoners. Admiral Togo adds that the Japs squadron was undamaged.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

Tokio, May 29.—2.50 p.m.—In the battle fought Saturday the Russian battleships Borodino and Alexander III; the armoured crusiers, Admiral, Nakhimoff, Dmitri, Donskoi and Vladimor Monomach; the coast defence ironclad, Admiral Oushakoff; the protected cruisers Svetlana and Juntchung; the repair ship Kamtschatka and the cruiser Artesan, were sunk. The battleships Orila and Nicolait and the coast defence ironclads Admiral Senie, Lapsiavin and General Admiral Aproxine were captured.

RUSS FLAGSHIP SUNK.

London, May 29—12.35 p.m.—Reports are current on the Stock Exchange, purporting to be from authorative private sources, to the effect that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship, Kulas Sovaroff, was among the vessels sunk, and that the Japanese are following up the Russians and picking off their ships one by one.

25,000 TO 40,000 MEN DEAD.

London, May 29. — While no definite estimate of the dead can be given, as to the ships lost and captured, and the number of prisoners, it is believed that from 25,000 to 40,000 men were killed or drowned in the battle.

EIGHT CAPTAINS DROWN.

Tokio, May 29. — Eight of the captains of the Russian vessels which were destroyed in the battle, were drowned with the sinking of their vessels, the crews being made prisoners.

FLAG SHIP DAMAGED.

Washington, May 29. — According to later advices received here by the naval department, from Tokio, the Japanese, in addition to the ships already named, captured the Russian battleship Sissoi Veliky. The Russian flagship was seriously damaged.

ST. PETERSBURG IN THE DARK.

St. Petersburg, May 29—At the admiralty this morning absolutely nothing was known of the naval battle in the Far East, except the news contained in the press despatches. Everthing seems to indicate that Togo delivered desperate torpedo attacks on Saturday night, with the support of his heavy ships. The reported sinking of so many ships, it si believed, might also be partially due to mines sown ahead of the advancing columu.

THE JAP SIDE.

London, May 29. — According to Stock Exchange reports, on the Japanese side three cruisers were sunk and a dozen torpedo boat destroyers sunk or disabled.

The following despatches have been received by J. R. Heintz & Co., Water street:

London, May 29.—12.20 p.m.—Latest reports state that the Japanese sunk or captured nineteen vessels.

Tokio, May 29. — It is officially announced that Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet has been practically annihilated. Twelve war ships have been sunk or captured, and two transports and two torpedo boat destroyers have been sunk.

OREL AND BOREDINO SUNK

Four Other Ships Disabled or Destroyed—Japanese Are Pursuing the Fleeing Russians—Authorities at Tokio Announce Engagement With Russian Ships and the Holding of the Straits.

London, May 29.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Mail, cables that the Russian fleet has been dispersed; that several Russian ships have been disabled, and that the remainder are in flight with the Japanese pursuing.

5 Russian Warships Sunk.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—The American Consul at Nagasaki cables the State Department yesterday afternoon that the Japanese have sunk one Russian battleship, four other warships and a repair ship in the Straits of Corea. The entire fighting strength of the Baltic fleet is engaged.

Great Victory For Togo.

London, May 29.—According to The Daily Telegraph, a private telegram was received in London last night in a very high quarter to the effect that Vice-Admiral Togo had gain a great victory. Based on the meagre details already received here, most of the newspapers are ready to believe the Japanese have secured a victory.

The indications from many of the despatches are that Rojestvensky sent some of his vessels through the Tsugaru Straits, with the view of mystifying the Japanese.

Battle of Violent Character.

Paris, May 29.—The Temps reproduces a despatch from Rome saying that the Italian Minisiter of Marine, Admiral Mirabello, has received a cablegram from Chefoo giving a rumor that a battle of the most violent character has been fought, in which both combatants suffered serious loss.

St. Petersburg Breathless.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—In this momentous hour the Emperor, the Admiralty and the Russian public are waiting breathlessly for the Japanese to furnish authentic news of the fate of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky and his fleet, in which the hopes of the Russians are centred. The official disposition is to construe Tokio's silence favorably, but at the same time the strategic reason for such silence is recognized. The public, after the premature jubilation of Saturday, is inclined to reverse its attitude and to become pessimistic. The report sent to Washington by the American Consul at Nagasaki of the sinking of five Russian warships, including a battleship and repair ship, was accepted as the most definite and the most authentic piece of news received up to midnight and undoubtedly produced a bad impression. The fear was expressed that the battleship sunk might have been Rojestvensky's flagship, the Kniaz Souvaroff, on which the Japanese would undoubtedly concentrate their fire. The sinking of the repaid ship Kamchatka, which was filled with the most modern machinery, might, it was thought, prove later to be a more severe loss than that of a warship, but at the Admiralty, where crowds congregated Sunday afternoon and evening, the opinion was expressed that if Rojestvensky had cleared the gateway to the Sea of Japan with no greater loss than that reported by the American Consul, the passage had not been dearly purchased, especially if later reports should prove that the Japanese losses were anything like equal proportions.

Emperor's Anxiety.

Probably no one in Russia displayed such intense anxiety as the Emperor. The Emperor was greatly distressed when the Washington despatch containing the information sent by the Consul at Nagasaki arrived. The newspaper despatches naturally created the wildest speculation.

At 1 o'clock this morning Admirals Avellan and Wirinus, on returning from Tsarskoe-Selo, were shown the latest despatches to the Associated Press. Admiral Avellan said:

"Practically all the informatin in the possession of the Emperor or Admiralty it contained in the Associated Press despatches. Like the general public, we are now depending on Tokio for news, but we hope to be able to relieve the general suspense by despatches containing authentic information from Vladivostock by this evening.

Going to Their Doom.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—United State Minister Griscom, at Tokio, has reported to the State Department the announcement of the British Admiralty that the entire fighting strength of the Russian Baltic fleet was seen Saturday morning heading for Tsushima Strait.

Battle Began on Saturday.

Chefoo, May 29.—The Japanese Consul here has a private telegram stating that a battle was progressing Saturday between the Russian and Japanese fleets in the Straits of Corea.

Favorable To the Japs.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Japanese Minister Takahira has received a despatch from Tokio saying, in effect, that the fighting in the naval battle thus far has been with favorable prospects to the Japanese. The Minister's despatch is from private sources.

Defeated and Fleeing.

London, May 29.—The correspondent of The Morning Post at Shanghai says that a telegram has been received there from Pekin announcing that Rojestvensky's fleet has been defeated off the Tsu islands, and is fleeing northward, and that four Russian ships, including the battleship Moredima, have been sunk.

Russian Losses.

Tsingtau, May 29.—A telegram from Chinese sources says that in the naval battle in the Straits of Corea Saturday and Sunday the Russians have probably lost two battleships and two cruisers. This report has not been confirmed.

Two of the Battleships Gone.

Washington, May 29.—From information which has been received in Washington yesterday it is believed that two of the Russian ships reported to have been sunk in the Corean Straits by the Japanes ar the Orel and her sistership the Boredino. They are battleships of 15,000 tons. Three other vessels reported sunk are believed to have been cruisers the remaining one being a repair shop.

are believed to have been cruiseds, the remaining one being a repair shop."

News Avenues Closed.

Tokio, May 29.—Absolutely no news concerning the operations of the Japanese and Russian fleets was obtainable here yesterday. Newspapers here are under absolute leash and all telegraphs and cables are closed to press despatches.

Transmittable information concerning Saturday's historic events in the neighborhood of the Tsu Islands is limited to the bare fact that Rear-Admiral Rojestvensky's main fleet, steaming in two columns, with the battleships on the starboard and the cruisers and monitors on the port side, appeared in the Straits of Corea.

In Corea's Straits.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—A despatch to a news agency from Chefoo says that private advices have been received by the Japanese Consul there stating that the main portion of the Russian Baltic fleet engaged the Japanese squadron in the Straits of Corea Saturday night.

Favorable to Russians.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—The St. Petersburg Telegraph Agency publishes the following from Shanghai: "From all quarters telegrams are arriving here announcing that a naval battle is in progress between the Tsu Straits and the Japandse coast. No details are given, but the tone of the telegrams say that the Vladivostock squadron participated in the engagements.

"There is the greatest excitement in Shanghai. All the warships in the harbor have cleared for action.

"The cable to Woosung has been interrupted since Saturday."

Rojestvensky Had Lights Out.

London, May 29.—A despatch to The Times from Paris says that a private telegram from Chefoo, probably from Russian sources, reports that Rojestvensky began to force a passage of the Corean Straits Saturday night without lights, in two lines, one on each side of the Tsu Islands. Heavy firing is said to have been heard in the strait between 9.30 and 10.30 o'clock at night. Then it ceased.

One of Rojestvensky's ships returned to Kiachou Friday night, having been badly damaged by a collision.

CHURCH PARADE OF 57TH REGIMENT

Annual Sermon Was Preached Yesterday Afternoon by Rev. Dr. Crothers, Who Commended Canada's Citizen Soldiery---The Responsibility of Our Citizens---Must defend its Frontier against the Inroads of Land Grabbing Nations---A Policy of Defence not Defiance ---A Large Turn-Out.

Yesterday afternoon the annual church parade of the 57th Regiment was held the members attending George street church, where the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers, preached the sermon which was most appropriate to the occasion. The day was an ideal one for the parade, and there was a large turn-out of the Regiment. The route of parade, which was east on Murray street to Water, south to Hunter, west to George and north to the church, was lined with people, while the church was also well filled.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the Regiment left the drill shed, headed by the band, thirty-two strong, and marched by the route mentioned above, to the church, the centre portion of which had been reserved for the members of the Regiment.

The musical service was a feature,

REV. DR. CROTHERS,
Who Preached to the Regiment Yesterday.

the choir under the leadership of Mr. R. Gliddon, rendering two anthems with splendid effect. The band also gave a selection after the sermon.

The lessons were read by Lieut.-Col. Miller, after which the pastor preached the sermon, his text being Ephisians, ii; 14:—"For He is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us." The speaker expressed his pleasure at witnessing the red coats in any church of which he was pastor. He was also glad to address a few words to the members of the 57th on this occasion. He was also a soldier, though not arrayed as were those to whom he spoke. He was under orders as they were, and in a great many ways the life of a soldier corresponds to that of the minister. Paul often spoke in his writings of soldiers, and of fighting, and perhaps this was natural, since he was closely associated with a soldier.

"There were a number of things which inspire us this afternoon," said the reverend doctor, "among them being the music, the uniforms and the flag, the latter combining the crosses of St. Andrew, St. Patrick and St. George, the latter if tradition is true, being a soldier. The motto of the Regiment which translated means, 'who will separate' is also suggestive.'

The speaker said that he supposed they, on these occasions, got no end of good advice. He did not intend to give much advice to them, and thought that there were some things which they might with profit talk over. A question which might be asked frequently was, "Is war justifiable?" All pray for peace and hope that the time will come when there will be no war, but that time does not seem to be now. A few years ago the peace conference at the Hague was held, and shortly afterwards the Boer war took place. There were a few who thought that war unjustifiable, but he was sure none of his hearers held that opinion, and the great majority thought it to be one of the most justifiable wars ever undertaken. If ever there was a poor misguided man it was the late Paul Kruger, who, if he had been given his way, would have introduced 17th century methods into the government of South Africa. Then the present Russo-Jap war was justifiable. When we think of the oppression practised by Russia, we have reason to thank God that at last a people has been found which will stand up against that power, and if Japan had gone down our turn would have come next and India would resound with the boom of Russian guns. This is not a yellow peril, but a Muscovite peril. The speaker recalled other great wars in the history of the world which had been justifiable.

Up to the present, war is one of the stern necessities, and the nation is unworthy of the name which will not defend its honour and its frontiers. Then if war is necessary, it is also necessary to have good soldiers. Why should not men in military life be Christians? asked the speaker. History had proven that some of the world's greatest generals had been Christians.

The qualities that make good soldiers make good Christians. The soldiers should recognize their responsibility. There are problems to be solved in this country. These problems must be settled by persuasion not by arms. There are 1,000 people coming into this country every day, and on the plains near Winnipeg 32 languages are spoken. This constitutes one of the most serious problems which this country has to solve.

We are neighbours to a great nation which has already received more territory from Canada than it should have received and defence not defiance should be our motto.

He believed that the citizen soldiery should be built up, and was in hearty sympathy with the volunteer system. A soldier is taught a great many things which will do him good, one of these being the drill. He is also taught obedience which everyone must learn to be successful.

Canada has a record of which it may well be proud, when we think of the banks of the Nile, of Paaredeberg and Harts' River, we have cause to be thankful to our citizen soldiers.

There are 145 Canadaians in the Imperial service, at least one being from Peterborough.

The reverend speaker referred to the movement 1000 years ago when knighthood was inaugurated and spoke of the five pointed star, the points of which represented truth, purity, courtsey, patience and valour, all of which should be practised by soldiers to-day.

The speaker concluded his address by an appeal to his hearers to be faithful and at last they should hear the Master's voice calling them to their reward.

The regiment paraded direct from the church to the drill hall, where they were dismissed.

The local officers of the 3rd Dragoons were also in the parade, marching at the head of the regiment.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wight, of Florenceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wretchedly worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts.

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs.

The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children?

Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

My Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it."

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY OFFICIALS

Judge Winchester's Judgment Meets the Case.

COL. SHERWOOD MUST ACT

Chief of the Dominion Police Receives Orders and is Expected to Do His Duty—Section Five Does Not Help the Railway Company—The Law in the Case.

Ottawa, May 29.—Judge Winchester's report meets some contentions raised by counsel for the Pere Marquette in their application for a rehearing before the deportation of their officials. His Honor says:—"It is immaterial whether the directors of the new road or the shareholders reside in the United States or elsewhere; that part of the railroad operated in Canada does not take upon itself the laws of the country where these gentlemen may happen to reside. The Pere Marquette Railway Co., as owners of or having the controlling interest in these Canadian railways; must submit to and are amenable to the laws in force in Canada, so far as they affect those lines operated in Canada, and are, therefore, for the purposes of such lines, residents in Canada, and having, as admitted by their counsel, brought in officers and others, all residents and subjects of a foreign country at the time they were so brought into Canada, and who came into Canada under a contract of service made previous to such importation or immigration, have violated the act to restrict the importation and employment of aliens. These persons, being citizens of the United States, a country that has enacted and retained in force laws or ordinances applying to Canada of a character similar to the above mentioned act, are subject to the provisions of our act."

Does Not Help the Company.

Section five of the act referred to does not apply to or help the Pere Marquette Railway Company. That section was passed to exempt private secretaries, servants or domestics of a foreign citizen or subject temporarily residing in Canada; and skilled workmen engaged by any person, partnership or corporation in or upon any new industry not at present established in Canada, provided skilled labor for that purpose cannot be otherwise obtained, and also professional actors, artists, lecturers or singers, or persons employed strictly as personal or domestic servants. Persons employed by the Pere Marquette Railway in Canada above mentioned do not come within the above provisions.

Col. Sherwood Has Orders.

So far as can be learned here the refusal of the Pere Marquette officials to obey the order to leave the country will not have any effect upon the Government's policy. Colonel Sherwood, Chief of the Dominion Police, has received his instructions to see that the orders are carried out, and the Government expect him to do his duty. Of course it might be possible by legal means to delay the execution of the warrant, but this will in no way affect the final result.

Secretary Taft Speaks.

Cincinnati, O., May 29.—When asked Saturday if the United States Government would take any action if the American employes and officials of the Pere Marquette Railroad in Canada are deported, Secretary of War W. H. Taft said that he saw the possibility of a serious clash with the British lion if any such step was taken by the Canadian Government.

"The matter will present several embarrassing situations," said he, "because of the rigid enforcement of the alien labor law our Government, as was the case with the French civil engineers at Porto Rico, but nevertheless there may be a serious international clash if the Americans located at St. Thomas are forced to leave Canada simply because they are Americans working on an American railroad that extends into Canada."

PARLIAMENT OF KNOWLEDGE.

International Congress on Agriculture is Convened at Rome.

Rome, May 29.—In the historic hall of the capital yesterday King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena, surrounded by members of the Cabinet and other high States dignitaries, inaugurated the international conference of agriculture in the presence of the diplomatic corps and 150 delegates.

Minister of Agriculture Riva delivered the address of greeting to "the illustrious representatives of the civilized nations, convoked in a Parliament of knowledge, justice and economic concord in favor of the first and greatest of human endeavors, agriculture."

LORIMER SYSTEM OF AUTOMATIC TELEPHONES

A Telephone Expert Reports to Select Telephone Committee on the Advantages of the System Used in Peterborough by the Canadian Machine Telephone Company ---Its Superiority to a Manually Operated Switch Board---A Description of the Plant at Piqua, Ohio.

A feature of the meeting of the select committee appointed by the Dominion Government to investigate the telephone business, is the report of an expert on the Lorimer system of automatic telephony, the system used in the plant of the Canadian Machine Company in Peterborough, where the first automatic telephone exchange in Canada is rapidly nearing completion. Since this report is one which deals extensively with the system in its details of construction as well as operation, and in view of the fact that this plant will, in a short time, be in operation here, it is published by the Examiner, and the first instalment of this report appears today:—

In accordance with instructions from Mr. D. J. Johnson and Mr. A. O. Wisner, dated December 17, 1904, I have made an investigation of the system, the machinery, and the patent applications developed and prepared by the American Machine Telephone Company, of Piqua, Ohio, under the inventions of James Hoyt Lorimer and George William Lorimer.

The scope which I have given to my investigation has been such as to include a study of the general plan outlined by the inventors early in their work, and pursued to success afterward; the physical form which they have given to the system after developing it to the point where it becomes an operative system, and a study of their patent applications in the United States to determine how thoroughly the invention as made has been covered by the specifications and claims, and in a reasonable degree what bearing a patent issuing thereupon would have with reference not only to the thing to be protected, but also with reference to other systems of automatic telephony developed by others, and already in use, or possible to be put into use.

The System as a Conception.

The general plan laid down by the inventors at the time of beginning the real work which resulted in producing this system is that of bringing the lines of a telephone exchange from the subscribers to a central office, equipping these lines with a very small amount of apparatus per line, and further, installing in that central office a mechanism which may be called a machine, and which, disregarding the mentioned small amount of equipment per line may be said to be made up wholly of machine-units intended to make connections between lines. The distinction I am trying to make in this sentence is important, and may be stated in another way:—

Telephone exchanges not having automatic apparatus in their central offices, contain switchboards, commonly known as manual switchboards, and at these switchboards the operators sit, answering the calls of certain subscribers and connecting their lines with those of the subscribers called. These connections are made by units containing plugs, flexible cords and other machinery, and each operator is provided with a dozen or more such units of apparatus, one being like the other. In the manual system the cord circuits and the things that really belong with them as connecting devices are relatively inexpensive. The equipment belonging to the lines makes up quite the larger part of the central office outfit.

In the Lorimer system, almost all the machinery may be said to be made up of mechanical devices electrically controlled, each one of these devices corresponding in its function with the single cord circuit in the manual switchboard. Incidentally this mechanical cord circuit in the Lorimer system is automatic in its action, doing the things it must do as a result of mechanical and electrical power applied to it, and without the assistance of a human being, as is necessary in the manual switchboard. Even more important, however, is the distinction that the mechanical cord circuits of the Lorimer system, while very different from and more complicated and expensive than, cord circuits in a manual board, constitute, when taken as a whole, nearly the entire central office equipment. The very considerable saving in investment which may result from carrying out this fundamental plan, is one of the features upon which I am reporting in detail in a later part of this writing. It is of interest to note in passing that this is a feature of the system about which relatively little is said by the inventors and owners, but which really contains within it the whole spirit of the attempt from its beginning.

I desire to record at this point the fact that the task which the inventors set for themselves in the beginning, has been carried out consistently, and that the scheme of things now disclosed by the apparatus in Piqua, Ohio, and by the specifications and drawings of the applications, is in substantial harmony with the problem of telephone switching as it requires to be met in commercial practice.

The System as Mechanically.

My study of the mechanical development of the system was made upon the exhibit machine of 200 lines capacity, now in operation in the factory of the American Machine Telephone Company, in Piqua, Ohio. It consists of two smaller sections of machinery, each of which has a capacity of 100 metallic circuit telephone lines. Each section has, as one of its main parts, a group of things individual to the single group of 100 lines brought to that section. The remainder of the section is composed wholly of the mechanical cord circuits which I have mentioned. In the machine I tested there were five such cord circuits per section, although the number might be anything from one upward, and the fundamental facts which must control how many there shall be, will form the subject of some definite discussion later on in this report.

The business of the group of things first mentioned above as forming part of the section, is to keep on the lookout for calling lines in the group of 100 lines handled. When a line does call, this part of the machine immediately identifies it, and calls upon a cord circuit to take charge of it. As soon as this happens—and the operation is very quick — the cord circuit takes complete charge of operations, and the part of the machine which identifies the calling line goes on with a similar identifying service for other lines which are calling. The cord circuit having completed the required connection with the calling line, permits the desired subscriber to be rung up by the calling subscriber, and when the conversation is completed, the cord circuit releases itself from both lines and is ready for another connection, which may be given to it instantaneously after the complete release of the first one. The ringing of the called subscriber by the calling subscriber is done by the latter merely by pressing a button on his telephone.

The operation of seizing the calling line, transferring it to a cord circuit, which is available for use, and disestablishing the connection, when the conversation is over, are all accomplished, so far as energy is concerned, by means of power taken from some convenient source, such as an electric motor, gearing from a rotating shaft, a gas, or gasoline engine, or whatever is convenient. Control of the various parts which require to be moved, is primarily electrical, but there appears to be a distinct absence of electrical and magnetic means of doing things wherever they can be done as positively by mechanical arrangements.

The term, "cord circuit," I have chosen merely because of the similarity between the unitary features of the Lorimer system and the actual cord circuit used for the same purpose in the familiar manual system. The term used by the inventors in their description and specifications is "division," which, if understood, is equally explanatory. It is to be noted that in calling the division a cord circuit, I do not mean to imply that there are any flexible cords used. The absence of the flexible cords is a minor but important distinction between manual and automatic systems, as the maintenance and depreciation expense connected with the large equipment of flexible cords in a telephone switchboard was formerly of the greater expense of operating, and still remains, with vastly improved methods, an important feature of manual expense.

The Lorimer system provides each subscriber's telephone with a certain amount of mechanism having to do with the making of a call. The simplest form of a subscriber's telephone is that used with manual switchboards, there being in such an outfit merely a telephone receiver, a telephone transmitter, a signal bell, and a switch associated with the hook, upon which the receiver is placed, these parts being associated together with the necessary mounting box and wiring. All of these parts are necessary in the Lorimer system, and in addition there must be provided the implements for transmitting the signal impulses to and from the central offices in getting a connection. While there is a distinct difference in the mechanism, some idea of what the Lorimer subscribers' station involves may be gained from a comparison with the subscribers telphonee apparatus used in the Strowger system of automatic telephony, as used in Chicago and elsewhere. This Strowger system, however, involves a further element in the subscribers' telephone, this being a battery furnishing current for the transmitter. Two cells of such battery are used in the Strowger system, as those circuits and apparatus have not yet been arranged to furnish the current for the subscribers' transmitters over the line from the central office. The widly used 'common battery' or 'central energy manual system of to-day have dispensed with the chemical battery at the subscribers' telephone, all current for signals and talking being sent out from one large storage battery or machine in the central office.

The Lorimer system is designed on a basis of complete common battery or central energy current supply, and there is no necessity for equipping each telephone with two or more cells of battery. Taking as a basis the market prices of dry batteries and the accumulated experience in their use in manual systems, it seems that the use of the dry batteries inflicts an average expense of $1 per subscriber per year. Whereas the cost of current furnished over the line from the central office for the conversations varies with the method of getting the current, from five to six cents per subscriber per year when gas engines are used for charging the storage batteries, up to ten or fifteen cents per subscriber per year when the current is purchased from an electric power company at higher gross cost.

There is a further disadvantage in the use of primary batteries in the subscribers' telephone which is that most dry batteries, which are for many reasons the best form, if any are used, lose their power merely by lapse of time even if not used at all, so that the telephones which are used at least require almost as much expense for batteries each year as those which are heavily used. In all common battery systems, however, the current for transmitter supply is greater or less as the telephones are used more or less, so that the expense in this direction varies as the use of the system; and in the measured service method of charging, varies as the gross income for the service. This feature of varying with the service will be found to reappear in other features of the system, as discussed elsewhere in this report, and I invite attention to each element which I shall identify as this feature.

I have referred in the foregoing to the fact that the divisions, which I have also referred to as cord circuits, constitute much the larger part of each section. In this I have no reference to bulk, although the statement is true for that also, but to the complexity of parts and the cost of manufacture. This means, in other word, that a central office equipment on the Lorimer principle is composed mainly of devices adapted to connect lines together when called upon to do so. Bearing in mind that the whole function of the telephone exchange central office is merely to connect lines together, permit conversations, and disconnect them at the close of conversation, it is easily seen that divested of technicalities, telephone exchange central office switching is merely a manufacturing proceedure, the product of manufacture being telephone service. Viewed in this simple way, the most logical procedure to build a central office mechanism composed of units especially designed to make connections and permit conversations, and to place as many of those in a central office as shall be found necessary by dividing the number of connections to be made by the ability of each unit steadily to make them.

But the success or failure of an effort to simplify the telephone exchange problem in this way, and produce a central office equipment for handling the work, naturally must be determined, when the effort has been completed, by finding out whether, with a particular form of equipment, the cost of making the telephone service has been reduced below the cost of making it by other automatic or manual equipments already perfected.

Or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or are you gloomy and miserable? Then you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; avoid stimulants and narcotics, do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS,

I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

COUNTY POLICE COURT CASES

Havelock Prisoners Received a Remand on Friday.

Judge Edmison, Crown Attorney Wood, and High Constable Cochrane, returned on Friday from Havelock, bringing with them the prisoners William Seera and Jno. Grieves, who were charged with stealing a fat calf from Mr. E. Curtis, of Belmont, on May 18th.

The evidence in the case was heard before Judge Edmison on Friday, the time, however, being too limited to allow of hearing the arguments of the respective counsel. Several questions of law arose in connection with the case, which necessitated its enlargement until Tuesday next, at 9.30 a.m., when it will be concluded in the Court House.

The prisoners in giving evidence on Friday, testified that they had found the calf, dead, in the bush, and had removed the hide, and sold it to a local dealer. This was corroborated to some extent by the evidence of Mrs. Chard, with whom they boarded, who stated that, upon the evening of the occurrence, before the "skinning" operations, the prisoners had told her of the discovery of the dead animal.

Crown Attorney Wood, for prosecution; G. J. Sherry, Norwood, for defence.

An examination of three boys, Kane, McNairn and Johnston, ranging in ages from 12 to 14 years, was held in Judge Edmison's office on Saturday morning.

The boys, who reside in Smith township, were charged with stealing a number of ducks and eggs from Mr. Jas. M. Walton, of the same township.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the Children's Aid Society.

The boys were allowed to go with a severe warning by the Magistrate.

BRITISH HORSE MARKET DECLINES

Is Not as Good as it Was a Few Years Ago.

Electricity is Responsible for Some of its Decreased Demand.

"There has been some money made and a good deal lost in shipping horses from Canada to the Old Country," said a prominent horse dealer. "It was always a more or less risky job, for you never were sure of being able to land your animals over there in good condition. Horses don't stand a sea voyage as well as cattle, and their appearance when they get there is of a great deal more importance than is that of cattle. Horses go off flesh on the trip, get sea-sick, catch influenza, pink eye and other diseases, get patches of skin knocked off and usually land a great deal worse than they set out. The uncertainty of how much worse they will land is the uncertainty of the export horse business.

At anyrate there is not as good a market for Canadian horses as there used to be. We used to sell a very large number of bus horses—blocky horses weighing 1200 pounds. Now electric motor power has taken the place of a lot of those, and a good many are supplied by Australia."

POOR PARTY WARFARE.

It is surely the poorest kind of service that a journal can render to a political party to persistently misrepresent its opponents and attribute to them every kind of political crime that a perverted imagination can suggest, when as a matter of fact their is nothing to warrant either the sweeping indictments or the fierce invective in which they are hurled forth.

It is the poorest kind of service because when a day comes for criticism and for animadversion the public refuses to regard the case as serious, believing that it is merely part of the perpetual game of vilification that is often carried to limits that trespass beyond the bounds of decency.

The Ottawa Conservative organ launches into a diatribe in which it accuses the government of political offences of every kind and degree. Here is an example:—"The chief end of the Laurier Government is that the Laurier Government shall not end. Thus we have scandals commencing to thickly cluster about the different ministers—paving scandals, barbed wire fence scandals, scarcely a day goes past that a new one does not come to light. It must be remembered that these are mere surface indications. It does not take a very clever government to cover its tracks so that in nine out of ten crooked transactions it is impossible for the opposition to rout out the facts."

Now, if our contemporary were correct in assuming that the chief end of the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to maintain itself in office, does it not seem reasonable to assume that with so large a majority behind it and consequently with no temptation to stoop to questionable acts in order to gain precarious support the very last thing it would do would be to allow itself to become involved in scandalous transactions?

Can there be any doubt that it was the scandals that grew up around the Conservative regime in Ottawa combined with the internal disintegrating influences at work that overwhelmed it in ultimate ruin? But the scandals were not the exploitation of trumpery charges that would not bear investigation, but corrupt transactions on a colossal scale, which were revealed by searching inquiry on the part of vigilant committees of the House.

The so-called paving scandals—the testing of a special kind of paving whose merits were believed to be superior to that of other brands, is magnified into a crime; the allegation that the Government had given out a contract for a barbed wire fence without having called for tender is magnified into a scandal when the facts clearly show that no contract was given out, and that there would be none given out without tender; and now come some irregularities in a post office in Algoma, for which the Postmaster General dismissed the local postmaster; but subsequently upon reviewing the facts found that he had been unduly harsh and reappointed him.

In this case it was alleged that the reappointment was due to political pressure brought to bear upon him through the local members, but this Sir William emphatically denied. It was due to new facts that had been brought to light that exonerated the postmaster and placed the responsibility on some one else.

The Postmaster General felt, under the circumstances that he was justified in re-appointing the postmaster.

This is the sum total of the scandals that are alleged to be clustering thickly about the different ministers and upon which the assertion is based that the Government is tainted with a career of rascality and corruption.

It is hardly necessary to meet this ridiculous railing by remarking that the Government itself in the changes it has introduced in the contract system has taken precautions which will prevent the possibility of the very kind of corruption that the local Conservative organ would have the Government condemned for.—Ottawa Free Press.

EDITORIAL NOTES

We shall not have so much of a struggle writing the name of the Admiral of the Russian fleet now. It is no longer Rojestvensky but "Dennis."

The first issue of an excellent semi-monthly, "The Canadian Dairyman," devoted to the interests of the dairy industry, seems to fill the bill admirably. It is filled with abundant information, contained in original articles upon every phase of the dairying business, and should be in the hands of every one associated, in any capacity, with the business of producing milk, cheese, and butter. The price is only $1 per year, and communications should be addressed, "The Canadian Dairyman," Toronto.

The Welsh is a tough language whether one has reference to its acquirement, its use or its lasting quality. Wales came under English rule with the first Edward and now under Edward VII—a space of over six hundred years—it has still the language of the Welsh so much so that it is proposed to teach it in the schools as a vehicle for teaching English. This circumstance illustrates how tenaciously a people will cling to its mother tongue. The fact that Wales a tiny corner of England within a few hours of the largest English-speaking city in the world still clings to her mother tongue, should neutralize any surprise that may be felt over the people of Quebec standing so tenaciously by the language of their ancestors.

The superiority of Canadian cheese is easily accounted for. A Mexican dairyman, in search of information, as to advanced methods in his line of business, has recently completed a tour of observation of the United States and Canadian dairy establishments. He says that Canadian dairying methods are the best in the world. He had travelled throughout the United States and Canada, and saw nothing that could compare with what he had seen in Canada. This should please, but not satisfy Canadian dairymen, for, as excellent as are our dairy methods, there is still room for improvement in some details, and in some individual cases. It becomes Canadians to keep up the quality. They have now a fair hold on the British market, the best in the world, and they can easily keep it. With the assistance given by the Government in the matter of cold storage transportation, there is no reason why, with care and cleanliness from the cow to the market, gilt-edge Canadian butter should not continue to dominate the home land markets.

VETERAN LAND GRANT CLAIMS

Time to File Claims Extended Till December 1905.

Other Important Changes Affecting Certificates and Their Hypothecation.

The Ontario Government has decided to extend until December, 1905, the time in which claims may be filed for veteran land grants. An important amendment is that certificates issued under the Act may be accepted by the Department of Crown Lands as land script at their face value of 50 cents per acre in payment for Crown lands without regard to the restrictions contained in the eighth section of the Act. An abuse has been created in connection with the granting of powers of attorney by the veterans, these powers being made perpetual and with the sole object of enabling speculators to secure control of the lands and hold them contrary to the provisions of the Act, upon the same terms as the veterans themselves. It has now been provided that such powers of attorney must be filed with the Department of Crown Lands immediately after execution, and shall have the same effect as an absolute assignment so far as settlement duties are concerned, unless accompanied by affidavits of both parties thereto that such power of attorney was given in good faith for the sole purpose of empowering the attorney to sell the property for the benefit of the locatee and not for the benefit of the attorney.

MICHIGAN'S AD VALOREM TAXATION OF RAILWAYS

What the Tax Means to the State Revenue.

An important victory has just been won by the State of Michigan, a judicial decision having been rendered declaring valid the ad valorem tax on railroads which that state has adopted. Since the law went into effect in 1901 the railroads have paid taxes under the old specific law. Now they must turn over to the state over $1,000,000, with interest at one per cent. per month. The decision means an additional revenue of $2,000,000 a year for the state primary school funds. The Grand Trunk line, known as the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee, is exempted from the decision under the territorial rights granted its predecessor in 1855. The case hinged on the application of the railroads for an injunction restraining the attorney-general from proceeding against the roads for collection of the taxes under the ad valorem law, their argument being that the law was in contravention of the fourteen amendment of the constitution of the United States.

"I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice an improvement. I decided to keep on and now after using three boxes I am glad to say I am completely cured. My general health has also greatly improved. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Hem-Roid to all sufferers with Piles, and I feel convinced that what it has done for me it will surely do for them."

WAS A FATHER OF CONFEDERATION

Death in Ottawa of Hon. Wm. MacDougall

End of a Memorable Career—Deceased was one of First Ministers.

Special to The Examiner.

Ottawa, Ont., May 29.—Hon. Wm. MacDougall, formerly a member of the Federal Government, and one of the Fathers of Confederation, died this morning at 7 o'clock, after an illness extending over three years.

The late Hon. Wm. Macdougall was descended from John Macdougall, a native of the Highlands of Scotland, and a U. E. Loyalist, who served in the British Commissariat during the Revolutionary war. He was a son of Daniel Macdougall, formerly of York, (now Toronto,) and was born in York on January 25th, 1822, and received his education in the local schools, and at Victoria College, Coburg. He studied law in the office of the late Hon. J. H. Price, and was admitted to the bar in 1862, and in 1881 was appointed a Q.C. by the Marquis of Lorne.

He established the Canadian Farmer, which was later changed to the Canadian Agriculturist, and continued to be published under his auspices until 1888. In 1850 he established the North American, a semi-weekly paper of radical proclivities, of which he became editor-in-chief. In 1857 the publication of the North American was discontinued, being merged with the Globe, and Mr. Macdougal joined the editorial staff of the latter paper. He was returned to Parliament for North Oxford in 1858, and sat for that constituency until 1863, and was after that member successively up to 1892 for North Ontario, North Lanark and Halton. From 1875 to 1878 he sat in the Ontario Legislature. In 1887 he was defeated in South Grenville.

On the formation of the Sandfield Macdonald-Sicotte Administration in 1862, he accepted office as Commissioner of Crown Lands and remained in that position until March 1864.

He was one of the two Reformers whom Hon. Geo. Brown took with him into the Cabinet in 1867, and to him was assigned the office of Provincial Secretary. On July 1st, 1867, he was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council, and appointed Minister of Public Works, by Sir John A. Macdonald.

He called himself a Conservative-Liberal, and was a member of the Church of England.

RESTRICTION OF HOURS OF LABOUR

Declared Illegal by the United States Supreme Court.

A fatal blow to legislation for restricting the hours of labour was recently struck by the Supreme Court of the United States by their judgment in the case of "Lockner vs. the State of New York," declaring unconstitutional and invalid an Act of the Legislature of that State limiting the working day and bakeries to 10 hours and the working week to 60 hours. Judge Harlan said their decision was one of the most important of the century. The judgment is subversive of all attempts to restrict the hours of work of male adults by statute. It declares that every man has a right to sell his labour, in a lawful manner, as he deems best. It makes illegal all combinations to force men to work only the number of hours some others wish to make a compulsory rule of any trade. Restraints upon the individual liberty of any seller of labour to accept whatever price he chooses to accept, are, in their very nature, a form of tyranny which labour sellers will resent more and more as their intelligence and their self-respect increases—Finance Chronicle.

WERE INJURED BY SHUNTING TRAIN

William Evans and Charles James Hurt at King St. Crossing.

A Narrow Escape at a Dangerous Crossing—How it Happened.

An accident, which might easily have proved fatal, occurred at six o'clock on Saturday afternoon, when a delivery wagon, belonging to Mr. William James, the son of Mr. C. James, the soda water manufacturer, was smashed to pieces, and Mr. Wm. Evans, one of the occupants of the wagon, was severely injured, his foot being cut open from the toes up the front to the instep.

The two men were driving along King street east, and cars, which stood on the tracks fartest to the east, even with the street, blocked the view of the western tracks, upon which an engine was shunting.

Just as they were crossing the second track, a car struck the wagon, completely demolishing it, and breaking the harness. Mr. James, and his companion were thrown from the wagon to the ground, and the former received some cuts in the head and face, which, while painful, were not serious, but Mr. Evans was not so fortunate. In some way, which is as yet unexplained, his foot was cut open for about 6 inches, extending up his foot from the toes.

The injured men were taken to the Montreal House, where Doctors McNulty and Carmichael attended them. Mr. Evans will be laid up for some time, but Mr. James will be out in a few days at the most. The horse was not injured.

THE KNEE JOINT WAS CUT OPEN

Serious Accident to Thomas Perdue on Saturday.

Ten-Year-Old Son of William Perdue Injured With Draw Knife.

A serious accident occurred on the base line between Emily and Ennismore on Saturday, by which Thomas Perdue, the ten year old son of Mr. William Perdue, cut his knee very seriously and is now at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The boy was using a sharp drawknife which in some manner slipped cutting the leg above the knee severing the cords and cutting open the knee joint. The boy's father was in Peterborough at the time the accident happened and when he returned he came back immediately for Dr. Coughlin. He responded to the call as quickly as possible and dressed the serious wound as well as he could. It was thought desirable however to remove the injured boy to the hospital and he was brought to St. Joseph's reaching here at 3 a.m. Sunday morning, the boy having suffered considerably during his eleven miles drive to town.

He was attended at the hospital by doctors Coughlin and McGrath, and is to-day doing as well as can be expected, though it is feared that the knee joint may remain stiff.

5TH WARD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Lamented Demise of John T. Wright at Advanced Age.

The death occurred at his home, corner of Hunter and Rogers street, at 11 o'clock, on Saturday evening, of one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of the Fifth Ward, in the person of Mr. John Tate Wright.

Deceased was for many years an efficient and esteemed official of the municipality, having filled the offices of tax-collector, and secretary of the Board of Education, with credit and satisfaction.

The late Mr. Wright has during the past year been in declining health which became critical during the week preceding his demise. He was born in Scotland, 72 years ago, removing to Canada at an early age, having ever since resided in Ashburnham.

Surviving him are his wife, and one daughter, Mrs. James A. Fife, of town.

Fred Wood of Campbellford, and Archibald Wood of Toronto, are stepsons of the deceased.

The deceased was a faithful member of St. Paul's Presbyterian church and was a staunch Liberal in politics.

The funeral took place at three o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery, a large number of friends and sympathisers with the family following the remains to the grave. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. J. J. Wright, formerly of the Yukon.

FUNERAL OF MISS ADELINE CALCUTT

Eloquent Tribute to Memory of the Departed.

Service at St. Luke's Church—Dead March in Saul Played by Organist.

The funeral of the late Adeline B. Calcutt took place yesterday afternoon. A large concourse of sorrowing friends and sympathizers with the family following the remains to the grave.

After a private service at the house the cortege moved to St. Luke's Church, where the Dead March in Saul was played upon its arrival. The rector, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, recited the burial sentences, and in his remarks paid a tribute to the departed.

He spoke from the text I Thessalonians IV, 13—My words like your thoughts must be words concerning them which are asleep—"The souls of the righteous are in the hands of God, and there shall no torment touch them." Let us see what the Christian religion has to teach us about those souls in God's own safekeeping.

We are about to lay to its long rest in the new-made grave, which even now awaits it, the tired body of one, who having served God in her generation has fallen asleep. Soon we shall commit that body to the ground, "Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust, in sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life through our Lord Jesus Christ." But even as we do so, I would direct your thoughts rather to the soul, which for a season tabernacled in that earthly house, the soul upon which death has no power, which has passed within the veil, and which delivered from the miseries of this sinful world, is even now living, learning, rejoicing in the nearer presence of its Saviour and its Lord.

Yes, strange—anomalous even—as it may seem, here in the presence of the dead, amid the surroundings which speak of the solemn mystery which we call death, and in the midst of the very service for the burial of the dead, the thoughts I would put before you are thoughts not of death but of life! For we are Christian people, we believe that Jesus died and rose again, therefore the Christian hope is ours, and we feel that we are here for the reverend laying to its well earned rest the body of our sister "who is not dead but sleepeth."

"Earth to earth and dust to dust,"
Calmly now the words we say,
Leaving her asleep in trust,
Till the resurrection day,
Father in Thy gracious keeping,
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

And so our thoughts turn naturally to Paradise, whither she has gone—to Paradise, its life, its rest, its work, its worship. What is the state of the souls that have entered there? What are they doing there? What is God doing with them?

Paradise is the place of waiting—the intermediate state—in which souls which have departed this life await the resurrection of their bodies and the final judgment of the last great day. It was to Paradise that the Saviour's soul went forth in the interval between His death on the Cross and His glorious resurrection. In His words of compassion spoken to the penitent outlaw, He speaks of that state plainly and definitely.

Peter speaks of the same place of waiting souls, as the abode of the spirits in prison, i.e., in safe-keeping. Jesus Christ, he says, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the spirit, went and preached unto the spirits in prison.

In the creed, we say, "He descended into Hell," meaning Hades. Remember, we are speaking there of the place of departed souls—Paradise—not of the place of torment. The state of a soul in Paradise is a state of growth, of enlargement and progress. "He who hath begun a good work in us," the apostle says, "will perform it"—how long? Till death? No: until the day of Jesus Christ.

As the body was being taken out of the church the Nunc Dimittis was sung by the choir.

The pall bearers were Messrs. E. A. Peck, Mark Burnham, J. H. Burnham, F. D. Kerr, E. M. Pousett and C. N. Brown.

PRESENTATION TO MR. G. W. JONES

By Charlotte St. Choir in Sunday School.

Leather Suit Case and Gold Headed Umbrella on Eve of His Departure.

Recently two valued members of the Charlotte street choir have signified their intention of leaving town, and one of these has already left. Mr. G. W. Jones, who has been a member of the choir since July, 1904, when he came to Peterborough, and has led the orchestra of the Sunday school with much success since August last, is removing to Hamilton in about a week, with the Colonial Ink Company, of which he is secretary, and yesterday afternoon at the close of the Sunday school session, Mr. R. J. Kidd, the superintendent, gave a short address expressive of the regret, which he and the other officers of the school, felt at Mr. Jones' departure. He would be greatly missed in the work of the school, and, especially, in the orchestra, which he had led so successfully. Miss Campbell, on behalf of the school, presented Mr. Jones with a handsome solid leather suit case, as a slight token of the esteem in which he was held.

Mr. Jones replying, thanked them most heartily for the handsome and much-appreciated gift, which he would prize very highly. He regretted the circumstances which made his removal from Peterborough necessary, but would always remember with pleasure his associations with the members of the Charlotte street church and Sunday school.

In the evening, after the service, Mr. R. P. Dormer, on behalf of the choir, of which Mr. Jones has been a member of almost ever since he came to town, presented him with a gold-headed umbrella, suitably engraved, and Miss Clarry referred to the valued services which Mr. Jones had rendered the choir, and the male quartette, both of which organizations would miss him sorely.

His departure was deeply regretted, but they joined in wishing him success in the future.

Mr. Jones, responding, said that he deeply appreciated the kindness of the members of the choir, and referred to the pleasant relations which he had enjoyed with them. He hoped that the choir would continue to prosper, as in the past.

HIS FINANCIAL POSITION UNIMPAIRED

Alleged Loses of Mr. A. P. Choate in Stocks.

The Toronto World on Saturday contained an article to the effect that Mr. A. P. Choate has sustained financial losses of a very serious character — in the recent heavy "drops" that have taken place in the financial world. The Examiner is not in a position to say that the drops in stocks have in no way impaired Mr. Choate's financial position. It is always to be expected that securities of a speculative character will rise and fall in sympathy with other stocks and Mr. Choate is sufficiently careful to protect and take care of his purchases. The Examiner would not sneer at a cheque of Choate's for a million and a half.

EXCITING RUNAWAY ON SUNDAY

Horse Broke Away on Wild Dash on Aylmer Street.

An exciting runaway occurred at about 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a horse belonging to Mr. T. Guerin, and driven by a boy named Revoy, suddenly took fright on Aylmer street, and becoming unmanageable dashed at a high rate of speed down the street as far as King street, when it turned and ran to Water street where it again turned south. The driver who was the only occupant of the buggy, was thrown out, the horse dashing onward on its wild career until stopped by a gentleman at the foot of Sherbrooke street.

The animal received several cuts about the legs, and the buggy was considerably smashed, but beyond this no serious injuries resulted.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR PETERBOROUGH TEAM

Defeated Langmuir Manufacturing Company Team of Toronto on Saturday Afternoon.

Score Was 3-2 and Game Was One of the Best Ever Seen on Local Grounds.

Quinlan Pitched Gilt-Edged Ball--Only Allowed One Hit in Five Innings.

The Peterborough Baseball team added another win to their credit on Saturday, when they defeated the team representing the Langmuir Manufacturing Co., by 2-3 in the T. A. S. grounds, and the game was the best seen here this season, the home team winning only after a hard struggle, against a nine, which fought every inch of the way, and which looked at times as if they might win out. The visitors were the best aggregation of ball players seen here this season, B. Calhoun, the twirler, being the man who does the slab work for the fast Crescent team of the Queen city. The rest of the team did good work, giving him fairly good support, though a high throw by Murphy to second base was responsible for one of the scores of the locals.

The game was on the whole marked by good clean ball, and was deserving of a larger attendance than was reported, the gate receipts being one dollar less than the actual expenses of the game.

Quinlan, the clever young twirler of the T. A. S. team pitched for the first five innings, and did remarkably well, allowing only one hit, and he also had ten strike outs to his credit. He shows a decided improvement in form over that of last year, and should develop into one of the best in the league. He will work in well as a second pitcher for Manager MacEwan's team this year. It was distinctly a pitchers' battle with the honours in favour of the two local men. The total strike out record was 25 men, and of these 10 were credited to Quinlan, 7 to Douglas and 8 to Calhoun.

The batting honours went to Stayne, who out of four times at bat made three two baggers. His batting average, if he keeps on hitting the ball at his present rate will be pretty high this season. Of the six hits credited to the local team, the clever little third baseman got half of them. Only three hits were secured off the home pitchers, and of these Douglas gave two, one of these a nice two bagger, which B. Calhoun got in the sixth, in which innings the visitors got their only runs. After this innings, however, Douglas was invincible, and had the visitors at his mercy.

Quinlan disposed of the visitors easily in the first innings, the first three men up, P. Calhoun, White and W. Ney striking out. In the last half T. Pilling flew out to second base, Shea grounded to Short, Stayne hit for a double, but Rattray flew out to J. Ney.

In the second Crosley flew to Stayne, B. Calhoun grounded to Sheridan and J. Ney fanned. Callaghan and Sheridan struck out and J. Pilling flew out to short stop.

The visitors got their only hit off Quinlan in the third, when, after Hodge had rapped a fly to J. Pilling and Murphy had fanned, W. Calhoun drove a pretty hit over second base. P. Calhoun got his base on balls, but White could not connect with Quinlan's benders and struck out. The locals went out in order, Connors failing to beat out a bunt, Quinlan grounding to short and T. Pilling to third.

In the fourth W. Ney was out at first on Sheridan's pretty pickup of his grounder, Crosley fanned, B. Calhoun reached first on J. Pilling's error, but J. Ney flew out to Sheridan. The home team had an opportunity to score in their half, but the needful hit was not forthcoming. Shea was first up and flew to centre field and Stayne was out on a grounder to third. Rattray drove one to short, which White fumbled, and the runner reached first. Callaghan also got a base as a result of an error on the part of the short stop. A double steal was pulled off, and with two men on bases Sheridan struck out.

Three men were struck out by Quinlan in the fifth, the last having been pitched by him. Hodge and Murphy were the first two to fan the air, and, after W. Calhoun had reached first bag on Quinlan's error, the latter struck out P. Calhoun. This was the lucky innings for the home team and two runs were scored on a couple of errors by the visitors. J. Pilling was first and hit it short, but the first baseman let the throw get away from him, the runner being safe. He stole second, and, on a high throw by Murphy to the second bag, came home. Connors fanned, but Quinlan worked the pitcher for four balls and stole second. T. Pilling's sacrifice advancing him a step. Shea singled, scoring Quinlan, and the former came home on Stayne's long drive for a double. Rattray retired the side, striking out.

The sixth was the lucky one for the visitors, and in this innings they tied the score. Douglas went in to pitch, and gave White, the first man up, his base on balls. He stole second, and on a high throw to that base scored. W. Ney struck out, and Connor made a bad mess of Crosley's fly, which he had in his mit, and dropped. B. Calhoun followed, and hit for a double, scoring Crosley, and making it two all. J. Ney flew to Shea, who made a nice running catch. Hodge grounded to J. Pilling, who threw B. Calhoun out, running home. Callaghan and Sheridan both struck out in their half of this innings. J. Pilling got first on P. Calhoun's error, and was advanced on Connors grounder to White, which the latter could not handle quickly enough, but Douglas upset all tradtions, striking out with two men on bases.

In the seventh, Sheridan got two nice assists, the two first men up, Murphy and W. Calhoun, grounding to him. P. Calhoun got four balls, and stole second on a wild pitch; the side was retired however on White's fan. In this innings the home team addded another to their score. T. Pilling was first up are fanned. Shea singled and scored on Stayne's two bagger, which the latter got out trying to stretch into three, falling before he reached the bag. Rattray flew to W. Ney.

The visitors went out in order in the eighth, W. Ney, Crosley and B. Calhoun fauning in succession. Callaghan sent a grounder to short, and reached his bag on a low throw, but was doubled up on Sheridan's fly to centre. J. Pilling flew to first base.

In the ninth, after J. Ney had flown out to Callaghan, and Murphy had fanned, Murphy hit to right, but W. Calhoun struck out, retiring the side, and ending the game, the final score being 3--2.

OPENING GAME IN GUILD LEAGUE

George Street and St. Paul's Will Meet To-night.

Some Fast Ball Will Be Played—Teams Will Be Strong This Season.

To-night (Jupiter Pluvius permitting) the opening game in the Guild League will be played and the five teams will be off in the race for the Examiner Cup. The quality of ball this year will be much better than it has been in former seasons, and the team which wins the championship will have to play fast ball. Charlotte street, last year's champions, have shown themselves distinctly in the race this year and in the exhibition game in which they have figured, have played good ball. In the district with them is St. John's and these who are "wise" say that it will take a pretty good team to defeat them. W. Cavanah is doing the twirling and Chris. Graham the backstop work. This makes a battery which should prove effective.

St. Andrew's will present a strong team, their pitching staff being as large as an Eastern League team and comprising five men, of whom Patterson and Swanston will do the bulk of the work. They also have three catchers.

The team is a heavy batting aggregation and should make good.

The two teams which meet to-night in the first game, George Street and St. Paul's hope yet to prove their title to a championship standing. The former is almost entirely changed from that of last year, Robertson and Mulhern being the only two men of last year's team to figure in the opening game to-night. The new men, however, are good ones and should strengthen the team.

Clark Earls, the ex-twirler of the Peterborough Midland League team, will do the slab work for St. Paul's this season, and A. Gillespie will do the receiving.

To-night at seven o'clock the league season will open at the George Street grounds, when the following teams line up:—

St. Paul's,		George Street.
Earls	Pitcher.	W. Parnell
Gillespie	Catcher.	Wilson
Stacey	First Base.	Robertson
Hard	Second Base.	Pedlar
Rosenburg	Third Base.	McMillan
R. Simpson	Short Stop.	Kendry
R. Watt	Centre Field.	Mulhern
A. Laing	Left Field.	Weatherstone
Logan	Right Field.	N. Millar

Mr. P. A. Kerr, the president of the league will be present at the opening and will pitch the first ball over the plate, or in that direction.

Mr. Webb, of Charlotte Street will handle the indicator.

One of the infielders had made an error in the Peterborough-Lindsay match Wednesday.

The rosy-cheeked girl in the grandstand turned to the young man at her side.

"George", she said,

George instinctively braced himself to meet the question he foresaw as to what had happened and what all the fuss was about.

"Well?" he said.

"Why don't they put a wooden Indian cigar sign on in place of that moon-faced duffer with the spit-cipher running gear and the glass arm? That fellow couldn't stop a baloon if it was lobbed right into his flippers!"—Post.

WHY DOES A BABY CRY?

Because it is either hungry or in pain. Properly nourished it will usually grow up right and be comfortable—that's the principal thing for a baby. If its food lacks strength and nourishment add Scott's Emulsion at feeding time. A few drops will show surprising results. If a baby is plump it is reasonably safe. Scott's Emulsion makes babies plump.

Good Health and Success

GO HAND IN HAND WHEN THE BLOOD IS KEPT PURE AND RICH BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Red blood means health, strength, courage, cheerfulness, power of endurance and a well-nourished brain that likes to accomplish things.

The secret of health is, after all, in the blood, for with an abundance of rich, red blood the nervous system is nourished and sustained the lungs, heart stomach, liver and kidneys are filled with the vigour and energy necessary to accomplish their work and there is no room for weakness and disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food builds up strengthens and invigorates the the whole human body because it actually forms rich red blood.

Indigestion sleeplessness, nervous headace irritability, nervousness, lack of energy and strength and failure of the bodily organs to perform their functions are almost invariably the result of poor, weak, watery blood.

The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food completely overcomes these symptoms and by filling the whole system with new vigour gives new hope and confidence and replaces weakness and disease with health and strength.

WHAT IS BILE

The Important Work It Accomplishes.

How to Insure a Healthy Supply.

The principal work of the liver is the secretion of bile—a golden brown, mucilage-like substance, composed of certain liver elements or salts, mucus and coloring matter. It is the natural antiseptic and cathartic of the bowels. A torpid liver means deficient bile secretion, which later means constipation with its attending evils.

The bile plays a most important part in promoting healthy digestion. Its absence results in congestion of the bowels, with indigestion, and to correct this and secure healthy bile secretion Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills have a very selective action — in fact, they cure biliousness with the bilious headache, driving the fecal contents out of the body, which, if permitted to remain, would poison the whole system and rapidly undermine the general health.

Never permit yourself to become bilious. A sick headache, a sudden attack of indigestion, or a fitful diarrhoea with dizziness and a yellow-coated tongue call for the prompt use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They are by far the best remedy to empty the bowels and relieve congestive conditions. They act as a true tonic to the liver, preventing as well as curing constipation. One or two of these pills taken every night mildly stimulates the liver and corrects biliousness without the driving purgative effects of harsh drugs. Their gentle laxative action especially commends them to ladies, who bloat after eating and are subject to periodical headaches. To secure a healthy secretion of bile, thus establishing perfect bowel regularity, these little pills possess merits peculiarly their own, not found in other remedies.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always cure constipation, biliousness and sick headaches in one night. All dealers, 25 cents. All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

TRIPLE DROWNING AT ST. JOHN'S

Five Persons Upset From a Sailboat At St. John's Quebec.

STRUCK BY SQUALL; UPSET

Two Brothers Named Trudeau and a Man Named Trahan Drowned — All the Parties Were Equally Deficient in the Management of a Sailboat and None of Them Could Swim —Accidents Elsewhere.

St. Johns, Que., May 29.—A triple drowning occurred about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon half a mile up the river.

I. Hevey, tailor; his clerk, Hercules Trahan; Orisin Tandeau of Valleyfield, a clerk, and a brother of his on a visit, and another named Laberge, started out in a sailboat. Only a few seconds after leaving the shore the boat was struck by a squall and upset.

Two soldiers of the military depot and two young lads, who were resting on the grass nearby, went to the assistance of the drowning parties. Hevey was going down for the third time when he was seized by the hand and rescued. Laberge was also saved, but the two Trudeaus and Trahan were drowned.

None of the party could swim and were equally deficient of knowledge of managing a sailboat .

Drowned in Cellar.

Winnipeg, May 29.—Death by drowning was the fate of Elizabeth Gertrude Pallastein, a little girl of two years of age, whose parents live on Taylor street, Louise Bridge. The house had been raised and the cellar was filled with water, into which, while playing, the little tot fell yesterday afternoon. Coroner Inglis will lay the case before the Attorney-General, with the view of instituting a prosecution.

Drowned In St. Lawrence.

Montreal, May 29.—George A. Lamb, who resided at 35 Dorchester street, is the name of the man who was drowned near Pointe Claire, about 19 days ago. His body was recovered Saturday afternoon.

Two Fatalities at Iroquois.

Iroquois, May 29.—John McReble, aged 52 years, employed as laborer on the canal, was killed Saturday by the breaking of a derrick boom, a piece of which fell on his head, crushing the skull.

Yesterday a boy named D. Auost, 6 years old, son of a captain of a coal barge, was drowned off the wharf.

Burned In Bern.

Quebec, May 29.—About 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon Marie Jeane Roy, 5 years old, daughter of Napoleon Roy of Beauport, was burned to death while playing with some matches in a barn.

Toronto Trolley Car Kills a Girl.

Toronto, May 29.—The trolley claimed its second child victim of the week on Saturday afternoon, when Florence Howard, 13 years of age, living at 67 Woodbine avenue, was almost instantly killed. The accident occurred on Queen street near the Kingston road. In crossing the street she was knocked down by a westbound car. The little girl's arms were cut off and the body otherwise mangled. A derrick was necessary to raise the car before it could be extricated.

Brakeman Killed.

London, May 29.—Albert Shannon, a brakeman, was killed in a collision in the Grand Trunk yards Saturday morning. Shannon was in the van of a freight, which had just pulled in from the east, five minutes later, and shunted four cars into the coal chute siding. These struck the first freight, piling up a number of cars, and instantly killing Shannon. The latter's home was in Watford.

Dies as Result of Injuries.

Orillia, May 29—W. H. Tanner of Tanner Bros., Waubaushene, who was injured by a band saw in his mill on Thursday, died Friday night at 11 o'clock. He was one of the most prominent lumbermen in the Province. He leaves a widow and five children and an estate worth upwards of half a million dollars. He was 57 years of age.

Brantford, May 27.—Conductor F. Henry of the G. T. R. construction crew, while trying to board his train near the Government road subway in the outskirts of the city, slipped and fell through the subway to the ground, 25 feet. He sustained a serious fracture to his skull.

When life's autumn comes, women, worn out by the burdens of motherhood, yet shrink from that second "change of life" which will banish these burdens forever. They fear a change in form, in feature, in personal attractiveness. Such fears are largely warranted by the effects which this change produces in many women. But no woman need let these fears fret her.

Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription do not suffer from the change of life either in face, form or feelings as do other women. This fact is due to the intimate connection of the general health with the health of the organs peculiarly feminine. By preserving the health of these organs, and relieving the system from the debilitating drains, ulcers and inflammations which sap its health, "Favorite Prescription" paves the way for this natural change to come in Nature's way, without the loss of capacity to please others or personal inability to enjoy life.

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' brought me safely through that difficult period, called 'change of life,'" writes Mrs. Mary Rasmussen, of 304 E Ankeny St., Portland, Oregon. "This change made a very unpleasant disturbance through my entire system. I had hot and cold flashes, sick headaches, became excited, frustrated, nervous and irritable. My appetite was fitful and for days I was unable to eat a fair meal. My aunt recommended me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it made a great change for the better. Within two weeks the unpleasant feelings had disappeared. I have a husband and eight children to have the care of a large family but was able to attend to my household duties without any difficulty and passed the period without any more trouble. I can recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' as a great medicine."

You may be willing that somebody else shall say that their baby is "just as good" as yours, but you don't want that baby substituted for yours. Let dealers say what they like about other medicines being "just as good" but don't let them substitute anything for "Favorite Prescription." It is absolutely unequaled.

SHEA DEPOSED.

Chicago Teamsters' Union Executive Will Hereafter Manage Strike.

Chicago, May 29.—The general executive board of the Teamsters' Union has taken the management of the strike out of the hands of President Shea, and it will be managed hereafter by the members of the executive board and the local strike committee. After assuming control of the strike the executive board issued a statement, which says:

At the meeting of the general executive board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, a general discussion of the present strike was had, and it was decided unanimously to continue the struggle along the same line. We believe the strike should be confined to Chicago, and to as few men in Chicago as is possible. We are opposed to spreading the strike to any workmen except teamsters. The general executive board is hopeful that peace will soon be established, but any peace must be on honorable terms so far as the strikers are concerned.

Kingston, May 27.—A child at the servants' quarters at the Royal Military College got a "jack" down her throat and would have choked to death had not her mother with heroic work got hold of the jack with her fingers. The child's throat and mouth were badly lacerated.

HELP FOR M.P.'S.

Hon. Mr. Foster Talks of a Secretary For Each One—The Half-breed Scrip.

Ottawa, May 27.—Good progress was made yesterday on a miscellaneous assortment of estimates, and the House expects to finish with the supplementaries on Monday. In a discussion on household matters yesterday afternoon Mr. Foster brought up the disadvantages under which the members labor, and suggested that the time will come when the members will each require a secretary to help him attend to his public and private duties at the capital. Later Mr. David Henderson complained that he had not been furnished with a roll-top desk. On the Marine estimates Mr. Prefontaine made interesting statements on the improvements on the St. Lawrence and regarding hydrographic surveys on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Foster then resumed his almost daily enquiries concerning the half-breeds' scrip.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier wanted time to digest and discuss the case. He thought it would be premature to look into the matter unless all the papers were before the House. He promised that the papers would be brought down with as little delay as possible, and declared that if there was even a suspicion of fraud the allocation of the lands would be stopped. The granting of the scrip was necessary in order to prevent the halfbreeds having a grievance. As a matter of public policy the assignment of the scrip had been made permissible.

The House then went into committee of supply, taking up the supplementary estimates for the expenses of the House of Commons. These votes amount to $94,797, but they gave rise to very little discussion.

Just before midnight Sir William Mulock laid on the table of the House his long-promised correspondence regarding the Thessalon postoffice.

The House adjourned at midnight.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington County, Ont., writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs along with other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which built her up."

Dr. James Thorburn Dies.

Toronto, May 27.—It was as a shock that friends of Dr. James Thorburn, 418 West Bloor street, learned of his death yesterday morning. Although suffering from a heart trouble for two years, he attended a meeting of the North America Life directors on Tuesday. He was taken ill that evening.

Deceased was born in Queenston Novemebr 21, 1836, and was a son of David Thorburn, member for Lincoln in the old Canada Assembly. He entered Toronto University as a youth, graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine, and went to Edinburgh to continue his studies. In 1855 he returned to Toronto and had been in practice here since.

For some years he filled the chair of pharmacology and therapeutics in the medical faculty of the Toronto University, and later was physician to Upper Canada College, and consulting physician to the General Hospital and held several similar appointments for other institutions. He was for some years surgeon-ate to the Queen's Own Rifles, and was with them at Ridgeway in 1866. He retired as surgeon-major in 1879, and became examiner of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in the same year. In 1896 he became vice-president of that body. In 1895 he was president of the Canadian Medical Association, and in 1897 became the president of the Ontario Medical College. He was a valued writer to the medical press, and in addition published a "Manual of Life Insurance Examinations."

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

Liquozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

REDEMPTORIST FATHERS' MISSION

St. Peter's Cathedral Filled to Overflowing.

Attendance Throughout Unprecedentedly Large—Mission to Men Commenced Yesterday.

Yesterday at St. Peter's Cathedral was concluded the week's mission for women, of the Redemptorist Fathers. The services throughout the week have been of a most successful and gratifying character, the attendance having been far in advance of that of last year.

1,540 confessions of women were heard, and 270 of children. Every evening the church bells toll inviting sinners to repentance. The object is to invite those who are spiritually dead to a call of spiritual resurrection. The Mission proper had been given a year ago, but it is the custom of the Redemptorist missionaries to return after a year, not to give another Mission, but rather, to continue their work, to perfect and complete it according to the example of the Apostles and the injunction of their founder, St. Ligouri.

At 10.30 o'clock service yesterday there was a large attendance of men. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Mylott, the subject being "The Mercy of God."

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, was the solemn close of the Women's Mission, at which Rev. Father Heenan preached on "The Renewal of Baptismal Vows." The blessing of Pope Pius X was given.

In the evening at 7.30 the Mission for men was opened by the leader of the Mission Band, Rev. Father Zilles, the attendance being so large as to completely overtax the capacity of the church, in fact the largest congregation of men in the history of the church.

Rev. Father Zilles spoke upon the subject "The Destiny of Man," taking as his text "What is thy business, of what country art thou, and whither goest thou? I am a Hebrew and I serve the Lord, the God of Heaven."

The preacher related the story of Jonah, the prophet, before he was consigned to the waves. The sinners asked him the above question, and the prophet beautifully answered that his purpose in life was to serve God.

Reference was then made to the answers to the three questions. — "Whence do I come? (What is my occupation here below? and, whither am I going?"

He proved from the Bible, and from reason that man was created by God, and for God, and as such has a right to his services, both of intellect, of soul and of body.

The speaker closed by inviting most pathetically his hearers to sentiments of repentance for their past errors and short comings, and urged them to serve God, particularly during this week, and also afterwards till death.

The services for the present week will be at five and at eight o'clock, a.m., and at 7.30 p.m. There will be a special sermon to-morrow evening at which Rev. Father Zilles will preach upon "Marriage and Divorce."

The attendance at 7 o'clock Mass this morning numbered 700 men and at the 8 o'clock, about 300. Almost 1400 were present last evening.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him in a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright Ave., Toronto, Ont.

—Mr. Joseph Murphy of town, informed the Examiner that he was well acquainted with the late W. H. Tanner, who was killed in his sawmill at Tamerville on Friday. Mr. Murphy built an office for the firm recently and knew the deceased very well.

—The steam roller is at work on Rubidge street—"at last!"—as a resident remarked, with a sigh of relief. After the street has been out of use for six or seven months, the residents think that one of the finest residential streets in the town should get a good dressing of street metal for a roadbed, instead of the seamy side of a sewer trench.

—On Saturday Mr. Arthur Parkin and a small party went up the river to King Connell's Point in a gasoline yacht. After rambling about the Point for a while, they returned to their craft to find it sunk in the shallow water. Examination revealed the fact that a 32-calibre bullet had punctured the hull below the waterline. The hole was plugged and the boat pumped out.—Lindsay Watchman-Warder.

—The evening service at St. Luke's last night was of a memorial character, the musical service and sermon being in keeping with the widespread feeling of sorrow occasioned by the much lamented loss, by the hand of death, of one of the most faithful and loyal church workers, Adeline E. Calcutt whose funeral took place in the afternoon. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, spoke from the Psalms xvii; 35. The Dead March was played by the organist at the conclusion of the service.

—The Mission Circle of the Park street Baptist church will meet Tuesday night at 7.30; each member has the privilege of bringing a lady friend with a view to membership. Two men were nominated, John Lancaster, proposed by Mr. Joshua Smithson and John Throop; John Carey, proposed by Robt. Weir and Robt. Eason.

There was a large number of electors present and considerable interest was manifested in the nomination. Mr. Carey has been a Township Councillor for two and a half years, and is well posted in municipal affairs.

The election will take place on Monday, June 12th.

POLICE COURT CASES TO-DAY

Henry Utman Was Allowed His Liberty.

Complicity in Conspiracy to Defraud Not Proven—Several Other Cases.

Carlyle has said "Most people are fools," quoth the Magistrate in summing up the evidence in the Utman case, at Police Court this morning, "but I did not think there were three hundred people in town who could be so easily gulled. I have no sympathy with people who past good artists in our own town to patronize fakirs".

The concluding testimony of the case—that of the prisoner, was heard this morning. The prisoner narrated the story of his relations with Rayner, which went to show that he had acted solely in the capacity of an agent for the latter, and as such was not responsible for the defrauding of the public. Rayner and he had entered into a verbal contract in Ottawa, by the terms of which prisoner was to get a salary of $4.00 per week and a commission of 50c on each picture, to be paid after the "proofs" were shown. The proofs were made in Detroit but had been sent to Rayner's brother, who conducts a picture business in Ottawa, to be finished. Of the 300 sent to Ottawa, only one was returned. The "Urban Art Studio" over Mr. A. E. Dickson's store had been opened but had never been occupied. Rayner had stated his intention of having a German artist to work in the rooms, but had not done so.

The Court held that from the evidence adduced that prisoner had not been a principal in a conspiracy to defraud, and discharged him with a few words of admonition as to engaging in a business less conducive to fraudulent operations.

Alex. Martin appeared in a dog case and was allowed to go on his statement that he had killed the canine.

The case of Wm. Gamey, for the non-purchase of a dog tag received an arrangement, prisoner having a broken arm and unable to work.

Charles May was assessed $3 and costs, amounting to $1.60 for having used grossly insulting language to Mundon.

Harry Rayner was also compelled to donate to the corporation a similar sum for having assaulted George Freelocke.

Frank Scriver, charged with the abduction of the 16 year old girl, Nellie McMartin, on Victoria Day, was allowed to go. The case was heard privately.

BELLEGHEM AND McCORY FOR HAVELOCK

Auburns Lost Two Good Men—To Play in Havelock for the Season.

The Auburns lose two good men in McCory and Belleghem who go to Havelock to-day to play there for the summer. They have secured good positions in that town and find it more congenial to put in the summer there. McCory will do the slab work and Belleghem the receiving and with these men to strengthen the team the men of the east will make all they come in contact with, go some to keep up. The Havelock bunch have already started in the right way,—they defeated the best that Stirling could produce the other day by 13-4. What effect this will have on the Auburns is not known but they certainly will be missed and it may result in the Auburns being thrown down altogether. McCory is a dandy pad in the game at Lindsay, when he got warmed up sent them over the plate so fast the bunch there had to guess what was happening. Belleghem also is one of those fellows that can catch, hold down a base or play the field with equal success and his presence is always felt.

FOOTBALL.

Saturday's Business College versus Lakefield match must have proved quite a treat to lovers of strenuous football, whether or not the appetites of the spectators were satisfied is problematical, but it is certain the players on both teams were satiated.

The Lakefield grounds are not conducive of fast football but are admirably suited to the requirements of their team who excel in bodying, tripping, etc. Despite these handicaps, however, the Collegians managed to display sufficient science to score early in the game and by magnificent defence play to maintain their lead.

Play opened by a series of rushes by both forward lines, the ball being principally in Lakefield territory. Finally Shaw followed fast on a shot and scored upon the rebound. This ended the scoring though there were close calls on both sides. In the second half Lakefield put their heaviest men on the wings and tried the old "kick and run" game, while the defence would drop long shots on goal, the forwards would charge and try by mass weight to crowd the ball through. Good work on the part of the College defence kept the ball well up the field and play was even throughout the half. Lakefield procured a penalty kick but failed to score, the shot going wide.

The exceptionally heavy checking made referee Ira Moore's task rather arduous, but his work throughout was gilt edged.

Lakefield entertained the boys at tea after the game and will probably be the guests of the home club the latter end of this week.

* * * *

The game between Bridgenorth and the O.C.W. team which was to have been played Saturday night last, did not come off and has been postponed indefinitely. By some misunderstanding they were allowed to practise but when they went to play the management of the P. P. Park who have the grounds leased for the summer, would not allow the game to be played.

An arrangement will be made, however, as soon as possible and the game will be played. Further announcement will be made later.

GOLF.

In the report in Saturday's Examiner, of the games played on May 24th between the local club and the Rosedales, the name of Dr. McFall was unfortunately omitted, his score being 2 up.

LACROSSE.

There will be a full practice of the team to-night.

BASEBALL.

The Marlboro Baseball Club of the Sunlight Senior League, Toronto, would like to arrange a game for July 1st with one of the local teams. Address all communications to the secretary, Gordon Whyte, 24 Carlisle street, Toronto.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The work is progressing very favourably on the Riverside Athletic Grounds. The field has all been levelled and seeded and is settling down in good shape. However, it will be some time yet before any events will come off there as the management wish it to be in the very best possible shape before allowing such to take place. The grand stand is completed and the fencing is progressing as fast as can be expected. It is the opinion of all who have seen the place lately that it will make one of the best athletic field in the country, both in size and every possible way, and five minutes' walk from George street will take you there. A club house will be erected and everything connected with the most modern requirements will be furnished.

THE BALTIC FLEET ALMOST DESTROYED

Admiral Rojestvensky's Fleet Practically Annihilated---19 Ships Sunk or Captured---Admiral Togo Reports the Details of the Battle of Tsushima---The Mikado's Fleet Comes Out of the Conflict Practically Unharmed---How the Japanese Nelson Did His Effective Work.

Tokio, May 30.—The number of Russian vessels of all descriptions sunk and captured by Admiral Togo's fleet now stands at nineteen.

It is possible that three additional warships were sunk in the fight on Saturday and later.

The Navy Department refrains, however, from crediting reports of this nature until it is assured of their correctness.

It is believed the Ural is the name of the captured transport, which has been omitted from the list perviously cabled.

Japan's Pretoria Celebration.

Tokio celebrated Japan's great naval victory last night. The main thoroughfares, streets and Government buildings of the capital are thronged with joyous, cheering crowds. Impromptu processions move in various directions. The paraders carried lanterns and went singing through the streets following bands.

TOGO. ROJESTVENSKY.
Victor and Vanquished.

Plans are afoot for an organized formal celebration.

Japs Ships Went Down.

St. Petersburg, May 30.—The St. Petersburg telegraph agency has received the following from Shanghai:

"News has been received here that seven Japanese ships, two of which were armored, and four Russian ships have been sunk.

"It is confidently believed here that the Japanese are awaiting the publication of Admiral Rojestvensky's official despatches from Vladivostock before admitting the extent of their own losses."

Where is Russ Admiral?

Tokio, May 30.—The personal fate of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky is not known. There is some belief that he possibly perished.

HOW TOGO DID IT.

Doubled Round Islands and Poured Terrible Fire Into Russians.

London, May 30.—According to the correspondent of The Daily Mail at Soeul, Corea, early on Saturday morning, Vice-Admiral Togo, with practically all the powerful fighting ships of the Japanese navy, was at Masampho, Corea, when wireless signals from his scouts, between the Tsu and Quelpart Islands, announced the approach of the Russian fleet in full force.

A few hours later the scouts reported that the Russians were not ascending the western channel as had been anticipated, but that they were coming up the eastern channel.

Admiral Togo immediately started at full speed around the north of the Tsu Islands, and when he doubled the islands he saw the Russians coming in two columns. He then brought a terrific fire to bear on the flank of the port column, and as the Russians fell into disorder he forced them steadily eastward towards the Japanese coast, where they were attacked by every vessel that flew the Japanese flag.

Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered, some of them with the greatest success.

The vessels which escaped, the correspondent says, will probably be able to reach Vladivostock. He adds that other operations of the utmost importance are proceeding.

TOLD FROM TOKIO.

Admiral Togo Relates Results of His Terrific Fire Upon Russian Vessels in Corea's Straits.

Washington, May 30.—The following official report from Tokio was received at the Japanese legation yesterday:

Tokio, May 29.—Reports received from Admiral Togo at the Japanese Legation.

First report, received on the morning of May 27:—

Immediately upon the receipt of the report that the Russian squadron was in sight, our combined squadron started for attack. Weather is fine to-day, but heavy seas.

Second report received night of May 27:—

Combined squadron attacked the Russian squadron to-day near Okinoshima (southeast of Tsushima) and defeated it, sinking at least four ships and inflicting heavy damage upon others. Damage to our ships is insignicant. Our destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered attack after sunset.

Third report received Monday, May 29:—

Main force of our combined squadron continued pursuit since the 27th, and attacked 28th, near Liancourt Rocks (northeast of Okinoshima) a squadron of ships, consisting of Nicholas I. (battleship) Orel (battleship) Senyavin, Aprexin and Isumrud. Isumrud fled, while the remaining four vessels surrendered.

No damage to our ships. According to statements of prisoners, vessels sunk in engagement May 27, were: Borodino (battleship), Alexandria II. (battleship), Jemtschug and three others. Rear Admiral Nebogatoff and about two thousand other Russians were taken prisoners.

The following are damages suffered by the enemy in addition to those given above since commencement of battle as reported by commanders not under immediate command of Togo, and by observation stations—

Sunk—Admiral Nachimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Svietlana, Admiral Ushakoff, Kamtchatka, Irutskuss and three destroyers.

Captured—Valdimir Monomach, foundered after capture. One special service ship, full name unknown, and one destroyer captured.

Russian losses definitely known so far may be classified as follows:

Two battleships, one coast defence ship, five cruisers, two special ships, three destroyers were sunk; two battleships, two coast defence ships, one special service ship, one destroyer were captured.

It is not yet clear whether three vessels as stated by prisoners to have been sunk, are included or not in above list. There are more than a thousand prisoners, besides two thousand taken by main force of combined squadrons.

The naval engagement is still in progress so that it will take some time before the final results can be known.

Russ Flagship Damaged.

According to advices received by the Navy Department from Tokio, the Japanese, in addition to the ships already named, captured the Russian battleship Sissoi Veliky, and the Russian flagship was seriously damaged.

The Loss of Life.

The Russian vessels were greatly overmanned, but the regular complement of the sunken vessels is made up as follows:

	Crew.
First-class battleship Borodino...	740
First-class battleship Alexander III.	740
Armored cruiser Admiral Nakimoff	567
Armored cruiser Dmitri Donskoi	510
Cup-sheathed cruiser Vladimir Monomach	550

Protected cruiser Svietlana... ...	360
Protected cruiser Jemtchung. ...	340
Cruiser Irtesnin	520
Repair ship Kamtschatka and smaller vessels	1,032
Total of crews	5,677

The complements of the captured vessels were as follows:

First-class battleship Orel... ...	740
First-class battleship Nicholas I.	664
Coast defence ironclad Admiral Senyavin	360
Coast defence ironclad General Aprexin	318
Total of crews	2,022

Admiral Nebogatoff a Prisoner.

Tokio, May 30.—Rear-Admiral Nebogatoff, former commander of the fourth division of the Pacific fleet, and recently commander of the information squadron, composed of scouts and merchantmen, with 2,000 other Russians, is among the prisoners captured by the Japanese. Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky appears to have escaped.

Eight Commanders Drowned.

London, May 30.—A despatch to The London Evening News from Tokio says eight captains of Russian warships were drowned during the naval battle of Saturday in the Straits of Corea.

PEACE CONFERENCES.

Roosevelt Receives by Special Appointment Japan's Minister.

Washington, D. C., May 30.—President Roosevelt last night received by special appointment Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister, and a conference followed for the greater part of the evening. He called at the White House shortly after 9 o'clock last evening, and was immediately received.

On returning to the legation from the White House, Minister Takahira declined to discuss his conference with the President. Regarding the possible effect of the outcome of the battle on peace negotiations, he said:

"After this sweeping victory, Russia alone can be held responsible for a prolongation of the war."

Cassini Still Obstinate.

At the Russian embassy last night, Count Cassini, while naturally greatly depressed at the loss of life, expressed the belief that when fuller details came in it would be found that Admiral Rojestvensky had saved part of his squadron, and that his passage of the straits had been accomplished not without inflicting great damage on the opposing fleet.

"Talk of peace is premature," the Ambassador declared. "If the victory be as stupendous as the Japanese would have the world believe, the neutral powers can scarcely wish for Japan to be allowed to remain without a taste of defeat. Much as I should welcome an end of the war for some reasons, my belief is that the effect of Rojestvensky's defeat will be the indefinite prolongation of the war. Russia must fight on, perhaps for years, but until the tables are turned."

Remainder Seems Easy Now.

London, May 30.—Baron Hayashi (the Japanese Minister), in an interview with the Associated Press last night, said: "We will rejoice at Togo's magnificent victory. We had confidence he would not be so badly beaten as it was supposed the Russians thought he would be, but at the same time we were not entirely free from anxiety concerning the outcome of this long expected naval battle. Now we feel quite easy in our minds, and the remainder seems easy.

"Regarding whether this fight will prove a step in the direction of peace, we cannot judge. Outsiders cannot express an opinion of any value on this point. The question must be regarded from the Russian standpoint.

"We consider the victory as the most decisive of modern times. Its effect will be far-reaching, and it will have an influence, not only on the future of the Far East, but also on Europe.

"Russia can no longer be reckoned with as a naval power.

"It is my opinion that Togo's victory is on a par with that of Nelson achieved a century ago this year."

St. Petersburg Dazed.

St. Petersburg, May 30.—After waiting vainly all day and evening for direct news from the scattered remnants of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's destroyed and beaten fleet, the Russian Admiralty at midnight no longer attempted to hold out against the overwhelming evidence pouring in from all directions that the fleet on which all their hopes were centered had suffered a greater disaster than did the combined French and Spanish fleets at Trafalgar.

More bitter even than defeat is the Japanese claim of virtual annihilation of the Russian fleet, with practically no loss on their side, and many officers cling doggedly to the belief that Vice-Admiral Togo must have suffered heavily.

The Emperor was completely prostrated by the news, and, according to reports, broke down and wept.

The effect of the disaster will be a terrible blow to the Government.

ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY A JAPANESE PRISONER

Tokio Sends Report That He Has Been Captured---Later Advices Show That Destruction of the Russian Fleet is Almost Complete---Only One Boat to Reach Port of Vladivostock---Its Captain Sends the First News to Emperor Nicholas---Says the Flag Ship Sank---1200 Injured Men Taken to Sasebo---Submarine and Specially Laid Mines Helped Japanese.

Special Despatch to the Examiner

THE ADMIRAL CAPTURED

Tokio, May 30. — 3 p.m. — It is reported that Admiral Rojestvensky has been captured.

RUSSIAN'S SAD FLIGHT.

London, May 30. — A special despatch from Kobe, Japan, says that hundreds of Russians, many of them badly wounded, are coming ashore at Yamaguchi, on the coast of Japan, opposite the Straits of Korea, in boats or clinging to wreckage.

ST PETERSBURG HEARS IT.

St. Petersburg, May 30. — The first definite word from Russian sources of the naval battle, came from Captain Chagin of the cruiser Almaz, which has arrived at Vladivostock. Chagin telegraphs to the emperor that he had witnessed the sinking of the battleship Knias Souvaroff, and reported that Admiral Rojestvensky was wounded. Capt. Chagin saw Rojestvensky lowered on a torpedo boat destroyer, and said the Admiral was presumably saved. The Almaz is the only vessel absolutely known to have reached Vladivostock.

CRUISERS SEEKS REFUGE.

Washington, May 30. — The State Department hears that the Russian converted cruiser Smolinski is at Woosung, the port of Shanghai. The Smolenski was a part of Rojestvensky's fleet, and it is supposed put into Woosung Harbour for refuge. The probabilities are that she will have to be interned there, until the close of the war. The captain of the armoured cruiser Admiral Naklimoff is among the wounded. Twelve hundred of the wounded have been taken to Sasebo. The captain of the Makimoff says his vessel was sunk near Tsu Island. The Russians says submarine and specially laid mines helped the Japanese greatly in their work.

GOOD ADDRESS BY REV. F. J. SCOTT

Spoke Last Night at Murray St. Baptist Church Upon "Reading."

Audience Thoroughly Enjoyed Intellectual Treat—Delightful Refreshments Served.

A large and delighted audience assembled last night at the Murray Street Baptist Church, where an address upon "Reading" was delivered by Rev. F. J. Scott.

Besides the many members of the B. Y. P. U. of the Church, under whose auspices the affair was given, there were present a large number of the members of the Society of the Park Street Baptist Church, who were invited to participate.

The address given by Rev. Mr. Scott, evidenced a broad and comprehensive knowledge of his subject and though replete with educative and instructive interest, was treated in an entertaining manner, and held the undivided attention of the audience.

The chair was occupied by Dr. Bagshaw.

A vocal solo was beautifully rendered by Mr. E. Hooker, after which followed the address.

Rev. Mr. Scott, in his opening remarks, made a happy reference to the large attendance and of his pleasure and encouragement it gave him to see such a number present, particularly in view of the fact that they were of the congregation of the church.

The art of reading pre-supposes the art of letter-making. Reading, writing and printing are three wonderful arts, representing eras of development. The signs and characters were at first few but grew in number, in the representation of thought.

The first instrument used in writing was an iron pen, used upon rock, which was extensively used in Biblical days. This was followed by the cumbersome and tedious papyrus writing. How cumbersome were those old methods as contrasted with the present facilities for writing! It may be asked, why men have invented visual signs with which to represent thought.

The perfection of literature at the present time evidences the universality of man's sociability. He by this means holds converse with men of every time. The intense sociability of man thus accounts for the art of letters. He has thoughts and experiences which he wishes to perpetuate through all ages. Reading introduces one to human thought in its widest scope and stands next to conversation. Here are some respects in which reading is superior to conversation as we may by its means associate with the greatest minds.

There is a great variety of thought which can come to us through reading. Man to reap the best benefits must have a broad mental horizon and not become provincial in the sense spoken of by Tennyson, to mistake "the cackle of their rustic bung for the murmur of the world."

Not only does reading give great variety of thought, but we may regard it as a servant, or steward, who serves for our table the best products of the earth. It also gives the necessary strength and activity to the mind and character, in the same sense as exercise in necessary to a healthy physique.

But best and highest of all, reading ennobles the character of man. Character, however, depends largely upon selection, but a man can scarcely read good books without enrichment of character.

The speaker then discussed the practical question of "What shall we read?" He would say first and foremost, books! Magazines and periodicals have their places and oftimes give a good review, but they do not possess the scope possessed by books. He would say read newspapers, but very sparingly,—especially the news. Editorials, however, are often the cream of the great intellects. Magazines should be read even more sparingly, with the exception of periodicals devoted to special branches of instruction. Magazines are often abominable. The speaker again emphasized strongly the necessity of reading books.

The speaker recommended the reading of fiction with several saving injunctions. It was advisable to peruse the best standard works, such as those of George Elliott, Charles Dickens, and Henry Van Dyke, but those of a shallow character should be avoided. Good fiction is a necessity, and increases imagination and knowledge of human nature. It should constitute the desert of the mental diet.

History and biography are rich departments of literature, the latter being replete with interest and inspiration. Scientific works written in popular style are also of a most beneficial nature.

Good poetry, such as that of Shakespere, Tennyson and Milton is, however, the crowning necessity. To read this may cost effort at times, but there is nothing which so greatly ennobles and refines the soul of man. When men reach their highest thoughts and ideals they frequently clothe their conceptions in poetic form. Religious woks should be extensively read.

Above all should be read the Book of Books—the Bible, which is at once the acme and the inspiration of the highest literature, which mankind ever possessed. In it is a store of inspiration sufficient for a million poets.

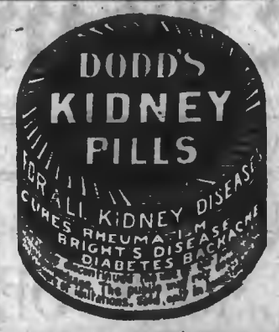
he speaker in closing remarked briefly upon how to read. Read selectively. This is necessary because of the great flood of literature of modern times. We should learn instinctively what is good. Read with diligence and determination, not at all for immediate pleasure, but for ultimate profit. Many books should be read twice. Read independently and meditatively fest the great cataract of literature overwhelm the individuality. The acquirement of an extensive vocabulary is of prime importance—Children, of course, require literature of a lighter character. The speaker closed his remarks with a charming allusion to the susceptibility to impressions of the infantile and adolescent mind.

At the conclusion of the address a vote of thanks was passed to the speaker on motion by Mr. John Hardwicke, seconded by Mr. E. Elcome.

Delightful refreshments were then served and the balance of the evening spent in pleasant social intercourse.

To the various committees in charge of the affair great credit for its success is due.

The accompaniments of the evening were played with much taste by Mrs. Miller.



MR. J. B. GIROUX NOW AN EDITOR

A Former Peterborough Man Enters Journalism.

Is Editor and Proprietor of the Kensington "Republican"—Well Known Here.

Mr. J. B. Giroux, a former Peterborough man, who left here about 22 years ago, and who now lives in Kensington, Kansas, has entered the line of journalism, and has begun the publication of the "Kensington Republican," the first number of which has reached this office.

Mr. Giroux is a brother of Mr. G. H. Giroux of town, and is well known to many here, having been prominent in lacrosse circles, and was an all round sport.

For ten years he has not been heard from, but to-day the news arrives that he has ventered the stormy sea of journalism, in which he promises to be successful. One of his contemporaries, referring to the Republican, says:

"The Kensington Republican made its initial appearance last week, and showed a nice line of advertising. Joe showed himself to be the right kind of a Kensington man, as a large amount of the space was used in telling of Kensington's new improvements and its brilliant future. The proprietor has a reputation for harpooning his political opponents, but his disposition did not show itself in his paper last week, but, on the contrary, he refers those seeking trouble to the city marshall. Many of the Republicans on the west side of the county have for many years favoured putting in a paper at Kensington, and we presume they will take off their coats and help The Republican to get a share of the patronage. We have had considerable business dealings with Mr. Giroux since he came to Kensington, and have always found him to be honest in his business transactions. The Mirror wishes him the greatest measure of success in his undertaking."

ADVENTISTS TO ERECT A CHURCH

Seventh Day Adventists Will Build House of Worship.

A Church Which Has Made Good Progress—Has Now 81,000 Members.

The Seventh Day Adventists, a religious body in Peterborough, which is increasing in numbers, have decided upon the erection of a new church building, and, though the site has not yet been decided upon, it is expected that construction work will be commenced in the near future, and it is hoped to have the structure completed during this summer.

Rev. Washington Morse, who is the head of the Seventh Day Adventists in Peterborough is authority for the statement that the new church will be built, and that it will be a structure which will be a credit to the town and to the denomination here.

The membership of the local church numbers about fifty, though all of these do not live in Peterborough at the present time, almost half of them having become canvassers for the publication of the church, and many of them have made great successes of this work.

Rev. Mr. Morse, is one of the four remaining delegates who 32 years ago met in Battle Creek, Mich., to discuss the founding of the church, and as a result of this conference the Seventh Day Adventist Church was organized.

To-day the membership of the church numbers 81,000. The church has 51 sanitoriums in different parts of the world, the largest of these being in Battle Creek, Mich., and is a building 600 feet long. Mr. Morse's grandson is one of the leading officials in that institution. In that city also Rev. G. W. Morse, a son of Rev. Washington Morse, is pastor of a church, the membership of which is 2,000, the largest of any church of that denomination in the world.

In foreign countries, also, the Adventists have made great progress, and in Germany they have met with greater success than any other church, during the last few years.

One of the cardinal principles of their belief is that Christ's second coming is to take place in the immediate future, the last prophecy having been fulfilled 50 years ago, since which time the investigation of the deeds of those who are now dead has been taking place.

They also believe in the seventh day as the Sabbath and keep it as such. For 51 years Mr. Morse has observed the seventh day as the Sabbath, and at that time, he says, there were not more than 100 persons in the world who believed as he did.

The local members of the church will ask for help from their brethren in other churches in the erection of the church here, and work will be prosecuted vigorously at once.

JOSEPH MURPHY CLAIMED WAGES

Was Prominent Figure at Police Court To-day.

Demands Wages at Rate of 30 Cents Per Hour—Judgment Given in Another Case.

Again this morning, as upon many occasions heretofore, Joseph Murphy was the prominent figure at Police Court. Joseph is a carpenter by trade, and works, it appears, largely by the hour, for which periods of time he claims a monetary compensation of 30 cents, which amount some of his employers consider exorbitant, in view of the fact, that the product of his labour is they claim, sometimes inartistic. Joseph, nevertheless, insists upon emolument at the rate spoken of and caused two of his employers to appear before the Court to-day.

The first case was that of Samuel Oliver, for whom he had worked eight hours and claimed a balance of $1.90, of this amount the defendant gave him $1.35. The Magistrate concluded after listening to Mr. Murphy's eloquent plea in his own behalf, that he was entitled to 35 cents more which was paid. Timothy Cavanagh was next to appear on a similar charge. Mr. Cavanagh's evidence went to show that the debt had been discharged in full, and the case was therefore dismissed.

Judgment for wages was given for $10.50 and costs amounting to $3.60, in a case against T. H. Ryan, at the suit of an employee.

THE WEST IS NOT AFRAID OF COERCION,

Says Dr. Bryce, Who Raised Manitoba Issue---Present Schools Best---Approximate to Uniformity; Allow Religious Instruction---The ex-Moderator of the General Assembly Believes the Passage of the Bill as Amended is in the interest of the West.

Ottawa, May 27.—Professor George Bryce, LL.D., of Winnipeg, who has been in Ottawa attending the meeting of the Royal Society, at which he is a Fellow was seen by a representative of the Globe, to whom he gave his views on the school question as it appears to men in the West. Dr. Bryce is one of the best known educationists in Canada. He is a distinguished graduate of the University of Toronto and of Knox College. Ever since 1871 he has been an active educational service in Winnipeg. He had to do with the foundation of Manitoba College and of the University of Manitoba. For many years he was head of the faculty of science in the university. He has been identified closely with the religious and missionary work of the Presbyterian Church, and three years ago was elected Moderator of the General Assembly. Few men have travelled more widely throughout Western Canada or written more extensively on its history and conditions.

"Yes, I have just come from Winnipeg and last week I was in Victoria on Church business. I have very recently been in touch with all the Provinces of the West. So far as I know—and I made it my business to inquire—there is no excitement or discontent over the educational clauses in the Autonomy Bills. When the bills were first introduced there was strong opposition to the original clauses. Our Presbytery of Winnipeg, a body of over sixty representatives, passed resolutions against them. But the changes made have very largely satisfied us. If these amendment clauses were not satisfactory, you know how strong we are on indignation meetings, and you would certainly have heard from us."

It was mentioned that Professor Bryce was a strong advocate of purely public schools at the time of the Manitoba agitation.

"Yes, I took a leading part in that discussion," said the professor. "I raised the question in a controversy between Archbishop Taché and myself, as 'Veritas,' in the press ten or twelve years before 1890, when our new act passed. The old Manitoba act was, no doubt, intended by some to fix Church-governed Separate Schools upon us, but we found that it would not 'hold water,' and so we swept away the old system."

"Why, then, are you not opposed to the educational clauses now proposed?"

The People Are Satisfied.

"Well, I find the people of the Territories satisfied with the present system of education. They have as near to a pure public school system as is workable in Canada. In Winnipeg city to-day, fifteen years after the passing of our act, we have the Roman Catholics still dissatisfied. They are paying taxes towards the support of the public schools, and are maintaining parochial schools of their own. This is undesirable. Then, sixty or seventy of their schools in the country places, nominally public schools, are, it is declared, being conducted as separate schools. This, again, is undesirable. Thus the Territories have practically a better working system of public schools, in so far as religious parties are concerned, than we have under our Manitoba public school system."

"But is not this a surrender of principle on your part?"

Not Prepared For Secular Schools.

"Not, at all. A public school system—pure and simple—a impossible in Canada. Most of us believe in the principle of the separation of Church and State, but this, if logically followed out, would make the public school a secular school. But logic is not everything. We, as Presbyterians, are not prepared for secular schools. In our deliverances we insist on liberty to have the Bible in the schools. Manitoba in 1890, had to yield this. In this 'John Knox' year we are stronger than ever on this point. Both in Manitoba and the Territories we have insisted on the liberty of having religious instruction in the so-called public schools from 3.30 to 4 p.m. of the school day. This has been allowed. The so-called public school system, exists in the three Maritime Provinces, because in the cities and towns it allows the segration of the Roman Catholics in public schools of their own—having only their own own children and teachers of their own faith. This is a well known working arrangement, although not sanctioned by law.

"It is because I am well acquainted with the Territories and their school system, that I am confident that their method is the best yet devised for approximating to uniformity, and yet giving a certain diversity to allow for religious instruction and religious sentiment."

"But what about the charge of 'coercion'? We hear a good deal about it in Ontario.

"To me that is absurd. To my mind the only coercion in sight is that of a narrow-minded handful in Toronto who wish to coerce our western people into an agitation that is distasteful to them. There is a feeling or resentment in the west against the interference of these Toronto dictators. They may save themselves the trouble. The Dominion has outgrown the dictation of any one city or of any one clique. Please tell these Toronto agitators that if the western people do not know they are being coerced it is because there is no coercion."

"But isn't the Dominion fixing the terms for the people of the two new Provinces?"

"No more than, in my judgment, it has the right to do," was Dr. Bryce's deliberate reply. "For more than thirty years in Manitoba I have advocated a 'united Canada' and a strong central authority. I want no 'Manitoba first,' no 'Ontario first,' or anything of the kind. I have advocated the 'Canadian idea' in my own Province at times when it was unpopular to do so. This talk of 'Provincial rights' is abused. The doctrine of 'sovereign States,' or 'sovereign Provinces,' is a Yankee notion, and is not British. It is inconsistent with a strong central executive. The late Sir John Macdonald very wisely called attention to this danger. There are Federal rights and responsibilities as well as Provincial.

Theory of the Constitution.

"The true theory of the Canadian constitution," continued Prof. Bryce, "is that the Dominion is the repository of power, and that the Provinces receive what it is wise to bestow upon them. You cannot have a strong country if you allow every Province to have its own 'sweet will,' or pass laws which are immoral or threatening to the people of the whole. True, in one part of the British North America Act you have education classed as a Provincial matter, but that is only as modified by other clauses of the act. It is of course well to carry the sense of the Province or of the locality in the passing of an act concerning education or any other subject. But in the case before us this is being done. The almost universal testimony is that the Territories want the continuation of their present school system. That has been formally expressed by the unanimous election of Hon. Mr. Oliver of Edmonton, and informally by the most representative men in the west. This temper on the part of the western people is of course discouraging for the educational doctrinaires who wish to dominate us with their notions."

"But why not let the people decide the matter in their new Provinces?" was asked.

"Well, because it is the duty of the Dominion to decide it. The Dominion, for prudential reasons easy to name, should not give up one iota of its responsibility in these new Provinces. We want all Canada to pronounce upon this important question.

A Bone of Contention.

"And, beside, to refer the school question to the Provinces themselves would be to throw a bone of contention into each new Province. Leave the matter open, and what would happen? The Roman Catholics would endeavour by legal process to obtain what they claimed to have under the act of 1875, viz., church-controlled schools. They would carry their case to the Privy Council. The people of the new Provinces would certainly oppose their contention. Years of litigation and dissension would follow. We know what this means in Manitoba. This is what we in the west wish especially to avoid. To have a tedious educational lawsuit for five or ten years would interfere with our plans of Canadianizing and Christianizing the great settlements of the Canadian West, with their hundreds of thousands of alien foreigners.

"To have such a disturbing and divisive agency in our politics would be so unmixed calamity, and would no doubt end in bringing back a much poorer system of public schools than that now in satisfactory operation under the system which it is proposed to continue. You people in Ontario may worry yourselves about the western schools if you have no other political issue, but the people in the west need not be expected to give you any encouragement."

Bigamist Had Draft For £6,000

Quebec, May 29.—On a charge of bigamy an English woman between 40 and 50 years was arrested upon the arrival of the Allan line steamer Tunisian. The young man Bugiar, her latest husband, is about 25 or 30 years her junior. She admits she is the wife of a man named Bellamy, but states she was under the impression he was dead when she married Bugiar. She was well dressed and had a draft for £6,000 in her pocket.

ONCE DIVORCED TWICE MARRIED

At Thirteen Years of Age is Record of North Dakota Girl.

The Minot "Optic" Tells of the Second Marriage of 13-Year-old Girl.

The Minot, North Dakota, weekly "Optic" has an article in which the divorce laws of that state are shown up in a light, which doubtless those who framed them did not anticipate. It says:—

"Clara Giles Hammer, the 13-year-old child wife of William Giles, who secured an annulment of her marriage contract in district court on the 4th of this month was re-married late Friday afternoon by Judge Davis of the county court.

Her new husband's name is Nels Erdahl, a well known farmer residing a few miles north of Bowbells. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the bride's father and the two subscribing witnesses, Miss Edith Baldwin and Clerk J. D. McGahan.

Last week at the time the case was before district court it attracted considerable attention because of the youth of the bride. The age of Mr. Erdahl is given on the records as 26. Mrs. Erdahl eloped with her first husband about three years ago while she was residing with her parents in Minnesota. Her parents were strongly opposed to the match, and her father petitioned Judge Goss to annul his daughter's marriage contract upon the ground of want of legal consent. The court granted the petition and directed that the legitimacy of the child born of the marriage and the custody of the same be given to Mrs. Giles, who is now Mrs. Erdahl.

A HIGH AUTHORITY.

In another part of this issue will be found the report of an interview with Rev. Prof. Bryce, of Winnipeg, upon the Western school question. A perusal of this clear, concise, positive and well considered statement will be an illuminating experience to almost any person, but especially to those who have been deceived by the the ex-parte and rabid statements of the doctrinaries and Francophobes of Ontario. Every line and sentence of Dr. Bryce's utterances are worthy of careful perusal because there is no man better qualified to speak of the educational conditions and the feelings of the people of the West. It is interesting to note that he asserts that the people of the West are satisfied with the educational system provided by the Autonomy Bill. The schools he declares are more satisfactory than the system which Manitoba possesses. He also declares that the amended educational clauses are satisfactory to the Presbyterian body, a church which from its missionary, agressiveness and missionary interests in the North-west, should be regarded as a standard of judgment in the matter of pronouncing upon the character and nature of the educational clauses of the Autonomy Bill. Rev. Prof. Bryce's closing rebuke to the Ontario bomb-throwers sums up western feeling upon this important natio al question. A careful reading of his remarks is urged, because he deals with the subject in a bread patriotic and statesmanlike spirit.

WASTE OF TIME AND MONEY

It has been noticed that this spring, there has been an unusual prevalence of high winds. Some may attribute this condition to sun spots, but others, inclined to search for direct causes, assert that the weather has sympathised with the abnormal expenditure of oratorical wind, at Ottawa. Seriously, however, the public are beginning to enquire to what good end is the expensive waste of time that has been going on at Ottawa. The House has been in session nearly four months, at a cost of about $20,000 a day, and the time has chiefly been taken up with mere talk. The Autonomy Bill was introduced on February 22, and since that time there has been a steady flow of so-called oratory on the subject. In regard to the debate upon the subject, the speeches of three or four of the leading men on each side of th House, practically exhausted the subject, but that did not stay the tongue of the talker. There has been a constant flow of rehashed arguments, a vain repetition of what the people all knew, perhaps better than the speakers themselves. The object has been largely to make party capital. There is no objection, but rather the contrary, to full discussion of any public measure, but there is no good purpose served by tearing it to tatters, especially at the large expense involved, with no proportionate return in the way of enlightment. The time of busy members of the House, is necessarily withdrawn from their business. This tends to deter business men from entering public life, and thus the public interests are sacrificed, for, if private business, to be successful, needs the attention of competent business men, it is self-evident that the presence of competent men of affairs in our legislatures, will lead to the successful transaction of the public business. It only needs a little reflection to perceive the importance of these considerations, and to illustrate how the public interests are, so to speak, sidetracked by dreary discussion of worn out subjects, involving waste of time. The majority of the speeches upon the Autonomy Bill, have been, to speak mildly, superfluous, travelling over already well-covered ground, while perhaps a majority of them have been simply contributors to party campaign literature at the public expense. A few party papers, rabid on the one subject, as a hydrophobic dog, have kept up the agitation and parliamentary back-benchers have responded to the spur.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If Rojestvensky's fleet had been fleet enough it would have been a fleet yet.

Toronto plumes itself on being the educational centre and centre of culture, yet it buys statuary by the pound and pictures by the yard.

If Russia should by some wild chance win a battle, it will have to have a new corps of drummers—the present corps can only beat a retreat.

Admiral Rojestvensky, or "Dennis" as Admiral Togo has re-christened him, is a great fighter—in his class. In the matter of fishing smacks he is quite at home.

Admiral Togo has been quiet for months, while Rojestvensky has been filling columns of newspapers every day. But he was patiently biding his time. Togo wasn't troubled with buck-fever, but when he "drew a bead" he brought down his game. It takes as brave a man to wait victoriously as to fight victoriously.

British Columbia has foolishly imposed a tax upon commercial travellers. An agent from another province must pay a tax of $50 before he can do business in that province. This is a blow at the development of inter-provincial trade. We spend millions to provide transportation, and British Columbia fatuously puts up a gate at Kicking Horse Pass. The tax may bring a little revenue into the provincial coffers but it will come out of the people who will pay more for the goods brought in from the east, for one may be sure that British Columbia wholesale merchants will take prompt advantage of this "protection" and put on all the prices the business will bear. Any barrier to free trade interchange, though apparently temporarily profitable, will be found to be a losing venture in the end.

Did you ever see a rosebud which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere — seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble — it's a germ at the root of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentences paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

MET LAST NIGHT AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Interesting Meeting of Christain Endeavour Society.

The meeting of Christian Endeavour Society at St. Paul's church last night, was especially interesting and profitable. Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Torrance were in charge, the former taking as his subject, the Scotch Missionary Hewetson, and the latter, the English missionary John Eliot.

In a well prepared address, the Doctor outlined the life of his subject, touching upon his scholarship and ideals, and pointing out that in youth his ambition was to be a king or a preacher. Influenced much by Chalmers and McCheyne, he became a zealous missionary, and is worthy of a high place amongst Scotch Divines.

Mrs. Torrance then read a clear and interesting paper on John Eliot, the representative missionary of the seventeenth century. Born in England 1604, educated at Jesus College, he decided to enter the Christian ministry. As he was a nonconformist he chose to be expatriated, and in 1631 he arrived in Boston and settled as pastor in Roxbury, from which place he carried on extra parochial work among the North American Indians. His message took effect on the red men and social settlements and villages were formed. He gave the Indians in their own language a grammar, a catechism, and the Bible, and lived to see hundreds of converted Indians, and over a score of native ministers. In 1690, the great missionary died, his last words being — "Welcome joy!"

The month's business was transacted and the meeting closed.

INVESTIGATED THE FESTIVE CATFISH

Party of Local Fishing Enthusiasts Visit Rice Lake.

Had Enjoyable Outing Yesterday on Mr. Wedlock's Steam Launch—Will Report to Department of Fisheries.

A number of gentlemen who are interested in fishing went down the Otonabee River yesterday morning to Rice Lake for the purpose of investigating the propriety of licensing the persons who are engaged in netting catfish in the Rice Lake Waters.

The party, who left town about nine o'clock, a.m., on Mr. Wedlock's handsome steam launch, was composed of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. V. Eastwood, J. J. Leudy, T. E. Bradburn, G. W. Hatton, Mayor Best, H. LeBrun, R. M. Denniston, A. Stevenson, R. Fisher, Reeve, (South Monaghan,) A. P. McDonald, T. Brightman, Dr. Amys, Dr. Greer, R. Gibbs, H. C. Winch, Inspector Johnston and several others.

Several nets were lifted in the presence of the fishery inspector and the party, and at least a barrel of cat fish was secured. It is stated that the catfish are very destructive of the spawn of both bass and maskinonge, and that vast numbers of eggs are devoured as soon as laid. The problem for the fishery inspector and the local fishermen is as to whether the removal of the catfish will improve the bass and 'longe fishing. Do the bass and 'longe feed upon the young catfish? is one of the questions asked, and of the fishermen present yesterday, there was no one who claimed that they did. The sharp spines of the catfish seem to protect them from attack. The consensus of opinion was, so far as could be gathered in an informal way, that it is in the interests of sportsmen that the netting of catfish should be permitted, if carried on under the supervision of the local inspector.

A report to this effect will be forwarded to the Deputy Minister.

Catfish have been regularly taken in large quantities in River Trent for many years and are now very scarce in those waters. It is claimed that the bass and 'longe fishing improved there in proportion to the destruction of the catfish.

It seems strange that the catfish, so much despised, locally, is largely sought after by the epicures of the United States, who pay as much as 30 cents a pound for them in Buffalo and New York.

The party dined with Mr. Wedlock, returning to town in the evening, after a thoroughly enjoyable and instructive outing.

PATHETIC CASE OF SUFFERING

Husband Sick and Wife Practically Starving.

In Peterborough a Case of Poverty and Suffering Excites Sympathy.

While the good people of Peterborough are sending their money out of town in support of home and foreign missionaries, and other equally worthy objects, they are perhaps forgetting that right in this prosperous town of Peterborough there are many cases of absolute want, and one of such cases the Examiner has discovered.

Yesterday the Examiner learned that a man was ill and that the circumstances surrounding it were very sad, and an investigation, made possible by the kindness of the attending physician, showed that the condition of the sick man and his family were pitiable in the extreme. The man in question, who is about 45 years of age, is suffering from a complication of diseases, erysipilas and pneumonia being not the least of these, and he is now lying in a very low condition at his home.

His family consists of a wife and two children, and they all live in one room, in a house in which two other families also reside. His physical condition, however, is not the most distressing feature of the affair. His family are in a state of poverty which makes the case a particularly sad one and his wife who has practically worn herself out waiting on her husband, made the admission to the Examiner to-day, that from Saturday morning until yesterday noon, she had had nothing to eat, and she then took a cup of tea and a piece of ginger bread. Since that time she had nothing more until this afternoon.

The doctor called in at noon today and asked her what she had to eat in the house, and she replied that she had some bacon which with a few potatoes was all she had to eat. He at once sent from the butcher's some steak, which he ordered her to prepare and eat. Her husband is in a very low condition and it is thought to be only a matter of a few days perhaps hours, until his end will come. During the last day the condition has become known to a number of philanthropic ladies and they have taken steps to alleviate their sufferings. The two children have been taken to the Shelter and it is probable that the family will now be cared for. The wife of the unfortunate man with tears in her eyes today asked the doctor if the fact that her children had been taken away to the Shelter, meant that she would lose them altogether, and her joy was manifest when he assured her that she would still have control of them.

WALKER RUSSELL AND THE BIBLE SCHOOL

Every Reason to Hope for the Establishment of an Annual Chautauqua in Peterborough.

Mr. Russell stated publicly last night in St. Andrew's that there was every reason to believe that Peterborough being the central city between Montreal and Windsor, and so beautifully located, would become a Canadian Chautauqua or Winona. Tens of thousands in money was actually spent each year in attending these assemblies for special conference in Bible truths, and Christian work. While the winter season presents the best time for revival work, the summer months might well be used for the deepening of spiritual life by conference and fellowship. The class in the Y.M.C.A. Hall each afternoon at 4.15 is specially designed to help Bible students and teachers, and to stimulate a greater love for research in the Scriptures. The evening meetings in St. Andrew's give an opportunity for all to get greater encouragement in receiving and giving the Gospel. The meetings are open to the public and will be continued every night this week.

The Semi-ready frock coat is a masterpiece of sartorial art

The frock coat gives the designer more scope to show his skill and taste than any other garment.

That is why the tailor, who makes about five or six frock coats in a year and gets his ideas from a fashion plate, misses the essential points that mean style.

The lines of the Semi-ready frock coat are carefully thought out by an expert designer.

This year the Semi-ready frock coat differs but slightly from last year's model. The lapels are heavier with a slightly convex crease. The shoulders are a little broader and of natural shape, avoiding the built-up effect.

They are close-fitting at the waist, large-chested, and with considerable bell to the skirt.

A frock coat is like a dress coat—every line must be right or it is noticeably incorrect.

The Semi-ready frock coat is the essence of style—try one on and see. Prices, $20, $25, $30.

FEARLESS COW GIRL RIDING A STEER

An Interesting Feature of the Lemon Bros. Show.

The new woman has found a new vocation. The "bike" is too tame for her, the saddle too altogether too-too to her. She is sure'y ahead of her time, and anyone who doubts it and wishes to be convinced can have proof positive when Lemon Bros., Shows, Roman Hippodrome, Monster Museum, Oceanic Aquarium and Congress of Living Phenomena, will exhibit at Peterborough on Thursday, June 1st, and show the roughest rider of the arena, the most wondrous new woman of the wild west, riding bareback, without saddle, bridle, line or halter, a great surging, leaping, bucking bovine — a regular Texas steer. The handsome, graceful, fearless rider far outstrips any horsewoman or bicycle champion of the day. No one should miss seeing her.

WARSAW WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONCERT

Delightful Programme Presented at Victoria Day Concert in Eastern Village.

A highly successful concert took place at Warsaw last night, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. The Town Hall where the affair was held was crowded to the door by a thoroughly delighted audience. The financial aspect of the success was most gratifying, the proceeds being devoted to a fund to liquidate the balance of the purchase price of a handsome piano, recently purchased by this progressive society.

The Women's Institute it may be said is in a flourishing condition, its membership having increased to such proportions as to make it one of the largest and most successful organizations of the kind in the country. An excellent work is being accomplished by the society at their regular meetings, which might well be imitated by its sister villages.

The programme was an excellent one and received a merited appreciation from the audience. The chair was occupied by Mrs. (Dr.) Meacham, President of the Institute whose energetic efforts on behalf of the affair, were so largely responsible for its success. The programme was as follows:—

SATURDAY'S GAME AT RIVERSIDE

Local Team will Meet Cobourg on New Grounds.

One of the Best Games of the Season Will be Played Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon the Midland League Baseball season will open here, with a game between the local men and Cobourg. It will also be the opening of the new Riverside Park in the 5th Ward, where the spectators will be able to see the games in comfort, the grand stand having been erected.

These grounds are now in good condition and the prospects are that in the opening event on Saturday there will be a crowded crowd.

Cobourg will give the locals the hardest game of the season that day, and the contest should be well worth witnessing. Both teams are aspirants for the championship honours, and both have a good chance to win and the game on Saturday will no doubt have a material effect in the championship. The local team will line up practically the same as last Saturday and their should be a good crowd on hand to witness the game.

QUAKERS TO PLAY NORWOOD AGAIN

Lost Their Protest But Will Play Norwood on Saturday.

Protest Committee Met Last Night—Both Teams Present Their Cases.

Last night the protest entered by the Quaker Football Club against the game claimed by Norwood by default was dealt with by special committee appointed for that purpose by Dr. Devitt of Bowmanville, President of the League. The committee consisted of Dr. Morgan, H. R. H. Kenner and W. E. Wasson. Mr. Ira Moore represented the Quakers and Mr. Pottigrew, the Norwood team.

The former submitted that the dates scheduled, May 10th and May 20th, were not satisfactory to the Quakers and that they had tried to get Norwood to postpone the games, but without success. Norwood had come here on May May 10th against the wishes of the home team, and the latter had found it impossible to play the return game in Norwood on May 20th. They had notified Norwood to this effect, but the latter had refused to change the date. On the ground that the dates were not satisfactory to them the Quakers protested the game. Mr. Pottigrew, on behalf of the Norwood team said that the dates mentioned were regular scheduled dates and they saw no good reason to change them. In the game they claimed by default they had not been notified until noon on the same day that the Quakers would not play the game. They had lost a good gate by the failure of the Quakers to show up, and claimed the game and expenses.

The committee decided that the Quakers had lost the protest, but recommended in the interests of true sport that the Norwood team play the game over again in Norwood, at a date named by the President and that the Quakers pay their expenses to Norwood and $6 expenses to the Norwood team. This the Quakers agreed to do and the game will be played on Saturday June 3rd.

GALT FOOTBALL GAME TUESDAY

World's Champions Will Play Here with Quakers.

Next Tuesday the Galt Football team will play here, with the Quakers and the lovers of the game will thus have an opportunity of seeing the world's champions in action. The Galt eleven has the reputation of being the best association football team in the game to-day and the Quakers took advantage of the fact that they were passing through town to secure them for a game. It will be played on the Exhibition Grounds and Dr. Devitt, of Bowmanville, President of the Midland League, will referee.

Only one Guelph man got past first base. This was in the last innings.

200 LIVES LOST AT SEA.

French Fishing Schooner Undoubtedly Sunk Off Grand Banks.

Sydney, N. S., May 30.—The French fishing schooner Cousins Kennis has been lost off the Grand Banks and nearly 200 lives have been lost.

The French cruiser Froude arrived here Sunday, after having been searching a week for the missing schooner. No trace of the Cousins Kennis has been found, and it has been given up for lost.

It is feared that she struck an iceberg or collided with another steamer or a derelict, and sank with all hands.

The Cousins Kennis was built by A. C. Ribertson, Advocate, N. S., in 1892, and was a three-master of 125 tons net register. She left France six weeks ago with supplies for the St. Pierre fishing fleet. She had on board 165 fishermen and the regular crew.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before any noticeable danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be continued.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or Doan's by mail.

Probability That Rev. W. J. Jolliffe Will be Honoured

By Being Elected President of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B.A., L., chairman of Peterborough District, left yesterday morning for Picton, to represent the district on the Stationing Committee, the other members intending to leave in the morning.

On Thursday the election for president will take place, and it is expected that the choice of the Conference will this year fall on Rev. Mr. Jolliffe. Last year he secured the next highest number of votes to Rev. J. P. Wilson, who was elected and the custom is to give the presidency to the one who comes next to the one elected the year before. Mr. Jolliffe will no doubt fill the office to which his friends expect to see him elected, with credit to himself and the church.

THE SALVATION OF SHOES.

HAVE you ever yet worn out the upper part of a shoe? If you could get Soles that wore as long as Uppers wouldn't it cut down your shoe bill?

Well—here you are at last—"Quick-Oak" Sole leather, which is tough as rawhide, but almost as light as cork.

Soak it in water for four steady hours and it won't be wet through.

Put the highest priced regular Oak leather in the same vessel and it will be entirely water-soaked in one-fourth that time.

"Quick-Oak" is the safest sole leather that ever happened, because every sole of it can be relied upon for wear and water-resistance every time.

We had to sign a big contract to control "Quick-Oak" Sole for Canada, so that it can now be had only in the genuine "Slater Shoe."

These shoes are made by the Slater Shoe Company, and have stamped on the lining a slate-frame with the retail selling price, $3.50 or $5.00.

"The Slater Shoe" has always been a pretty safe thing to buy, but "Quick-Oak" Soles now make it safer, longer-lived, more damp-proof than ever.

Ten Points of Excellence over any other Furnace in "Bison" Hot Water Heaters.

—And if builders of new houses knew all the good points of the "Bison" Heater, they would have no other—it is the very latest, newest development in the science of heating.

—The "Bison" cannot get dirty—no resting place in it for soot or ashes—needs no brush or scraper,

—Has side, center and down drafts—no dead fire or wall of non-conducting ashes at the sides,

—Fire traverses over twice as much heating surface as in any other furnace,

—Down draft traps heat, forcing it to do its work before it escapes,

—No non-conducting blanket of soot can collect on flues or water jacket,

—Most easily regulated drafts,

—Heats water at top first, making rapid and positive circulation, top section is always hottest,

—Strongest, simplest grates that cannot clog, stick or get out of order,

—Shakes down fire pot and sifts ashes at one operation with less effort than ordinary heaters require to shake only,

—In case of an improbable accident to sections, you merely shut off one section temporarily and fire up again within less than an hour

—The "Bison" saves time, worry, work, coal, money, smoke and soot,

—Absolutely safe—burns its own gas—gas cannot escape.

Fifteen minutes investigation will prove to you that the "Bison" is the very best heater you can get.

Why not find out before you buy the old-fashioned or obsolete kinds?

WOULD YOU HAVE A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

How to Secure One and Enjoy the Best of Health in Nature's Way.

Healthy beauty is the only kind that charms. Of what avail is the sallow prettiness of an invalid? Artificial beauty obtained by the use of lotions, washes and powders containing lead, zinc and bismuth is but a travesty—easily seen through. It is the plainness of flesh and pure blood that makes people attractive. You cannot have health, good looks, rosy cheeks and bright, snappy eyes unless your blood is pure, rich and red. You cannot have that symmetry of development, that radiance of beauty and that healthy glow to your skin which is a guarantee of a pure, vigorous blood supply unless your stomach, liver and bowels are working together right. If you are constipated, if you have dyspepsia indigestion or an occasional attack of biliousness, there is reason enough why you have a bad complexion, but that is no excuse for your using cosmetics to cover up defects. Better use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills to cleanse the blood of impurities, regulate the bowels and establish a normal condition of digestion and nutrition. Begin right and you will have no use for artificial beautifiers. Under the active influence of these wonderful little vegetable pills the blood is invigorated and enriched, the nerves are strengthened, the muscles take on new energy, the skin becomes rosy and red, showing the circulation is normal and active as Nature intended it should be. Try this plan, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills each night for two weeks and you will be astonished at the improvement. Depend upon it that these little pills will not only correct a bad complexion, but they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. Price 25 cents at all dealers.

OUR RELATIONS WITH JAPAN

Japan Discriminates Against Canadian Cottons.

THE TREATY WITH BRITAIN

Hon. Mr. Fielding Explains That Canada Did Not Join In It Because It Would Restrict Her Freedom of Action — The Purchase of Nova Scotia Military Camp Ground.

Ottawa, May 29.—In the House yesterday before the orders of the day were called Mr. Barker called the attention of the House to a disadvantage under which Canadian cottons labor in entering Japan. He read a letter from the New York agent of the Imperial Cotton Co., Hamilton, stating that he found it impossible to sell Canadian cottons in Japan in competition with American goods, as the latter had a preferential tariff of 5 per cent. To meet that he had reduced the price 5 per cent., but even then could not sell as there was a sentimental objection in Japanese official circles against Canadian goods, as they felt Canada had discriminated against them.

Mr. Fielding's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Fielding replied that the point had previously been brought to the notice of the Government. It arose out of a treaty which had been made by the Imperial Government with Japan some years ago, under which certain privileges had been granted, and Canada had an opportunity of joining in. All things considered, however, it had been felt that if the Government acceded to it Canada's freedom of action in other matters would be embarrassed and it was not thought wise to assent to it. The consequence was that Canadian products did not get the advantages which the British products would have under that treaty. The matter had occurred several years ago, and it was thought Canada's action in regard to the labor question in particular might be hampered.

"It is an important thing if it debars us from the opening up of Japan," said Mr. Foster.

"Hear, hear," assented Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

At Mr. Foster's suggestion it was agreed to furnish the House with further information.

Nova Scotia Militia Camp.

On the motion to go into Committee of Supply, Col. Sam Hughes brought up the question of the purchase of 640 acres in King's County, N. S., for a military camp ground for the Province of Nova Scotia, alleging that Messrs. Budd and Wickwire, two Liberals, members of the Legislature, received an excessive price, namely, $28,400, after buying it for $2 an acre. Sir Frederick Borden explained that the land had been expropriated by the Government, and the price was being fixed at present by the courts. The matter had been fought over in his riding at the last election, and the people had returned him by 1,200 majority. (Applause.)

The question was discussed for some time, and then dropped.

In Committee of Supply the estimates for arts, agriculture and statistics were taken up and progress made.

Drowning in Muskoka.

Bracebridge, May 30.—A drowning accident occurred Sunday on Lake Muskoka, near the mouth of the Muskoka River. A young man, by name of McKenzie, with a friend, was paddling on the lake when the canoe was overturned. They began to swim to the shore, which was just a short distance away, when McKenzie took a cramp. He was formerly of Seaforth, having worked in the Bracebridge furniture factory for a short time.

Charged With Murder.

Winnipeg, May 30.—Frank Wright, who was shot by Charles Hall while he was crossing the latter's farm near Ponoka, in Alberta, died in the Edmonton Hospital. Hall has been arrested and the preliminary trial takes place in a few weeks.

Legislators Fight Duel.

Buda-Pesth, Hungary, May 30.—Count Stefan Keglevich was killed yesterday by Karl Henes of the people's party in a duel fought with swords. The meeting was the outcome of a heated dispute in the Chamber of Deputies.

STOMACHS ON STILTS.

The man who puts on stilts does not increase his actual stature. He only feels taller. Stimulants are the stilts of the stomach. They make a man feel better for the time being, but he feels a great deal worse for them afterward.

The need of the man whose stomach is "weak" is not stimulation but strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery perfectly answers that need. It contains no alcohol or whisky. It cures the weak, foul stomach with its attendant bad smelling breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and kindred symptoms.

"In the year 1899 I had an attack of indigestion and got so bad that my home doctor said he could not do me any good," writes Mr. G. Trent, of Gordonville, Texas. "I wrote to you and you advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so I bought six bottles, and when I commenced using it I was so weak could hardly walk about the house. By the time I had used one bottle my stomach and bowels commenced to heal. There were strips of the lining of my stomach or bowels (I don't know which) as large as a man's two fingers passed and I had a good deal of misery in my stomach and bowels, and also in the rectum especially. I could not eat anything without having much distress afterward, but by the time I had taken eight bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was sound and well, and could eat anything I pleased without suffering in the least. Could also do as much work in a day as I ever could. I have not suffered from the trouble since, and it was four years ago that I was so sick."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

COMMITS T. H. LLOYD.

Released On Bail to Await Trial in the Fall—No Assignment Yet.

Newmarket, May 30.—J. J. Warren, barrister, of Toronto, appeared for T. H. Lloyd before Police Magistrate Col. Lloyd and T. J. Woodcock, J.P., yesterday morning, to enter a plea to the three charges of misappropriating trust funds of the Weddell estate, aggregating $4,612. Mr. Warren said his client had decided to waive examination and consent to a committal for trial. Arthur G. Slaght appeared for the Crown, and accepted the plea, liberating the prisoner to bail in the same sureties as had been given for his appearance at the trial: David Lloyd $1,250, Jesse Walton $1,250 and himself in $1,000. The Crown relieved the magistrates of any further responsibility in the case, and the prisoner will come up for trial at the September sessions, or, should he so select, can be tried by Judge Winchester at any time.

W. S. Cane, to whom Mr. Lloyd was to assign for the benefit of his creditors, was asked yesterday if an assignment had been made, and he answered: "Not yet."

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because it is perfectly clean.

Wouldn't you like to know that the tea you drink has not been touched by human hand since it was plucked on the plantation?

This is what you get in Red Rose Tea. The old method of rolling and packing tea by hand has been entirely done away with on the tea estates where Red Rose Tea is produced. There, as well as in the blending and packing rooms, machinery — scrupulously clean machinery—is used exclusively.

Red Rose Tea is never touched by hand after being plucked.

This fact alone will help you enjoy drinking it.

The Blue Label is recommended.

TAKE TRIP WITH MANUFACTURERS

Three Peterborough Geatle-Who Will Go To Europe.

Canadian Manufacturers Association Tour Which Commences next Week.

Mr. B. F. Ackerman, Mr. Hugh Waddell, and Mr. R. Waddell, next week leave for Montreal, and will join the members of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, on their European trip. They will leave town on Thursday, June 8th, the party sailing from Montreal on the following day. They have received advance copies of the programme as arranged for the association, and those who are fortunate enough to be able to go to England on the forthcoming trip will find that a programme has been arranged for their delectation which is calculated to satisfy even the most fastidious, banquets, garden parties, visits to famous manufactories and places of historic interest having been arranged galore. The sights of London of course figure prominently, but most of the industrial centres in England are included, the only notable exception being Manchester, which is regarded as somewhat in the light of the home of free trade, so that the omission may be obvious, having in mind the views of so many of the Canadian manufacturers. The following is a list of the appointments made, subject, of course, to slight revision:

Arrival in London.

The delegates will arrive at Euston by special train on June 17th, proceeding to the Hotel Cecil, which will be the headquarters of the party, and a committee room will be opened for their convenience, where full information can be obtained.

Monday, June 19, will be devoted to a visit in the morning to the Tilbury, Royal Albert and Victoria docks. A garden party will be given at Totteridge, by Mr. S. R. Boulton, at 4 p.m., and limited parties will proceed to inspect the Royal Mint. The evening will be free.

On Tuesday there will be a river trip on the Thames, a visit to the Royal Arsenal at Woolwich, and to the works of Messrs. Siemens & Co., electrical engineers. In the evening the president and council of the London Chamber of Commerce will hold a reception at the Grafton Galleries, Piccadilly.

For the following day visits to the Tower of London, the Mint, the Baltic, Mercantile and Shipping Exchange, Lloyd's, and the Bank of England, have been arranged, and a luncheon will be given at Salter's Hall by Mr. Thos. F. Bickwell, president of the London Chamber of Commerce. At night the delegates will attend the annual dinner of the London Chmaber of Commerce.

To Royal Ascot.

Thursday, June 22, is Cup Day at Ascot when the delegates will be free to make their own arrangements. "Royal Ascot" is one of the racing and social functions of the English season, and a Royal procession is a leading feature.

On Friday the visitors will go to the Crystal Palace by special invitation of the president and council of the West India Committee. In the afternoon Lord and Lady Brassey, will tender a reception at 24 Park Lane, whilst in the evening the party will proceed to the gardens of the Royal Botanical Society, where they will be entertained by Sir George Hayter Chubb.

Saturday, June 24, there will be a garden party and luncheon by Hon. T. A. Brassey at Battle, one of England's most historic spots reminiscent of the Battle of Hastings and the famous Battle Abbey will be inspected.

To the Black Country.

The festivities of London and the district will then be given up for a time, and on Monday, June 26, the delegates will go to Walsall, famous for saddles and harness, and situate in what is known as "the black country." They will be entertained by the Mayor and Walsall Chamber of Commerce, inspect various manufactories, and visit Lichfield Cathedral and Dudley Castle.

Tuesday will be devoted to Birmingham, which was "made" by Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in the early commercial days, and before he became worldwide famous. After an official reception by the Lord Mayor and the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, there will be luncheon at the Grand Hotel, at which Mr. Chamberlain will be present. In the afternoon Cadbury's model village will be visited.

Then to Sheffield.

Wednesday, June 28, should find the delegates at Sheffield, where the various manufactories will be inspected, a luncheon given at the Cutlers' Hall, and a reception by the Lord Mayor at night.

On Thursday they will be the guests of the Leeds Chamber of Commerce, Friday similarly of the Bradford Chamber, and return to London at night.

Saturday, July 1, will be Dominion Day in London, and a garden party will be given by Mr. Alfred Mosely, C.M.G., at the Bontavieri Gardens.

The second week's round will be commenced in Liverpool, where the delegates will proceed to Lever's soap works at Port Sunlight, take a trip down the Mersey, and attend a reception given by the Lord Mayor.

Newcastle will next be visited, then on to Edinburgh and Glasgow, and return to London on July 7, when a Dominion reception will be given by Lord Strathcona. Saturday his Lordship will give a garden party at Kinemouth House, and in the evening there will be a reception by the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland at Stafford House.

The Victorian, by which the party, numbering about 120, will sail, leaves Montreal on June 9th.

"Your's Going, of Course".

"Couldn't stay away; that's all about it!" Have you heard the way the talk goes on concerning the Euchre Party and Social, to-morrow evening in the Sons of England Hall, under the auspices of the new Ladies' Branch of the Woodmen of the World? SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

Coldsprings Union Celebrates its 17th Anniversary.

Special Service on Sunday—Delightful Tea and Concert Last Night.

The 17th anniversary of the Cold Springs' Union Sunday School was celebrated Sunday afternoon and the number present indicated the great interest taken in this good work by the community of which this Sunday School is the centre. The chief address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Wright, of the Yukon, in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Crothers who was not able to attend on account of having a service elsewhere. During the services, Miss Minnie Kitney, of Cold Springs, sang very sweetly a solo, "The Glory Song" which was enjoyed by all.

Rev. Mr. Wright followed next with a talk on the Yukon, a subject which highly interested all present and which was admirably presented by the speaker.

In commencing, he led the audience along an imaginary journey to the Klondike, picturing vividly the different kinds of lands and seas over which one must travel to reach "this treasure house of our whole Dominion." The temperature there, he said, was often as low as seventy degrees, coal-oil could not be poured, and miners dug over 250 feet into the crust of the earth before reaching unfrosted ground. Mountain storms are very frequent there and so violent as to make the new-comer quake with fear. Yet in spite of these obstacles, thousands are lured into this rugged country by the gold in view, yet about one per cent of these only become rich. The Gospel, he said, also found its way into that far off country and was doing excellent work there. All the churches have sent representatives and are making strenuous efforts to entice the miners from the saloons. To accomplish this the churches are thrown open during week days and used as reading rooms. The best papers and magazines are procured and the men are allowed to smoke and talk, making themselves at home.

He also explained minutely how the miners are continually testing the earth for gold, which is brought up by boring, by washing it in a sluice. This was used to illustrate the necessity of us to keep testing our work and ask ourselves if we are on the "pay streak of life." The chief objects of the church there, are to look after the hospitals and the homes. These are very often in such insufficient conditions that diseases are caused by lack of cleanliness.

The speakers then told of the canine system of transportation, how the dogs were hitched to the sleds, and how they sometimes shirk their duties by pretending to be crippled. Some people are somewhat similar who when asked to assist in some work suddenly become poor. On one occasion, he said, while he was preaching at White Horse where he was stationed, he spoke on blasphemy and as the miners are accustomed to swear at the balky dogs in the course of his remarks, he asked if it was not possible to drive a team of dogs from there to the Yorks a distance of some fifteen miles, without using profane language. A miner at the back of the church, who, evidently thinking that an answer was expected, and forgetful of where he was, spoke up and said, "Parson, it can't be done!"

One of the greatest helps to the church, he stated, was the children. They reminded many of home and assisted them to overcome temptation.

Numerous other topics in connection with the Yukon were spoken of by Mr. Wright, and his highly instructive address will be long remembered by those who heard it and another visit from the same minister will not be unwelcome.

The services were concluded by a short address by Mr. E. P. Kennedy, of Rowan, a former superintendent of the Sunday School, who expressed his pleasure at being present and who referred to the excellent work which was being accomplished by Miss Bennett, the present superintendent and her staff of teachers.

Entertainment Held.

The anniversary tea and concert of the Coldsprings Union Sunday school, last night, proved a most enjoyable affair. The attendance, despite the inclement weather, was large. After the tea, which was served in a spacious marquee, an excellent programme was rendered in the school house. Many visitors from town were present, although several artists who were expected to assist, were unfortunately unable to be present.

The chair was occupied by Miss Laura Bennett, whose tireless efforts on behalf of the Sunday school have been of such invaluable assistance in the past. Miss Bennett has for the past five years been superintendent of the school, and is the only remaining member of the original staff of teachers.

The programme opened with the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' name," this being followed by a delightfully rendered solo by Miss Minnie Kitney. A recitation by Master Freddie Hooper also delighted the audience.

Miss Edna Boys, a young elocutionist, who won golden opinions in many quarters by her clever work, followed with a recitation.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. church, then gave an interesting address, which was listened to with close attention, upon "The Influence of the Home, the School and the Sunday school upon the Child."

After the singing of "Bringing in the Sheaves," another charming recitation was given by Miss Boyd. This was followed by a reading by Mr. Bert Huston, which was enthusiastically received by the audience. Master F. Hooper then contributed a second number, after which a delightful evening was brought to a fitting close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The committee in charge wish to express its thanks to the Stroud Tea and Coffee Co., for its kindness in supplying tea. The tent, which served its purpose admirably, was erected by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons.

ADMIRAL TOGO HOLDS HIM PRISONER

Rojestvensky, the Russian Admiral, One of War's Spoils ---A Contradictory Report---Vladivostock Reports that Rojestvensky Has Reached That Port in a Wounded Condition---Togo Reports That the Round Up of the Russians Numbers 22 Ships---Latest War Details.

London, May 31. — The Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent, cabling under date of May 30th, says: "When the Kniaz Souvaroff was sunk, Admiral Rojestvensky was transferred to another vessel, but was captured off Fume to-day. He is said to be severely wounded in the arm. Admirals Nebogateff and Voelkersan also are prisoners. All the ships of the Russian fleet have been either sunk or captured."

Washington, May 31.—The Japanese legation last night gave out the following cablegram from Tokio:

"Fifth report from Togo, received afternoon of May 30:

"The main force of our combined fleet, upon accepting surrender of the remaining Russian main force, near Liacourt Rocks, on the afternoon of May 28, as already reported, stopped pursuit and while engaged in the disposition of surrendered ships found in a southwestern direction the Admiral Ushakoff, a coast defence ship. Thereupon Iwate and Yakume were immediately despatched in pursuit and invited her to surrender, but she refused and was sunk at 6 p. m. Her crew of over 300 men were rescued.

"Cruiser Dmitri Donskoi was also found in the northwestern direction at Jap Torpedo Launched Against Russian Ship.

4 p. m. and was immediately overtaken and fired upon vigorously by our fourth division and second destroyer flotilla. She was attacked that night by second destroyer flotilla and the next morning was found aground on the southwestern shore of Urleung Island, off the Corean coast.

Capture Rojestvensky.

"Our destroyer Sasanami captured toward the evening of May 27 in the south of Urleung Island the Russian destroyer Biedovy, wherein were found Admiral Rojestvensky and another admiral, both severely wounded, together with eighty Russians, including staff officers from the flagship Kniaz Souvaroff, which was sunk at 5.29 p. m. on May 27. They were all taken prisoners.

"Our cruiser Chitose, while cruising to the northward on the morning of May 28, found and sunk another Russian destroyer. Our cruiser Niyitaka and destroyer Murakumo attacked also at noon on May 28 a Russian destroyer, which finally went aground."

Results of the Fight.

"According to various reports hitherto received and statements of prisoners, the result of the battle from May 27 to May 29 is as follows: Knais Souvaroff., Alexander III., Borodino, Dmitri Donskoi, Admiral Nachmoff, Monomach, Jemtchung, Admiral Ushakoff, one converted cruiser and two destroyers sunk. Nicholas I., Orel, Admiral Apraxine, Admiral Senlavin and Destroyer Biedovy captured. According to the prisoners the Oslliabia sunk about 2 p. m. and the Navarin also was sunk. Almas on May 27 was observed in a disabled and sinking condition, but her final fate is yet unknown. The full particulars regarding the injury to our ships are not yet in hand, but so far as I could ascertain none was seriously injured, all being still engaged in operations. The whole casualties are not yet ascertained. Casualties of first division are little over 400.

"Prince Yorhito in excellent health, Admiral Misu slightly wounded on May 27."

Russian Losses In Full.

Sixth report received, the afternoon of May 30:

"Loss of Osliabia and Navarin confirmed. Sissoi Veliky also definitely reported to have sunk on morning of May 28.

"Official statement of the Russian losses so far as ascertained: Following six battleships sunk; Kniaz Souvaroff, Imperator, Alexander III., Borodino, Osliabia, Sissoi Veliky and Navarin.

"Following five cruisers sunk: Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Vladimir, Monomach, Svietlana and Jemtchung.

"Coast defence ship Admiral Ushakoff sunk.

"Two special service ships, Kamtchatka, and three destroyers.

"Two battleships, Orel and Imperator Nicholas I.; two coast defence ships, Gen. Admiral Apraxine and Admiral Seniavin, and one destroyer, Biedovy, captured.

"Thus the Russians lost altogether 23 ships, the aggregate tonnage whereof amounting to 153,411 tons, besides cruiser Almaz, suspected to have sunk."

THE RUSSIAN STORY.

Russia Gives Almaz and Grozny an Admiral's Salute at Vladivostock — Two Jap Ships Sunk, They Said.

Vladivostock, May 31.—Two ships alone of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's powerful flotilla, the swift cruiser Almaz, and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozny, lie at anchor here to-day in the curving harbor of Golden Horn, they having separated from the fleet in the early stage of the battle which began in the Corean Straits Saturday, and headed, in obedience to orders, with full speed to Vladivostock. Up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, no other vessels of the Baltic fleet had yet arrived.

The Almaz Arrives.

The Almaz, which arrived at her anchorage here Monday evening, bears scars of the battle. Her mizenmast is shot away and one of her smokestacks is pierced by a cannot shot. But the Grozny, though engaged for several hours in a running fight at short range with a large Japanese destroyer, shows no signs of the fray.

When the Almaz steamed into port the vessel wreathed itself in smoke—it was an admiral's salute in honor of Rear Admiral Von Jessen. Scarcely had the boom of the last cannon begun to echo from the surrounding hills, when Von Jessan's flagship, the cruiser Rossia, answered the saluta, and a minute later the guns of the fortress took up the cannonade. In a trice the boats were dropped from the davits, and in a moment the officers of the cruisers and torpedo boats in the harbor, and the military officials from the fortress, were swarming on board the Almaz to learn news of the fight.

Story of the Fight.

The story was short. According to the officers of the Almaz, the fleet under Rojestvensky met the Japanese in the Straits of Corea near Tsu Island, and the opposing fleets immediately closed in. Being lightly armed, the Almaz, as had been ordered by Admiral Rojestvensky before the battle, separated itself from the main fleet at the first opportunity and headed for Vladivostock soon after the commencement of the action.

Early in the battle, an officer of the Almaz, while watching Rojestvensky's flagship, the battleship Kniaz Souvaroff, for a signal, saw the flagship shudder from stem to stern, as if under a blow from a gigantic hammer, and hesitate in her course, while the waves rose high from her armored sides. Then she commenced to list and sink. The officers believe that the debut of the submarine boat as an effective agent in naval warfare, or perhaps a large mine, caused the disaster to the Kniaz Souvaroff. The damage, however, was so extensive that the flagship soon went down, leaving the deck officers and many of the crew struggling in the waves. One of the Russian torpedo boats, either the destroyer Buiny or the Bravi, ran in and picked up a number of the swimmers, one of whom was recognized through a glass as Admiral Rojestvensky. Under a duelling attack, the Japanese warships, aided by torpedo boats, mines and submarines, the Borodine, Osliabia and Ural were placed out of action and followed the flagship to the bottom.

Position of Jap Losses.

The fog which had raised and lowered intermittently during the morning now began to settle down again, and the distance of the Almaz, which had now succeeded in disengaging herself in the combat from the struggling ships, made it difficult for her to see clearly, but the officers are positive that they saw two Japanese battleships disappear beneath the sea before their eyes, and that two Japanese cruisers appeared on the point of sinking.

ROJESTVENSKY'S ESCAPE.

Reported From St. Petersburg to Have Arrived With Wound in Head, at Vladivostock in Destroyer Buiny.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—Admiral Rojestvensky has arrived at Vladivostock, on board the torpedo boat destroyer Buiny. During the battle, he sustained a wound in the head.

Admiral Durnovo has received a despatch from his son, who is in command of Buiny, describing fully how his commander-in-chief, Admiral Rojestvensky, was saved. The admiral was washed off the deck of the Kniaz Souvaroff just before the flagship foundered, and was picked up by the torpedo boat destroyer Buiny.

Other private despatches from Vladivostock say the Russians lost 13 warships sunk and captured during the engagement.

Fight For Honor.

Admiral Nebogatoff's battered remnant surrendered off Liancourt Rocks, while Rojestvensky, with the best remaining battleships, fought on for the honor of the Russian navy. The Admiralty learned with a sense of relief that the flagship Kniaz Souvaroff sank under the feet of the Russian commander-in-chief.

The surrender of Nebogatoff's two battleships, even though the circumstances are not known, is regarded as a disgrace. The ships still unaccounted for here are the battleship Navarin and the protected cruisers Gleg, Aurora and Izumrud.

Washington, May 31. — The Japanese Legation to-day received the following report from Tokio: "It is officially announced that in the last naval battle, the damages sustained by our fleet were very slight, and none of our battleships, cruisers, destroyers, or other ships, were lost, except three torpedo boats. Under Imperial command, Togo was authorised to permit Nebagatoff to submit to the Czar the report of the last battle, and a list of Russian killed, wounded and prisoners. The Admiral was also authorised to release on parole the surrendered officers of Nichola II, Orel, Apriximan, and Suvarin. Rojestvensky was taken to Sasebo naval hospital. SMITH STREET BRIDGE REPAIRS

Is in Unsafe Condition and Will be Closed for Repairs.

Business Transacted at Last Night's Meeting of the Board of Works.

The Board of Works met subsequent to the meeting of the Supervision Committee last night. Those present at it were: Ald. Adams, in the chair; Mayor Best, Ald. Tovey, Hall, Scott, Johnston.

The chairman reported that Mr. Jas. Bogue had notified him that he was prepared to sign his contract for the Ashburnham sewer, but he wished some changes made in the contract, one of which was that he wished semi-monthly payments instead of monthly payments, as the agreement called for.

Ald. Johnston moved that if it could be arranged without the necessity of bringing Mr. Chipman here from Toronto, on each payment, the request be granted. Ald. Tovey seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. Bogue submitted a bond which he purposed to give for the completion of the work, and it was referred to the town solicitor.

The town engineer reported that the Smith street bridge was in a dangerous condition, and that, as a consequence, he had ordered it to closed, until it was rebuilt or repaired. Ald. Hall moved that the repairs be effected, and that the engineer take the matter up at once. Ald. Johnston seconded the motion.

Mr. K. Eardly-Wilmot wrote asking that the street opposite his house on Hunter, and Stewart street be repaired. It was in a bad condition, and was dangerous to cabs driving over the sidewalk. The matter will be looked into.

Mrs. W. S. Kirn asked for a crossing on Homewood avenue, and the request will be granted.

Ald. Johnston moved that a crossing be put in at the corner of Reid and Smith street. This was carried.

Mr. F. W. Doan appeared before the Board, asking permission to erect poles on Edinburgh and Smith streets, and changing the location of poles on a number of other streets in the town. The application was granted.

Application for a sewer on Perry street, from Aylmer to Stewart street, was received. This application was laid over.

A number of ratepayers wrote, asking that Wescott street from George to Lock street, be opened. No action will be taken on this application.

No application will be taken on the application of F. L. Robinson for $4 on account of excavating for sewer.

The application of W. J. Allison for a sidewalk and crossing at the corner of Dublin and Bethune streets was referred to the town engineer.

No action was taken on the application of the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. for permission to connect their sewer from the car barns with that of J. J. Lundy.

W. H. White applied for a position as sewer inspector. It was laid over.

A number of applications for sewers and sidewalks were received and granted, after which the meeting adjourned.

PALE, FEEBLE GIRLS

A Great Responsibility of Growing Girls.

A great and serious responsibility rests upon every mother whose daughter is passing the threshold of girlhood into womanhood. She is at a crisis and if she is to be a healthy, happy woman, she must develop rightly now. She must not be pale, sunken-eyes, sallow, languid and bloodless at this time. She must have additional strength and rich, pure blood to help her to strong, healthy womanhood. There is only one absolutely certain way to get new rich, health-giving blood, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every pill helps to make rich, life-giving blood, that brings strength to every organ in the body and the glow of health to pale, sallow cheeks. Thousands of pale, anaemic girls in all parts of Canada have been made well and strong through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Rachael Johnston, Hamford, N. S., says:—"As a result of overstudy in school the health of my daughter Ellen, became greatly impaired. She grew extremely nervous was pale and thin and suffered from most severe headaches. She had no appetite and notwithstanding all we did for her in the way of medical treatment her suffering continued, and I began to feel that her condition was hopeless. Indeed I began to fear her mental powers were failing. One of my friends strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as I was willing to do anything that might help her I sent for a supply. After using the pills for less than a month we saw that her vigour was returning and in less than three months her health was fully restored. Considering the fact that she had been ill for two years, and that doctor's treatment did her not one particle of good, I think her cure speaks volumes for the wonderful merit of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

The new blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make, is the whole secret of their great power to cure diseases. That is the reason these pills cure anaemia, heart palpitation, headaches and backaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney troubles, and about of other ailments due to bad blood and weak nerves. But be sure you have the genuine with the full name, 'Dr. Williams' Pills for Pale People,' on the wrapper around each box. If in doubt, write direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent by mail at 50 cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50.

SCAVENGERS' DAY AT POLICE COURT

Members of This Fraternity Present in Large Numbers.

Bestial Offence Charged Against Jas. Scriver Dismissed—Another Dog Case.

Truly the way of the scavenger is hard! This was shown at Police Court this morning, at which there was a large gathering of this fraternity, in connection with the case of Arthur Penrose, who was charged with depositing offensive matter upon Townsend street, the "matter" in question being four night soil barrels, which particular commodity does not appear to find a ready market in town. The evidence in the case went to show that the prisoner, after a futile attempt to dispose of the somewhat odoriferous barrels at the town "dump," had placed them in the dark waters of Spaulding's Bay.

The question arose in connection with the case as to whether the proprietor of the town "dump," Mr. Thomas Williams, was justified in his action in refusing to burn the objectionable barrels upon their being delivered there. The Magistrate was inclined to favour the view that they should have been destroyed by Williams. Some additional comment was added in this summary upon the case. The method in vogue in St. Catharines and other towns, in which air-tight barrels are provided by the corporations, was spoken of. "That is the intelligent for this town," was the terse comment of the Court. Prisoner was assessed $5 and costs, amounting to $8.75. R. F. McWilliams, counsel for defence.

George Simpson was allowed to go on a charge of possessing a dog, for which no tag fees had been paid. Defendant claimed that he was not the owner of the canine.

James Scriver, who was charged with an unnatural and bestial crime, was allowed to go, the Magistrate holding that while the evidence in the case pointed strongly to the prisoner's guilt, he took a merciful view of the prisoner's evidence and gave him the benefit of the doubt, and the misconstruction which might have been placed upon the prisoner's action.

ASSESSMENTS IN NORTH MONAGHAN

Court of Revision Decided on Many Appeals.

Mount St. Joseph Assessed at $5,000 —Chapel Exempted.

Special to The Examiner

North Monaghan, May 29. — The council of North Monaghan met on Monday, May 29th, at 2 p.m., as a court of revision of the assessment roll for 1905. All the members were present.

The usual declaration of office being duly administered Mr. J. Brown was elected chairman of the court.

The following appeals were heard and disposed of:

Rev. W. J. McColl, against assessment of five acres of the Roman Catholic cemetery not used for farm purposes.—Appeal withdrawn and assessment confirmed.

Rev. W. J. McColl against the assessment of Mount St. Joseph, claiming the same to be a charitable, religious and educational institution.—Exemption allowed for the chapel attached to the institution, and the remainder of the property assessed at $1,000 and of building assessed at $4,000, total $5,000.

From H. Rush, asking to have lot 32, plan 34, 10 acres, assessed to Alex Fraser, he having purchased the same since the assessment was made. Appeal allowed and lot assessed at $300, H. Rush's property, being reduced to 40 acres, and assessed at $1,000.

On an appeal by the assessor, Mr. J. H. Forster, as to the value of the Peterborough Radial Railway Co's tracks in the township, the court fixed the assessment for school rates only of the track, etc., at the sum of $2500.

The court then adjourned until June 12th, to permit of the service of a notice of this assessment upon the Street Railway Co., before confirmation of the roll.

Why An Emulsion?

Because an emulsion (Scott's) of cod liver oil is agreeable to the taste, while the plain oil is repulsive. Because Scott's Emulsion is easily digested, while the plain oil is not. Because Scott's Emulsion enters the system quickly and without effort, while the plain oil is a burden and a tax on the stomach. Because Scott's Emulsion remains sweet after entering the system, while the plain oil is likely to ferment because of its slow action. Because contains not only the best of the pure oil but other valuable properties, while the plain oil offers nothing but the crude properties of the raw oil. Because Scott's Emulsion is always the same in purity, strength and composition, while the plain oil is apt to vary in all three of these particulars. Because Scott's Emulsion is a hundred times more beneficial and desirable than any plain oil could be.

A NEW INDUSTRY FOR HAVELOCK

Large Manufacturing Concern Expected to Locate There.

Baseball Notes—Latest Personal Items From the Railway Village—Town Improvements.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Havelock, May 29th. — The business in connection with the celebration on the first of July is being rushed through by the different committees appointed to look after matters in connection with the sports, etc. The outlook is for a gala day. The celebration is expected to surpass anything in the town before.

The Misses Moffatt of Marmora, were the guests of Mrs. Jas. Mark for a few days last week.

The first success of the local baseball team for this season was achieved when the nine journeyed over to Marmora on the 24th inst to help in the celebration given in that town, by playing the nine of Stirling an exhibition game. Some seventy-five supporters of the team went down to cheer the boys along. The game started about 4.30 p.m., when Stirling went first to the bat, but after a few minutes play it was easily seen that they could not find Mahoney's curves, when two men went out on strikes in succession, the second and third reaching second and first base respectively, but the fourth fanned, putting the side out. The locals then went to bat and ran in 3 runs before they had to go to the fence. The Stirling bunch failed to score up to the third innings when they got in two runs in the 8th they managed to put in another. The local bunch in the second got in 2, in the third, 4, fourth 1, eighth, 2, the score 12 to 3. Weldon for Stirling did some good work in the box, in trying to put some of the locals out of business, otherwise the boys had a cinch. Stirling had trouble in finding Mahoney and the three that they did make were on a couple of wild throws, and a pass ball made by the locals. The line up was as follows:

Havelock — W. Rose c, J. Mahoney p, J. Black 1b, E. Dornicott 2b, E. Jennerett 3b, E. Whitess, J. Kelsey rf, R. Campney cf, J. Batson lf.

Mr. T. Clement of Peterborough, umpired the game to the satisfaction of both teams.

Miss M. Buchanan spent the 24th with friends in Peterborough.

Many improvements are now being made to the town. The roads are all being put in first-class condition, the wooden sidewalks are being repaired and granolithic walks into houses are being put in all over town. Inside of one month the place will not know itself and will blush to think of what it looked like a year ago.

Another thing that is worth mentioning, is the number of farmers who now come into town on Saturday—where a few months ago there was one, now there are ten.

It is also thought that a large manufacturing business is to be established, to be run by electricity furnished by the Havelock Electric Light and Power Co., which since it has been started has had such wonderful success, and the prospects for the future are the brightest.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fennell spent the 24th, the guests of the latter's father, the Rev. R. H. Denike, of Campbellford.

Mr. Harry Joyce has installed in connection with his harness business a complete line of boots and shoes of the latest pattern at moderate prices. He has also adopted the Meridian light system in his store.

Mr. R. J. Graham has secured the handsome and valuable soda fountain from Mr. A. C. Denike and from date will be able to serve all kinds of soft drinks, soda water, ice cream and refreshments. Every accomodation for patrons will be extended by Mr. Graham.

The lacrosse match between the C. P. R. and the town boys which was to have taken place Monday evening had to be postponed until Wednesday evening, May 31st. The fat man's race will be run off the same evening for the valuable horse put up by Mr. Andrew Carnegie Patterson for the winner.

Mr. Allie Rose spent Sunday in Toronto.

Mr. B. Mulhern of Campbellford, was in town on Monday and purchased the valuable team of Mr. J. Seaney.

Mr. H. McKeison spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Mr. J. Webb, of Toronto, was the guest of his brother, Mr. Wm. Webb of town, for the past week.

Mr. Percy Ford spent Sunday in Norwood.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright have arrived at their destination, Vancouver, all safe and sound and are enjoying themselves immensely.

—North end people are kicking very strenuously about the Smith street bridge not being fixed and necessitating going such a distance to get to Auburn.

Superintendent Public Works
Of Lexington, Ky., Says:
"Peruna is an Excellent Medicine."

J. H. HIPPLEGATE.

J. H. Hipplegate, Supt. of Public Works, 61 West 6th St., Lexington, Ky., writes:

"I find that Peruna is an excellent medicine especially for catarrhal affections and all diseases leading to consumption, bronchial troubles or stomach troubles. It also acts as a preventative and keeps the system in a healthy condition so that it easily throws off disease. It is an excellent tonic and a great appetizer and as a large number of those who have been using it speak very highly of its curative powers, I am satisfied that my opinion of it is correct, and that it is deserving of high praise."
—J. H. Hipplegate.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by hearsay and thousands know it by experience.

Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages. There is no remedy that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

STREET RAILWAY MUST KEEP LAW

North Monaghan Council will Take Action.

To Make Railway Remove the Material From Landsdowne Street.

Special to the Examiner.

North Monaghan, May 29th.— After the adjournment of the Court of Revision on Monday, May 29th, the Court resolved into Council for the transaction of public affairs. The Reeve, Mr. J. Madill, in the chair.

The minutes of the proceeding regular and special meetings were read and confirmed.

A communication was received and read from R. M. Dennistoun, of Peterborough, in reply to questions submitted to him by the committee appointed with regard to finding what jurisdiction the township had over the government allowance, along the Otonabee River from the Locks to Riverdale. This communication stated that this allowance was a road allowance and under the jurisdiction of the municipal council of the township, the same as other highways.—This was received and fyled.

The clerk reported having received a cheque for the sum of $16.04, amount of account due for expenditures upon the boundary road 1904.—This was received and ordered placed to the credit of the township.

The clerk reported having issued a license to the Lemon Bros.' Circus to exhibit in the township on the 1st of June, 1905, at the usual fee.—This was received and the clerk was instructed to enforce the by-laws regulating booths etc., in the township.

The clerk also reported having received notice from Mr. Scott, the Reeve of Smith Township, that he had received complaintes as to the placing upon the highway of stones and other obstructions at or near lot 7, on the boundary road.—This was received and referred to the Court of Revision, Div. No. 1, to take action and have the same removed at once.

Mr. Holmes reported having investigated the account of F. J. R. Mitchell, as referred at last meeting and found that these goods had been ordered by Mr. W. G. Howden, under stress of circumstances and that he recommended the payment of this account. On motion this report was received and adopted and Mr. Holmes was appointed to attend to any further charity to be dispensed to the Close family.

The Road Commissioner of Road Div. No. 1, reported having disposed of the old water trough on the road to Mr. Sanderson for the sum of $1.00.—This was received and ordered to be placed to the credit of the Township.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Fowler that a committee consisting of the Reeve and Councillors Morrow and Brown, are hereby appointed to deal with any matters in connection with the expenditure of money upon the Cavan boundary during the season of 1905.—This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Morrow and Fowler, that the clerk is hereby instructed to serve notice upon the manager of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company that the placing by them of material used in building a street railway track upon Landsdowne street, is against the law and that this council require this material removed forthwith or legal proceedings will be taken to compel its removal.—This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler, that the Reeve and Councillor Holmes and the clerk are hereby appointed a committee authorized to take such action as may be necessary to have the Peterborough Radial Railway Company strictly observe the law in the township of North Monaghan.—This was carried.

Council then adjourned until Monday, June 12th, 1905, to meet in the Town Hall, at 7 o'clock p. m., sharp.

No. of acres cleared	7742
No. of acres non-resident	339
Total No. of acres assessed	13947
No. of acres woodland	955

Total No. of persons in Township	1,371
No. of dogs	109
No. of births	3

From the small number of appeals brought before the Court of Revision it is evident that the assessment of the township as made by the assessor, Mr. J. H. Forster, under the new assessment act, has given good satisfaction to this township.

A REMARKABLE STORY

Woman Tells of Her Fourteen Years of Suffering.

Mrs. H. J. Rehorn

From Buffalo, N. Y., comes a startling story illustrating how much suffering a woman can bear and yet live.

Mrs. H. J. Rehorn, 109 Landon St., that city, says:—

"Soon after the birth of my first child, 14 years ago, constipation became troublesome, and the various pills and medicines I used would give temporary relief, but gradually they seemed to lose their influence and the condition became worse. I must have used fully 60 different remedies.

"At times I would have no relish for food, and what I did eat would distress my stomach. Gas would form and rise, headache and restless sleep, bearing-down pain, and gradually I began to recognize the loss of strength, easily tired, and never feeling fully rested.

"My husband brought me home a bottle of a new medicine called Anti-Pill and from the first I began to improve. My appetite was better and what I ate did not make me feel uncomfortable. Anti-Pill is mild and gentle in its action, and yet it cured my terribly obstinate constipation and made me feel so well."

Every druggist sells this wonderful Anti-Pill that cured Mrs. Rehorn. 501

THE LICENSE LAW IN EAST DURHAM

A Cavan Resident Writes Upon Its Enforcement.

Charge That Inspector Does Not Prosecute Complaints.

The following letter from a resident in Cavan appears in the Port Hope Guide and, assuming that the statement it contains and the inferences it suggests are in accordance with facts, they hardly justify the claim of the Conservative Government that the license law is to be vigorously enforced, especially in that portion of East Durham represented. The letter says:—

Dear Sir,—I hope you will allow me a small space in your valuable paper. I saw a paragraph in the Peterborough Examiner stating the License Commissioners of East Durham was very desirous of securing a strict enforcement of the license law in the town of Port Hope. I would like to know what they are going to do for the villages north of Port Hope, where there is more liquor sold after 7 o'clock on Saturday nights and Sundays than any other day in the week. They also say that W. J. Kennedy, of Pontypool, is the Inspector. I say we have no Inspector, as I (know complaints have been sent to him against hotel keepers violating the law and she never took any action whatever. I know of one complaint laid for selling after hours, not ten days ago, but I suppose it was thrown aside along with the rest.

There is one thing I like, and of Inspector Powers, when a complaint was laid he took action and fined the hotel keeper. I defy Mr. Kennedy to deny the charge.

Thanking you for this insertion,

I remain yours,

A RESIDENT OF CAVAN.

Cavan, May 27, 1905.

A BURST OF BUNCOMBE.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, the new Provincial Secretary, and the Premier, had, the Brockville Recorder points out, no defence to make against the attacks of Messrs. Auld and Graham, for the outrage of bringing the former's friend and employee, from Port Huron, Michigan, and giving him a job in his department, to do work hundreds of Canadians could have done equally well, if not better. So both these gentlemen tried to cover their retreat in a whirlwind of pure fillbustering. Neither really discussed the question at all, but sought by bluster to make people forget that they had ignored and insulted Canadian accountants, business men and workingmen by importing this foreigner at a big salary to perform work that should have been given to an Ontario man.

The Provincial Secretary told a pitiful tale of a binder twine contract that had been made while Hon. J. R. Stratton was in office, but only signed by the rubber stamp of Inspector Noxon, but later, so he said, this stamp signature had been erased with acid and Inspector Noxon's real signature attached. This had absolutely no connection with the importation of his Michigan chum, but he hoped, by shouting about it, to divert attention from the real issue. As it was sprung without any warning, and Mr. Graham had no access to the documents, he was not in a position to reply offhand, but the Recorder is in a position now to state the facts, and the public can judge of the quality of the Government's apology for importing the foreigner, who is really an employee of W. J. Hanna, as a director in a company, and whose inclination will, of course, be to bring in a report to suit that employer.

Now what are the facts? The binder twine contract for manufacturing in the Central Prison was renewed in Mr. Stratton's time, on a basis that cannot be duplicated today. The inspector should have signed the contract, but as everybody knows, he was away from the office for several months through illness. During his absence, under the authority of the Government, the chief clerk in his department stamped the name "James Noxon" on all documents which, as every person knows, who ever had anything to do with public business is by no means unusual. After Mr. Noxon's return to the department and during Mr. Graham's tenure of office it was suggested that Inspector Noxon sign this contract personally and he did so without, so far as Mr. Graham ever heard, reluctance or objection.

That is the whole thing. If any clerk erased the rubber stamp signature he probably did it to make room for the real signature, but there was no necessity for doing so, for a pen could have been drawn through the former and the latter written above or below it.

There was nothing approaching wrong in this signature being attached, and the bluster made over it only shows the straits to which the new Provincial Secretary was driven in order to detract attention from the defenceless job of importing his Yankee chum to take the bread out of the mouths of Canadian taxpayers who, in every land under the sun, have shown themselves equal in ability, intelligence and integrity, to any race that ever trod the earth.

The truth is that the Government knows that a huge blunder has been made in order to get Mr. Hanna's friend and employee a job, and even the slightest probing of the wound by the Opposition, proved very painful.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Why was it the Russian Vice-Admiral didn't escape captured? Was it because he Nebagotoff?

Rev. Dr. Milligan says the West is not thinking much about the autonomy bills; the only kind of bills they are thinking of out there is the dollar bill. The fuss over the autonomy bills is raised and maintained by Toronto bigots.

The Russian Admiral, "Dennis," nee Rojestvensky, has odd ideas of the harmony of colours. He tried to blend a blue funk with the yellow peril.

It is reported that the Czar of all the Russians wept copeously when he heard the news of the latest disaster. He might convert his eyes into Niagara cataracts in full play, and hardly equal the volume of tears his tyrannous misrule has caused to flow.

In a church in Toronto the cry of "fire" stampeded the congregation which made a speedy, if not reverent, exit. The parson must have been preaching sermons of the old fashioned variety, in which literal fire enters into the composition of the post-mortem punishment of the wicked.

Judge Winchester has ordered the deportation of the American employees of the Penn Marquette Railway, (on the branch in Ontario,) who were imported and who cuckooed the Canadian workmen out of their employment. Yet Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, returns in his employment a Yankee bookkeeper whom he has imported to do the work which competent Canadian accountants were prepared to do, but thus prevented from doing. Here we have a Minister of the Crown in a Conservative Government, preferring foreigners to the tune of good money, to good British Canadians.

Here is the Montreal Star's way of paying a left-handed compliment to the Hamilton Spectator and other organs of race and creed strife:

The French-Canadian newspapers of Quebec perform ill-service to their readers when they reproduce the shrieking of certain Ontario papers. It is not necessary every time a feather-weight scribbler in Ontario or Quebec "esses" his alleged intellect, that the ravings should be heralded in the respective provinces as "representative utterances," as the "traditional attitude." . . . The paper that deliberately reproduces the frothings of rabid writers is as much an enemy of Canadian unity as the journal that deliberately sows the seed of discord.

There may be some force in the Star's contention, but it does not say much for the Conservative organs to plead that the reproduction of their unpatriotic appeals is bad for the country.

In a review of the cheese trade the Brockville Recorderr says the season which opened is of good prospect to the dairymen. The old stock has been disposed of and present prices are high. It warns the trade, however, that more care is necessary now than ever before that now but the best quality of cheese finds its way to Britain, as Canadian cheese will in future be labelled as such. It quotes figures to show that Britain is the chief purchaser of our farm products: of the total of $85,606,483 exported, $76,174,052, or 92 per cent., found its way to Britain. Of cheese exported, $24,099,064 of the total, $24,184,566, went to the motherland. The gross value of the cheese entering Britain from abroad was $34,230,951, of which, it will be seen, Canada contributed over 70 per cent. The other 20 per cent. remains to be captured.

REDEMPTORIST FATHERS' MISSION

Rev. Father Zilles Preaches Forceful and Eloquent Sermon Upon "Marriage and Divorce."

Tremendous Congregations Attend Services—Interest in Work of Mission is Widespread and General.

The mission of the Redemptorist Fathers, for men, which throughout this week, is in progress at St. Peter's cathedral, has been regularly attended by unprecedently large congregations, and gives evidence of a widespread and universal interest.

At last night's service a forceful and eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Father Zilles, leader of the Mission Band, upon "Marriage and Divorce," speaking from the text, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." A more detailed report of the sermon, which was unfortunately crowded out of to-day's issue, will appear to-morrow.

At to-night's service, Rev. Father Heenan will preach upon the subject, "Particular Judgment." To-morrow night Rev. Father Zilles will preach upon "The Great Thought."

CHEESE BOARDED BUT NOT SOLD

4257 Boxes Were Boarded But Meeting Adjourned.

9 1-16 Cents Offered But This Was Considered too Low by Salesmen.

This morning the Peterborough Cheese Board met in the Ontario Bank Chambers, when 4,257 boxes were boarded, and 9 1-16 cents were offered by Mr. Fitzgerald, but before any cheese was sold it was decided to adjourn for one week, the buyers not being desirous of buying the cheese, even at that price, in view of the fact that it would be ten days before any of that purchased today could be shipped out, and, if the market dropped, the buyers, as well as the factories would suffer.

It was finally decided to adjourn the board for one week when the cheese boarded to-day will be sold.

The factories boarded the following number of boxes:

The buyers present were: Messrs. Squires, Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Martin, Gillespie. Mr. Jones, representing Jones and Marshall, Montreal, was also present. Mr. Squire represents this firm here.

The bidding started at 8 1-2 cents by Mr. Kerr. Mr. Squires raised to 8 5-8 cents, and Mr. Wrighton to 8 3-4 cents. Mr. Whitton bid 9 cents and Mr. Fitzgerald raised to 9 1-16 cents.

No further bids were forthcoming and the discussion then arose as to the advisability of adjourning the Board for one week. A motion to adjourn was made, and was carried, on a vote of 17-15. The question was asked whether the salesmen would be allowed to sell off the board. A number of the latter wanted that privilege, but finally a motion was made by Mr. Squires and seconded by Mr. Kerr that the buyers and salesmen agree mutually not to buy or sell until the next meeting of the board. The motion carried and the meeting adjourned.

WAS BALD SIX YEARS.

Three Months of the New Scientific Treatment Restored His Hair.

Baldness is caused by dandruff, which is caused by a germ. Kill the germ and it is almost certain that hair will grow again if the follicle has not been totally destroyed. Nels Peterson of Lime Spur, Mont., says: "I had been bald six years, and had tried all kinds of cures, but without any benefit whatever, until I tried Herpicide. November 16, 1899, I began using Herpicide, and in three months a fine growth of hair covered my head completely." Ask your druggist for Herpicide. Everybody can have luxuriant, glossy hair, if Herpicide is used thoroughly. Take no substitutes. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. POPULAR YOUNG LADY HONOURED

Miss Edith Burnham Presented With Tokens of Affection and Esteem.

Address, Accompanied by Beautiful Salad-Bowl, Forwarded to Her This Afternoon—Golden Cross Presented by Bible Class.

Miss Edith Burnham, one of the most valued and energetic workers of St. Luke's Church, was this afternoon made the recipient of a handsome token of the affectionate regard in which she is held by her co-workers in the auxiliary organizations of the church, upon the occasion of her approaching marriage. As a tangible evidence of the appreciation of her invaluable assistance, the following address, accompanied by a beautiful salad-bowl and service was forwarded to her this afternoon:—

My Dear Miss Burnham,—I have been requested by your many friends and fellow workers in St. Luke's Church to convey to you our hearty congratulations upon the occasion of your approaching wedding. We regret that this happy event should be the means of bringing to an end the long and pleasant associations that bound us together in church work, and we feel that we lose in you a most valuable and ever faithful co-worker. As a member of the choir and Decoration Chapter, and as a teacher in the Sunday school, you have ever rendered most gladly and willingly every assistance in the activities of the church; and the enthusiasm as well as the readiness with which you entered into your work, have been many a time the means of enlisting and interesting others to do the same.

We ask you to accept, as a token of our esteem and appreciation of you and your many excellent qualities of heart and mind, the accompanying gifts, and we all join in the ever fervent prayer that God's richest blessings and His favour may follow you and abide with you all the days of your life.

I remain, on behalf of the teachers and officers of the Sunday School, the members of the Choir and Decoration Chapter, and many of your friends,

Your faithful friend and rector.

E. A. LANGFELDT.

Peterborough, May 31st, 1905.

The salad-bowl, which is of English oak, beautifully silver mounted, has the following inscription upon a shield:—"Presented to Miss Edith Edith Burnham, by her co-workers of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, May 31st, 1905."

Upon the accompanying silver salver is a similar inscription. The gift is of most exquisite design and workmanship.

In addition to the presentation of to-day last night at the residence of Miss Ruby Quartermaine the members of the Bible Class, taught by Miss Burnham, presented her with a beautiful golden cross, as an evidence of their regard and affection. A pleasant social evening was afterwards spent.

MR. WM. FRITH PASSED AWAY

Well Known Peterborough Man Died This Morning.

Deceased was Farm Foreman for Late John Ludgate.

This morning the death of William Frith, for 20 years a resident of Ashburnham, occurred after an illness of about a year's duration, during which time he suffered from a kidney and liver trouble.

The deceased was a well known and highly respected citizen, and his death will cause universal regret. The late Mr. Frith, who had reached the age of 70 years, was born in Albany, N.Y., and at an early age removed from the United States to Ontario, settling near Trenton, where he lived for some time before coming to Peterborough. For a number of years Mr. Frith was farm foreman for the late John Ludgate, which position he filled with acceptance.

Deceased leaves a wife and four children, the sons being William, of Eagerbay, Man., and Joseph, of town, while the daughters are Mrs. McColl, of Douro, and Miss Clara, at home.

The late Mr. Frith was, during his lifetime a consistent Methodist and was a staunch supporter of all measures which were calculated to prove a benefit. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from his late residence, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

HE RECEIVED A SCALP WOUND

Mr. Thornton, while crossing at the corner of George and Hunter streets was struck by a passing vehicle receiving a severe scalp wound upon the back of his head, besides a severe shaking up.

The injured man was removed to his home where the wounds were dressed by Dr. Greer, and to-day is resting easily and doing as well as may be expected. The host of friends of the patient hope for an early convalescence.

WORKS EXTENSION IS NOW FULLY ASSURED

New Buildings of the Canadian General Electric Company Will be Erected This Summer—9,000 Shares of New Stock Issued Yields $1,125,000.00 of New Money—New Buildings Necessary to Provide for Growing Business—Prospects for the Great Local Industry Were Never Better—Mr. A. P. Choate's Association With the New Fund—Has Paid $100,000.00 for New Stock.

The Examiner is in a position to announce that the new stock issue of the Canadian General Electric Company has been all subscribed. Nine thousand shares were offered to stockholders at $125; and the purchase of the new stock means that the company will acquire $1,125,000 of new money for its general purposes. This will be used to pay off the overdraft at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and to provide facilities for taking care of the company's growing business. New buildings will be added to the extensive Peterborough plant, and the works here will, more emphatically, become, as they are now, one of the greatest industries in Canada.

In connection with the new issue of this stock, was an incident which has been widely discussed. It appears that there has been a bear element working in General Electric stock upon the Toronto market, and, to further their ends and, if possible, to make the new issue a failure, an attack was made on the financial standing of Mr. A. P. Choate, who, as is well known, is largely interested in the Canadian General Electric Company. This attack was brought out in a newspaper article in a Toronto paper, on the very day of the payment of the new issue. The object was, no doubt, to frighten the whole market, and cause a break, on which the bears could cover their short sales. The attack proved a dismal failure, as the stock advanced, and has since been advancing. Mr. Choate paid in $100,000 for the new stock, and other large holders did likewise. The fact that financially strong men like Messrs. W. R. Brock, A. P. Choate, Wm. Mackenzie, E. B. Osler, Sir William Van Horne, H. S. Holt, Frederic Nicholls, Hon. Senator Cox, W. D. Matthews, and others, are largely interested in the Canadian Genera Electric Company, assures the immediate and undoubted success of any new issue of securities it may at any time make in order to provide facilities for its rapidly expanding business.

The Examiner is able to state that the works here are to be extended this summer and this, of course, means increased prosperity for the whole town. It is a great satisfaction to know that Peterborough's premier industry is enjoying unbounded prosperity, and that its prospects are better than ever before. Ever since it was established here, the passing years have witnessed a steady growth in its business. New buildings have gone up year by year to provide for handling its extending trade. It is also a satisfaction to know that Mr. Choate is contributing so largely of his wealth towards the further upbuilding of this great industry. He could do nothing better to further the interests of the town at large, and there can be no doubt that he, as well as the other shareholders, in putting money into General Electric, is securing a safe and profitable investment.

CONTRACT LET FOR ENLARGEMENT

Rutherford Bros. Will Carry Out Improvements at Charlotte Street.

Will Now Have Accommodation For 600 Pupils—Re-Modelled by Mr. A. B. Cunningham.

The Building Committee of the Charlotte street Sunday School have awarded the contract for the enlargement and re-modelling of the S. S. hall. The steady growth and crowded condition of the school have made this step a necessity and when these improvements are completed the Charlotte street school will be the most modern building of its kind in Peterborough, embodying the latest features and facilities for successful Sunday School work.

The enlargement will provide for a total seating capacity of about 600 and provide most desirable accommodation for the various services of the church.

In addition to class rooms for the Bible classes, provision will be made for the senior intermediate classes and ten rooms are to be specially arranged for this section of the school.

The ground floor will have an extreme length of 91 feet by 54 feet in width. On this floor is located the kitchen, the library, the primary and junior intermediate departments and three Bible class rooms. The primary department will have seats in amphitheatre form.

Glass-panelled doors of the "accordion" type will be placed across the entire front of this room, allowing it to be placed in unison with the entire school when desired.

The platform will be in the form of a large bow window 16 feet by 10 feet, on the south side of the room, from which an auxiliary stairway will lead direct to the gallery, and a system of electric signal bells will be installed, providing direct communication from the Superintendent's desk to the Bible class rooms, library, etc. Folding doors allow all class rooms to open direct to the platform.

The kitchen will be fitted up with gas range, sink, china closets, etc. Provision is also made for the enlargement of the library, which already contains about 1000 volumes.

The gallery will extend around three sides of the auditorium and contain IX class rooms, seating from 12 to 20 scholars in each.

Next to the railing will be a permanent row of chairs, extending around the entire front of gallery, these to be used for opening and closing exercises. Back of this and eight inches higher is a passage wide enough to accommodate a second row of chairs when required. Back of this aisle and eight inches higher are the class rooms. Chairs can be placed along the front of the rooms and as the floor is higher than the front of the gallery, a good view of the platform is secured. All the class rooms are well lighted.

Two cellars, one at each end of the building and connected by a passageway, contain the furnaces and provide for the heat being well distributed.

The interior will be finished in light colours, the wood work in grained oak, and the ceiling in white, with tinted walls and stencil border. Chairs arranged with book and hat racks will be provided and every effort made to have the interior cheerful and attractive.

Two stairways and four separate exits permit the school being dismissed in sections if necessary.

Three-fourths of the funds necessary have already been subscribed and under the able direction of the Superintendent, Mr. R. J. Kidd, and his associates. The school looks forward to a happy, prosperous future.

The re-modelling has been designed by Mr. A. B. Cunningham, and is an adaption of the "Akron Plan" to existing conditions.

Architect W. Blackwell will superintend the construction and the contract has been awarded to Rutherford Bros. The work will be commenced immediately.

MERCHANTS WILL MEET ALDERMEN

To Confer in Reference to Opening Goods on Streets.

To-night there will be an important meeting of the Retail Merchants Association in the Y.M.C.A., when a conference will be held with a number of the aldermen in reference to the bylaw which the council proposes passing, regulating the opening of goods on the sidewalk.

This is a matter in which every merchant is interested, and all members of the association are asked to be present.

DELIGHTFUL EUCHRE PARTY

Ladies' Circle of Woodmen of The World Entertained Last Night.

Delightful Euchre Party in S. O. E. Hall —Proved Charming Hostesses.

The members of the Ladies' Circle of the Woodmen of the World, last night entertained a large number of their friends to a delightful progressive euchre party in the S. O. E. Hall, Hunter street. The event, though coming at a late period, was however, one of the most delightful of the season. The ladies proved charming hostesses and provided for their guests, through their energetic efforts a most enjoyable evening.

At the conclusion of the games, the awards were made, Miss Ida Rutherford carrying off the honours for the ladies and incidentally a beautiful Japanese sugar and cream set. The gentlemen's prize, a handsome shaving mug went to Mr. R. Gibbs. Mr. E. J. Riley qualified successfully for the booby prize.

Delightful refreshments were then served and were by no means the least enjoyable feature of the evening. Piano selections were charmingly rendered by Misses Bullen and Ida Rutherford. A pleasing vocal selection which evoked a hearty reception, was given by Miss Hickey.

The committee in charge, who by their energetic efforts contributed so largely to the success attained, was composed of the following ladies,—Mrs. R. Gibbs, Mrs. Hickey, Mrs. M. Tooley, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. McCallum, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. A. Haskell.

The society, though but recently organized, is in flourishing condition and the numerous recent additions to its membership, gives ample evidence of a deservedly prosperous future.

CENTRALS WON FROM SEPARATE

Interesting Baseball Game in School League.

An interesting game, teeming with excitement, was played yesterday afternoon between Murray Street and Central Stations. This game which goes a long way to decide the championship of the senior series and designate the bearers of the flag trophy was a good exhibition of ball, both batteries doing excellent work. The base playing and infielding of the Centrals was smart and snappy while the outfielding of the Murray Street aggregation was splendid. The score was 14-9 in favour of the Central School team. The line-up was as follows:—

Bert Menzies has handed in his resignation as guard of the 3rd bag in the Lindsay Senior Midland League team. He finds that his throwing arm is not in good condition, and, like a true sport, he has done what all players should do when they find they are not filling the bill—stepped out to leave room for a stronger player. Bert recognizes that to have a winning team we must have no weak spots. Last season he held down 3rd bag very satisfactorily, and during connection with the Senior nine has conducted himself in a gentlemanly way and always abided by the rules. He may be asked to play in a different position in which case the "fans" will be satisfied.—Post.

REDUCES SIZE OF REGIMENTS

After This Year 57th Will Number 296 Men.

New Militia Order Which Goes Into Effect on July 1st, 1905.

This morning Col. Miller, Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment, received a copy of a general militia order from Ottawa in reference to the changes in the strength of the Regiment.

Under the new establishment referred to the infantry regiments of eight companies would consist of only 296 privates and non-commissioned. The present establishment of an infantry regiment is 448, so that this means a reduction of 152 men. Exceptions were, however, made in case of regiments in Toronto, Montreal and other cities. Those whose establishment will not be reduced are the 1st Prince of Wales' Fusiliers, Montreal, establishment 392 men; 2nd Queen's Own, Toronto, with establishment of 578 men; 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, establishment 537 men; 13th Hamilton, 296 men; 30th, [illegible] Rifles, Guelph, 497; 48th Highlanders, Toronto, 392 men, and 49th Princess Louise Fusiliers, Halifax, 392 men. Three bandsmen are taken from a company and one bugler, leaving the company but a bare twenty men, or five men per section. The higher establishment was the one created in 1864 by Lord Dundonald, who proposed, in order to bring the militia force up to a war footing, to add a certain number of captains, lieutenants, non-commissioned officers and men to each regiment. The idea was to train these officers and men in time of peace, and in time of war to be at the base, available for the formation of a fresh regiment. Under the Dundonald scheme these officers and men were added to the strength of the regiments they would duplicate in time of war, and paid for their drill. It is these officers and men who are now to be cut off and transferred to the regimental reserve, leaving the establishment of each regiment as it stood prior to the adoption of the scheme. Owing to the inconvenience which it will cause, however, it has been decided not to interfere with the city regiments for another year, and they will be allowed to remain at their present strength for twelve months from July 1st.

It will thus be seen that while next year the strength will be reduced, the men taken on this year in response to orders will be allowed to remain.

THE CONFERENCE LARGELY ATTENDED

Evangelist Russell is Meeting With Good Success.

The meetings in connection with the Bible conference, conducted by Evangelist Russell, in the Y.M.C.A. each afternoon, are being largely attended, and are most helpful. Yesterday afternoon the hall was well filled, and the meeting was much enjoyed. The meetings are being held each afternoon during the week.

Last night the meeting in St. Andrew's church was the largest of the series, and an eloquent address was given by Mr. Russell. To-night the topic will be—"God's Greatest Gift."

It should be remembered that the afternoon meetings are held in the Y.M.C.A. and the evening meetings at St. Andrew's church.

SONS OF ENGLAND GOOD SAMARITANS

Member of The Order in Trouble Well Attended to.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Jubey, a member of the local lodge of the Sons of England, was taken to the Nicholls Hospital, suffering from a chronic trouble, of which he has been a victim for some months. For some time he has derived the benefits given by that society, the members of which have been most thoughtful of him in his trouble. Mr. Taylor yesterday afternoon secured the ambulance and had Mr. Jubey removed to the Hospital, where he will be treated with greater care than would be possible at home. In the meantime his wife will be made an allowance each week by the Sons of England.

—The Examiner's Norwood correspondent says the new village band will be playing out very shortly. It is to be hoped that the "playing-out" is not of the kind practised by the former band. Norwood is the best growing in size and importance and it is "up to" the citizens to give the new band generous support.

The Influx From the South.

Ottawa, May 31.—The total immigration arrivals in Canada from the United States from July, 1904, to April, 1905, amounted to 33,949 as against 32,721 for the same period the year previous. During April, 1905, the immigration in ocean ports numbered 16,480, an increase of 3,744 compared with the same month in 1904. Comparing the period from July to April, 1903-4, with the corresponding period from July to April, 1904-5, a net increase of 10,053 in the total immigrant arrivals is shown.

One Came Out After The Other.

Suffered with Boils for Six Months.

Mr. Elie Beaizeau, Meadowside Station, Ont., tells of his experience with Boils and Burdock Blood Bitters.

He says:—"In the Spring of 1899 I was continually troubled with boils—one coming after another for about six months. I suffered terribly, and was in a very bad condition. In August I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and began to feel better after taking it. I kept on until I had used five bottles, and can truthfully say that I was cured, and have remained so ever since. I have not had the least sign of a boil."

There is nothing like Burdock Blood Bitters for bad blood, boils, pimples, dyspepsia, indigestion, or any trouble arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

MUNICIPALITY IS RESPONSIBLE

For Provision for Treating Contagious Diseases.

If Disease Dangerous to Public Health Breaks out Board of Health Must Act.

In view of the fact that at present there is no permanent provision made in either of the local hospitals for the care of contagious disease patients, necessitating keeping them in their homes and creating a danger of spreading the disease, the following clauses from the Public Health, establishing as they do, the responsibility of the municipalities in the matter, will be read with interest:—

Every municipality may establish or erect and may also maintain, one or more hospitals for the reception of persons having the smallpox or other disease which may be dangerous to the public health, or any one or more, municipality may join in establishing, erecting or maintaining the same, but no such hospital shall be erected by one municipality within the limits of another municipality without first obtaining the consent of such other municipality to the proposed erection.

When any hospital is so established, the physician attending the same or the sick within, the nurses, attendant, and all persons who approach or come within the limits of the same and all furniture and other articles as are used or brought there, shall be subject to such regulation as may be made by the Health Officer or local Board of Health.

When Nerves Play Out

MIND AS WELL AS BODY IS IN DANGER—HELP FOUND IN

Dr. Chases Nerve Food

Suicide, insanity, falling sickness, paralysis. These are some of the results of worn-out nerves.

The vitality of the body cannot stand the strain, and, overcome by weary, failing health, anaemia, menstrual derangements, overwork or exhausting disease, mind and body have been wrecked.

No one would neglect a disease so dreadful in its results as nervous exhaustion if the danger were only realized with the first symptoms.

The time to begin the restoration of the nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is when you find yourself unable to sleep at nights, suffering from headache or neuralgic pains, indigestion or weak heart action.

Loss of flesh and weight, growing weakness and debility, a tendency to neglect the duties of the day, gloomy forebodings for the future, are other indications of depleted nerves.

You cannot liken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to any medicine you ever used. It is a nerve vitalizer and tissue-builder of exceptional power.

Naturally and gradually it rekindles life in the nerve cells and forms new red corpuscles in the blood—the only way to thoroughly cure nervous disorders.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 10

MANITOBA'S VOTERS' LISTS

Hon. Thomas Greenway Presents Liberal Side of Case.

HON. MR. FIELDING'S REMEDY

Roblin Government's Plans to Prevent Liberals From Registering — Short Time Allowed—Registration Offices Located in Out-of-the-Way Places — Mr. Geo. D. Grant Makes an Emphatic Denial.

Ottawa, May 31.—The House yesterday afternoon listened to the Liberal side of a question relating to the Manitoba voters' lists, about which the Opposition have had a great deal to say this session.

Hon. Thomas Greenway brought the matter up, and explained the methods by which a large number of Liberals had been deprived of the opportunity to exercise the franchise, the Provincial authorities having reduced the period of registration to limits within which it was impossible for the electorate to register. The location of registration booths was also, he asserted, arranged with the special view of preventing registration by making it inconvenient for the attendance of electors of Liberal persuasion to register. He urged that the Dominion Government should prepare their own lists.

The debate upon the subject continued until 10.30 in the evening, and during its progress Hon. Mr. Fielding, while upholding the principle of adopting the Provincial franchise, intimated that if advantage was taken of the fact in any part of the Dominion to systematically abuse the confidence of the Federal Parliament, it might be necessary for special Dominion lists to be prepared.

Mr. George D. Grant took advantage of the opportunity to deny any knowledge of the transaction by which his brother purchased an island in the Georgian Bay from the Government, and resented the insinuations by Mr. W. H. Bennett in reference to the matter.

In accordance with the general desire of members on both sides, when the House adjourns to-day it will stand adjourned until Monday, Thursday being Ascension Day, which is always observed as a holiday in Quebec, it was not thought worth while to call the members back for Friday.

MR. FISHER'S PLAIN SPEAKING.

Agriculture Committee Discusses the British Cattle Embargo.

Ottawa, May 31.—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, stated to the Agriculture Committee yesterday morning that Canada has been the victim of an "unfriendly act" on the part of Great Britain in connection with the cattle embargo. The day had been set apart to debate the question.

Mr. Caldwell, Liberal member for North Lanark, said Canada should withdraw the preference until the embargo was removed.

Mr. Fisher counselled more moderate action and advised that it was useless to expect the removal of the embargo at all, as the great majority of the British people seemed to favor it, and any action by the House of Commons to remove it would be thrown out by the Conservative House of Lords.

Mr. Bland took the view that the embargo is a blessing in disguise to Canada, as it forces us to finish our own cattle.

Mr. Fisher partially assented to this view, but thought we should have the alternative of shipping unfinished as well as finished cattle.

The drift of the discussion was toward a modification of the regulations, such as giving more time before the cattle are necessarily slaughtered in England. A sub-committee was appointed to draft a resolution embodying the committee's views.

Jurors Blame Josie Carr.

Toronto, May 31.—"That Henry McHarg Murray came to his death on the evening of May 19 or morning of the 20th by drowning, and that Josie Carr, by her criminal neglect and ill-treatment of the child is responsible and that death was caused in a violent manner." This is the verdict of the jury in the Murray inquest, held last night. The enquiry was conducted by Chief Coroner Johnston. The Crown was represented by Mr. Drayton and the girl prisoner by Mr. Robinette.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a wife sits in the growing gloom of an evening, knowing what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But if healthy she knows how sound her slumber will be and how refreshed the morning will find her. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. She feels acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves. Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I am pleased to inform you of the benefit I received from using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elizabeth A. Orwold, of 48 Brant Street, Wheeler, Huron Co., Ontario, Canada. "Was quite discouraged when I wrote asking your advice, as the physicians here told me I could get no relief except by an operation. Suffered for four years from irregular and profuse menstruation, had sick and nervous headaches most of the time, and at times could hardly walk across the floor from weakness. I thank God there is such a remedy as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for suffering women. Before I had taken the first bottle the headaches had left me and it was not long before regularity was established and still continues so. Have just finished my housecleaning which I never expected to be able to do again, and can truly say I never felt better than at present. I gladly recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all who suffer from female weakness. It has cured me and made me stronger in every way. Neither my husband nor myself can say enough in its praise."

The selfish seller who urges some substitute in thinking of the larger profit he'll make and not of your best good.

SILVELA DEAD.

Former Spanish Premier and Conservative Leader Passes at 62.

Madrid, May 31.—Francis Silvela, former Premier, died on Monday from complications resulting from troubles of the heart and nervous system, from which he had been suffering since 1903, when he was ordered to take a complete rest and resigned the Premiership.

Senor Don Francesco Silvela was the foremost Spanish Conservative leader after the death of Canovas. He was considered one of the most eloquent orators of Spain. He was born in Madrid in 1843 and brought up as a lawyer. In 1869 he was elected to the Cortes, was appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs in 1877 and became Spanish Minister to France in 1884.

In the Cuban war for independence preceding the intervention of America he became leader of a group of dissident Conservatives, advocating an investigation into the affairs of Cuba and the development of the island's material interests and reform of her administration. He expressed the opinion that it was absolutely necessary for Spain to abandon her policy of political isolation. Having opposed Sagasta's Government and policy he was called upon to form a Conservative Ministry in February, 1899.

BYE-ELECTION NOMINATIONS

Liberals Are United and Are Determined to Win.

NORTH OXFORD NOMINATION

Mr. George Smith, M. A., the Liberal Candidate—A Harmonious Meeting—Mr. Nesbitt, Who Divided Convention With Mr. Smith, Moves That Nomination Be Made Unanimous —Conservatives in London.

Woodstock, May 31.—Mr. George Smith, M. A., a well-known barrister of this city, was yesterday nominated by the Liberals of North Oxford as their candidate in the bye-election made necessary by the untimely death of the late Hon. James Sutherland. This is equivalent to saying Mr. Smith will be elected, the whole spirit of the convention being an earnest of the fact that despite the fictions of the Conservative press and campaigners, the Liberals of the riding are united in their determination to retain this historic riding in the party fold.

There were 262 accredited delegates at the convention, which was held in the City Hall in the afternoon, nearly 100 more than at any previous similar Liberal gathering in the history of the constituency. Many stalwarts who were not delegates were also present, and they followed the proceedings with great interest. There was a spirited contest for the nomination, Mr. Smith's opponent for the honor being Mr. E. W. Nesbitt, insurance and general agent, also of Woodstock.

The first ballot decided the contest, every one of the 262 delegates recording his vote, the result being 151 for Mr. Smith and 117 for Mr. Nesbitt. The latter, amid great enthusiasm, moved that Mr. Smith be made the unanimous choice of the convention, and, after the candidate had briefly expressed his thanks for the honor, the gathering, which throughout was strikingly harmonious, dispersed, every one determined to work to give Mr. Smith a splendid majority on polling day.

Conservative Rally at London.

London, Ont., May 31.—A well-attended meeting in the interests of Mr. William Gray, the Conservative candidate in the forthcoming bye-election, was held in Jubilee Rink last night. Hon. George E. Foster had been advertised as the chief attraction, but the speeches of Mr. R. B. Bennett of Calgary, a member of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories, who is to address a number of meetings here and in North Oxford, was the feature of the evening. Mr. Gray, the candidate, also spoke.

CABINET CHANGES.

Premier and J. J. Foy Change Around and Frank Cochrane is Sworn into the Cabinet.

Toronto, May 31.—The changes in the Ontario Cabinet were completed yesterday afternoon, when Premier Whitney was sworn in as president of the Council. J. J. Foy, until now Minister of Crown Lands, sworn in as Attorney-General, and Frank Cochrane, formerly of Sudbury, as Minister of Lands and Mines.

Yesterday afternoon, immediately after the Council decided upon the change, and the appointment of Mr. Cochrane, the Ministers drove to Government House, where the oaths of office were formally administered by Mr. Capriol, Clerk of the Council.

Mr. Lamarche Retires.

Mr. Cochrane, not being a member of the Legislature, will have to contest a seat. Charles Lamarche of East Nipissing has provided the necessary opportunity by stepping out and allowing Mr. Cochrane to run in his constituency. The writs are being issued to-day. The nominations take place June 13 and the election one week later, June 20.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane has been engaged in the hardware and mining business in Sudbury. He left last night for the north to look after his election.

Body Found At Lake.

Brantford, May 31.—The body of little three-year-old Charlie Fathers of Paris, who disappeared on Easter Sunday, was found last evening in the rapids, about a mile from here, at the bottom of the Grand, by a farmer passing by yesterday afternoon. The parents of the child are now in Port William.

THE OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Park Street Mission Circle Held Meeting Last Night.

Rev. A. H. Brace Gives Lecture on Mission Circle Characters.

A meeting of the Mission Circle in connection with the Park street Baptist church was held last night and was largely attended. The principal business of the meeting was the election of the officers which are as follows:—

Hon. President—Mrs. (Rev.) A. H. Brace.
President—Miss Maggie Mann.
Vice-President—Mrs. Wright.
Secretary—Mrs. Johnston.
Treasurer—Mrs. Gillespie.
Collector—Mrs. Jewitt.
Organist—Mrs. Trander.

Miss Mann, the retiring President, was in the chair.

Next came an address on the "Mission Circle Character," by Rev. A. H. Brace pastor of the church. It was a most interesting and helpful address and all who had the pleasure of hearing it were much benefitted.

Mr. Brace said it was nice to know the aims and objects of the Society and the Mission Circle was a most important Society. He took the six letters of the word "circle" as the beginning of the first word for the different departments. "C" stood for "Comprehension in its object." The object of the Society was to take in all the earth. Its work was to reach the host and each circle had to do its part. "I" stood for "Important in its commissions." Jesus had said, "Go into all the world and preach the Gospel" and what what could be more important than that? "R" was for "Redemption its theme"—the redemption of the whole world. "C" was for "Conversion, its purpose." It is not only comprehensive in object; important in commission; redemption its theme; conversion its purpose, but "Life," the blessing it offers.

Rev. Mr. Brace then told a pathetic tale of a once heathen Indian tribe, but now civilized, who had offered their children as sacrifices and of the remorse which followed.

The last letter "E" stood for "Everlasting, in its results." The Circle was laying up good foundations for the future, not only for time but for Eternity.

Mr. Brace then led in prayer.

A duet was then given by Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Jewitt, which was very much enjoyed by those present.

Refreshments were then served, the ladies kindly providing something very taking in the way of coffee and cake.

The meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor.

During the year the Society contributed the following:—For Home Missions, $12.20; Foreign Missions, $12.30; other expenses, $3.00.

"Mull" Douglas left this afternoon for Toronto.

County Councillor Webster, of Warsaw, is in town to-day.

Warden Buck, of Norwood, was in town to-day attending the Cheese Board meeting.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt has been appointed examiner in German at Trinity College School, Port Hope.

Mr. R. Webber of the Ford dress goods department, left for his home in Berlin on Saturday night, where he intends to open up in business for himself. Mr. Mogridge, of Cressman's, Peterborough, will be his successor.—Lindsay Post.

Rev. A. H. Brace, pastor of the Park street Baptist church, spent last Sunday on one of his old fields of labour, and preached to three very large congregations, at Saelm, in the morning, at Pesiel in the afternoon, and at Manila in the evening.

Baby Eczema.

"My daughter was afflicted with eczema, from the time when she was three weeks old. Her entire face and head were raw, and she was in awful distress. When the doctors failed we began the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which has entirely cured her, and she has not had the least symptom of the trouble since." —Mr. Patrick Sullivan, Welland avenue, St. Catharines, Ont.

"PATHETIC CASE OF SUFFERING,"

Recorded Yesterday Based on Misleading Information.

Statement of the Real Facts of the Case.

In yesterday's issue, the Examiner published an article relating to a supposed case of destitution, and in accepting the statements of the parties concerned, was led into statements at variance with the facts, as stated by Rev. Father McColl, who called upon the Examiner this morning, and said the story of the woman was not true. In the first place Rev. Father McColl states that there is not a case of destitution or want in the town that is not relieved, either through the town charity board, or other agency, and that the charity board is always willing to give assistance. If any persons are in want, it is not the fault of the charity board that they are not relieved. As to the particular case referred to in yesterday's issue, the information concerning which was procured from the wife herself, Rev. Father McColl admits that they are an unfortunate family, but asserts that the family have never been in want. They have been liberally assisted by the St. Vincent de Paul society — during the last three years—and the charity board has also assisted them. Rev. Father McColl has always given them aid when they needed it, and during this particular illness they have not suffered from the want of the necessaries of life. In regard to the woman's statement that she was without food—if she were, it was her own fault; for on Monday, previous to her making this statement, Rev. Father McColl had given her four dollars. The nature of the disease, or diseases, of her husband, prevented his admission to either of the hospitals, but the wife was assured that if she would devote herself to the nursing of her husband, her wants, and those of the family would be provided for, as has been done.

The Examiner cheerfully gives these facts to the public, with the remark that the statements printed yesterday, were such as were made at the house in question, and the information thus given was accepted and used in good faith, and with the sole desire of enlisting the interest of the charitable, and solely for the good of the family concerned.

THE INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Thomas Perdue Passed Away To-Day.

Boy Who Met With Accident on Saturday Died this Afternoon.

This afternoon at 2.30 in St. Joseph's Hospital, Thomas Perdue, the 15-year old son of Mr. Wm. Perdue, who was injured with a draw knife, on Saturday last at his home in Emily, died from blood poisoning, the result of his accident of Saturday.

On Sunday morning after the wound was dressed, he rested quietly, but that afternoon he became delerious and his condition rapidly became serious. Dr. Halliday was called in and he with Dr. McGrath and Dr. Coughlin, did their best to save his life, but their efforts proved unavailing.

The deceased boy was the eldest son of Mr. Perdue, and his mother died just eleven months ago.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning from the family residence, to the Ennismore Cemetery. The body will be taken there to-night.

NEW TIME TABLE ON SUNDAY NEXT

C. P. R. Train Service From Peterborough Changed.

Morning Local Will Leave at 8 O'Clock Other Changes Immaterial.

On Sunday, June 4th, at 12.01, a.m., A new time table will go into effect on the C.P.R. As far as Peterborough is concerned only one train will be changed materially, that of the local, going west in the morning.

Commencing on Monday the local, which now leaves here at 7.12 will leave at 8 o'clock, and returning in the evening will arrive at 7.40 p.m., instead of 7.33 as at present. The early morning train will in future leave at 5.15, three minutes later than the present time. The afternoon train will leave at the same time as at present, 5.12. The morning train from the west will arrive at 11.58, the local at 7.40 p.m., and the midnight at the same time as at present, 12.25.

The setting back of the local in the morning to 8 o'clock will be a popular move, and the effect will be doubtless to increase the traffic by that train, which even at present is quite large.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

A TERRIBLE MASSACRE.

Street Filled With Dead and Wounded Armenians.

Nakhichevan, Government of Frivan, Transcaucasia, May 30.—This Government has been almost in a state of anarchy for days. A massacre of Armenians by the Tartar population is proceeding here and in the surrounding villages. The streets are filled with dead and wounded. The Mussulmans not only attack but pillage and burn the houses of Christians. The number of victims is not established but exceeds 100 dead, including a priest. The butchery is reported to be still more dreadful in the villages. It is feared that the Persian Kurds will join the Tartars. The authorities are powerless to cope with the situation.

Nakhichevan is a very old town, dating from the sixth century B. C. The population of Nakhichevan numbers about 7,000 souls.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

Russ Defeat Depresses Paris.

Paris, May 30.—The magnitude of the Russian naval disaster has fairly stunned French public opinion, which had hoped that late advices would show that Japan had also suffered some share of the losses. The disaster is generally discussed by officials, the public and the press in a tone of depression. The prevailing view is that Russia now would be compelled to terminate the war.

RUSSIA'S POSITION IS NOW DESPERATE

Government Fears Effect of Disaster on the People---Will Prosecute the War—One Russian Paper, Out of Many Which Criticizes the Failure of the Bureacracy, Says They Should Be Overwhelmed With Shame—The Japanese Loss Was Slight.

London, June 1.—Little hope for the Russians can be found in the last despatches regarding the naval battle off Tsu Island. Only four of the vessels of Rojestvensky's fleet are known to have reached Vladivostock, the cruiser Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozni, Brava and Toroslahty.

The full extent of the Russian casualties in men and officers drowned, wounded or captured is not yet known. The Japanese losses, as reported from Tokio, are only three torpedo boats sunk, three officers killed and about 200 men killed or disabled. Not one of the big fighting ships of the Japanese navy was lost. It is now definitely known that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky is captured. He is seriously wounded, but, it is stated from Tokio, will recover. Admiral Togo has christened the fight: "Battle of the Sea of Japan."

Interest now turns to the situation in Russia as the result of the naval disaster. The Emperor Wednesday summoned to the palace at Tsarskoe Selo all the members of the Imperial family and later called into extraordinary council Admiral Alexieff and all his Ministers of State, and a series of conferences took place as to the course to be pursued. The result of these conferences is not known.

It is believed, however, that the Emperor is determined on a prosecution of the war, the Government fearing the effects of the disaster on the Russian people. The army in Manchuria is not yet aware of the disaster to the navy, and, the despatches say, is still praying for victory. The Russian press, with few exceptions, is openly indignant and is attacking the bureaucracy, one paper saying that "those guilty of the Russian defeat should be overwhelmed with shame."

Admiral Volckersam is supposed to have perished.

Another Arrival.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—Another Russian torpedo boat destroyer, the Toroslahty, has arrived at Vladivostock.

"The enemy's second and third squadrons successfully overcoming the difficulties attending their voyage eastward showed themselves no mean power, but your squadron intercepting them in advance of their destination put them to confusion, and destroyed and captured nearly all their units.

"Your victory does not end here. You captured the enemy's commander-in-chief. It is most gratifying for our national cause that you achieved such a victory.

"We send sincere congratulations, and take occasion to praise the virtue of the Emperor, to thank you and those under you for the onerous service extending over many months, and to express sympathy for the killed and wounded."

Bravi at Vladivostock.

Vladivostock, June 1.—The torpedo boat destroyer Bravi arrived here yesterday and brought four officers and 197 men of the crew of the battleship Osliabia.

Not True.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—The Admiralty denies the report telegraphed to The London Daily Express that the cruiser Gromobol of the Vladivostock squadron has been sunk. Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, who was reported to be on board the Gromobol, is in St. Petersburg.

Japan Orders Machinery.

New York, June 1.—Contracts amounting to fully $5,000,000, calling for the shipment, with all despatch of electrical equipment, machines and tools, have been placed in this market on Japanese account. The orders were mostly closed by the New York representatives of Japanese firms. The machinery is for installation in the principal Government shipbuilding yards.

JAPAN'S LOSS WAS SLIGHT.

Three Torpedo Boats, Three Officers and About 200 Men.

Washington, June 1.—The Japanese legation yesterday received the following report from Tokio:

"It is officially announced that in the last naval battle the damages sustained by our fleet were very slight, and none of our battleships, cruisers, destroyers or other ships was lost, except three torpedo boats. Under Imperial command Admiral Togo was authorized to permit Nebogatoff to submit to the Czar the reports on the last battle and a list of Russian killed, wounded and prisoners. The admiral was also authorized to release, on parole, the surrendered officers of Nicholas I., Orel, Apraxine and Sneyavin. Rojestvensky was taken to Sasebo naval hospital. No other admiral was captured from Biedovy, the last report in this respect being due to clerical error."

The State Department has received the following cablegram from Tokio: "Rojestvensky's skull fractured, requiring operation; serious, but not dangerous. Total Japanese losses to date three torpedo boats sunk, three officers killed, about 200 men killed and disabled."

Congratulations.

Tokio, June 1.—Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy, yesterday sent the following telegram to Togo —

WIFE MURDER CHARGED.

Instructions Sent to Belleville to Arrest Adam Lloyd.

Belleville, June 1.—It seems likely that the next Assizes will see a murder trial in this city. Last winter there was a queer case in the Township of Hungerford, Hastings County. An old lady, Mrs. Adam Lloyd, was reported to have been found dead by her husband, he saying that her death occurred while he was out at the barn in the morning. An autopsy revealed a wound in the woman's head, about which the husband had said nothing. The woman's clothing had been on fire. It is believed that the woman had been killed, and somebody had then poured coal oil over her clothing and set it on fire.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the woman came to her death under suspicious circumstances. The finding was sent to the Department of Justice at Toronto, and yesterday morning instructions were received to arrest the old man, Adam Lloyd, on a charge, so it is alleged, of murder.

County Constable Duffin yesterday afternoon went out to arrest Lloyd.

Toronto, June 1.—Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright said last night that no instructions had been issued through his department and he was unaware of any proceedings under way.

Government to Sue.

Toronto, June 1.—The Provincial Government will go to law to collect the sum of $100,000 arrears of succession duties on over 500 estates throughout the Province. The arrears in dues have been accumulating since 1892, and with the aid of another solicitor to the department staff steps will be taken to bring in the money.

TROUBLE ON THE BORDER.

Americans Are Arming to Repel Canadians Who Blew Up Booms On St. John River.

Washington, June 1.—Immediately upon the return of Secretary Taft to the city Tuesday morning Acting Secretary Loomis brought to his attention the request of the British Government that the matter of the obstruction of the St. John River be included within the work of the International Waterways Commission. After discussion, Secretary Taft decided that a letter should be addressed to Lord Lansdowne informing him that if the consideration of this matter is delayed until the next session of Congress it will be possible to secure legislation creating a separate commission to deal with the St. John River question and any other important issue open to adjustment in this fashion.

Following close upon the position taken by the United States came a despatch yesterday morning from Bangor, Me., that the Canadians along the St. John River, enraged by the probability of further delay, had taken the law in their own hands and blown up the booms which were placed in the river in that boundary between New Brunswick and Aroostock County, Maine, by American lumbermen; also that the Americans along the river, being determined to defend their property, were arming themselves and that a serious conflict was likely to take place at any time.

Acting Secretary Loomis, when seen at the State Department, said that no official notice of such a conflict had been given the Department and that in his opinion the affair could be settled by the local authorities.

However, it is thought that the hasty action on the part of the Canadians will give the British Government the opportunity to urge upon the United States the necessity of bringing the matter to an early settlement.

FELL INTO THE HOLD.

Bad Accident on the Wahcondah at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, June 1.—Yesterday morning four men were thrown into the hold of the Wahcondah, which is unloading wire. The men were engaged on the hatch, when a spool of wire which was being hoisted came in contact with a beam supporting the hatch, breaking it and precipitating the men upon the iron, 15 feet below. W. Maki was so seriously injured that he will not recover. W. Karistadt sustained a broken ankle and was otherwise injured. M. Benkhur was badly shaken up, while C. Grandin escaped with slight injuries.

Bush Fires Threaten C. N. R.

Port Arthur, June 1.—Bush fires are causing a loss to timber along the Canadian Northern almost all along the line from here to Fort Frances. The fires are fiercely raging, and it was necessary to send out men to protect the company's property at different stations.

21 Rescued Alive From Mine.

Montrose, Colo., June 1.—Twenty-one workers who were imprisoned in the Gunison reclamation tunnel by a cave-in Tuesday were rescued alive and uninjured yesterday through a shaft which was sunk about 50 feet in less than 24 hours. There are still two dead under the slide.

Robbed of $30,000 in Jewels.

London, June 1.—According to a news agency report, the Duchess of Westminster was robbed a few days ago of jewels estimated to be worth $30,000. They are believed to have been abstracted from the duchess' room at Grosvenor House, and were first missed May 29.

Don't Want Consul.

St. John's, Nfld., May 29.—The French fisher folk of St. Pierre, Miquelon, bitterly resent the presence there of the new British consul, and are already agitating for his removal.

Million Dollars For Agriculture.

Montreal, May 29.—It is announced that the Quebec Government will spend a million dollars in the agricultural college for this Province.

THE 'PHONE COMMITTEE.

Bell Telephone Expert Witness and Mr. Webb On the Stand.

Ottawa, June 1.—The Bell Telephone Company produced their American expert witness before the committee yesterday morning in L. A. Pickernell, of Newton, Mass., assistant to the President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. This is the largest telephone company in the world. In 1900 it absorbed the American Bell, and now operates in the whole of the United States. Mr. Pickernell was examined by Mr. Chase Casgrain. Regarding the cost of establishing exchanges in small towns, as compared with larger towns, Mr. Pickernell testified that a modern equipment could be installed in a town of 5,000 inhabitants for $9 to $10 a line. In a city such as Montreal, owing to the multiplicity of wires, conduits, etc., a similiar exchange would cost from $16 to $20 a line.

The examination of Mr. Pickernell was temporarily suspended, while the cross-examination of Mr. Webb, the London expert, was commenced by F. H. Chrysler. The conditions in England were taken up, and Mr. Webb declared that in towns of similar size in England and America there was far more use made of the telephone in the latter than in the former country. Telephone development had not been nearly so great as it might have been in England. Regarding the long distance Government owned lines, the service was not at all satisfactory. The Government was thinking of taking over the whole of the national system.

Mr. Chrysler took witness over the same ground covered in his direct testimony regarding the conditions in London and Glasgow. In answer to Mr. Lafleur, K.C., regarding the preponderance of municipal telephones in Glasgow, Mr. Webb contradicted this part of Councillor Willock's testimony.

The examination of Mr. Pickernell was then resumed. He explained the difficulties in connecting various lines. The terminal apparatus of each company should be of the same character, and the lines up to standard in equipment. One of the fundamental conditions on which connection could be made was a satisfactory agreement between connecting companies.

Wentworth Election Appeal.

Ottawa, June 1.—The Wentworth election case will be argued in the Supreme Court on Friday. The appeal is largely to determine whether a deputy returning officer by numbering or initialing the ballots can invalidate an election.

Appeal Dismissed.

Ottawa, June 1.—A despatch from Regina yesterday announced that the appeal against the return of Mr. McCarthy, the Conservative member for Calgary, had been dismissed on preliminary objections.

What's In a Name.

Toronto, June 1.—The Canadian Pacific Railway announce the change in the station name of Rat Portage, Ontario, to Kenora, Ont. This change took effect on May 15.

Boycott U. S. Goods.

Manila, June 1.—The Chinese Chamber of Commerce by a unanimous vote has decided to stand in line with the treaty ports of China in boycotting American merchandise in retaliation for the American exclusion laws.

THE KING A TARGET FOR ANARCHIST BOMBS

President of France and King of Spain---Bomb Was Thrown Too High---Missile Struck a Soldier Belonging to Cuirassier Escort and Then Fell to the Ground Without Injuring His Majesty or President Loubet---Three Arrests Were Made---Several Soldiers Wounded.

Paris, June 1.—As the King of Spain, accompanied by President Loubet, drove away from a gala performance of the opera after midnight, an Anarchist threw a bomb in the direction of the royal carriage. The projectile struck a soldier belonging to the Cuirassier escort on the shoulder and then fell to the ground and exploded without injuring His Majesty or the President, who continued their drive to the Palais D'Orsay. Several soldiers of the escort were thrown from their horses and injured, while fragments of the bomb struck several persons in the crowd.

The King was calm, and after sending a Spanish embassy attache to make enquiries about the wounded, drove off with the President, hemmed in by troops. Three arrests were made.

Paris Socialist Brandishes a Dagger and Shouts Treason.

New York, June 1.—A Paris despatch to The Herald quotes The Petit Parisienne of that city as saying that while King Alfonso and President Loubet were driving along the Avenue du Bois de Bologne a spectator burst through the line of police, dodged the horses of the escort and brandished a dagger, shouting "Down with imprisonment, long live the workers." The police succeeded in seizing him, and at the police station he said his name was Auguste Garney, a jeweler's workman and secretary of the Jewel Workers' Federation.

THE SERVICES OF ASCENSION DAY

Celebrated To-Day in Anglican and Catholic Churches.

The Last Act of Our Divine Lord on Earth—Services To-Day.

To-day, throughout the city, as throughout the entire Christian world, the great feast of Ascension Thursday is solemnly observed. High Mass with Vespers and Benediction marks the day in St. Peter's Cathedral, while in the Anglican churches special services appropriate to the day were held. In St. John's and All Saint's, services conducted by the Rectors were held, commencing at 10 o'clock, and at St. Luke's at 11 o'clock, also conducted by the Rector. Ascension Day commemorates the last act of Our Divine Lord while on earth, in the work of our redemption. It recalls the culmination of the thirty-three years of His life on earth and of all that preceded the great consummation. It recalls too the final scene when in the presence of His disciples He was raised from the earth and a cloud receiving Him from their sight and accompanied by the great procession of redeemed souls, He entered Heaven, where He now sits, at the right hand of God the Father, and whence He shall come again to judge the world in great power and majesty.

Cameron, ledgerkeeper of the local Bank of Commerce, has been advanced to a more important position in the service of the Bank in its Toronto branch, and will leave to-night to enter upon his new duties. Mr. Cameron will be succeeded by Mr. Storke, of Belleville, son of the manager of the branch in that city.

—Two horses and buggies were taken away from the Roman Catholic Church this morning, one belonging to Mr. Philip O'Keefe, of Emmismore, was driven around for two hours or so, and left near where it was at first. The other owned by Richard Hogan, of Douro, has not been heard of since. The parties suspected are young boys and though unknown, if the Chief ever gets his eye on them will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Miss Ethel Moorehouse Married to Mr. Fred. Holmes.

This morning at St. John's Church, at 9.30, the wedding of Miss Ethel Mary Moorehouse, and Mr. Fred Holmes was solemnized, by Rev. J. C. The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Moorehouse, late of Home Frith, Yorkshire, England, was given away by her mother. She was very becomingly attired in a dress of cream silk voile, over green and wore a chiffon hat. She carried white carnations and lillies of the valley.

The bridal party was unattended, the wedding being quiet. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Carlisle avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will reside in future.

REDEMPTORIST FATHERS' MISSION

Rev. Father Zilles Preaches Forceful and Eloquent Sermon Upon "Marriage and Divorce."

Tremendous Congregations Attend Services—Interest in Work of Mission is Widespread and General.

At the Tuesday evening service of the Redemptorist Fathers' mission at St. Peter's cathedral, an able and eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Father Zilles, upon "Marriage and Divorce." He took as his text, "As for me and my house we shall serve the Lord." The speaker in his opening words remarked upon our duty to serve the Lord, by keeping the commandments and the precepts of the Church. Every Christian must observe certain duties which rest upon the station in life which he has voluntarily adopted.

The marriage state is a Divine institution. At the first marriage, which occurred in Paradise, the Almighty officiated Himself. Under the old law it was only a natural contract. Under the new law, Christ raised it to a sacrament, and consequently entrusted it to the guardianship of the Church which He organized. The Catholic is convinced that he belongs to the true Church of Christ, and follows her teachings and her laws which she has made to protect the sanctity and indissolubility of marriage, against ruinous maxims and principles, subversive of human society. Divorce as it is now-aways understood, is not acknowledged by the Catholic church, never has been, and never will be. "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," says the Bible. Separation from bed and board, is however tolerated for certain reasons.

The speaker then explained what is meant by a sinful marriage, and invalid marriages, explaining the reasons and impediments from the Divine and ecclesiastical law, and also from reason. A Catholic is prohibited to be married by a non-Catholic minister, under the ban of excommunication, according to the first commandment, which prohibits taking part in un-Catholic worship. He also explained the duties of married men, as husbands, to their wives, and as fathers to their families. He inveighed most strongly against the vice of intemperance and gambling, as particularly injurious to the family. In the strongest language, he denounced race-suicide, as against the primary object of marriage, intended by the Creator. He gave some most wholesome advice to the young men, telling them that marriage was not simply a matter of choice, but a duty for most; by leading a good moral life, keeping the Fourth Commandment, in submission to parental and ecclesiastical authority, and saving their evenings, the Christian young man would prepare the foundations for his future temporal and eternal prosperity.

He endeavoured to make the men realize their position of superiority in the world. If our men are good Christians, loyal members of the Church, and comply with their special duties, their influence would bear upon a total reformation of society in general. They would become instruments for engarging the Kingdom of Christ upon earth, and the Heavenly Jerusalem, as the Great Beyond.

A BROKEN LEG FROM SWINGING

Painful Accident at Apsley—A Presbyterian Entertainment.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Apsley, May 30th—Mr. and Mrs. P. Callahan spent Saturday and Sunday May 21 and 22 in Peterborough.

Miss MacDonald, of Peterborough, has been engaged to teach in S. S. No. 1, and commenced duties on Monday last.

Mr. Joseph Bertram and children of Havelock are the guests at Mr. Thomas McIlmoyle's.

Miss Effie Williamson, of Picton, who has been visiting here for the last two weeks returned home on Monday.

Miss A. McGrath, was the guest of Miss Edna McIlmoyle, on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Loan were visiting at Mr. Simon Windsor's last Sunday.

Miss Pearl Windsor had the misfortune to have her leg broken one day last week caused by her foot getting caught on an old root protruding from the ground, while swinging.

We are sorry to learn that Master Roy Brown is very ill.

Mrs. Isaac Lean was the guest of Mrs. Sharp last Sunday.

Mr. Williamson, Methodist Minister, of this place left to attend Conference on Monday last. We are sorry to learn that Mr. Williamson is not coming back as during his short stay amongst us we have found him to be a kind friend, competent worker and faithful servant of the Lord. Our best wishes for future success and happiness go with him.

An entertainment and tea meeting under the auspices of the Presbyterian church was held in the Temperance Hall on May 24th. It was fairly well attended. Those who took part in the programme rendered their parts well an interesting feature being a lecture on the Blackfoot Indians by the Rev. Mr. Taylor, who has travelled among them in the West.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache - Kidney Tablets.

The story related by Mr. N. Ford, the well known conveyancer of St. Mary's, Ont., is but one of the thousands of tributes that are being paid to Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. This is what he says: "For three years I have had a pain in my right side and back. I laid it to the liver and kidneys. I tried a good many medicines without relief, but finally got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and to my intense gratification they relieved both pains easily and quickly, and there has been no return of the symptoms since using them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a bottle at druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

THE LICENSE LAW AND ITS ENFORCEMENT

Unreasonable Demands of Anonymous Informer.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—I have received the following anonymous letter:—

May 29th, 1905.

Mr. J. J. Crowe,

Dear Sir,—We as Havelock citizens ask you to look after the hotels at Havelock. They are selling Saturday nights and Sundays all the time, and if you don't look after them, we certainly will look after you. This is the last warning from us.

HAVELOCK CITIZENS.

I have only this to say with regard to the above. If the writer of this letter will give his or her name as an evidence of good faith, I will be inclined to pay some attention to the matter. I am willing and anxious to recognize all bona fide complaints of the breaking of the license laws, but it is impossible that I should act on such blind and general information as that alleged by the above letter. I can't be in every part of the license district at once, and I must depend upon those who wish to have the law enforced for help. If "Havelock Citizen" will write to me over his own name like a man—and he can depend upon his letter being held entirely confidential—and if he will furnish the names of witnesses so that I can prosecute with a reasonable prospect of success, I will at once take action. If I am furnished with the date of a breach of the license law, and with names of witnesses able to prove the charge, I shall be quick to take action. But I can pay no attention to anonymous correspondence, for, how am I to know whether the complaint made is a bona fide complaint or a scheme to get me into trouble for neglect of duty. Come out square and above board. Give me the day and date and the names of witnesses so that I can prosecute without being made a fool of, and I will bring the matter to trial without a moment's hesitation. It is my duty to prosecute, but I must have a reasonable chance to prove my charges or I will prove to be a mere meddler instead of a reasonable enforcer of the law, which I desire to be. Let anonymous scribblers pluck up courage and sign their real names (which will not be revealed) and furnish me with some names of responsible persons who can be depended upon, as witnesses and I will take action.

Yours etc.,
J. J. CROWE,
License Inspector for East Peterborough.

When Royalty Weds.

Berlin, June 1.—The hotels of Berlin find their capacity far overtaxed for the accommodation of the guests at the forthcoming wedding of Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duchess Cecelia of Mecklenberg-Schwerin, even princely personages being refused accommodations. The problem of accommodating the Royal visitors is enhanced by the large retinue accompany them.

Girl's Body Recovered.

St. Catharines, June 1.—The body of Gertrude Hill, the 16-year-old daughter of Charles W. Hill, of Merritton, was found in the old canal yesterday morning. The child fell into the water on Sunday afternoon on her way home from Sunday school.

AN ACCIDENT AT BRIDGENORTH

Mr. Smythe Kelly Had Fingers Cut in Shingle Mill.

Victoria Day at Chemong—Late Interesting Personal News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Bridgenorth, May 31. — Cool nights.

The village still retains that dry feeling.

Rev. J. W. Bunner left on Tuesday to attend the conference.

Burritt Kelly has returned home from College and is again on the foot ball line up.

J. K. Stabler purchased a new driver in Bobcaygeon last week.

Harry Gravelle has once more returned to the village. He thinks Bridgenorth is a dry place.

Thos. Mann and Fred Jopling drove over to Lakefield on Saturday night to see the football match.

Fred Jopling purchased a pair of colts in Lindsay on Monday. They are a well matched pair.

Will Telford is confined to the house from the effects of getting in too close contact with some poison ivy when he was engaged in building a fence.

Mrs. William Snowden of Peterborough, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. D. O. Roblin, of Belleville, spent Thursday in the village.

Summer has evidently made its appearance as a number of white ducks were in evidence on the streets on Victoria Day.

Robert Mann, a college student, has been spending a week at home. On Monday he left on an extended trip to Western Canada.

It is worth while going to church now to see the new hats and dresses—and incidentally to hear a sermon.

The village sidewalks have received some much needed attention, but before the summer is over several sections will need to be replaced with new plank.

One of the perplexing problems at present is the time honoured line fence question, and the other is the proper manner to enforce the cattle bylaw.

Our summer suburb, Chemong, had its quota of visitors on Victoria Day, as the steamer Manita brought down an excursion from Bobcaygeon, and several bus loads came up from town.

Smythe Kelly had the misfortune to get one of his fingers badly gashed by coming in too close contact with the circular saw in the shingle machine, and it was feared that amputation would be necessary, but happily it is healing up nicely.

A great improvement has been made at the Baptist parsonage in the form of a handsome verandah, of the colonial style, constructed by W. P. Robinson. The contract for the painting has been awarded to George Bell, he being the lowest tender. He is administering the priming coat this week.

Our citizens seem to believe in the permanency of Portland cement, as they are making a liberal use of it these days. R. C. Heard and J. H. Brumwell have had new walks built, while J. N. Mann has had a handsome floor for his verandah laid.

Tom McMann, the engineer of Kelly's mill, has moved into Mr. Kelly's house. Frank Young now occupies the house lately vacated by Peter Nicholls, who moved into R. C. Heard's house, purchased from H. C. Mann.

Victoria Day was an ideal day for enjoyment and nearly every person took advantage of it. In the afternoon a party of youths and maidens had a picnic at the head of the lake. The party was conveyed to the island by the Lady of the Lake, by the kindness of Capt. Noble Kelly. In the evening the town hall presented a happy scene, when a few short hours were spent, enjoying ice cream, which Miss Kelly so kindly provided.

The paint brush artists are both numerous and skilled. Jopling Bros. have had their meat market refitted and repainted. A. Morrison's verandah looks fine in red and white and Wm. Nicholls spends his spare time applying green to his house on the corner occupied by Mrs Quinn. J. A. Jobe is another firm believer in the pleasing effect of good paint properly applied; also W. B. Kelly has just finished his family residence, which looks neat in a coat of white.

Special to the Examiner

Hall's Glen, May 30th.—Mr. and Mrs. H. Payne and Mr. and Mrs. D. Payne and daughter, Alice were the guests of the uncle, Mr. J. B. Moore, of Hastings, on Sunday last.

Miss Norish, of Lakefield, has been visiting her parents who reside in this vicinity.

Mr. Carveth of this village appears to have had a very successful season in lumbering and sugar-making, judging from the fine equipage he is now driving.

Mr. Maurice, the cupler for the Dickson Company in this neighborhood recently buying cedar timber from local lumbermen; among whom were Messrs. D. Payne, J. C. Darling and W. F. Payne who have disposed of their season's output.

Mr. F. Payne is having his house greatly improved by having it sheeted with metallic sheeting. Mr. W. J. Little is the contractor.

Messrs. D. and W. Crowe, of this village were the hosts at a social gathering at their home on the evening of the 26th, when quite a number of guests among whom were Mr. R. Lynn and Mr. A. C. Carveth and other prominent young people of this neighborhood, who participated in the pastimes of the evening, chief among which was indulging in the light fantastic, until the wee sma' hours of the morning. Some of the returning party were so hilarious that their progress homeward disturbed the morning slumbers of some of the residents.

Rapid Circulation in the "Bison" Heater
The expansion of hot water in the heater causes circulation.
If the water heats at the bottom first, it cannot circulate till the water in the upper sections is also heated. Most heaters heat the bottom water first.
The "Bison" heats the water at the top first.
That is why it gets almost instantaneous circulation of hot water into the radiators—it is one of ten reasons why the "Bison" is the best heater.

FARMER'S SUN AND DIVORCE

The Farmers' Sun asks:—"Why has not Canada, like England, a regular Divorce Court? Why is she driven to the grotesque and antiquated expedient of using a Legislative Assembly as a Court of Justice in matrimonial cases? The reason apparently is that the Church of Rome opposes the institution of a Divorce Court because, according to her doctrine, marriage is a sacrament and incapable of dissolution, while our Government is under the influence of votes commanded by the Church of Rome. If any other explanation can be given we shall be happy to record it."

How will this do for an explanation? "But I say unto you whosoever shall put away his wife except it be for the cause of fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery and who so marrieth her that is put away, doth commit adultery."

In a Christian country all human law is not good law, that is not founded upon Divine law. According to the Divine law as set forth by our Divine Lord in St. Matthew, chapter v, vers 32, and St. Matthew, chapter xix, vers 9, there is only one ground of divorce, and no re-marriage is permitted. Why should the Farmers' Sun clamour for what may become through our territorial proximity the analogue of the abomination of the American Divorce Court. Whatever errors other communions may attribute to the doctrines of the Roman Catholic church, the intense regard manifest for the sanctity of the marriage tie cannot but command the admiration of all those who have the welfare of society and of the country at heart. Divorces made easy are the highway to the condition that called down the fire of Heaven's wrath upon Sodom and Gomorrah. We pass by the insulting implication of corrupt collusion between the Government of Canada and the Roman Catholic Church. Rabid bigotry only has the intensity of vision that can see such a relation.

WHY? WHY?

Why? And again, why, do our civic authorities neglect their duty so palpably, so persistently, and so obstinately? The first principle of effective street management is to keep in good repair streets that have at one time been placed in good condition. Instead of that, there is applied, if the word "applied," can be applied to anything that is never done—the everlasting policy of everlasting delay and dilly daily — the policy of letting the streets go to the dogs, when a little timely repair, or little expenditure, or little exercise of common sense, a little "go," or a little public spirit, would put things in "apple pie order," whatever that means — it certainly means something quite different from the sloppy, slovenly, rough, unkempt, disgraceful condition of some of our streets. Complaints, many and vicious, have reached the Examiner, from citizens in regard to the condition in which Park street, from Gilmour street to McDonel street, and McDonel street itself, are allowed to remain. The street alongside the street railway tracks is in a most deplorable condition — in some places only fit to be used by a mountain goat. Citizens say that they have spoken to everyone having a semblance of civic authority, and can get no satisfactory explanation—the stock reply is that it is the business of the street railway company, to put the street in good condition. What an absurd excuse! The street railway has no responsibility in this respect to the ratepayers, but the ratepayers hold the aldermen responsible for the condition of the streets. If the street railway people neglect their duty it is the duty of the aldermen to see that the street is properly repaired, and they should see to it. It will be quite in keeping with civic precedent to let the matter run till some accident happens, then, of course, it will be a good deal easier to sign a cheque for $200 or $300 damages, than spend that amount in repairing the street, and preventing accidents. Want of money cannot be the excuse. The appropriation for the streets is, this year, $13,000, which is $2,000 more than last year. Is it to be expended in making streets good, or in paying for damages resulting from keeping streets bad? Of course the convenience of ratepayers in the use of the streets—what they pay taxes for—may be a subordinate consideration, but it might be regarded a little by the street authorities. What is most exasperating in the matter, is the indifference shown towards citizens, who think that they have very good cause of complaint, respecting very bad conditions. Neither the aldermen nor the street railway own the streets. They belong to the citizens, and the citizens have a right to demand that the taxes they pay shall not be collected, and wasted in doing bad street work, or neglected, to be used in doing urgently needed work.

TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE.

The Examiner has received a copy of the annual report of the Toronto Board of Trade, and the book as a book is worthy of the great city whose commercial and industrial interests it represents. The report comprises six-seven 100 large octavo pages. The first half is devoted to a succinct historical sketch of Toronto, with special reference to the industrial and commercial features. This section is beautifully illustrated with photogravures of the principal public and private buildings and scenes in the many beautiful parks. The illustrations include portraits of the first Mayor of the city, 1834, Wm. Lyon Mackenzie and the Mayor for 1905, Mr. Thos. Urquhart. Also portraits of the first and present Presidents of the Board of Trade, Mr. George Percival Ridout and Mr. Jas. D. Allan, respectively. Few of us realize perhaps what a big bustling and beautiful city Toronto has become. As the metropolitan centre of the first province of the Confederation sisterhood, it is worthy in all respects. While Toronto has grown in all ways the greatest growth has, some think, been in the size of its head. The city is just a "wee little bit" inclined to put on patronizing airs towards other places which, according to the British North American Act, have a right to be represented upon the map. Still we are proud of Toronto as the capital of the province and pleased with her prosperity, because, if Toronto sometimes forgets it, the prosperity of the city depends upon the prosperity of the province. Long may both flourish.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Ottawa Journal, in glorifying the Whitney Government, says it (the Government) has infused a new spirit into the administration of the license laws. Such a statement may read all right in Ottawa, but it would not stand repetition in East Durham.

DUMMER CLAIMS THE CHAMPION GOOSE

A Dummer Anser Doubles Her Incubatory Products.

Since the goose saved Rome, that graceful bird has not occupied a very prominent place in history, though it has furnished quills for recording the facts or fancies of history. Macaulay wrote the lays of Ancient Rome, but these are not a circumstance to the lays of modern Dummer, that is to say the lays of a Dummer goose. The sons of the late Richard Crewe have a goose which has perpetrated this unprecedented fact this season, she has laid and hatched one brood of goslings and has laid another sitting of eggs. A Dummer authority who claims to be "sound on the goose" declares that this is the only instance on record where such a bird has been found to be goose enough to so overwork its oviparous organs.

TO HAVE EARLY CLOSING

If it Can be Arranged Satisfactorily.

Being Discussed by Parties Interested—Better than the Half Holiday—Nothing Definite as Yet.

Several of the leading merchants have expressed their willingness to close their places of business at 5 o'clock during the summer months, and if all would agree to this, it could be satisfactorily arranged.

This would be a great boon to the clerks, and would be gladly welcomed by them.

Early closing is much more favourably received than the old scheme of the Wednesday half-holiday, as this created a lot of dissatisfaction, and there were in every town or city where it was in vogue, always some merchants, who, while pretending to close, still did business, at least that is the experience of more than one prominent business man in Peterborough, and this certainly too often the case.

The early closing plan would allow a good long evening every day, and the general feeling is that if it would be better and more satisfactory.

Of course nothing definite has yet been decided, but it is being talked over among the parties interested, and some conclusion will be reached soon.

DRAINAGE CASE AGAIN IN COURT

Petitioners Ask That By-law be Set Aside.

Cavan Swamp Case Being Heard To-Day—Objection to The By-Law.

To-day the now famous Cavan Drainage Case, is up before Provincial referee, John Rankin, of Chatham, at the court house, and is attracting a large number of the persons interested.

The bylaw passed by the Cavan council, providing for the draining of the swamp, and for the levying of a special tax to pay the cost of the same, is objectionable to some of the property owners affected, and they are now asking that the bylaw be set aside, one of the objections taken to it being that it was passed illegally.

Mr. George McBain is the petitioner, and he is represented by Mr. E. B. Edwards, K. C., while the township council's interests are being looked after by Robt. Ruddy, Millbrook, and G. Watson, K. C., Toronto.

The case opened this morning and a number of witnesses were heard on behalf of the petitioners. Mr. Watson made a strong plea for the quashing of the petition, but the case was allowed to be proceeded with. The facts in connection with the case are in general well known. The chief officers of the Good Roads Department of the Ontario Government, advised that the swamp be drained, and, with this in view, a petition was circulated, asking the council to proceed with the work. Government aid to the extent of $4,000, with $800 from the Counties of Northumberland and Durham, was secured to help in the prosecution of the work, which Mr. Belcher estimated, would cost $9,000, the balance to be raised by a special tax upon the property of those affected.

The bylaw was passed by the council and the property owners, represented by Mr. McBain, one of their number, are now asking that it be set aside.

The case occupied all morning, and court was adjourned until two o'clock, when the taking of evidence was resumed.

REV. W. J. JOLLIFFE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Pastor of Charlotte Street Church Elevated to Presidency of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference To-Day—Received 101 Votes and Next Man 27—A Popular Divine Honoured by His Fellow Ministers—His Service in the Ministry for Nearly Forty Years—Filled Acceptably Many Pulpits—This and Other Conferences.

Special to the Examiner.

Picton, June 1st. — The election for President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, which took place here this morning resulted in the selection of Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B.C.L., of Peterborough, on the first ballot, the vote standing, Jolliffe, 101; Drew, 27; Reed, 13.

The election was a popular one, and the announcement of Mr. Jolliffe's election was received with warm applause by his brethren.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B.C.L., who has been elected to-day to the highest office in the gift of the Conference, is pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, Peterborough, where he has been for the last three years, and in the first draft of stations he is slated to return for a fourth year in response to an invitation from his church.

He has been a minister in the Methodist church for about forty years, during which time he has filled most acceptably pulpits in Oshawa, Cobourg, Picton, Bowmanville, and Peterborough, in the Bay of Quinte Conference, and at Stanstead, Quebec, Quebec city, Coaticook, Quebec, Montreal, Cote Ste. Paul, Gananoque, Ont., and Vankleek Hill, Ont., as well as other places in the early days of his ministry.

He was born in Lakeard, Eng., and came to Canada at the age of 21 years, but before this time he had already done considerable preaching. Coming to Canada he took up his residence in Oshawa, where he continued his studies, and later attended McGill, where he obtained his degree of B.C.L. His ministerial career has been gratifyingly successful, and the churches of which he has held the pastorate, have made splendid progress under his care.

An evidence of his popularity with his fellow ministers is furnished by the fact that he received such a large vote in to-day's selection.

Peterborough ministers seem to have a happy faculty of reaching the top. Last year, Rev. J. P. Wilson, of George street, was elected president, and to-day a second Peterborough divine is given that honour.

WERE WEDDED AT ST. LUKE'S

Nuptials of Miss Edith Burnham and Mr. P. Boyd Tytler Quietly Solemnized.

Ceremony Performed by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt—Will Reside in Montreal.

June, the proverbial month of brides, was this morning ushered in by a quiet, though extremely pretty, church wedding, when, amidst the glorious sunshine which proverbially greets the happy bride, Miss Edith Burnham, eldest daughter of the late John Burnham, M. P., and Mr. P. Boyd Tytler, plighted their troth in the presence of a number of relatives and friends, at St. Luke's church, Ashburnham.

The ceremony, which was performed by the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, took place at ten o'clock, when, amidst the strains of the opening wedding prelude, the bridal party entered the church, the bride leaning upon the arm of her eldest brother, Mr. Harold B. Burnham, of St. Catharines, who gave her away.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white homespun, trimmed with ecru lace and silk, with tulle hat, with plumes, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Her travelling dress was of black mohair, strapped with taffeta, with black hat of straw and net. The bridesmaid, Miss Abigail Revell, was beautifully attired in a blue gown, trimmed with Chantilly lace, and white lace hat, with roses, and carried pink bridesmaid's roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Frank W. Burnham, a brother of the bride.

The wedding party consisted of a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties, among these being, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Geale, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, of Toronto; Mrs. John Burnham, mother of the bride; Misses Carrie, Nellie and Emma, and Mr. E. A. Peck; Mrs. Revell; Miss Flossie Burnham; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rogers; Mr. S. R. and Miss Price; Col. J. Z. Mrs. and Miss Rogers; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. and Miss Strickland; and Mrs. (Rev.) E. A. Langfeldt.

The chancel was beautifully decorated for the occasion with white lilacs and apple blossoms. The musical portion of the service was played by Mr. Armstrong, organist of the church, and consisted of, besides the opening prelude, the Deus Misereatur, by Mammat, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which pealed out as the party left the church.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the party adjourned to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Burnham, where a delightful wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs Tytler were the recipients of a large number of exquisite wedding gifts, from their hosts of friends in town, and outside points.

The happy couple left on the noon train for a honeymoon trip to Detroit and points West, and after June 15th, will reside in Montreal, where Mr. Tytler is engaged with the Merchants Bank of Canada.

It was quite fitting that the bride should enter into the state of dual blessedness in St. Luke's church, which for many years has been the scene of her activities in church work. Her untiring efforts in its behalf have been of great value in the past, and her departure will be keenly felt by the congregation, as also by her host of friends in social circles in town.

INTEREST CONTINUES IN BIBLE CONFERENCE

Meetings in St. Andrews' Being Largely Attended.

The Bible Conference continues to attract a large number of Bible students, teachers and workers from all parts in the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Russell's expositions of truth are appreciated by all who attend. To-morrow (Friday) will be the last of the series on the "Fruit of the Spirit" but the closing public gathering of the Bible School will be held on Sunday afternoon at 4.15. This ought to be a rare opportunity for all Sunday School workers.

The interest in the evening service in St. Andrew's Church is deep and strong. Last evening Mr. Russell delivered a most inspiring address on "God's Greatest Gift". Throughout the whole service a most intense concern and conviction seemed to possess the auditors. The subject of address for night will be "The River of Life". Miss Margaret Bryce and the choir will assist in the service of song. All are very cordially invited.

—The Light Committee will meet to-night.

"Blunoz"—a Canadian Serge made on the Semi-ready standard

"Blunoz" is our exclusively controlled serge.

We had an idea that Canadians would wear a Canadian-made serge, if it was made good enough. We didn't want to appeal to their loyalty—what we wanted was a serge that would appeal to their pocket-books and their common sense.

We have it in "Blunoz" serge.

Our cloth experts hunted up a Canadian manufacturer who was honestly trying to make good serge, and instilled into him our ideas of what a serge should be. He is making "Blunoz" serge for us now. We control the output of his factory and the secret that makes "Blunoz" wear well and never fade.

The only place you can get this excellent "Blunoz" serge is in the Semi-ready Wardrobes—in single and double-breasted sack suits.

FIRST GAME IN GUILD LEAGUE

Fast Baseball will be Played This Season.

George Street Defeated St. Pauls in Four Innings by 7-3—President Opened the Series.

With all the features incidental to the opening of the Major League season, the first game in the Guild League was played last night on the George Street grounds, Benson street, when the George Street and St. Paul's teams met in the first four innings of the first game. There was a large crowd of spectators, a number of the members of the fair sex being among them.

The quality of ball which will characterize the games in this league this year in the race for the Examiner Cup, promises to be much faster than that of last year, all the teams being strengthened considerably.

The President of the League, Mr. P. A. Kerr, pitched the first ball last night, and Mr. N. Williams, the Vice-President was at the receiving end. The impromptu pitcher has all the ear-marks of a corner, and delivered the first ball in good style. The backstop work, however, was not of the best; the catcher failing to hold the swift one which the President delivered.

The game proper was a good exhibition and although there were some costly errors on the part of both teams, they will steady down with more experience, and the games give promise of being well contested.

In the fourth innings last night the score was 7-3 in favour of George Street, with three innings yet to play in the game, which will be finished on Friday night.

Clark Earls, the former Midland League twirler of the Peterborough team was in the box for St. Paul's team and outside of an inclination to be somewhat wild, pitched good ball. Simpson, who has also figured on Midland League teams held down second base for the Presbyterians. W. Parnell did the twirling for George Street and was given good support, filling the position well and pitching an effective game.

The Methodists started out strong and at the end of the 3rd innings the score was 4-0. In the next, however, on a couple of hits and some errors, St. Paul's made three, but in the last half George Street crossed three more over the plate, making the final score 7-3.

The teams with their batting order were:—

St. Paul's.	George Street.
A. Gillespie	Kendry, s. s.
Earls, p.	Parnell, p.
Stacey, 1 b.	Robertson, 1 b.
Laing, c. f.	Weatherstone, l. f.
Walkey, r. f.	Pedlar, 2nd b.
Simpson, 2 b.	McMillan, 3 b.
Rosenburg, 3 b.	Wilson, c.
Herd, s. s.	Curtis, r. f.
Watt, l. f.	Dobbin, c. f.

St. Paul's went to bat first, A. Gillespie fanning. Earls hit to centre, stole second and third, but was caught trying to steal home. Stacey got four balls, but A. Laing struck out. Kendry, for the Methodists got four balls, but was caught off 2nd. Parnell singled and stole second, reaching 3rd on a wild throw. Robertson beat three strikes called, but Gillespie dropped the 3rd and threw wide to Stacey. Weatherstone's double scored Parnell and Robertson. Pedlar flew to Rosenburg and McMillan fanned. The score was 2-0.

In the second Walkey got four wide ones, but was called out off first on a close decision, the runner looking to be safe. Simpson grounded to short and Rosenburg struck out.

The Methodists got another in their half. Wilson got first on Simpson's muff of his easy fly, and scored on some high throws. The next three men up, Curtis, Dobbin and Kendry, struck out.

In the third only three men faced Parnell and all went out on infield grounders, two of them, Herd and Gillespie, to the pitcher and Watt to 2nd base. George Street scored another in this innings. Parnell got 1st on Herd's error. Robertson struck out, Weatherstone flew to A. Laing and Parnell scored from 3rd base on the throw in. Pedlar grounded to third base.

St. Paul's team brought in three runs in the last on a couple of hits and some errors. Earls hit safely to short, and stole second and third. Stacey popped out a foul fly which McMillan made a sensational catch of. Laing drove a pretty one in the fence for two bags, scoring Earls. Walkey fanned, but Simpson hit to centre, and Laing scored on Dobbin's wild throw to third. Rosenburg was next up and hit to right scoring Simpson. Herd retired the side, striking out. George Street added three in their half. McMillan fanned but Wilson and Curtis both singled and after Dobbin had fanned, Kendry's fly, which Herd dropped scored Wilson, Curtis coming in on a passed ball. Watt dropped a difficult fly from Parnell and on some wild throws Kendry crossed the plate, Robertson forced Parnell, retiring the side, with the score 7-3.

A. Webb, of Charlotte Street, umpired.

TOOK A SEVERE COLD.

It Settled In The Kidneys.

Pain In The Back The Result.

Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.

Heed the warning: check the Backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble.

If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows:

"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.

Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—

IS YOUR CATARRH REMEDY CURING YOU

If You Are Unconsciously Using An Alcoholic Liquid Remedy Stop At Once.

People soon learn that the true test of a catarrh remedy is whether it cures to stay cures. Have you ever inquired why a liquid catarrh remedy makes you feel better for a time? It is because the alcohol in the liquid remedy makes the mucous membrane drunk. It deprives them of sensation, it inspires false hopes and always leads to alcoholic excesses. A permanent cure by any liquid dyspepsia or catarrh remedy is simply impossible. The alcohol used in liquid preparations makes it almost a travesty to call them remedies. They excite the worst forms of catarrhal trouble rather than cure such troubles. Can a physician be found who will truthfully say that any liquid catarrh remedy is worthy of use? Every physician knows that it is an absurdity for anyone to claim that catarrh, dyspepsia or any form of blood disease can be cured by a so-called liquid catarrh cure. In this connection it is wise to consider carefully the best means for relief. Smith's Triple Cure, that grand old remedy, consisting of four separate preparations, three of which are in tablet form, and used internally and another in the form of a catarrh cream, contains no alcohol and never leads to false hopes. It makes you feel better the first day, and each day following is but a repetition of the first day's experience. It restores the mucous membranes in every part of the body. It positively cures catarrh, dyspepsia and all blood diseases. If you have long been a slave to liquid catarrh remedy, break away from the habit. Use Smith's Triple Cure, and health abundant, full and complete, will be yours. Four separate preparations, lasting a full two weeks for 50 cents, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send us 25 two-cent stamps by mail today and we will send it, postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 183 St. James St., Montreal.

SPOILS SYSTEM IN OPERATION

Parliament Discusses Whitney Government's Acts.

WOULD PREFER LIBERALS

Mr. Fielding Lays Down a Simple Guiding Principle — Conservative Practice in the Past — Mr. Fitzpatrick's Illness — Sir Wilfrid Says His Absence Will Not Delay the Public Business.

Ottawa, June 1.—Starting out with the knowledge that the autonomy bill would not be taken up again before the middle of next week owing to the absence through illness of the Minister of Justice, the House again dealt generously with a miscellaneous list of estimates, chiefly for public works.

The supplementaries were all finished but two items, and the House will take up the necessary but monotonous procedure known as concurrence on Monday.

During the day there was quite a flurry on the introduction of the spoils system in Ontario, which charge the Opposition tried very ineffectively to hurl back on the Federal Government. The House adjourned last night until Monday, to-day being Ascension Day, and there being a disinclination to return for Friday.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's Illness.

Mr. R. L. Borden, on motion to go into supply, said he understood that, owing to the illness of the Minister of Justice, the autonomy bills would not be taken up until the middle of next week.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said this was the case.

Mr. Borden did not desire to urge the Minister of Justice to return before he felt able, but when Mr. Fitzpatrick was again in his place he would like some information respecting the vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench in Nova Scotia. The vacancy had existed for an undue length of time.

Sir Wilfrid said if it was found that the Minister of Justice's illness was likely to be prolonged the Government would be prepared to discuss the matter. Public business would not be delayed by his absence.

Not in Government's Hands.

Mr. Clarke Macdonell (South Toronto) said the failure to agree upon the Toronto postoffice and depot site was causing great inconvenience. The city was becoming impatient over the failure of the authorities to proceed.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said the matter was out of the hands of the Government. It was before the Board of Railway Commissioners. It would have to work out to a conclusion there.

Employment of Liberals.

On a vote for a wharf at Gaspe, Mr. J. B. Morin complained that no man who was not a Liberal could get a day's work from the Government.

Mr. Lalor (Haldimand) and Mr. Geo. Taylor said they never asked a man whom they employed what his politics were. They thought the Government should act as a good business man does.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said it was very well to say this now, when they were not in power, but that had hardly been the Conservative practice in the past. If the Government required the services of a man, and two equally capable, one a Liberal and one a Conservative, applied, he would have no hesitation in giving the preference to the Liberal. If gentlemen opposite were in power he would not blame them if they gave the preference to Conservatives.

Dr. Barr said the doctrine, "To the victor belonged the spoils," which Mr. Fielding had enunciated, was a dangerous one. Conservatives throughout Ontario would be pointing to what Mr. Fielding had laid down in his policy, and urging retaliation in Ontario.

During the evening sitting the remainder of the supplementaries for the current year were passed except an item of two millions for the Intercolonial, which was held over for future discussion.

The House then, at 10.40 p. m., adjourned until Monday.

Collision Near Montreal.

Montreal, May 31.—A collision took place yesterday morning between a light Grand Trunk engine and a ballast train near St. Henri Station. W. J. Dalton, the engineer of the light engine, and his fireman were injured. The damage was slight.

$1000 REWARD

is offered as a guarantee that neither

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

NOR

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

contains alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. Any one publishing false statements concerning their ingredients will be prosecuted. Doctor Pierce's Family Remedies are compounds of medicinal principles, scientifically extracted from native roots that cure the diseases for which they are recommended. They are medicines which have enjoyed the public confidence for over a third of a century. They are medicines not beverages, made to satisfy a craving for "booze."

"Golden Medical Discovery" regulates and invigorates stomach, liver and bowels, and cures dyspepsia, purifies the blood and tones up the system generally.

"Favorite Prescription" cures female weakness, irregularities, exhausting drains, painful periods and kindred ailments peculiar to women. Accept no substitute for these medicines, each of which has a record of marvelous cures. Substitution means selfishness on the part of the dealer who is looking for the greater profit on an inferior article.

"Our daughter who was attending college became very nervous and we were advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. M. C. Fox, of 57 E. Leonard St., Grand Rapids, Mich. "We did so and then you advised us to get the 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and you never can say what a change in a person. She said she did not feel like the same person. She was about seventeen years old at the time. I will gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to every one. I advise parents who have young daughters who suffer from nervous troubles to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at once. I am sure it will help them."

$500.000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. London, June 1.—Lord Rosebery's Cicero yesterday won the Derby (6,500 sovereigns), for entire colts and fillies foaled in 1902, about a mile and a half. M. Blanc's Jardy was second, and Chevalier Ginistrelli's Signorina was third. Nine horses started.

New Secretary For U. S. Navy.

COLONIES OF IMMIGRANTS.

French and French-Canadians to Go in Body to Northwest.

Winnipeg, June 1.—The establishment of two new French colonies in the far west will be among the features of this year's immigration. The announcement was made yesterday by Rev. Father de Lanversin, who is on his way from Medicine Hat to Montreal, in connection with the movement to the west. The new colonies will be located near Medicine Hat and Red Deer, the latter on the Calgary-Edmonton branch of the C. P. R., which has already found favor with large numbers of French and French-Canadian farmers. Colonies will be peopled by immigrants brought from France, through the efforts of Abbe Gaire, who has conducted several successful campaigns there. The first party will arrive about the end of June or early in July and the second will follow shortly after. The influx is expected to be so heavy that Bishop Legal of Prince Albert has appointed Father de Lanversin to go to Montreal to assist in the handling of the parties from the east.

BOER GENERAL ON WAR.

Decorates Graves and Tells Children to Strive For Peace.

New York, June 1.—Because of their exertions in their five performances yesterday it was impossible for the veterans of the Anglo-Boer conflict to carry out their plans to visit Greenwood cemetery in a body and decorate the graves of the soldiers. Gen. Cronje, however, insisted on carrying out the program, and a detail from both the Boer and British contingents acted as his guard of honor. The British Lancers, under Capt. Franklin, and the Boers, under Commandant Boshoff, accompanied him.

Gen. Cronje was recognized by the children at the cemetery and said to the little ones:

Children, when you place these flowers on the graves of the men who fought and died for their country, remember that, although war is often necessary, it is the most dreadful thing on earth. When you grow to be men and women do everything in your power to make war impossible on this earth.

Canadian Art Represented.

Buffalo, June 1.—Canada was well represented among the exhibits at the dedication of Albright Art Gallery, opened here yesterday. The gallery, which was dedicated in the presence of ten thousand people, is a gift to Buffalo by John J. Albright, and was built at a cost of three-quarters of a million dollars. A maintenance fund of $10,000 has also been provided by the donor. The structure is 350 feet long and 150 feet deep. The collection of paintings and sculpture in the gallery is valued at $2,000,000.

Election Meeting at Woodstock.

Woodstock, June 1.—The opening meeting of the North Oxford campaign was held last night in the Town Hall, which was crowded. Hon. George E. Foster was the speaker, and for an hour and a half he discussed the autonomy bill in its relation to the school question. Mr. A. B. Ingram, M. P., also spoke. The Conservative candidate was not present, being with R. B. Bennett of Calgary at Thamesford.

Grand Orange Lodge Opens.

Owen Sound, June 1.—The Grand Lodge met here in convention yesterday afternoon at 3.30, Dr. Sproule, grand master, presiding. The officers' report showed an increase in membership of four thousand. The autonomy bill was a feature of the afternoon's discussion. Last evening a two hours' sail on the steamer Ossifrage was enjoyed by nearly all the members.

To Win His Constituency.

Toronto, June 11.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, has gone to Sudbury to secure the "M.P.P." that is necessary for him before he can hold his portfolio. A constituency has been provided by the resignation of Charles Lemarche, representing East Nipissing. The election is to take place on June 13, in accordance with writs issued yesterday.

Present From the Pope.

Rome, June 1.—The Pope has sent to Duchess Cecelia of Mecklenberg-Schwerin, as a wedding present a magnificent mosaic representing the transfiguration accompanied by a letter of greeting. The Pontiff also sent a letter of felicitation to Emperor William. The gift and the letters will be presented by Cardinal Kopp, Bishop of Breslau.

W. A. Leigh Accidentally Shot.

Ingersoll, June 1.—W. A. Leigh, of The Chronicle staff, while with a picnic party at the upper dam, was wounded in the left hip by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. The accident occurred at about 9.30 o'clock Tuesday night. Unless unexpected complications ensue he will recover.

BLOOD DISEASE CURED.

If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or No Pay. No Names Used without Written consent.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financiality, I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."

THE OPERA HOUSE AND ITS PROGRESS

Mr. Fuller Claflin Will Return in a Few Days.

His Company is Re-Modelling The Grand Opera House in Hamilton.

Mr. Fuller Claflin, of the New York Theatrical Stock Exchange, who was in town yesterday on business in connection with the new opera house, arrived in from Hamilton, where the company represented by him, is engaged in the complete remodelling of the Grand Opera House of that city. The work was commenced on Monday morning, and the cost of the improvements will be in the neighbourhood of $30,000. The stage will be moved back 35 feet, and that length consequently added to the auditorium. This will increase the seating capacity of the house by 700, and will bring the total capacity up to 1800.

The improvements will be completed about the middle of August, when the house will be opened for the winter season.

Mr. Claflin's company, which will construct the opera house in Peterborough, will probably commence operations in the course of a few weeks, and it is hoped that the house will be open for the fall. Ordinarily the season will start during the latter part of August, and will continue till June, though, of course, in the case of Peterborough, there will not be shows every night, the management simply booking the best of those on the circuit.

The new opera house which will be erected here will have a seating capacity of about 1500 persons, which, in view of the fact, that in Hamilton, a city of 60,000, the largest opera opera house has accommodation for only 1800, will be large enough to meet all requirements for a good many years to come.

WOODMEN HEAD OFFICERS HERE

Sherwood Camp, W. O.W., to Receive Official Visit.

Heads of the Order to Come Here on June 28th—A Large List of Visitors.

Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, Woodmen of the World, are to be honoured by a special visit from the Head Executive of the Order, on Monday, June 26th. It is expected that the distinguished visitors will be accompanied by a number of influential Woodmen from different parts of Ontario, who are not only interested in fraternizing with their hustling brethren of the phenomenally progressive Camp of Woodmen in Peterborough, but are also anxious to take stock of the last frisky new addition to the cities of Ontario. In honour of the event, the local Camp have made special preparations for a big excursion on that day. The splendid new and commodious excursion steamer "Stony Lake," has been chartered for the excursion, and the route will be over the world-famous Lift Lock, up the river to Lakefield, and on to the thousand Islands in Stony Lake, and return. An active committee of local Woodmen, composed of Sovereigns that wield the biggest axes in the bunch, has been selected to carry out the arrangements, with Push Haskill blazing the way.

Joint Meeting of the Merchants and Representatives of the Council.

Former Want Better Fire Protection For Their Stores—No Long Ladder In the Department.

Last night the members of the Retail Merchants Association met in the Y.M.C.A. Hall for the purpose of discussing the proposed bylaw prohibiting merchants from opening goods on the sidewalks. Mr. Robt. Fair presided and among the merchants present were Messrs. H. LeBrun, C. N. Brown, R. G. Kingan, S. A. Oke, V. Eastwood and a number of others. Ald. Hall, chairman of the Supervision Committee, was also present at the meeting, and the matter was thoroughly discussed.

It was pointed out that many of the merchants had no place to open their goods except on the sidewalks, and that to prohibit their use would be to work a hardship upon them, but on the other hand it was recognized that many of the stores had abused the privilege in the past.

As a compromise it was suggested that provision should be made in the bylaw to the effect that merchants should not scatter paper on the street when opening goods and that while they are allowed to open their goods there, the boxes shall not remain on the walks any longer than is absolutely necessary, and that under no consideration shall they be left there on Saturday.

It shall also be an offence to throw mails on the street. This was agreed upon by Ald. Hall and the merchants, and it is probable that the bylaw will be drafted accordingly.

Another matter was discussed, that of the inadequacies of the fire department. It was pointed out that at present there was in the fire department no ladder long enough to reach to the third and fourth stories of the George street stores, and a petition will be circulated among the merchants asking the council to purchase a ladder which will enable the firemen to reach the top stories of those high buildings. This ladder will cost in the neighbourhood of $300 or $500.

THE CIRCUS HAS COME TO TOWN

Lemon Bros. Great Circus Exhibition on The Exhibition Grounds.

The circus has come to town, is another way of saying that the people have come to town. And they came this morning to squeeze a big goblet of enjoyment out of Lemons' circus. The parade preliminary to the tent performance took place at the noon hour. The procession was something like a Jap soldier, small but first-class, in every respect. The features of the procession showed that everything in connection with the circus is of good character, bright and clean, like the performance itself. One feature of the show is that it is not only clean in character and excellence of performance, but that the disorderly characters and questionable accompaniments connected with the ordinary circus, are wanting. Those who visit the show can, judging by reports received, and by the nature of the procession, depend upon seeing a first class performance, under the best conditions. The street cars make access to the circus grounds cheap and easy.

LARGEST INITIATION IN THEIR HISTORY

To Be Held To-Morrow Night in The Foresters' Hall.

At the regular meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 29, C. O. F., tomorrow evening in their hall, Simcoe street, there will be the largest number initiated at one time in the history of the Order in Peterborough.

Organizer Copeland has been doing good work since he came to town, and through his efforts about fifty will be added to the Order on Friday night.

The degree work will be put on by the uniformed team of Court Peterborough, and it is expected that the three Courts of the town will combine on this occasion.

All members of the Order, whether affiliated or not, with any of the local Courts, are invited to be present.

FOR PROTECTION OF BOULEVARDS

By-Law Provides for Punishment of Those Who Injure Them.

Persons Whose Property They Abut Must Maintain Them—Penalty for Violation of the Law.

The Chief has received a number of complaints from persons in front of whose property there are boulevards, that pedestrians are destroying the beauty of these boulevards by walking across them and in other ways.

There is a bylaw on the town's books in reference to this, and it provides for the maintenance of the boulevards, and imposes a penalty on anyone who walks across or in any way injures them. The Chief does not wish to prosecute anyone for a breach of this bylaw, but will be compelled to do so unless it is complied with. Its provisions are summarized here as a warning to those who have violated it, and for their instruction the bylaw's provisions are published.

It provides that all portions of the streets on which granolithic walks have been constructed outside the tree line, or where a space of not less than ten feet is left between the inside curb, and the line of the adjoining property, are set aside for the purposes of boulevards.

They may be constructed by the owners of the property abutting on any such street, but any such work shall be done so as not to unreasonably confine, impede or incommode public traffic.

These boulevards shall after their construction be maintained and kept in order and watered, and the grass properly cut by or at the expense of the owners of the property abutting.

The bylaw also provides that "no one shall walk or drive upon, across or along any of the said boulevards, or in any way injure, destroy, obstruct, or place any material on same.

The penalty for a breach of this bylaw is a fine of not less than $1 or more than $50, collected in the usual way.

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

Messrs. Charles Wesley and Archie Seymour Open "My Valet" Work Rooms.

A new and necessary business enterprise, which will undoubtedly fill a long felt want, has been launched by Messrs. Charles Wesley and Arch. Seymour, who yesterday opened in the apartments over Mr. James Long's restaurant, an establishment for the pressing, cleaning and repairing of clothes, which will be known under the title of "My Valet".

Both gentlemen are well qualified for the business which they have undertaken, having been connected with several of the leading tailoring establishments of the town for some years.

An efficient delivery service will be placed in operation and the public are assured of a prompt service. Suits will be called for by special order, or by the contract system.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

TO CONSIDER THE NEW COLLEGIATE

Special Meeting of Board of Education Called for Friday.

Will The Board Ask for Another $20,000—Opinion of Some of The Board.

To-morrow night the Board of Education will meet in special session to consider the situation in connection with the new Collegiate Institute. The property has now been purchased and has been legally transferred to the proper persons and that difficulty has now been removed.

The present situation however, is that while the ratepayers have voted $50 000 to pay for the land and building it has been found that to erect the building planned will cost at least $20 000 more than that amount and if the intention to erect that building is carried out it will be necessary to ask the ratepayers to vote an additional $20 000.

There is a division among the members of the Board on the question. The members of the Building Committee are of the opinion that the building as planned should be erected even at the additional cost, while other members of the Board express themselves as believing that the ratepayers will not vote the extra money and some of them are not backward in saying that the thing has been bungled.

To-morrow night when the Board meets the matter will probably be thoroughly discussed in all its bearings.

ADMIRAL TOGO WAS WOUNDED

But 7,000 Russians Were Either Killed or Drowned---4,000 Russians Prisoners---Japanese Casualities 537, With Only 113 Killed---How a Captured Jap Prize Crew Turned The Tables---Admiral Voelkersam Killed on the First Day of Battle-----The Japanese List of Vessels Lost.

Tokio, June 2.—The Japanese losses in the battle of the Sea of Japan were 113 officers and men killed and 424 officers and men wounded. The losses were distributed as follows: Mikasa, 63; Asuzma, 39; Shikishima, 37; Asashi, 21; Fuji, 28; Idsuma, 24; Nisshin, 27; Otowa, 26; Kasaga, 24; Tsushima, 19; Asama, 15; Naniwa, 17; Tokiwa, 15; Yakumo, 11; Chitose, 6; Idzumi, 10; Itsukus, 9; Hashidate, 5; Niviaka, 4. The casualities on the destroyers and the torpedo boats were 87.

Commander Togo was wounded on the Asuzma.

The Mikado's Thanks.

Tokio, June 2.—The Emperor has issued the following rescript to Admiral Togo:

"Our combined fleet encountered the enemy's fleet in the Corean Strait and after several days' desperate battle annihilated it, accomplishing an unprecedented feat.

"We are glad that by the loyalty of our officers and men we have been enabled to respond to the spirits of our ancestors.

"Though the war be long, we hope that you will be loyal and brave and secure a successful result."

Togo to the Mikado.

Tokio, June 2.—Admiral Togo, responding to the Imperial rescript commending the admiral and his sailors, expresses his appreciation and says:

"That we gained a success beyond our expectation is due to the brilliant virtue of Your Majesty, to the protection of spirits of your Imperial ancestors and not to the action of human beings.

"We shall be faithful to your Imperial will."

7,000 KILLED OR DROWNED.

Awful Decimation of the Russian Fleet in Sea of Japan—Nearly 4,000 Prisoners Landed.

Tokio, June 2.—Rough estimates made of the Russian losses in the Sea of Japan, exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, vary from seven to nine thousand. It is feared that the majority perished. Calculating the complements of the sunken and captured ships at upwards of ten thousand, seven thousand men remain unaccounted for. It is possible that the ships which escaped rescued some of the members of the crews of the less fortunate ships. Many bodies have been washed ashore on the islands and on the shores of the neighboring coasts near the scene of the battle.

Sissoi Veliky First to Go Down.

The Navy Department made the following announcement yesterday:

"Later reports from the different divisions of the fleet engaged in the naval battle of May 27 show as follows:—The Russian battleship Oslisbia was heavily damaged in the early part of the fight on Saturday, going down at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The first Russian vessel sunk was the battleship Sissoi Veliky.

The armored cruisers Admiral Nakhimoff and Vladimir Monomach, after being in the general engagement during the daytime, were still further damaged by torpedoes during attacks by night and were eventually completely disabled. They drifted into the vicinity of Tsu Islands, where they were discovered on Sunday morning (May 28) by the auxiliary cruisers Shilano, Yawata, Teinan and Sado, which were about to capture them, but they both sank.

"The crews of our auxiliary cruisers rescued 915 of the crews of the sunken Russian ships. The battleship Navarin was torpedoed four times after sundown on Saturday (May 27) and sunk. The survivors of the Navarin's crew confirm the story of her destruction.

Sunk at Once.

"The cruisers Nitaka and Okawa discovered the Russian cruiser Svietlana at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning in the vicinity of Chappyan Bay and immediately attacked and sunk her. The commander of the Nitaka reports the fact.

"It is expected that the Russian cruisers Almas and Aurora were sunk by torpedoes on the night of May 27.

"The former report includes the statement that the Russian cruiser Jemtchug was sunk as yet remains unconfirmed, and the cruiser's name has been excluded from the revised list of Russian vessels destroyed.

"Judging from this and former reports, the enemy's main strength, consisting of eight battleships destroyed or captured, three armored cruisers and three coast defence ships destroyed or captured, with the second-class cruisers and other vessels destroyed, the enemy's fighting power is annihilated.

"Later reports show that during the night of May 27, our torpedo boats numbered thirty-four, thirty-five and sixty-nine were sunk by the enemy's fire. Comrades rescued the majority of their crews. Besides the above there was no damage worth reporting. No warship nor destroyer suffered any loss of fighting or navigating power.

Jap Casualties Below 500.

"We anticipated a heavy loss of life, but find that our casualities were comparatively slight. They do not exceed 500 killed and wounded. The casualty reports will be rendered as speedily as possible in order to reassure families and friends.

"Nearly the whole strength of the combatants met in battle, and the area of the fighting was very wide.

"The first day proved foggy, and even without the smoke and fumes resulting from the battle it was impossible to see five miles. Consequently during the day it was impossible to locate or observe all the ships under my command. Moreover, the fighting having lasted two days and the ships of my command being scattered for the purpose of chasing and attacking the enemy, some having received special orders after the battle, it is impossible to collect and frame any detailed report covering the whole battle at the same time."

Fate of the Admirals.

Admiral Rojestvensky's injuries consist of a wound on the forehead, a slight outer fracture, and other slight wounds.

Rear-Admiral Voelkersam, who was commander of the battleship squadron of the Russian fleet was, it was announced yesterday, killed the first day of the battle, May 27, in the conning tower of his flagship, the battleship Oslisbia, one of the vessels sunk by the Japanese.

Rear-Admiral Voelkersam was appointed commander of the battleship squadron of the Russian fleet in July last and left Cronstadt August 25 with the other vessels commanded by Admiral Rojestvensky. It was Voelkersam's squadron, according to report, which fired on the British trawlers in the North Sea, mistaking them for Japanese torpedo boats.

NO PEACE TERMS THOUGHT OF Japanese Minister in Washington Makes the Statement.

Russian Ambassador to Interview President Roosevelt This Afternoon.

Special to the Examiner.

Washington, June 2. — Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has made an appointment with the President for 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. It is understood that the entire Eastern situation, in light of present developments, will be discussed.

Takahira, the Japanese Minister, in an interview, said that all peace talk is mere gossip, and that Japan had not decided upon any terms.

Rojestvensky's Condition Serious.

Nagasaki, June 2.—A report reaches here to the effect that little hope is entertained of the recovery of Admiral Rojestvensky, who is now in a hospital at Sasebo.

A Slight Fracture of Skull Only.

Tokio, June 2.—The serious wound of Admiral Rojestvensky, who was taken to Sasebo on a Japanese battleship, is a bruise in the forehead and a slight fracture of the skull. The nature of his internal injuries is not known. The admiral's temperature and pulse are normal and there is no signs of brain trouble. He has other wounds, but they are not serious.

Nearly 4,000 Prisoners.

Nagasaki, June 2.—Fully 3,800 Russian naval prisoners have been landed.

Three damaged Russian vessels have drifted ashore off the coast of the Province of Nagato.

Captured Hospital Ships.

London, June 2.—The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent says that the hospital ships Orel and Kostroma have been captured and taken to Sasebo, charged with infringing The Hague convention.

Was British Crew Drowned?

Nagasaki, June 2.—The fate of the remainder of the crew of the British steamer Oldhami is at present uncertain. They were on board of the Russian battleship Orel, but it is supposed that they were afterward transferred to one of the transports.

Prize Crew Turned the Tables.

Nagasaki, June 2.—Russian torpedo boats from Vladivostock captured the Japan steamer Daishen of 700 tons off Hokkaido and placed a prize crew of thirteen men on board with orders to take the vessel to port. By mistake the Russian commander of the Daishen headed for Genzan (Corea) and met a Japanese transport. The latter, seeing the Russian flag flying from the Daishen intended to recapture the vessel, when the Japanese captives aboard the steamer on seeing their comrades attacked the prize crew, recaptured the vessel and eventually took her to Genzan. The Russian prize crew have been taken captives to Sasebo.

Vessels Japs Have Lost.

Tokio, June 2.—The necessity for secrecy no longer existing, the Navy Department confirms the reports of the loss of the Japanese battleship Yashima, off Port Arthur in May, 1904, and announces other naval losses heretofore withheld. The list is as follows:—

Battleship Yashima, sunk by a mine May 15, 1904, while engaged in blockading Port Arthur.

The torpedo boat destroyer Akatsuki sunk by a mine May 17, 1904, while taking part in the blockade of Port Arthur.

The gunboat Oshima, sunk in collision May 17, 1904, while co-operating with the army off the Liaotung peninsula.

The torpedo boat destroyer Hayatori, sunk by a mine September 3, 1904, while taking part in the blockade of Port Arthur.

The gunboat Atago, struck a rock and sank November 6, 1904, while taking part in the blockade of Port Arthur.

The protected cruiser Takasago, sunk by a mine December 12, 1904, while taking part in thre blockade of Port Arthur.

INSTITUTE MEETS ON JUNE 17TH

Annual Meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute.

Election of Officers—Interest in the Work Not as General as is Hoped For.

On Saturday, June 17th, in the town council chamber, the annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, will be held, the meeting commencing at one o'clock. At this meeting the election of officers will take place, and in addition the following business will be transacted:

President's report.

Discussion thereon.

Report of the executive committee, and financial statement by the secretary-treasurer.

Auditors' report.

Suggestions of points at which to hold regular and supplementary meetings.

Election of directors and auditors.

Suggestions of how the Institute can be improved or made more useful.

At the last annual meeting of the Institute the attendance was small, and the notices calling the meeting ask that there shall be a good turn out of the members for this meeting, and the directors are asked especially to bring any of their neighbours and friends who are not at present members of the Institute, and induce them to join.

The secretary reports that it is extremely difficult to interest the farmers of the county in the work of the Institute, and that the membership, in spite of all that the officers have been able to do with a view of increasing it, has not grown any larger, the farmers apparently not appreciating the great advantage to them which membership in it would prove.

Mr. William Collins, who has been secretary of the Institute for years, has worked indefatigably in its interests, and it is disheartening to find that the farmers themselves do not take sufficient interest in the work to become members, and this fact is all the more surprising when it is stated that the annual membership fee amounts to only 25c. cents each year, and includes literature bearing on farming interests, worth many times that sum.

The arrangements for the annual excursion to Guelph, which will be held on June 8th, are progressing favourably, and the present prospects are that there will be a record crowd, the fact of the Horse Show being in progress at the same time doubtless contributing to the interest which the farmers, and others, are taking in it.

A CIRCUS DAY STREET OCCURENCE

Millbrook Man Loses a Bank Roll And Searched Innocent Passer-by.

A typical circus day episode occurred about noon yesterday, when a man, presumably from Millbrook, was standing near the corner of Simcoe and George streets, gazing abstractedly at the parade, he was suddenly aroused to consciousness by a warning with regard to pickpockets being shouted by a passing gentleman.

He of the abstracted and wide-open countenance, made an examination of his pockets, and in place of the bank roll which he had placed there this morning, discovered nothing more substantial than the atmosphere. He turned quickly about and perceived a man hurrying through the crowds upon the street, and pounced upon him unhesitatingly, and despite his vigorous protests, made an examination of his pockets. But he had, alas! captured the wrong man, who, as he was the smaller of the two, was compelled to indignantly proceed on his way homeward.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MRS. GLENN

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation; but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation; but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhœa, don't neglect yourself: try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BUILDING BOOM IN HAVELOCK

New Survey of Building Lots Has Been Made

To Meet the Brisk Demand for Building Sites for Houses.

Mr. Wm. Mathieson of Havelock, was in town to-day registering a plan of a new range of lots in the village of Havelock. This seems to be an ordinary business procedure hardly worthy to be recorded in a public point. But there is something behind it, and that is a great increase of building this year. The new building lots are in two plots, the larger, which contains 25 lots, is situated west of the station and north of Mathieson street. Of this plot sixteen lots are sold and will most of them be built on this season, and negotiations are pending for the sale of five or six more.

The other plot, consisting of eleven building lots, is to the east of the station, and of these six are sold for immediate building. Out of 36 new building lots in progressive Havelock, we see that 22 are sold for building before the plans are registered. Besides Mr. Mathieson has sold nine lots on the old plan—plan 5, and these are for building. Thus we have to record this season the sale of thirty building lots, the most of them to be built upon this season, though on others houses will not be erected till next spring.

Havelock has at present a population of 1500. When the village was incorporated 13 years ago, the population was 800. If the population increase in the same ratio for the next ten years the population of the place will be between 2500 and 3000, and we shall have Havelock incorporated as a town. May the railway village flourish like a green bay tree.

NO QUARTER FOR TRAMPS

Attorney-General's Department Calls for Central Prison Punishment.

Magistrates Urged to Inflict, in Cases of Conviction The Full Penalty of The Law.

The following letter has been sent to Magistrates all over the country:—

Department of Attorney General, Ontario.

Toronto, May 13th, 1905.

Dear Sir,—It is once more necessary to call your attention to the law with regard to tramps and vagrants. Men in this class we believe to be responsible for a large number of burglaries and other crimes of violence and it has been found that the best results are obtained by imposing the full term of imprisonment in the Central Prison allowed by law. The practice of giving them the option of fine or leaving the municipality time been found unsatisfactory and I am directed to say that when any men of this class are brought before you, you shall administer the law strictly and vigorously, as in this way alone can serious crime be prevented. Instructions of this nature have been sent out previously, but have not been carried out as they should have been and it is expected that attention will be paid to the directions herein contained, as the railway authorities are co-operating with this department. I have to ask you at all times to assist the railway constables who may be acting in this class of cases.

Yours truly,

S. CARTWRIGHT,

Deputy Attorney General.

DELIGHTFUL POST-NUPTIAL RECEPTION

Held by Mr. And Mrs. E. Roddy, 150 Park Street.

Mrs. E. Roddy (nee Pilling) held her first reception since her marriage, Tuesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Pilling, 150 Park street. It was a most charming function and was attended by about sixty guests.

A very dainty dinner was served. After ample justice had been done the tempting viands, beneath which the table literally groaned, the initial toast, to hte health of the bride and groom, was proposed by Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Roddy replying in a most felicitious speech. This was followed by several other toasts, proposed by Miss Barrie Mr. Wm. Pilling and Mrs. George Burton. The remainder of the evening was spent in pleasant social intercourse, music and dancing, after which the guests dispersed, carrying with them the memory of an evening of pleasure which will not soon fade.

Mr. and Mrs. Roddy, whose marriage was solemnized on May 24th, have since been absent on a delightful honeymoon trip, embracing Kingston, Tweed and Sydenham.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO LEIGHTON ANDERSON

Both Bones of a Forearm Broken in a Fall.

A most distressing and very painful accident, occurred last night, about nine o'clock, when Leighton Anderson, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, of 213 London street, had the misfortune to break his arm, immediately above the wrist.

He was standing on a picket fence, plucking some lilac blossoms, when a limb of the tree broke off unexpectedly. As he fell his foot caught in the pickets, holding him high enough to allow his arms to reach the ground.

His elder brother, Stuart, found him in that position, his right hand bent completely back, over his forearm. His brother at once released him, and helped him home.

Dr. McFall was at once summoned but the sufferer was in such pain, and the fracture of so complicated a nature, that it was impossible, without assistance, to set the arm, both bones of which were broken. Dr. Marshall was called in, and he administered chloroform, while Dr. McFall set the bones.

The many friends of the lad will wish him a speedy recovery.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see anyone trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called hair vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

A PAPER MILL FOR PORT HOPE

Probability That it Will Be Established There.

Mr. Jas. A. Culverwell Interested—Machinery to Cost $30,000.

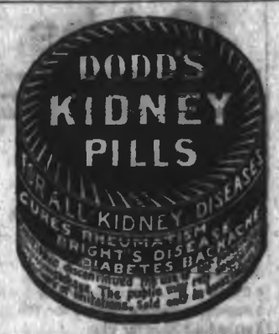
There is an excellent prospect that Port Hope may be selected as the site of a large paper mill, says the Port Hope Times.

A substantial company of experienced manufacturers is looking for a site for a large and modern mill, and one of the principals of the company was in Port Hope yesterday in company with Mr. J. A. Culverwell. Mr. Culverwell introduced him to the Mayor, the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. J. F. Clarke, Mr. R. A. Mulholland, Mr. T. Long, Mr. F. Outram and other prominent citizens interested in the establishment of factories who went into the question with him with most promising results.

Accompanied by Mr. Culverwell, Mr. Long, and Mr. Clark he was driven to the Radiator factory, which he thoroughly inspected, and he was most favourably impressed with the building, which he thinks would suit the purpose admirably with certain alterations.

The mill if established here will be of great benefit to the town. The machinery to be installed will cost at least $30,000 and over seventy-five hands will be employed. The mills will run day and night and almost all the employees will be men who will receive good wages. The day shift will include some fifty men and about fifteen women, while the night shift will consist of some fifteen men.

The representatives of the company is impressed with the advantages of Port Hope as the site for the mill and will make a most favourable report to his associates.



"HORSE THEFT" CASE IN COURT

Harold Fowler Charged With Stealing Horse and Buggy.

James Hogan, of Douro, the Plaintiff—A Case of Vagrancy.

There were several cases at the police court this morning, among them being that of Benson Sturdy, who was charged with vagrancy by C. P. R. Detective Wright. Sturdy is a gentleman of no certain place of abode, equally at home any place where he hangs his hat, but it is thought that he comes originally from St. Louis, Mo. He pleaded guilty, and Mr. Wm. Eyres, who presided, sentenced him to six months in the Central Prison.

The next to face the court was Harold Fowler, charged with stealing a horse, harness and wagon, belonging to Mr. Jas. Hogan, Douro, from St. Peter's cathedral, yesterday. The case was enlarged until Tuesday, June 6th.

Jos. Haggermann was charged with stealing a whip belonging to Mr. Hogan, and he was also remanded to the same date. George Carter, who gave the information, was retained as a witness, and will be on hand next Tuesday to tell his story.

Mr. R. E. Wood, K.C. appeared for the prosecution.

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT

Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., on Retiring From Presidency Gives Address.

New President Takes His Chair of Office—The Men to be Ordained.

A despatch from Picton today confirms that published yesterday in the Examiner, reporting the election of Rev. W. J. Jolliffe to the presidency. It says:

The Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist church, opened today at ten o'clock, Rev. J. P. Wilson, B. A., presiding. One hundred and seventy five ministers and laymen were present. Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, B. C. I., was elected president on the first ballot, and Rev. D. Scott Houck, secretary. The Revs. J. W. Wilkinson, J. W. Spier and E. B. Laneeley, transferred out of the conference, briefly addressed the body. Three young men are to be ordained this year, D. E. Johnston, D. R. Clare, B. A., S. A. Kemp. Three ministerial candidates were received, not at all equal to the number required. The Rev. G. W. Henderson presented the pastoral address for the year, which very dealt with a lack of religion in the family.

Rev. Dr. Briggs, spoke of the splendid success of the Book Room for the last year. Notwithstanding the great increase in wages paid and in general expenses, it showed an increase in net income.

The Mayor of Picton, Mr. G. M. Farrington was introduced and addressed the conference. Fraternal welcome was spoken in three hearty addresses by the non-Methodist resident pastors.

The retiring president and secretaries were thanked for their work. A resolution expressed satisfaction at the increasing success of Victoria University.

Treated by Three Doctors for a Severe Attack of Dyspepsia,

Got No Relief From Medicines, But Found It At Last in

Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly spoken of, I decided to get a bottle, and give it a trial. Before I had taken it I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken the second one I was completely cured. I cannot recommend Burdock Blood Bitters too highly, and would advise all sufferers from dyspepsia to give it a trial."

CLOSING MEETING AT ST. LUKE'S

Woman's Auxiliary Closed Business for the Season Yesterday.

Gratifying Reports Were Presented—Delightful Garden Party and Picnic in Prospect.

The closing meeting of St. Luke's Woman's Auxiliary, was held last night in the school room, a large number of members being present.

The reports presented and the business transacted evidence a prosperous condition in the work of the society. The meeting held yesterday was the concluding one of the season, and no further business will be transacted until September. Many members of the Sunnyside Branch of the society were present.

The chair was occupied by the president, Mrs. Boswell, and after the preliminary devotional exercises, the reports of the delegates to the general meeting in Toronto, Mrs. Browning and Mrs. Butcher, was presented. The report which was carefully and interestingly compiled, was most gratifying in every particular.

Mrs. F. J. Jameson, secretary of the Dorcas Society, reported that a bale of clothing had been sent to the Children's Aid Society during the previous week.

A communication was received from Mrs. Baynes, the Toronto representative of the society, conveying the thanks to the auxiliary for her appointment as a life member.

A pleasing feature of the business of the meeting was the conclusion of the preliminary arrangements for the garden party and picnic of the Auxiliary. It was decided to hold the garden party, which takes place place upon the rectory grounds, on June 29th. The annual picnic will be held at Chemong on June 20th, when a delightful trip is in prospect.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members were charmingly entertained at tea at the rectory, a number of the young ladies pouring tea and assisting in the arrangements.

The officers of the Auxiliary, who have worked most energetically in its behalf are:

President—Mrs. Boswell.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev. E. A. Lapgfeldt.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. W. J. Scott.
Cor. Secretary — Mrs. J. J. Turner, jr.
Recording Secretary — Mrs. Harry Butcher.
Treasurer — Mrs. S. Gaskins.
Dorcas Secretary — Mrs. F. J. Jameson.
Representative to General Convention — Mrs. Browning and Mrs. Butcher.

THE FRUIT CROP PROMISES WELL

Mount Pleasant District News—An Accident Which Might Have Been Fatal.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mount Pleasant, May 3rd.—We regret to say that an accident which might have proved fatal to Mr. John Handley, occurred at the foundry last week, which has rendered him unable to attend to his business. We hope he will soon be able to take his place again in the foundry.

The son of the late George Smith came from Seattle to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Mount Pleasant.

The lodge of Canadian Foresters attended divine service in the Methodist Church here last Sunday. The pastor of the church gave a practical discourse on "unity". The choir with the aid of Mr. Wright, rendered some choice selections of music. The attendance was larger than usual.

The Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Millbrook, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church last Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Greig moved to his new residence vacated by Samuel McCormick, who now resides with Mr. James Paul.

There is a prospect for a large fruit crop this season, the trees are full of bloom and promises a rich harvest.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN N. MONAGHAN

Some News of Interest From Bensfort—Citizens Leave for the West.

From our Own Correspondent.

Bensfort, May 29th.—Building operations this year are chiefly to the east. Messrs. Duckham and Overend, of the 3rd and 4th concessions respectively are making considerably new improvements to their premises in buildings.

A few days ago our local wires were cut and communication westward stopped until repairs were made. The wires were so cut that there were too many pieces made to attempt repairs without supplying wire and more material.

Messrs. J. R. Kerr and Samuel Blakely intend leaving on Tuesday, 13th by C. P. R. for the West on a prospecting tour, with a view to settling in the West. They intend returning for the harvest here and threshing.

Mr. J. Wedlock received a party recently from Toronto. His steam yacht was used to convey the party down the river. The purpose is said to be to secure further fishing privileges towards the mouth of the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cowling have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement, in the loss of their only child, a lad of 12 years, who was unfortunately killed by a kick from a horse at their home in Cavan, on Sunday, 21st ult. The funeral was at Pontelia in Haldimand on the Tuesday following the accident.
